Laker Baseball Season To Open This Saturday

The Garrett Community College baseball team will open its 1984 spring season this Saturday, March 17, at Montgomery College, Germantown Campus, which will begin a full schedule of doubleheaders through May 5.

"A lot has happened to this team since September," stated Laker head coach, Phil Caruso, "and the six months in between have taken their toll."

Garrett lost All Region shortstop Rich Stiffey because of a national eligibility ruling which Caruso believed to be "unjust," plus two players left school and three others were dismissed from the team for disciplinary reasons that were drug-related. Caruso said that all three are "outstanding" players, with one of them being a pro prospect.

"However," Caruso said, "I believe with some luck and good weather and barring any major injuries, we can possibly get above .500 this season."

He said the key to their success will be the pitching staff, which has had a problem throwing strikes, "If we're able to keep the opposition under five runs a game, we can win. If the teams get up on us, we'll be in trouble," he said.

The Lakers' most effective pitcher in pre-season practice has been former Southern standout, Mark Rodeheaver, who hasn't given up an earned run in seven innings. "Mark is not overpowering," Caruso said, "but when he keeps the ball down and throws strikes, he gets hitters out."

Other key pitchers will include Tim McCoy, Ed Parrish Tim Kocis and Ed Frizzell.

The Laker hitting attack will be led by Mike Mathews, Ted Sova, Rick Day, Tim Pavlic and Tim Bishop.

"Defensively the Lakers should be very sound and offensively could be a top-hitting club," Caruso stated. "Of course, the Lakers have a reputation for creating their offensive by running at any time.

"We don't have the type of base stealers we have had in the past; however, we should still be fairly good by the end of the season. It is my hope that this year's team will mature and peak at tournament time. We haven't been on a field but three times and may get off to our usual slow start as our opponents have the jump on us. By mid-season we hope we will be playing some exciting ball."

Some of this year's top Region XX teams on the Laker schedule include Allegany Community College, Dundalk, Frederick, Alleghany/South Pittsburgh, Beaver, Catonsville and Fairmont State.

"Our schedule is very competitive and, should we be able to compete against these teams, we may be an unfriendly host at the Sectional Tournament in May," Caruso added.

A new feature to this year's baseball season will be the Laker Home Run Sweepstakes. Laker fans who purchase a raffle are eligible to win one of the several prizes if their name is drawn and a Laker player hits a home run in the bottom of the fourth inning of any home game. More details on the Home Run Sweepstakes will be forthcoming.

THIS MOUNT of a 10-point whitetailed deer killed last December and mounted by Gary Iden of Iden's Taxidermy, Mosser Road, won honorable mention in the recent Maryland Taxidermy Association competition in Washington, D.C. All licensed taxidermists in the state had been invited to participate at the event held February 25 at the Sheraton Inn. This was Iden's first year for entry, although he has been in business for the past four years and recently quit his job as a pipefitter and welder to devote full time to his business. Iden, a son of Vane "Mike" and Freda Iden, is self-taught in his trade and has been interested in taxidermy since he was 12 years old. He credits the late Joe McCray with giving him valuable pointers when he would be visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Winters, in Davis. Joe operated a taxidermy shop and historical museum in Davis. Gary and his wife, Sandy, have two children, Greg and Kelli, both avid bowhunters. During the past two years, Iden has presented numerous talks to school children about his craft and nature lore.

Hunting Regulation Hearing Scheduled For Next Monday

The western region public hearing for 1984-85 proposed hunting regulations will be held Monday, March 19, at Allegany Community College, from 7 to 11 p.m. by the Department of Natural Resources.

The hearing is scheduled in the theatre in the college center (main building).

Those who are unable to present verbal testimony about the proposed regulations Monday have until March 24 to submit written comments to Earl Hodil, Chief, Wildlife Management, Forest, Park and Wildlife Service, Tawes State Office Building, Annapolis 21401.

Local Swim Team Now Organizing For '84 Season

The Garrett County Swim Team, known as the Manta Rays, is currently organizing its 1984 summer season, according to Barbara Morris, president.

Any person age three through 17 may try out for the team, which is now beginning its third year of competitive swimming. The coaches of the team, Paula Briggs and Vicki Skipper, have gained additional knowledge and techniques to share with the members of the team this season as a result of their work for the past two years as assistant coaches of the Frostburg State College team. Former and new members are welcome to participate.

For more information, persons may contact Mrs. Morris at 334-2499 or Mrs. Briggs at 746-5161 after 6 p.m. Messages for return calls may also be left at the Garrett County Health Department at 334-8111 in the Oakland area and 895-5050 in the Grantsville area.

Local Students Earn Green Belts In Tae Kwon Do

Local participants Robert Flinn of Mt. Lake and Judy and Lori Crosby of Deer Park came away with a plus rating and were awarded green belts on February 19 at the Tae Kwon Do Institute of Keyser, W.Va.

The green belt is the third step of nine to get a black belt in Karate. Of the 50 participants that Sunday, the Garrett countians took three of the eleven plus ratings awarded. The testing was done for the Keyser-Cumberland area. Tae Kwon Do is Korean Karate.

At a recent area tournament in the Falls Church, Va. Jhoon Rhee Headquarters, Robert and Lori received third place medals in their belt for form in double counters. Judy and Robert also received smaller medals for placing in the top 50 percent in their class.

Tournament To Benefit Local Heart Fund Drive

A rematch tournament to benefit the American Heart Association has been organized for Southern High School on Monday, March 19, according to Francis L. Grimm, General Campaign Chairman for the Garrett County unit of the Western Maryland Chapter.

The games begin with the winning team of the March 5 tourney, which raised over $100 for the Heart Association, Potomac Edison playing Radio Station WXIE at 6:30 p.m., followed by a rematch of the losing teams of March 5, Bausch and Lomb opposing Mettiki Coal.

Tickets for the games may be purchased at the door.

If you don't plan for your retirement ... who will?

One of the drawbacks of being your own boss is having no pension fund—unless you start one for yourself.

But that needn't be a problem anymore—now that you can invest a portion of your income in a tax-sheltered IRA at First United.

You can put away as little as $10, or as much as $2,000 each year in an IRA and deduct that amount from your income taxes. And, your money is tax-sheltered until after you retire. If you can put away more than $2,000, perhaps you'd be interested in the Keogh Plan, administered by our Trust Department.

So whether you're a farmer, doctor, merchant, trucker, lawyer or logger, you can enjoy a real tax advantage while you're working, and a comfortable retirement later on . . . with a First United IRA!

Hillen Nets 43

Southern Girls Edged In Overtime By Owings Mills At State Playoffs

Although Jenny Hillen ripped the nets for 43 points, her efforts and those of her Southern High teammates were not quite enough, as the Rams dropped a tough overtime decision, 70-67, Friday night to Owings Mills in the Maryland State Class C semi-finals.

The Rams were seeded fourth in the final four teams, while Owings Mills, who went on to win the state title on Saturday, was seeded first. The Eagles defeated North Carolina in the finals, 52-48.

Hillen's point total on 14 buckets and 14 of 17 free throws was just five short of the tournament record.

The first half of the contest remained close, as the Eagles were on top 25-22 at intermission. Owings Mills took control of the game in the third quarter and moved out to a 40-29 advantage.

However, the Rams then caught fire and exploded for an incredible scoring spree, hitting 20 points to just one by the Eagles to take a 49-40 lead. At this point it appeared that Southern would upset the Eagles, but by the 2:15 mark of the final period, Owings Mills came back to tie the score.

The lead then changed hands [illegible] the next two minutes. With just six seconds remaining, Owings Mills was on top by two and Dawn Robinson was at the line for the Eagles with a one-and-one, seemingly in a no-lose situation.

However, Robinson missed the front end of the one-and-one and Hillen pulled the rebound, travelled the length of the floor and with one second remaining, fired a 12-footer to knot the score at the buzzer, sending the game into overtime.

Owings Mills scored the first bucket of the overtime period and never trailed again, hanging on for the three-point win.

Angela Smith led the Eagles with 22 points, while Adrienne Morton finished with 16 and Robinson, 13.

Also reaching double figures for the Rams were Jane Bell with 11 and Kelly Bittinger with ten. The Rams had to play the overtime period without Bell, who fouled out late in the fourth quarter.

"The very thing that got us back into the game when we were down by 11 is what finally took us out," Coach Don Stemple stated, referring to the burst of energy expended by the Rams during their 20-1 scoring spree. "We needed just a little more energy down the stretch, and we didn't have it," he said.

"We have a lot to be proud of, though," Stemple said. "Once we got the tears behind us, I told the girls that they played with a lot of heart and class.

"I have coached and witnessed hundreds of ball games in my career," Stemple continued, "and I have never been involved in a more exciting game than this one."

He also noted his pleasure at the large turnout of Southern fans at the playoffs.

In looking ahead to next season, Stemple says he is "very optimistic" about the Rams' success, in that his three leading scorers—Hillen, Bittinger and Bell—will all return. "It will be tough replacing Natalie Vetter and Cindy King," he said, "but we do have some quality players coming up."

Stemple said that the Rams won't be the only team in Region I Class C that should come back strong next season, though. Bruce and Valley will have all five of their starters returning and Mt. Savage loses only one regular.

"I won't be a bit surprised if the region's class C schools dominate the B and A schools next year," he said.

The Rams finished with an overall 16-5 record.

All-Star Basketball Classic Is Certified

The Bruce High School Sportsmen's Club of Westernport, sponsors of the Western Maryland All-Star Basketball Classic, recently received certification from the NCAA High School All-Star games committee for the 1984 game. The annual event held at Bruce High School pits outstanding high school seniors from Western Maryland against their counterparts from Eastern West Virginia in both boys and girls games.

Last year the West Virginia girls, behind MVP Angie Staudt of Hampshire, downed Western Maryland, 52-38. The win gives the Mountain Staters a 2-1 edge in the series.

MVP J.P. Warner, now a standout at nationally-ranked Allegany Community College, led the Western Maryland boys to an 84-70 win over West Virginia to give them a 2-1 series lead.

This year's game will be held at Bruce on June 9.

The Valentine dance, held February 11 at the Friendsville Firehall, was a success. Winner of the guess cake was Peggy Bowser; doilies, Bobby McGee; candy jar, Jon Garner; and dance contest winners were Steven Williams, Leslie Turney, Jon Garner, Denise Stanton, Tina Fike, Billy Dixon and Salina McElroy. All proceeds went to the Heart Fund.

On Friday, February 24, the club had a roller skating party at the Fellowship Center. Fifty-five people attended, including families and friends.

At February's project meeting, Ken Hinebaugh talked to the group about judging dairy cows. All club members judged in the Hoard's Dairyman 54th annual cow judging contest for 1984. All entries were entered in the 4-H Club division as a group. Results will come out in the April 25 and May 10 issues of Hoard's Dairyman.

The regular club meeting for March was held March 12. The next project meeting will be March 26 at 7 p.m.

Our first 4-H meeting for 1984 was held at the home of Janet and Larry Tichnell on January 17 with 17 members present.

Our new president, Joey Mousch, called the meeting to order. The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Johnna Harvey and Tonya Riley led the 4-H Pledge.

Our new secretary, Randy Tichnell, and new treasurer, Willie Riley, gave their reports.

In old business, a report was given on the 4-H Christmas Party by Willie Riley.

New business included plans for a snowmobile party on January 21 at noon at the home of Johnna and Mike Harvey.

A member of the Garrett County Sheriff's Department was scheduled to present a program at our February 21 meeting.

On January 21, the weather held a hint of "April Showers" and 50 degree temperatures, so our snowmobile party was postponed.

Our February meeting was held February 28, instead of February 21. Joey Mousch called the meeting to order and introduced Deputy Donald Tucker of the Garrett County Sheriff's Department who gave us a brief history and description of the duties of a deputy sheriff. He then answered questions from the members and adults who were present.

Old business included plans for a snowmobile party.

Project booklets and membership cards were passed out.

New business included the announcement of the date set for Achievement Night Dinner and Program, April 14, at Grantsville Fire Hall; also information about Public Speaking entrants.

Cow Judging Contest leaflets were passed out.

Lester Loughry gave a report on issues concerning the fair.

The Executive Committee will be meeting soon to plan the activity agenda for this year. If anyone has any suggestions, please make them known right away.

Next meeting will be held March 20 at 7:30 p.m.

The March 5 meeting of the Grantsville 4-H was called to order by the president, Roger Wilhelm. The pledge was lead by Kevin Beitzel. Our speaker was Mr. Towers from the Maryland Game Commission, who gave us a talk and answered our questions on wildlife.

The club is making plans for County Achievement Night, and also a summer club trip. Kevin Broadwater gave a demonstration on Pulling Weights. Tommy Durst gave a demonstration on How to Clean a Saddle. Our next meeting will be April 2.

Adorable Adoptables

from the Garrett County Animal Shelter

LOOKING FOR A WAY to add spice to your life? Well, the Garrett County Animal Shelter has just the thing to fill such a void. It's this lovable short-haired grey female cat. Her age is unknown, but it is believed that, when given the chance, she can make a person's days a lot brighter. She can be ready for someone to take home in five to ten days. Last week's pet was adopted by Danny Arnett.

Roman Catholic Retreat Slated At Camp Hickory

The first teen "SEARCH for Christian Maturity" in Western Maryland will be held at Camp Hickory near Accident, on the weekend of March 30-April 1. SEARCH, according to a spokesman, popular in the Baltimore area for ten years, is a Roman Catholic retreat experience designed to help young people search for meaning, direction and God in their lives.

A peer to peer approach is one of the features of SEARCH: teens who are former Searchers join young adults and married couples in presenting the retreat. "Through the medium of prayer, Eucharist, exchange of ideas, fun, song, sports, food and a friendly atmosphere, Searchers become a Christian Community during the weekend," the spokesman said. "This experience gives participants deeper insight into the meaning of Christianity as a way of life to be lived in today's world."

The weekend, which will be directed by Jim DeBoy of St. Clement Parish, Baltimore, with Rev. Richard Lobert of St. Mary Parish, Cumberland, as the spiritual director, is sponsored by the Archdiocesan Office of Youth Ministry and Catholic Education Services in Western Maryland. High school juniors and seniors are invited to register through their parishes or by calling Antionette Wiseman at Catholic Education Services, 777-9082.

Don't Build a Log Home...

UNTIL
you have questions like these answered to your satisfaction:

1. SPECIES & GRADE OF WOOD—The U. S. Forest Service recommends the use of cedar, spruce, pine, fir, and larch in that order. MOUNTAINEER LOG & SIDING COMPANY offers your choice of spruce, pine, or hemlock in your new home.
2. Does another company provide dry-kilned or pressure-treated logs at your option? Mountaineer has always used the air-drying method of seasoning logs prior to delivery at your job site; however, our facilities also permit us to offer you logs dried under controlled conditions in a special kiln and/or CCA-salt treatment.
3. Does another company offer 8" wide double T & G logs or do they rely heavily on caulking and splines to try to assure you that their home will be warm in winter and cool in summer? Wood has always had the reputation as a good insulator; it makes sense that more wood between you and the outdoors provides a more energy-efficient home. Mountaineer's standard log home package uses a machined 8" wide log with a double tongue-and-groove, plus a special between-log sealant.
4. Are you dealing with a company hundreds of miles away or can you visit the plant and see how your home will be made? Mountaineer's company headquarters is located right here on Rt. 219, between Oakland and Deep Creek Lake. Our plant is in nearby West Virginia.
5. What will be your total freight and delivery cost? For all of Garrett County, Preston County, Tucker County, Mountaineer's total delivery costs are $200.00—includes delivery of trusses, logs, and component materials. Nearby Monongalia County, W.Va., and Allegany Co., Maryland, is $250. Compare that with thousands of dollars in delivery expense from long-distance companies.
6. What is actually included in your log package that is advertised as a kit? Many companies advertise a kit as "complete" when it really includes only the logs or perhaps the logs and some other lumber. Mountaineer's package includes everything you need to place on top of your finished foundation to complete the exterior, plus the interior partitioning. Ask for our material specification list and compare item for item. You'll save.
7. Is custom designing available to make sure that your investment is built to suit your needs and desires? Mountaineer has a special custom design department staffed from 9-5 daily, that can meet with you by appointment to discuss your needs in detail.
8. Are you buying "logs" only or will you have the advantage of a completely engineered log design and building method? Mountaineer is continually striving and researching to develop new and better methods of machining and building to insure that your new log home is the finest possible. New machining technology developed exclusively by Mountaineer is helping to insure the very minimum of air infiltration at windows and doors and corner sections.
9. What is the track record of your company? Mountaineer's sales have doubled for each of the past three years and dealers from Michigan to Pennsylvania to Ohio to North Carolina and even to Florida are finding the Mountaineer package to be the best in quality and most competitive in pricing.
10. Does another company have available a local factory crew trained and qualified to erect your new log home? Mountaineer can provide you with a list of local building crews who are experienced and knowledgeable about the specialized techniques of working with logs. If you want to "owner-erect" or have your own contractor build your house, Mountaineer will provide you with video technical assistance as well as complete step-by-step building instruction.

Dateline: Annapolis

The debate has not yet ended on the pension issue or the budget for the coming year, according to reports from Annapolis this week.

Local issues such as the amended Scenic and Wild Rivers bill, a regional trigger, and the coal slurry line also saw action during the week.

Although Gov. Harry Hughes has withdrawn his budget proposals which would take beer and tobacco taxes away from the counties, this county could still stand to lose not only $23,000 from a share of the state highway tax, but also $268,000 in property taxes.

This option, if enacted, would mean the county could either increase its piggyback taxes by five percent (which would recoup $299,000) or take cost-cutting measures within its own budget to shave various departments by the $311,000 which the county stands to lose in state aid. Another option, according to county clerk Robert Fousek, would be to have one percent increment increases in the piggyback tax. Each one percent equals approximately $60,000.

Del. George Edwards maintains that the legislature can still come up with substantial budget cuts instead of pulling money from the counties. Sen. John Bambacus continued his opposition to the governor's plan and said the counties should not have to suffer. He also said that revenues for the first quarter of this year are some estimates $11 million above projected estimates and that this should help the state's financial picture.

The proposed pension reform plan, tied to the governor's funding of the $60 million increase in state aid to education, had a rare tie vote in the House Wednesday, 70-70 on the measure. All 141 members were present, also a rare occurrence, and one delegate abstained. Del. George Edwards voted among the last of the House members, and cast his vote against the changes proposed. The issue will come up for one last vote on Friday in the House, which means the delegates are under considerable pressure from both the governor's supporters of the change and teachers and other groups who do not want the pension program changed.

As Del. Edwards explained this morning, he voted against the pension reform because he is not convinced that there is a need to do something right this minute. "If inflation goes out of whack something will have to be done," Edwards said, and pointed out that the Attorney General's office has issued an opinion which in effect says that if the system is in trouble then the state can amend the present system.

HB 991 would amend state pensions for teachers and some state employees, establish a cap for cost of living increases for the benefits and offer four options for employees to phase into the new system.

Delegates Tim Finan, Cas Taylor and William Byrnes voted in favor of HB 991 which had a third reader Wednesday.

Del. Edwards said that work in the Senate on the budget is practically at a standstill until the senators see how the pension bill is decided.

The amended Scenic and Wild Rivers Act passed the Senate 33-13 Monday night, and the bill now comes before the House Environmental Matters Committee. Del. Edwards said this morning he feels confident the committee has the votes to pass the Senate's amended version. The matter was slated for a vote either late Wednesday night or Saturday.

In commenting on the Senate passage of the bill, Sen. John Bambacus, sponsor of SB 285 which is the companion to the House bill, said "The people of Garrett County are the real winners. This shows that government has to achieve the consent of those they are governing. The people of Garrett County should be proud of their preseverance (nine years), fortitude and endurance."

Both Bambacus and Edwards have urged Tim Finan, member of the House Environmental Matters Committee, to pass the Senate's amended version, which includes the statement that a member of the county commissioner board be appointed to serve on the Scenic and Wild Rivers Review Board.

Both local representatives have also spoken with Del. Larry Young, environmental chairman, to tell him "how important this bill is to the people of Garrett County," as Sen. Bambacus phrases it. Bambacus also said "I hate to use political jargon, but I am 'cautiously optimistic' that this will pass the House."

John Hinebaugh, river property owner and one of the strongest supporters of the bill as originally presented to the legislators, said Wednesday that the amended version "is not too bad—it's a great improvement over what we had." A statement from the Youghiogheny Property Owners Association with a cover letter in support of HB 429 and SB 285 was distributed in person to all delegates on Monday by Hinebaugh.

Other Legislative Action

A Senate committee voted 8-5 Tuesday to reject a bill which would give utility companies eminent domain to construct a coal slurry pipeline. That measure was vehemently opposed by rail companies whose business stood to lose by such conveyance of coal.

The Senate Economic Affairs Committee did agree, however, to spend some time this summer studying the proposal.

A House of Delegates subcommittee voted 4-3 Tuesday to oppose a regional trigger for Maryland's extended jobless benefits but later voted to increase regualr benefits by $10 a week and to keep the employer unemployment insurance surcharge at 1.7 percent. Gov. Harry Hughes has indicated he wants the surcharge set at 2.2 percent which is .5 percent less than a state law enacted last year which would have increased the surcharge to 2.7 percent.

HB 564 to require persons hunting on private land to obtain written permission and HB 535 to allow the county's delegate to appoint a substitute member for the Deep Creek Lake Advisory and Review Committee have both passed the House and are before the Senate. Hearings on both are scheduled next Tuesday.

Presidential Line - Item Veto Gets Committee Hearing

Senate Joint Resolution 49, Line Item Veto, co-sponsored by State Senator John N. Bambacus, received a hearing recently before the Senate Constitutional and Public Law Committee.

The resolution was introduced for the purpose of requesting the United States Congress to initiate legislative activity to grant the President of the United States the power to veto individual items in appropriation bills without having to veto the entire bill.

"The resolution's call for fiscal responsibility is a practical tool the President can use to control government spending," said Bambacus. "How can the President uphold promises to the electorate if Congress continually thwarts his ability to exercise caution and discretion in regard to spending programs?" added Bambacus.

For fiscal year 1985, the estimated federal budget deficit is $180 billion, representing a national debt of $1.4 trillion. It is recognized that controlling government spending and eliminating the federal budget deficit are key requirements to improving the economic growth and stability of our nation. The President is currently Restricted by the federal budgetary process in controlling wasteful and extravagant spending by Congress.

Forty-three of the fifty states grant their Governors the power to veto individual items in appropriation bills without having to veto individual items in the Capital Budget. In the President's January 25, 1984, State of the Union Address the Chief Executive specifically referred to the desirability of a presidential line item veto.

In testimony presented before the Constitutional and Public Law Committee, the Maryland Chamber of Commerce stressed that an appropriations bill covers spending for hundreds of programs. The President must reject funding for many programs in order to reduce spending in others.

With an upcoming Presidential election year in the near future, Bambacus feels that voters must be alerted to the needs addressed by Senate Joint Resolution 49. "Now is the time to ensure the ratification of power to which the President is duly entitled."

Man Arrested

ately prepared for transfer by Medevac helicopter.

Gallagher was found lying along the road with his head on the pavement.

All police units were notified to be on the lookout for a vehicle with suspicious damage to the front end, and Deputy Donald Tucker found a vehicle with damage to the headlight ring, grill and hood less than an hour later in the Highview Apartment complex. The owner could not be immediately located, however, and according to Chief Shillingburg, there was no registration or insurance information on the 1973 orange Ford pickup.

Additional charges placed by Thursday morning by Chief Shillingburg against McDonald were operating an unregistered motor vehicle; operating an uninsured motor vehicle; having improper tags, and failure to change driver's license after moving from another state.

Oakland police and the sheriff's department were aided by Maryland State Police Tfc. Chester Miller and crime lab employees who were able to determine that the victim was struck by the vehicle, flipped up onto the hood and then the cab before becoming airborne for some 15 to 20 feet.

McDonald had previously had a Terra Alta address.

gram for Garrett County students. He pointed out that county youth need the opportunity to obtain a driver's license at 16 because of the lack of public transportation system and the expansive road system in the county.

Lupis said if the money were cut, the school board will have to decide whether to continue the program as it is and try to find money to finance it or charge students for the on-the-road training portion of the course which would have to be held after school and on weekends. Lupis said there are other alternatives the board could consider, but that he considered the two mentioned as the two major options.

Senator John Bambacus said Wednesday that he opposed the proposed reduction. He noted if the proposal passed, the majority of youths who would be able to obtain their license before 18 would be those who could afford to pay for the driver's education. "It would become a rich-poor issue," he said.

Bambacus added that at a time when highway safety is being emphasized in the state and throughout the nation he does not believe a move to cut back on driver's education is warranted. "It doesn't make any sense to me," he said.

Shaffer

Social Work in 1963 and returned to full-time work as Supervisor of Services at the county department.

In 1973, when Mr. Stemple retired, the board of the county department appointed Mr. Shaffer director of the Agency and he has served in that capacity up to the present.

Over Shaffer's 25 years, the programs and the agency have changed and expanded and today there is a $2 million yearly budget and 36 employees housed in a 7,000 square foot buidling along Route 135, just east of Mountain Lake Park.

"Today's programs are complicated and involved with formulas and computers, with still lots of new automation to come in the near future. There is very little resemblance to the way things worked in 1959," Shaffer said.

Shaffer and his wife, Joann, live on John Drive, Oakland. They have four sons and four daughters, all of whom are grown and living away from home except for the youngest son, Joseph, who is a sophomore at Southern High School. They have eight grandchildren.

He is a member of the National Association of Social Workers, the Knights of Colombus and has served as Grand Knight of the Oakland Chapter. The family belongs to St. Peter's Catholic Church in Oakland.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaffer plan to travel at their leisure to visit with their family members who are now living in various locations throughout the country. Shaffer has one brother, R. Donald Shaffer, who lives in Cumberland.

The county social service department board expects to announce a successor to Shaffer next week.

man's proposal. Darwin King also spoke about same concerns voiced by Mrs. Perez.

The Garrett County Planning Commission took action at their March 7 meeting to recommend that Beckman's requests not be granted.

The commission based its action on the fact that the proposed use would not be "in harmony with and appropriate in appearance with existing or intended character of the general vicinity."

Only about four lots on Beckman's Peninsula presently contain mobile homes.

The request for a density higher than one unit per acre was not recommended for approval because criteria permits a variance to be authorized only if it would prove a hardship, depriving the owner of reasonable use of his land.

Variances Denied

All other proposals for variances were denied by the board as substantial hardship was not proven, according to John Nelson, county zoning administrator.

Potomac Engineering had requested a variance to allow a lot to be brought up to one acre by adding land on the opposite side of the street. Curtis Farrar had requested a variance to allow construction within 5.8 feet of his side property line, and Roy Pittman had requested a variance to allow construction within three feet of his side property line.

Byron Introduces Physical Fitness Joint Resolution

Representative Beverly Byron (D-MD, 6th) has introduced a joint resolution into the House of Representatives that requests the President declare May as "National Physical Fitness and Sports Month."

Congresswoman Byron, who chairs the Maryland Commission on Physical Fitness, said in an address on the House floor, "We have just seen the completion of the Olympics in Sarajevo. We are about to become caught up in the fervor of the Olympics in Los Angeles. The Olympics are for those who achieve at the highest level. The National Physical Fitness and Sports Month is for the rest of us."

The resolution has been referred to the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee. Mrs. Byron said, "Physical fitness is not a fad or trend, but an essential element in leading a productive life. By passing this resolution, Congress will provide some leadership in the movement to improve health in America. I urge my colleagues to support this effort."

Congresswoman Byron is a longtime fitness advocate. In addition to running every morning, she is a member of the Board of Directors of the American Hiking Society and of the American Running and Fitness Association. In 1982, Mrs. Byron was named one of America's Ten Healthy Fitness Leaders by the United States Jaycees.

Mt. Lake Park To Seek Aid In Updating Zoning

The mayor and council of Mt. Lake Park decided at their March 8 meeting to seek the assistance of Intergovernmental Services of the University of Maryland to update the town's zoning ordinance and the comprehensive plan.

In discussion of the matter, the officials agreed that assistance should be sought, if the price is affordable, because of inapplicable sections and unclear wording in the present regulations.

Mayor Russell Alexander has also talked with Victor Tervala at the University of Maryland regarding the annexation requirements in the enclave law. Annexation of the enclave area at this time is uncertain.

The council discussed the sewer rehabilitation project and Mayor Alexander pointed out that the Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC) would not fund any part of this project because it would not create any new jobs.

The town has been notified that revenue sharing funds will be cut again this year, to $6,740.

The mayor read a letter from the Maryland Historical Trust stating that there is no grant money available for restoration of town buildings at this time but that the Trust will put the town's application in for 1985.

The group also discussed the payment of Frank Arnold Contractors for work on the dozing siphon for the Litle Youghiogheny Plaza project. Since there was no rock excavation or backfill required, the amount was reduced from $12,877.52 to $10,598.78. This includes five percent withheld because the project was not completed.

Before adjourning, the council and mayor agreed to sign a contract with Gonder's Insurance Agency of Oakland to provide insurance for town employees.

Ferguson Asks Variance From Mt. Lake Zoning

The Mt. Lake Park Board of Zoning Appeals is planning to hold a public hearing March 22 at 4 p.m. in the Mt. Lake Park town hall to take testimony concerning a request from Raymond Ferguson, Sr., for a variance from the zoning ordinance.

Ferguson has asked to construct a house on his lot on M Street which measures 75 feet by 120 feet. Standard lot size for home construction is required to be 100 feet by 120 feet.

Oakland's Unopposed Candidates Voted Into Office Monday

Oakland Mayor H.D. Swartzentruber will begin his eighth consecutive term as head of the town when he is sworn into office at the April 2 council meeting.

The mayor garnered 54 votes in Monday's election. Unopposed incumbent council member James Evans received 53 votes and incumbent Terry Helbig received 50.

Unopposed newcomer Francis Seifert, Jr. received 45 votes.

Rosalle Evans will remain the town's treasurer after receiving 38 write-in votes. Jimmy Seeders, who had announced last week that he was withdrawing as a treasurer candidate, had never formally withdrawn at city hall and received 13 votes. Evelyn Ault received one write-in vote for treasurer.

Some 67 voters turned out, and there was one absentee ballot mailed, according to town clerk Linda Hamm.

Council members will be sworn in by Mayor Swartzentruber at the April meeting at city hall.

Loch Lynn To Keep Constant Yield Tax Rate

All officials were present at the March 5 meeting of the Loch Lynn council and the group took unanimous action to keep the town's tax rate at the level dictated by the state's constant yield formula.

This will be 56 cents per $100 of assessed valuation, according to town clerk Virginia Eichorn. Last year's constant yield rate was 57 cents per $100.

In other business, the council discussed whether or not to participate in Upper Yough sewer rehabilitation project which would include Shady Acres, Broad Ford and Southern Middle Schools, Broadford Park, and the Trout Run interceptor line and plant. Most council members appear opposed to participation, however.

The group agreed to authorize the treasurer, Dora White, to pay James Patton, contractor for winter street cleaning services, and discussed repairs to the cinder truck before adjourning until the next meeting, scheduled April 2 at the town hall at 7 p.m.

Charles Tressler is mayor of the town, and council members are Mildred O'Haver, Calvin Coddington, Jerry Eichorn and Doug Callis.

Elections Are Deer Park Topic

Officials of Deer Park talked over the May town elections at the March 12 meeting but no business could be conducted due to lack of a quorum.

Terms are expiring for councilmen Edward Sollars and Donald Loomis. Mayor Jack Hinebaugh and Councilmen Everett DeBerry and Mason Madigan each have another year to serve.

Deadline for filing for office is April 9, according to Wendell Keaton, municipal coordinator. Mrs. Mary DeBerry is the town clerk. Registration to vote concludes April 2 at the clerk's residence or by calling her at 334-2037.

Present Monday in addition to the clerk were Mayor Hinebaugh and councilman Sollars.

The town's next scheduled meeting is April 9 at the clerk's home just off Route 135.

MURAL NEARLY COMPLETED — A 100-square-foot mural in the newly constructed dining room at Will O' the Wisp, Deep Creek Lake, is now receiving its finishing touches by artist Mary McCall, who has worked on the mural throughout the winter. Also pictured is Jim Willis who is providing some last minute assistance. The pair completed another 570-square-foot mural this past summer, also at Will O' the Wisp. Both McCall and Willis, who reside in Deer Park, will serve as artists in residence next week at Potomac State College of West Virginia University, Keyser.

FmHA Office Plans Meeting

The Garrett County office of the Farmers Home Administration will hold a meeting on Friday, March 16, at 10 a.m. in the county commissioners' meeting room to discuss the recent changes in the rural housing program with local realtors and contractors. The general public is also invited to attend, according to Timothy T. Taylor, county FmHA supervisor.

Information to be covered will be the processing of an application, eligibility determination and approval of rural housing loans. Recent income guidelines will also be discussed.

Persons desiring more information may contact Taylor at 334-9544. The local FmHA office is located in Room 308 of the courthouse. Office hours are 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

A HOUSE RESOLUTION from the Maryland House of Delegates was presented this week to Robert F. Rodeheaver, offering the state's congratulations to Rodeheaver in recognition of his 32 year career as an educator in the Garrett County public school system. Rodeheaver retired last month from his position as director of middle and secondary education for the Board of Education. Presenting the document was Mary Lou Stemple, administrative aide for Delegate George Edwards, District 1-A.

Garrett County Educators Attend State Meeting

Five Garrett County educators attended the annual Chapter I State Resource Teacher/Parent Conference which was held March 7-8 at the Convention Center in Baltimore City.

The conference featured 16 different workshops designed for reading/math teachers, administrators and parents. The theme was "We Can Do It Together." Workshops were a combination of successful programs now going on in Chapter I schools in the State of Maryland, and was directed by David P. Miller, Chapter I Specialist, Maryland Department of Education, formerly of Garrett County.

Dr. Velma R. Speight, assistant state superintendent, Division of Compensatory, Urban and Supplementary Programs challenged attenders to a recommitment to improve the achievement of Chapter I students.

Those attending from Garrett County were Lois Bittinger, recording secretary of the Parent Advisory Council and parent representative from Garrett County; Francis E. Harris, Supervisor of Chapter I Garrett County Board of Education; Joan Whetsell, resource teacher at Crellin, Grantsville and Route 40; Carolyn Simmons Corley, resource teacher at Broad Ford and Kitzmiller, and Barbara Flinn, resource teacher at Dennett Road and Friendsville.

Annual 4-H Club Public Speaking Contests Slated

Two area 4-H public speaking contests, one for the northern half of Garrett County and one for the southern half, will be held next week, according to an announcement by Alice Hevner, Extension agent, 4-H and Youth. Over 50 members representing their individual community clubs are expected to participate.

The first contest will be held on Monday, March 19, at Southern High School and the second will be held on Tuesday, March 20, at Grantsville Elementary School. Both will begin at 7 p.m.

The winners of the two contests will then represent their area in the County Contest, slated for April 10 at 7 p.m. in the lecture hall of the mining building at Garrett Community College, McHenry.

The public is invited to attend these events.

$500,000 Lawsuit Filed In Court

A lawsuit seeking $500,000 in damages was filed in Garrett County Circuit Court on January 25 by Laureen Ann Butcher, Swanton, against Patty Ann McBeath, Oakland.

According to circuit court files, Butcher alleges that on the night of November 2, 1983, McBeath negligently drove a motor vehicle into the northbound lane of U.S. Rt. 219, near the Glendale Road, and into a vehicle occupied by Butcher which was exercising due care.

The suit alleges that great pain and injury was suffered by Butcher as a result of that traffic mishap and asks for $500,000 in damages.

McBeath and her attorney filed a statement on February 17 maintaining that she did not commit any wrongdoing and she is not indebted as alleged.

According to court records, the case is to be decided by a trial by jury.

HCO Program Slates Workshop On Job Hunting

"How to Land a Job" is the title of the Wednesday workshop scheduled for March 21, to be sponsored by the Homemaker Career Opportunities Program of Garrett Community College.

Sue Shockey of the JTPA Program will be discussing the jobs that are available in Garrett County, and two local employers, Jan Naylor of Naylor's Hardware, and Annette Livengood, from Garrett County Memorial Hospital, will be discussing qualities they look for when hiring. Dan Elmlinger from Garrett Crossroads will discuss the group homes for the handicapped and the jobs that will be available in them due to expansion of the program.

The public is welcome to attend the workshop at no charge. It will run from 10 a.m. to noon in Room 306 at the Oakland Center of GCC. To preregister or for additional information, persons may call 334-9184.

COPYCATS

Kathy and Kevin celebrate St. Patrick's Day . . . Kathy wears her green plaid dress, and Kevin his sweater with the emerald stripe. The hats are those we brought home from last night's party!

They don't really know what the day is all about. But they heard Dan singing in the shower, "the wearin' o' the green," and saw the color of the tie he placed on the door knob.

They don't miss a thing! That old saying that actions speak louder than words is certainly true around our children. They are regular little copycats.

That's why Dan and I make it a habit to go to church every Sunday with them. We want God and His Church to be a real part of their lives, not just something they have heard about.

Give your children a chance to know God. Go to church and take them with you.

USE COMMON SENSE FOR O-T-C MEDICINE

When a medicine does not require a prescription, we commonly call it an O-T-C, or over the counter drug. However, this does not mean that it cannot be harmful if taken incorrectly or to excess.

The most important consideration for any drug in this category is common sense. Do not expect it to cure anything but simple ailments. Be aware that if the symptoms for which you take such a drug recur that you should seek the advice of your physician. We stock and sell a great many O-T-C products and are pleased to give you guidance for their safe use.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

THE POWER OF CHRIST
March 18, 1984

Background Scripture: Mark 4:35 through 5:43.
Devotional Reading: Mark 4:10-20.

Last week I was at a public presentation where a prominent theologian was asked about the miracles of Jesus. The theologian gave a long and rambling answer, but the essence of his reply was that he didn't believe they were literally true as presented in the New Testament.

Lots of people, lay and clergy alike, seem to find the miracles of Jesus a continuing source of either difficulty or embarrassment. In short, they would find it necessary to believe that the miracles, for example as recorded in Mark 4 and 5, did not really happen: Jesus did not still the storm (4:37-41), did not heal the woman with a "flow of blood" (5:25-34), and did not raise the daughter of Jairus from apparent death (5:35-43).

WHO IS THIS?

At the same time that I have experienced so much skepticism on the part of Christians, I find that there are many people with scientific backgrounds who seem much more open to the possibility that Jesus did the things the New Testament claims that he did.

Last year about this time I was privileged to have dinner with a Nobel laureate scientist, who told me in the course of the evening that none of Jesus's miracles appear to him to be beyond the realm of possibility. "In our day, no one should decide that anything is impossible," he told me.

Unfortunately, too much preoccupation with whether this or that act of Jesus is "possible" or "impossible" keeps us from going beyond the act itself to the deeper meaning to which it points. I have no problem believing that Jesus stilled the storm, but I am also aware that there is more involved than just a storm. The event is a demonstration of Jesus' power to still all the storms of life, human and natural.

Neither do I have any problem believing that Jesus healed the woman with the "issue of blood," for I have seen such demonstrations of Christ's power to heal in my own life. (See the writer's book, Rediscovering The Gift Of Healing). But I know that these demonstrations of Christ's power are indicative of his power to heal all human hearts.

ALL MEN MARVELED

"Who then is this," asked the disciples, "that even wind and sea obey him?" (4:41). Later, when he had cast the demon out of the Gerasene Demoniac, it is said, "And all men marveled" (5:20).

Jesus was a preacher and teacher whose words have changed the world. But we must not forget that he was also a man of power--power demonstrated in marvelous acts that boggled people's minds. Yet, even more than that, the "signs and wonders" pointed to an even greater power and authority: the capacity to heal all human brokenness and meet the deepest needs and hungers of the soul.

THE FIRST OF A 14-COURSE MEAL is displayed by Sandra Naumann, above center, instructor of the Regional Chinese Cooking Class which held a Chinese New Year banquet on February 28, at the Garrett Community College Oakland Center. The course, offered through the GCC Continuing Education Division, featured foods from the various regions of China. Among the participants in the class were, above, left to right, Ann Englander, Martha Lou Ashby, Lorena Smith, Doris Baker, Susan Stem, Lollie Fridinger, and Phyllis Peake. Below, members of the class work in the GCC Oakland Center kitchen to prepare the entrees for their banquet. Each class member prepared one of the 14 courses using skills and techniques learned in the class.

GCC Gourmet Cooking Class Holds Banquet

A 14-course Chinese New Year Banquet held February 28 culminated a Regional Chinese Cooking Class, offered through the Garrett Community College Continuing Education Division, for students, their guests and gourmet-cooking instructor Sandra Naumann.

The menu for the banquet, held at the GCC Oakland Center, consisted of Butterfly Appetizer Platter, Tea Eggs, Sweet and Sour Cucumbers, Sweet and Sour Corn, Lemon Chicken, Braised Pork and Cucumbers, Sweet and Sour Fish, Stir-Fried Asparagus, Fukien Onion-Smothered Pork Chops, Shrimp and Snow Peas, Quick-Fried Lamb with Spring Onions, Steamed Chicken and Scallions, East River Shrimp Noodles, Broccoli with Ginger and Wine, Szechwan Beef Shreds on Fried Noodles, Fukien Fish Ball Soup, Rice, Ginger Ice Cream and Tea.

Using skills and techniques learned in the Regional Chinese class, each student prepared one of the banquet dishes. The dishes represented several Chinese regions including Cantonese, Shanghai, Fukien, Peking, Hakka and Szechwan.

Attending the banquet were students and their guests: Susan and Michael Stem, Ann and Clint Englander, Laura Fridinger, Pastor Ray Ursin, Denise Rinker, Randy Rodeheaver, Dr. and Mrs. Harold Ashby, Lorena Smith, Doris Baker, Karen Gilpin and Dick and Phyllis Peake. Sandra Naumann, instructor and Walter Naumann also attended.

Three of the participants, Mr. and Mrs. Englander and Mrs. Fridinger, toured China during October of last year. During that trip they ate native Chinese food and felt Chinese Cooking by Sandra Naumann to be superior. "With the exception of a few outstanding dishes such as Peking Duck, our average meal was not as tasty nor as varied as the dishes prepared in Sandra's Regional Chinese classes," commented Ann Englander. Laura Fridinger agreed, saying "In China, we often had the same thing for lunch and dinner."

Mrs. Naumann, a certified professional cooking instructor, is a professional member of the International Association of Cooking Schools (IACS), a worldwide organization of cooking schools and teachers.

She has attended numerous cooking schools and studied under several of the world-renowned gourmet chefs such as: Jacques Pepin of Bon Appetit Cooking School, Julia Child, Diana Kennedy, Craig Claiborne, Madelein Kamman, John Clancy and Ken Lo of Ken Lo's Cooking School in London.

Last month, Naumann attended a lecture/demonstration by Giuliano Bugialli, an expert in Northern Italian cuisine, in Washington, D.C.

Naumann's expertise encompasses many ethnic foods including Chinese, German, Japanese, Norwegian, Italian, Danish and French. She has also had the opportunity to become skilled in Indian Cookery since she lived for a period of time in India.

She lives in Accident with her husband, Dr. Walter Naumann.

Dick Peake, a guest at the Chinese New Year Banquet, commented on Sandra Naumann's impact on the area. "She is making a cultural contribution to the county in a new dimension by exposing us to the experience of foods from other countries."

Even though Naumann is continually designing new classes, she periodically offers classes a second and third time to accommodate the demand. Requests from the community are encouraged and should be directed to the GCC Continuing Education Division at the GCC Oakland Center.

Laura Fridinger had this to say about Sandra Naumann's classes, "by taking courses over the last four years, I've met a lot of lovely people. I wouldn't miss a session." Mrs. Fridinger adds that she is always the first to ask, "When does the next class begin?"

Currently, Dim Sum, a three-week course in Chinese snack foods, is underway at the Oakland Center. Beginning April 3, Naumann will teach eight weeks of French II. The class is limited to 12.

Persons wishing additional information on these or other cooking classes should call the Oakland Center at 334-8266 or 334-8447.

Turney Finds Four Guilty of DWI

District Court Judge Jack Turney found four men guilty during March 7 and 8 court proceedings of driving or attempting to drive while under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs.

Those four included Joseph E. Sidebottom who was fined $500, with $300 suspended, paid court costs and is on one year of supervised probation; Francis Herman Walbert was fined $500, $300 of which will be refunded after his completion of DWI school, and paid court costs; Paul Robert Matthews was fined $1,000, plus court costs, put on 18 months of supervised probation and given an 89-day jail sentence, 79 days of that sentence was suspended; and Kenneth James Zimmerman was fined $500, ordered to pay court costs, put on one year of supervised probation and must attend DWI school.

GCC Transfer Students Doing Well At Maryland

All six Garrett Community College transfer students now attending the University of Maryland, College Park, during Spring 1983 were listed in "good standing" according to a recent report from the Maryland State Board for Community Colleges. "Good standing" refers to a 2.0 or better cumulative grade point average.

These students are enrolled in major programs of radio/TV, law enforcement, horticulture, accounting and nutrition. Their cumulative grade point average for Spring Semester 1983 was 2.74.

GCC is the only community college with 100% of its UMCP transfer students in "good standing," according to the report.

Information concerning transfer from GCC to the University of Maryland is available through the Transfer Office at GCC. Persons interested should contact Dr. George Dailey, designated transfer advisor for the University of Maryland at GCC.

Farming in Maryland

Farm Bureau Women Meet, Note Activities

A County Farm Bureau Women's Committee luncheon meeting was held Tuesday, March 6, at the Will O' the Wisp dining room overlooking Deep Creek Lake. Presiding was Donna Glotfelty, Garrett County Women's Committee chairman. Guests included Karen Hamilton, 1983 Garrett County Farm Queen; Dot Leuba and Bernice Merrill.

Reports on the Maryland Farm Bureau Convention held in December in Hagerstown were given by Karen Hamilton, Betty Guard and Carol Umbel. The 1984 convention will again be held in Hagerstown, December 2-5, so as not to interfere with deer season, and will begin Sunday evening with a Vesper Service.

Plans were made to conduct a county activity in observance of Farm-City Week, following the April 10 kick-off date. Farm-City Week is designed to further acquaint non-farm people with the field of agriculture. A committee headed by Carol Umbel, Women's Committee vice chairman, was appointed to finalize these plans, which will be announced later.

The date for a spring workshop, "The Complete Woman II," has been changed to May 1 and 2, and will be held at the Holiday Inn in Salisbury and Salisbury State College. Cost of the program will be $5.00, with special room rates ($10.25 per person with four to a room) for Farm Bureau members at the Inn. This program which will give women a chance to "stretch their bodies, stretch their minds, and explore what it means to be a farm woman in the 1980s," according to Mrs. Glotfelty. The two-day event will begin late afternoon of May 1 and the major program is May 2. Those who cannot attend both days are welcome to join the group for the second day. Tours are being arranged for any husbands who may wish to accompany their wives. Reservations should be made by calling the Maryland Farm Bureau Office at 1-922-3426 or Donna Glotfelty at 245-4345.

A Maryland Farm-Accident Survey sponsored by the University of Maryland and the Maryland Farm Bureau is being conducted in the county by both the Northern and Southern High School FFA Chapters as part of their projects for the year.

A joint luncheon meeting with Allegany County Farm Bureau Women's Committee members will be held at the Grantsville Holiday Inn in May, beginning at 11:30 a.m. Blood pressure checks and a film are part of the program being planned. District No. 1 Women's Committee directors, including Allegany, Frederick, Garrett and Washington counties, will meet June 6 at Zion Methodist Church, near Frostburg, with Garrett and Allegany counties as hostesses. Reservations for both luncheon meetings can be made with either county Women's Committee chairmen.

Plans were also made to conduct the annual Garrett County Farm Queen Contest August 12 in conjunction with the Garrett County Fair. Named to a planning committee were Wanda Guard, Betty Guard, Dot Leuba, Helen Harris, Debbie Stemple, Karmen Carey and Karen Hamilton, 1983 Farm Queen. Persons wishing to enter may contact any of these committee members or any Farm Bureau Women's Committee Director, for further information.

The next Young Farmers' meeting will be held Monday, March 26, at the County Extension Office in Oakland. A program is being planned and refreshments will be served by the County Women's Committee. Anyone between the ages of 18 and 35 is urged to attend.

Farm Bureau Women Travel To State House

Farm Bureau Women from across Maryland, including 14 from Garrett County, traveled to Annapolis recently for a day of activity centered around the theme, "A Day in Annapolis."

The women gathered in the Calvert Room of the State House where they were greeted by Maryland Farm Bureau Women's Committee Chairman, Martha Clark, of Howard County, and Jack Miller, Maryland Farm Bureau legislative director and lobbyist.

The group then visited the Senate and House Galleries, and witnessed their legislators in action. They were taken on a guided tour of both the State House and the Governor's Mansion, and had lunch at the Maryland Inn with their local legislators, followed by a question-and-answer period with Del. George Edwards. The women had the opportunity to attend committee hearings in the House and Senate Office Buildings, and were followed throughout the day's activities by TV and media persons as they taped a program which was aired on the Monday evening program, "Up on the Farm."

A "Washington Drive-In" March 14 and 15 will provide similar experiences for 130 Farm Bureau members from all over Maryland as they attend meetings and sessions in the nation's capitol, and meet with legislators there.

Grain Highlights by John L. Crothers, Marketing Specialist

U.S. corn producers can foresee that another record crop will probably push corn prices down to an unacceptable level (possibly below production costs). Unlike other situations, where everybody just says, "Why doesn't someone do somthing about it?," corn growers can do something about it. The February U.S. corn planting intentions showed 81.8 million acres, just about the record 1982 crop level. If that acreage is planted, the market will definitely do something about price. However, corn producers have been given another chance, a reprieve, an extension of the corn program signup deadline to March 16.

Farmers in the heavy corn producing areas of the western corn belt represent much of the acreage and now have more incentive to participate. They can see their current corn prices being pushed down to $3.00 and below. They are realistic enough to project this and see the price handwriting on the wall if 1984 acreage and production are not cut back. Last-minute PIK redemptions should increase market supplies and hold down prices, at least through the sign-up period. In addition, most calculations show that unless these corn belt producers can foresee a U.S. five month average corn price (October through February) of $2.85 or more, they would profit by participation. Will they do something about it? Tune in after March 16.

Nearly 200 Sign Up For Dairy Program

Out of a total of approximately 2,200 dairy farms with milk cows in Maryland, 199 dairy producers signed up for the milk diversion program, according to Olin S. Davis, Jr., chairman of the Maryland State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The program offered milk producers an incentive payment of $10 per hundredweight for reducing their commercial milk sales from 5 to 30 percent during the periods January 1, 1984 through March 31, 1985.

Program participants in Maryland contracted to reduce their fluid milk output by 53,096,400 pounds. Preliminary reports show an intended herd reduction under the program of 1,868 head above normal culling. Milk producers also indicated their intention to send 387 animals to slaughter during the first month, and achieve the remaining reduction at a rate of about 100 head per month. Davis said this should not have significant impact on cattle, poultry or hog markets.

Incentive payments to program participants will total about $5,309,640. This will be financed by a 50-cent per hundredweight USDA assessment on all milk produced in the 48 States and marketed for commercial use. "This assessment runs from December 1, 1983 to March 31, 1985, and replaces two 50-cent assessments imposed under previous legislation," he said.

According to Davis, another mandatory 15-cents-per-hundredweight assessment will begin when the program for dairy product promotion, research and nutrition education becomes effective.

The preliminary milk diversion program report also showed that dairy farmers nationwide enrolled 325,805,134 hundredweight of their milk bases and diverted 74,544,670 hundredweight to achieve the required reduction in milk sales.

"It could be that further reduction in milk output will be needed after the 15-month program," the ASCS official said. It also appears that further adjustments will be necessary to bring the dairy supply and demand closer into balance.

Elizondo's character is sincere on sitcom

By Tim Boxer

Hector Elizondo

Leave it to producer Norman Lear, who gave us "Sanford and Son" and "All in the Family," to come up with "a.k.a. Pablo" on ABC. Its Mexican-American cast makes it a first for television.

The comedy revolves around a Chicano family with Paul Rodriguez in the title role. Hector Elizondo, of Puerto Rican descent, plays a Cuban Jew named Joe Sanchez Shapiro.

"Pablo wants to be a comedian and I am his agent," explains Elizondo. "But I know nothing about show business. I'm from New York. I speak a little faster and think a little faster — which makes me suspicious from the start."

Nevertheless, Elizondo's character is sincere. He will do anything to get Pablo a break, legal or otherwise.

"In Los Angeles," Elizondo says, "all the lawyers and agents are young. So I will wear this feeble toupee, which I will take on or off. If I am doing business, I wear it. At home I will like it off."

Pablo's father in the show does not understand his son. Pablo wants to leave the Chicano world and make it in America as a successful comedian. But his father does not think he is representing Mexicans in the best way.

The family house has a backyard with a Chevrolet.

"Always a Chevy, one that does not run," Elizondo says. "It's an East Los Angeles symbol. I have a feeling some people in Beverly Hills do that. They keep a car without an engine. Not only that neighbors should think they're affluent, but to keep the burglars away."

The show has a 16-member cast, one of the largest in sitcom history. Elizondo hopes the network will allow time for the characters to develop.

He is especially proud of the series because, of the six episodes made so far, he directed the last three. If the show is picked up next season, he expects to do more directing as well as acting.

Elizondo starred in another ethnic sitcom, "Poppy," which lasted one season on CBS in 1976. It was a comedy about a Puerto Rican family in New York, filmed in a back lot in Los Angeles.

"It should have been done on the streets of New York," the actor says. "That was the big disappointment."

SHOW AND TELL

Kilpatrick strings breaks for success

By Richard King

Lincoln Kilpatrick

HOLLYWOOD — Trace any leading actor's life back to its beginnings and chances are you will find a lucky break. Or maybe several of them. In the case of Lincoln Kilpatrick, who is now playing Police Lt. Michael Hoyt on ABC's "Matt Houston," there have been a string of breaks, beginning when he was 12.

"My father was a top construction man in St. Louis," Kilpatrick says. "He heard of good jobs in Alaska, building Army bases there, and so he took us up to Alaska. Then my mother, who had been a singer, saw how expensive things were there, so she began selling beer to customers in the kitchen."

That grew into a nightclub, which was called The Wyoming Club, and became an Anchorage landmark. Then came another break, when Billie Holiday came up to The Wyoming Club to sing.

"I was assigned to take Billie around," Kilpatrick says, "to make sure she got to the club on time — and sober. One night, I brought her to a little theater where I was acting, and she saw it, and she encouraged me to go to New York."

So, at 20, Kilpatrick piled everything he owned into his car and drove from Anchorage to New York City. He says that trip was one of the most thrilling things he's ever done. The stage was his first love, and remains his greatest love even today. "On the stage," he says, "you can get on a broomstick and think it's a horse. Before the camera, you get on a horse and it seems like a broomstick."

He's long been one of Hollywood's most reliable and most respected character actors. So it was only natural that, when the men behind "Matt Houston" determined to make a change in Horsley's supporting cast, they turned to Kilpatrick to play a major role.

Kilpatrick is pleased, of course. It helps pay the bills; he has two children studying music at U.S.C. His wife, Helena Ferguson, who used to sing but doesn't anymore, is very religious. "I believe," he says, "that she was the person who prayed our show up to a 30 share."

SUNDAY

Paul Newman stars as a man who must fight to clear his name after his reputation is damaged seriously by misleading newspaper articles, in "Absence of Malice," airing Sunday, March 18 on ABC.

(Stations reserve the right to make last-minute changes.)

TV TATTLE

Tyne Daly

'Cagney & Lacey'

In the return of "Cagney & Lacey," to prime time TV, Monday, March 19, Sharon Gless and Tyne Daly once again star as two N.Y.P.D. women detectives who've earned the respect of their male counterparts.

Miss Gless and Miss Daly, in their title roles of Chris Cagney and Mary Beth Lacey, have earned the respect of CBS too, which decided to resurrect the show from the series' graveyard where it had been put to rest at the end of last season.

'Obsessive Love'

Production has begun on locations in and around Los Angeles for "Obsessive Love," a TV movie starring Yvette Mimieux and Simon MacCorkindale, for future broadcast on CBS.

Miss Mimieux portrays a shy, introverted woman whose fantasies about a love affair with a handsome soap opera star, played by MacCorkindale, involve three people in a situation with devastating results.

'Kate & Allie'

"Kate & Allie," the new New York based series starring Susan Saint James and Jane Curtain, will premiere Monday, March 19 on CBS.

It's a story about two divorced women, Kate McArdle (Miss Saint James) and Allie Lowell (Miss Curtain), friends since high school, who decide to pool their resources, talents and children to make a home in a Greenwich Village apartment. While Kate brings home the bacon, Allie keeps home and clan together.

'Getting Physical'

Alexandra Paul stars as a young woman who gets involved in body building as a means of self-defense, and ultimately finds herself building up a new self-image, in "Getting Physical," airing Tuesday, March 20 on CBS.

Susan Saint James

Returning from maternity leave, Jane Pauley rejoins Bryant Gumbel as co-anchor of NBC News' "Today," airing weekday mornings.

Gary Collins, who teams up with his wife, former Miss America Mary Ann Mobley in a much-in-demand variety act, goes solo as host of "Hour Magazine."

MONDAY

Robert Hays (Mister Roberts, L), Marilu Henner (Nurse Ann Girard) and Charles Durning (Captain) star in NBC's Live Theater presentation of the American classic "Mister Roberts," Monday, March 19.

(Stations reserve the right to make last-minute changes.)

TV PEOPLE

Gary Collins hosts an 'Hour' of hope

By Joe Haviland

Gary Collins

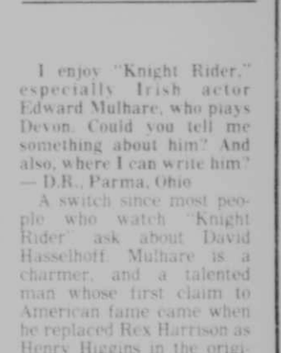
As host of "Hour Magazine," Gary Collins believes he has made a difference in the lives of his viewers.

"Every piece we do has a focus and the point of the piece can run from just simply life enhancing all the way to life altering," says Collins, who is now into his fourth season of hosting the hourlong talk show that is currently being seen on over 145 stations across the country. "We don't waste any time in that sense. I can't remember a piece that we've done in the last three years that has been what you would call frivolous. Even something as innocuous as cooking elicits some 70,000 letters a month for the recipes."

The show is inundated with material and personal stories each week. "What we try to do is weed out the stuff we feel would be subjects that are just vehicles for people to get on television," says Collins. "And we try to get pieces that we feel represent a broad section of the country, that represent the human condition and that represent it in the right manner."

Collins, who is married to former Miss America Mary Ann Mobley and who will once again host the Miss America Pageant this year, thinks he can do anything on the program as long as it is done in good taste. "The first year (1980) we tried a few sensational pieces to really get attention," he says. "Four years ago it was at the height of the sexuality movement. There were so many books out. And every 5 or 6 o'clock newscast had a series on sexuality. And when you're dealing with something as intimate as sexuality it seems to me that some of these so-called talk show professionals that are now in the circuit basically perform and the more shock value they can give you the better." That offends me."

When Collins is not hosting "Hour Magazine," he and his wife spend part of their off-time in charity work, specifically World Vision. On a recent trip to Somalia and Ethiopia, he filmed two syndicated documentaries to help raise money for the world-wide charity.



"Because we have people who watch the program every day who are going through, or may go through, or may have gone through some devastating illness or emotional upheaval in their lives," says Collins, "it's important when they watch the program that they see some element of hope and that they see some light at the end of the tunnel."

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By Val Carew

I would like to know where I can write Gene Anthony Ray, who plays Leroy on "Fame." I would love to have him over for dinner. I think he is so good looking and such a talented actor, singer and dancer. — V.H., Trenton, N.J.

Gene Anthony Ray has homes in both New York City and Los Angeles. Born in New York City, Ray played Leroy in the movie "Fame," before doing the TV series. Write him in care of the series at MGM Studios, Culver City, CA 90230.

Gene Anthony Ray

I would like to know the name of the girl who plays Kathy on "Knots Landing." I like her singing. — S.M., Laurel Hill, N.C.

Her name is Lisa Hartman. She is from Texas and she starred in the TV series "Tabitha," which was an update of the series, "Bewitched" (she played Samantha's grown-up daughter), which had a brief run. She has made an album and if your local records store doesn't have it, they should be able to get it for you.

Edward Mulhare

I enjoy "Knight Rider," especially Irish actor Edward Mulhare, who plays Devon. Could you tell me something about him? And also, where I can write him? — D.R., Parma, Ohio

A switch since most people who watch "Knight Rider" ask about David Hasselhoff. Mulhare is a charmer, and a talented man whose first claim to American fame came when he replaced Rex Harrison as Henry Higgins in the original Broadway production of "My Fair Lady." He also starred as the ghost opposite Hope Lange's Mrs. Muir in the series "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir," which was on for two seasons beginning in 1968. He was born in Cork, Ireland on April 8, 1923. He is single and maintains a residence in Connecticut where he lives when not working in Los Angeles. Write him in care of the series at Universal Studios, Universal City, CA 91608.

New Lindsay blooms as voluptuous Velda

By Peter Meade

Lindsay Bloom

When Lindsay Blen first heard about the audions for the role of Velda, tl sultry secretary in "Mickey Spillane's Mike Hammr," she knew it was the kindof role she would "dve" for.

Yet dying her hai from blonde to brunette vs not enough for Miss Blen to achieve the approval f the series' executive prucer, Jay Bernstein.

"I was told to lo 15 pounds in two and ahalf weeks," says Miss Bloo of the outcome of her stond audition.

A regime of swimming, dieting and aerobics heef her lose 22 pounds before the CBS series began filming.

"I lost the last two jst before we started filming," she says. "But I knew I could do it. I'm infatuated with the part."

While the producer was happy with her transition, it took the new Lindsay Bloom quite a while to adopt her character's rosy outlook.

"The first few weeks I thought I was invisible," she says. "I felt like I had to reintroduce myself. 'Hey, you know me.' Now I'd say 85 percent of my friends like me as a brunette."

Tanya Roberts, the former "Charlie's Angels" and "Beastmaster" star, played voluptuous Velda when "Mike Hammer's Murder Me, Murder You" aired as a TV movie last year. When the movie's ratings were outstanding, an order for additional episodes were ordered and a nationwide Velda search began last summer. More than 5,000 applicants came up short — including Miss Bloom. But when she went in for her third audition in August, no one recognized her after the startling transformation.

She has won the big contests before. After being crowned Miss Omaha, she won the Miss USA title and then went on to Hollywood as one of the Ding-a-Ling Sisters on "The Dean Martin Show." She also spent several years as Ray Krebbs' girlfriend, Bonnie Robertson, on "Dallas," but she's thankful that "Mike Hammer" has put an end to seven years of guest-starring.

"But 'Dallas' is nothing like this," she says. "There I was just trying to fit in. I wasn't a regular. Here I'm part of the focalpoint."

At first she objected to Velda's low-cut outfits. Even though the frequency has decreased now — "She's a working woman, not a Barbie doll," says Miss Bloom — she understands it's a part of how Spillane originally created the character.

Principal to wed; Parton's new film

By Cindy Adams

NEW YORK — Harry Glassman, a Hollywood plastic surgeon, and Victoria Principal, the ladyfriend he's been seeing for a year and a half, will soon make it Dr. and Mrs.... Dom De Luise's ABC special for May, "Dom D And Friends," has Orson Welles doing comedy... Within a 30-minute period, sports agent David Fishof negotiated two million-dollar contracts: one for former NY Giant Gary Jeter, now with the LA Rams; one for former NY Yankee Juan Beniquez, now with the California Angels. That's what Fishof calls putting his new Morrow book, "Putting it on the Line," on the line.

Victoria Principal to marry

Dolly Parton will star in a film about her life, a sort of Abe Lincolnesque folk heroine story. She's writing the script herself... Twiggy is the latest to prepare a beauty and exercise book... A $10 million, six-part series, "Mountbatten - The Last Viceroy," films in India in June. Nicol Williamson stars as Lord Louis, and Diana Rigg portrays Lady Edwina.

Following some well-paid talks in L.A., Henry Kissinger will rest up in Palm Springs while devouring "The Discoverers," Daniel Boorstin's 700-page best-seller, plus a suitcase of detective novels. Asked why he didn't wave back when a lady yoo-hoo'd him recently from her car, Kissinger replied: "I wasn't sure she was waving at me and everyone knows I'm sensitive."

Rod Stewart into art

Rod Stewart is twitching to get on the big screen. He's working on playing Leonardo da Vinci in what's being gift-wrapped as a far out comedy about the Renaissance. Well, we knew it wasn't a documentary, right?

CBS has made an offer to Peter Falk. They want him back in his rumpled trench coat for a revival of the series.

Light exited 'OLTL' Williams cuts album

By Kimberly Redmond

Can you please tell me what happened to Judith Light, the actress who portrayed Karen Wolek on "One Life to Live"? She seems to have disappeared since leaving the soap. — M.R., Mayfield Hts., Ohio.

Miss Light left OLTL to pursue other acting roles. She is currently filming a pilot for a new Norman Lear comedy series, "Who's The Boss?" Even though the role of Karen has been left open, Miss Light won't be returning to "OLTL."

How long has "Days of Our Lives" been on the air and are there any original cast members still on the show? — K.G., Montgomery, Ala.

Frances Reid

"Days of Our Lives" premiered November 8, 1965. Three original cast members are still with the show: Frances Reid (Alice Horton), Macdonald Carey (Tom Horton) and John Clarke (Mickey Horton).

I am a big fan of Jesse Hubbard on "All My Children," and I would like some information about him. — D.Y., Middleburg, N.C.

Darnell Williams who portrays Jesse Hubbard on "AMC," was born in London, England. He attended Los Angeles City College and appeared in regional theater productions during his college years. He has appeared in several off-Broadway productions and had roles on TV in "Rich Man, Poor Man," "Sammy & Company" and "White Shadow." Also a singer, Williams has a record album which was released last fall.

I was a fan of the Gothic soap opera "Dark Shadows," and I'd like to know if it's ever going to be aired again? — J.J., Parna, Ohio.

Macdonald Carey

"Dark Shadows" is rebroadcast occasionally by local television stations and network affiliates, but you would have to check local listings or contact your local TV station program managers to find out when.

High Schools To Observe Foreign Language Week

The foreign language teachers and students at Northern and Southern high schools will observe Foreign Language Week, March 18-24. Anna May Norris, French teacher at Northern High, and Joan Lambert and Lowell Leitzel, German and French teachers, respectively, at Southern High, are planning special activities for their classes and for their schools during this week.

Northern High offers courses in French I, II, III and IV for students in grades nine through 12. Southern High offers courses in French I, II, III and IV and in German I, II, III and IV for students in grades nine through 12. As colleges and universities re-evaluate their requirements for foreign languages, Garrett County students who are enrolled in the honors/college preparatory program are strongly encouraged to take at least two years of a foreign language. Students in other courses of study are also urged to take foreign language courses.

Foreign language students learn the four basic language skills: listening comprehension, speaking, reading and writing. In the first year of study they learn the basic vocabulary for greetings, everyday objects, family, school, colors, time, weather, clothing, action verbs and descriptive adjectives. As they progress to the upper levels they expand their vocabulary and grammar concepts to enable them to talk about their own daily lives and about life in the foreign country whose language they study. Such topics include geography, school, travel, vacations, sports, hobbies, using the telephone, writing letters, finding jobs, or participating in cultural activities. Special class projects enable the students to increase their awareness and understanding of the language and culture of the various countries. A study of the German and French influences on American history, for example, enables students to realize that their own heritage is multi-cultural, according to Leitzel. "An intense study of a foreign language novel, play, short story or poem enables the students to experience the culture reflected through literature," he said.

During the past three years the highlight of the foreign language program in Garrett County has been the School Exchange Service program. Twenty German students from Southern High participated in the exchange programs in 1981 and 1983 with the Gymnasium Sulingen, which sent 32 students to Garrett County during those two years. Also in 1983 six students from Southern High participated in the exchange program with the Lycee Jules Siegfriend in Le Havre, France. Fifteen students from Le Havre visited Garrett County that spring. Tentative plans include another exchange with Sulingen, West Germany, in 1985, and a joint French program involving Northern and Southern High students in 1986.

French students from Northern High have attended various French language concerts and theatrical productions. Nine French and German students from Southern will participate in a poetry recitation contest at Hood College on April 7.

President Ronald Reagan supports the efforts of foreign language teachers and students throughout the United States. He offered the following thoughts in observance of Foreign Language Week 1984:

"It is a pleasure for me to extend warm greetings on the annual celebration of National Foreign Language Week.

"We live in a time when mediocrity and imbalance in education cannot be tolerated. In no previous era have so many citizens depended so heavily upon their personal understanding and comprehension of global affairs. Communication between nations which is accomplished well can have positive effects upon countless millions. However, communication which is accomplished poorly can be sobering. Mistakes in judgment due to a lack of understanding or misinterpretation of the nuances of languages can produce unexpected and adverse results.

"Because all who work in support of this Week feel the awesome responsibility in the use of languages, I know you will increase your fine efforts in the study and teaching of languages. Many of you served society with distinction; yet the work of a free society is never finished. Knowledge changes and expands, and the citizens you have taught and encouraged will change and expand intellectually for all our benefit.

"My best wishes for continuing and growing success go to all who join in the observance of National Foreign Language Week."

Judge Fred Thayer Hears One Case In Juvenile Court

Judge Fred A. Thayer heard one case in Juvenile Court held March 7 in Garrett County Circuit Court.

A Garrett County female, age 16, was accused of striking another juvenile female with her fist causing an injury that required medical treatment. The incident occurred on November 28 at Southern High School.

According to a court spokesman, the juvenile was found not to be delinquent by Judge Thayer.

Balloon Cluster Found By Area Resident Friday

A Sunnyside Road resident retrieved a bouquet of balloons from a tree near the Youghiogheny River March 4 and found a note attached from students at the Bettsville, Ohio Local School.

When Bill Foster got a ladder and checked the cluster, he found the balloons had been launched Friday, March 2, to kick off the school's read-a-thon for "Ohio's Right to Read Week." The balloons bore the legend "Books Are Best Friends."

Foster plans to return the attached card telling where the balloons and note were found according to family members who notified The Republican of the incident.

Only three of the dozen or more balloons were still inflated when found by Foster.

Monte Vista 4-H Club Has Annual Family Night

Approximately 100 members, parents and guests attended the annual Monte Vista 4-H Club Family Night, held Friday evening in the community room of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Oakland.

Lori Dodge, vice president of the club, extended a welcome and Rev. Manning Smith, of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, gave the invocation before the covered dish dinner was served.

Pam and Patty Gnegy, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Lorraine Gnegy, Oakland, were named the recipients of the Monte Vista "Most Outstanding 4-H Members" of the club during 1983. Pam and Patty tied for this award, which is given to a member compiling the most points for club participation. They participated in the county fair, club tours, state fair, public speaking, county and district modeling and demonstrations.

Pam is the president of the Monte Vista Club and Patty is the club's teen leader for 1984. Both attend St. John's Lutheran Church and are active in youth activities and Sunday School, as well as school activities. Alice Hevner, Extension Agent, 4-H and Youth presented each of them with a 4-H necklace on behalf of the club.

Pledges were led by Christa Updyke. Tara Wildesen and Elizabeth Savage, Club Song Leader, and Rev. Manning Smith, accompanied by Lynn Elmlinger, led the group in songs.

The program was provided by "Garrett Go-Getters", by Jeannie Whitehair and daughters.

Miss Hevner and Ted Sprangel, Extension Agents, 4-H and Youth, explained some of the 4-H activities. Mrs. Polly Hanst, former 4-H Leader who started the Monte Vista Club in 1955, told of her experiences with the club and remarked that some of the members' mothers were in the club when she was a leader.

Lori Dodge, with the assistance of Carrie Kurtz, secretary, and Pam Evans, treasurer, initiated new members Alison Graybill, Heather Lipscomb, Chrissy Mattingly, Audrey Morris, Barbie Nelson, Tiffany Powers and Renee Stark, presenting each of them with a flower and 4-H pin. Perfect attendance pins were awarded to Jennifer Morris, Carrie Kurtz, Erin Dabney, Melanie Barr, Tara Wildesen, Rebecca Few and Pam and Patty Gnegy. Pam Evans and Lori Dodge were presented with a gift for three years of perfect attendance at club meetings.

Leaders of the club are Reva Thomas, Norma Gnegy, Lorene Dodge, Rosalee Evans, Teresa Feather, Barbara Morris and Lois Few.

Satellite TV Information

As with all things we find the good and the bad.

The Good

Satellite TV reception offers many people the opportunity to get quality programming in areas where before none existed. Over 100 channels from 14 satellites provide news, movies, religions, and educational programming 24 hours a day. Most any form of video and audio entertainment imaginable is available via satellite, including the ABC, NBC, and CBS networks. Some of this programming is also transmitted in true stereo, so the sound quality is as good as the picture. Finally, rural area reception surpasses that of those with available cable services. A quality system, installed and maintained, can provide many years of dependable service.

The Bad

As with many new things, you, the general public, are often faced with trying to understand the new technology and services available. Being naive, gullible and lacking the knowledge and experience, many people are led to believe what they want. They mistakenly believe products that are less expensive will do as good a job as the more expensive product. Unfortunately, this is untrue. The fact is, most products that are lower priced are cheaply constructed and offer less quality, features and service. Many so-called dealers find it is easy to sell a product without full knowledge of the servicing that may be involved.

The Facts Are

Even if product quality was equal, many other factors may not be equal. A dealer's ability to properly install, service, and maintain the equipment is as important as the product itself. Long-term product use can only be assured if it's backed by competent service. The fact is, fancy business names, very limited business hours and low prices do not get the job done.

For The Record

We Sell America's Most Popular Satellite Systems

We offer 6', 7½' Kits, and back them with service. We COMPLETELY INSTALL our 8 and 10 ft. systems. We've installed over 130 systems, and we are the oldest, most experienced area dealer. We offer regular hours, 6 days a week. We have over 20 years electronics servicing experience. We will only service systems sold by us.

So for the best in Satellite TV, it's always

NOTICE

A DECISION of the Garrett County Sanitary Commission, pursuant to Section 9-652 (i) of the Health-Environmental Article of the Annotated Code of Maryland (1982 Volume) approving the Kitzmiller Water Project in the Kitzmiller Sanitary District.

RECITALS

1. The Garrett County Sanitary Commission (the "Commission"), the governing body of Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc., duly passed and adopted on May 23, 1983 a resolution (the "Commission Resolution") proposing to create a service area in Garrett County to be designated the "Kitzmiller Sanitary District" (the "Sanitary District").

2. By a resolution duly passed and adopted on July 12, 1983 (the "County Resolution"), the Board of County Commissioners of Garrett County, which is the governing body of County Commissioners of Garrett County (the "County"), approved the creation of the Sanitary District after holding a public hearing on June 30, 1983, notice of which was published on June 15, 1983 in The Republican, a newspaper of general circulation in the County.

3. A copy of the Commission Resolution, together with a plat showing the boundary lines of the Sanitary District, was filed with the Clerk of the Circuit Court for Garrett County on July 25, 1983, thereby creating the Sanitary District pursuant to Section 9-648 of the Health-Environmental Article of the Annotated Code of Maryland (1982 Volume) (the "Sanitary Commissions Law").

4. Pursuant to Section 9-652 (a) of the Sanitary Commissions Law, the Commission has caused surveys, plans, specifications and estimates to be made for a project to be established in the Sanitary District described as the Kitzmiller Water Project (the "Project"), the plans of which project (the "Plans") are on file in the office of the Commission and open to inspection.

5. Pursuant to Section 9-652 (d) of the Sanitary Commissions Law, the Commission held a public hearing (the "Hearing") on August 11, 1983, at 7:00 p.m. at the Kitzmiller Elementary School, Kitzmiller, Maryland, to consider the Project and to give all individuals interested in the Project an opportunity to be heard in accordance with Section 9-652 of the Sanitary Commissions Law, notice of the Hearing having been published on July 27, August 3, and August 10, 1983 in The Republican in accordance with Section 9-652 (f) and (g) of the Sanitary Commissions Law.

NOW, THEREFORE, ON THIS 6th DAY OF MARCH, 1984, THE GARRET COUNTY SANITARY COMMISSION, after duly considering all information before it relating to the Project, including the surveys, plans, specifications and estimates prepared pursuant to Section 9-652 (a) of the Sanitary Commissions Law, all facts presented and opinions expressed at the Hearing, and any other data made known to it which it deems relevant and material to this decision, and acting pursuant to Section 9-652 (i) of the Sanitary Commissions Law, hereby approves The Kitzmiller Water Project in accordance with the Plans.

Local Students Participate In ...-State Chorus

Four Garrett County students, two from Southern High School and two from Northern High School, recently represented the county as members of the Maryland All-State Senior High School Chorus. They are Becki Tacket and Deborah Louise Jones, of Northern, and Carla Ellen Beckman and Jennifer Lynn Sisler, of Southern.

Miss Tacket, soprano, is the daughter of Paul and Althea Tacket, Friendsville. She is a cheerleader at Northern, vice president of the Student Council, a member of the yearbook staff, and sings in the choir of the Mt. Lake Independent Baptist Church.

Miss Jones, soprano, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David L. Jones, Grantsville. She is president of the Northern Chorus, accompanist, a member of the band and a choir member at St. Paul's United Methodist Church in Grantsville.

Miss Beckman, alto, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary G. Beckman, Sr., Oakland, has been active in the Southern Chorus for four years. She has also participated in volleyball and the junior and senior class plays at Southern.

Miss Sisler, soprano, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Sisler, Oakland. She has been a soloist with the Southern Chorus and appeared in the junior and senior class plays.

The singers performed under the direction of Dr. Samuel Gordon when the All-State Chorus met in Towson. Dr. Gordon is a well-known symphony conductor as well as conductor of the Baltimore Singers and the Washington Vocal Arts Ensemble.

There were over 250 singers chosen from 116 high schools in the state for All-State Chorus. They performed five choral works in Latin, Veni Sancte Spiritus by Mozart, several contemporary works and three arrangements by Norman Luboff.

The four local youth were rehearsed by Carolyn Lambert Wilt, Resource teacher for the Garrett County Board of Education.

Two Prepay Fines For DNR Violations

Three cases involving Department of Natural Resource violations were heard before District Court Judge Jack Turney last week. In two cases the fine was prepaid and in the third the case was nolle prossed at the request of prosecuting attorney Daun Weiers.

Paul Ronald Tasker, Kitzmiller, and Robert Johnson, McHenry, were charged with hunting/possession of a game animal during a closed season (doe). Each prepaid a $200 fine rather than stand trial, according to DNR Officer Richard Towers.

In the third case, Darius Miller, Route 1, Lonaconing (Garrett County), was charged with spotlighting a field while having a firearm capable of killing a deer in his possession.

Due to complications with witnesses, however, the case was nolle prossed.

Spelling Bee To Be Held At Southern Middle

To help emphasize good spelling in the Garrett County schools, the County Council of PTAs will be sponsoring "a good old-fashioned spelling bee" at Southern Middle School on Friday, March 23, at 7:30 p.m.

Youngsters from the fourth and fifth grades from Bloomington, Broad Ford, Crellin, Dennett Road, Kitzmiller, Loch Lynn and Red House elementary schools will compete during the first half of the program. Sixth, seventh and eighth grade students from Bloomington, Northern Middle School, Southern Middle School and Yoder schools will compete during the second half of the program.

This will be the first time in over 20 years that an area-wide spelling bee has been conducted in the southern portion of the county. The elementary schools in the northern portion of the county have conducted a spelling bee for the last four years and have scheduled the 1984 contest for later this spring at the Route 40 Elementary School.

The county-wide spelling bee for students at the middle school level is a resumption of an activity that took place for several years during the late 1950s and early 1960s.

Judges for the spelling bee will come from Allegany County, with Alan J. Reinhardt, assistant professor of English at Garrett Community College, serving as the pronouncer. All members of the public are invited to attend.

Oakland Native Plans Two-Month Stay In Nazareth

An Oakland native will leave for the city of Nazareth, Israel, Saturday to spend her final two months as a medical student working in the E.M.M.S. Hospital.

Robin Rodeheaver Meek and her husband, John, both fourth-year medical students at West Virginia University made arrangements through a missionary friend to work in the Nazareth hospital for two months before their graduation from the WVU medical school on May 11. They will receive college credit for their time spent in the Israeli hospital.

The Meeks have spent their third and fourth years in the WVU program working in the Charleston Area Medical Center, a branch of WVU.

Robin Meek, a 1974 graduate of Southern High School, plans to specialize in internal medicine and spend her three-year residency program at the Charleston Area Medical Center. John Meek plans to specialize in medicine and pediatrics and will complete his four-year residency in Charleston, also.

They hope to enter missionary work after completing their residency programs.

Mrs. Meek is the daughter of Robert and Rosetta Rodeheaver, Oakland.

KITZMILLER

Edith Evans and her brother, Linden Miller, returned home from a three month trip. They visited Lt. Commander and Mrs. Charles Fitched, Hawaii; Audrey Fisher and Mary Deusenberry, Rio Vista, Calif.; Fred Evans, Tucson, Ariz.; Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Evans, Savannah, Ga.; and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Vaden, Severna Park.

Mrs. Barbara Shaffer and Beverly Spiker prepared a welcome home dinner for them and a birthday party for Jane Vaden.

Those attending were Eulalia Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Goldie Streets, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Shaffer, Debbie Estil and son, Gene, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Spiker, Robin and Cristy Spiker, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Vaden and Rita Vaden.

Mrs. Elva Tasker returned home from Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Evelyn Hanlin is a patient in a hospital in Cumberland.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Knotts and children visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blyley, Richmond, Va., over the weekend.

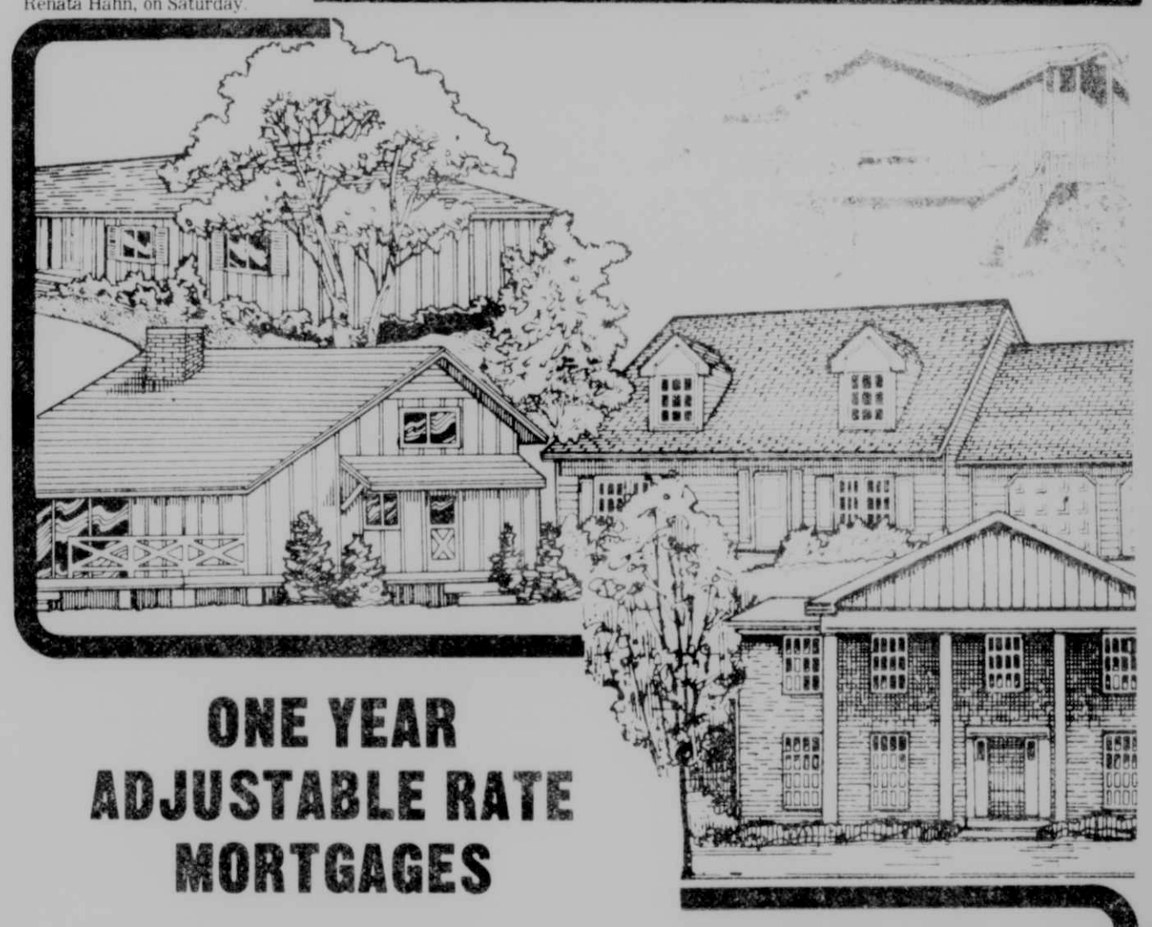
Daphne King is visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Hahn, Lexington, Ky. She will attend the wedding of her granddaughter, Renata Hahn, on Saturday.

Oakland Area Christian Women Club To Meet

The Oakland Area Christian Women's Club has scheduled its next luncheon for Wednesday, March 21, 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at the Village Inn, McHenry.

The special feature for this program is entitled "Spring Preview" showing the latest in spring fashions from Oakland Clothing Wear-House, by Annie Steyer. Leonard Eiswert, Oakland attorney, will bring the music presentation, Mrs. Mary Jane Hoey, of Gibsonia, Pa., mother of six and former Christian women's club chairman, will be the guest speaker.

All interested women of Garrett County and the surrounding communities are invited by making reservations with Mrs. Janet Smith at 334-1115 or Mrs. Brenda Thorn at 334-8506 for both the luncheon and free nursery for pre-schoolers at the Deep Creek Baptist Church, Rt. 219 N.



The local club is part of an international organization with the headquarters in Kansas City, Mo. It is inter-church and non-sectarian with approximately 2,500 groups across the U.S., Canada and around the world, yet there are no memberships or dues.

ACCIDENT

Visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence "Bud" Deal at their home this past week were: Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Calhoun, George Miller, Rev. Paul Mohler, Raymond Piper, Mrs. Mabel Haenftling, Mrs. Helen Fike, Alva Rextoad and George Coddington.

Commissioners Abolish Chief Dispatcher Post

The Garrett County Commissioners have abolished the position of chief dispatcher in the county communications department as the result of a management and personnel administrative review conducted over the past month.

The commissioners authorized the review on Feb. 28 and instructed Paul Shockey, county personnel director, to conduct the review. The commissioners indicated the reason for the review was due to some employee unrest in the communications and Civil Defense departments and because of complaints from the public and county rescue groups.

After completion of the review, Shockey met with commissioners Tuesday in an executive session to present his recommendations which included the elimination of the chief dispatcher position and improvements in equipment in HOME DESTROYED — Deer Park volunteer firefighters knock down the flames of a blaze that destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester O. Bittinger yesterday afternoon. The dwelling, which was located on Boy Scout Road, was completely involved in flame when firemen from Deer Park and Deep Creek VFD arrived. The fire was discovered shortly after 1 p.m., by a driver for a local beer distributor. There were no injuries. See story.

Lone Gunman Commits Local Armed Robbery

An Oakland business establishment was robbed Sunday evening of $800 by a lone man who was carrying a gun.

According to a Garrett County Sheriff's Department spokesman, the man entered the Starlite Restaurant at approximately 6:35 p.m. and bought a cup of coffee to go. He then told the cashier to give him all the money in the cash register and showed him the butt portion of a handgun that he had tucked in his jeans. After the cashier did as he was instructed, the man told him to go the backroom. The suspect then calmly walked out; no one else in the restaurant at the time was aware of what was happening.

The Maryland State Police with their canine unit and the Oakland City Police Department assisted the sheriff's department in the search which was centered in the wooded section behind the restaurant.

The suspect shown in a police sketch, is described as a white male; about 25 years in age; being six feet, one inch in height and about 200 pounds in weight; he had brown, shoulder length hair. He was last seen wearing a camouflage hunting cap, a blue pullover hooded sweatshirt and faded blue jeans. He was also wearing mirrored sunglasses.

Anyone having information on the suspect is asked to call the Garrett County Sheriff's Department at 334-2141. Deputy R. Kutchman is handling the investigation.

PICTURED ABOVE IS AN ARTIST'S CONCEPTION of the subject wanted in the investigation of an armed robbery which occurred Sunday at the Starlite Restaurant in Oakland. He is described as a white male, approximately 25 years old, six feet, one inch tall, weighing 200 pounds, and he has brown, shoulder length hair. He was last seen wearing mirrored sunglasses, a camouflage hunting cap, a blue pullover hooded sweatshirt jacket and faded blue jeans.

"South Pacific" Cast, Performing Dates Announced

The cast for the June production of the Broadway musical, "South Pacific," by the Garrett Choral Society was announced today by Nancy Learey, director.

Mrs. Learey stated that she once again made every effort to include as many individuals as possible in performing roles and that many of the persons who auditioned Thursday and Friday have the potential to perform in a leading role.

The dates for performing "South Pacific," which were originally the second weekend in May, have been changed to June 7, 8, 9 and 10 because of a scheduling conflict at Southern High School, where the musical will be presented. Mrs. Learey said that information concerning advance ticket sales will be forthcoming.

She stated that the first rehearsal, at which she requests the entire cast attend (with the exception of Native Children), will be Monday, March 26, at 7 p.m., at the Southern High cafetorium. There will be a complete read-through of the musical and rehearsal calendars will be distributed to all cast members.

There are two parts, Abner and Sgt. Jack Waters, which have not yet been filled.

Cast members and their roles are as follows:

Nancy Alvarez, Ngana; Todd

Friendsville Citizens Protest Election

A group of citizens displeased with the outcome of the Friendsville election has hired Attorney Robert Watson to prove the election procedure was illegal and request that the results should be discarded.

The matter was discussed at the April 8 meeting of the new mayor and council. According to town clerk Lisa Hetzel, she failed to include the deadline time for registration of candidates in the legal advertisement.

The town charter stipulates that the deadline is at or before noon on the first Monday of

Teachers Critical Of Pension Bill

The pension reform bill which passed the General Assembly Friday brought concerned reactions from area teachers' spokesmen this week.

The bill will put a cap on annual cost of living increases for state retirees' pension allowances. A 1971 bill established unlimited cost of living increases for retirees. Supporters of the bill point to the growing demand on the state's General Fund for retirement costs. They believe that to continue with the old system would seriously decrease funds available for pay increases for public employees.

The Maryland State Teachers Association plans to join with the Maryland Classified Employees Association in federal court as soon as the bill is signed by the governor. They maintain that the bill is a breach of the 1979 contract between the state and its employees.

Betty White, president of the Garrett County Teachers Association expressed disappointment in the action by the legislature, but said that the teachers of Garrett County were very grateful to the local representatives that voted against the bill.

Senator John N. Bambacus, representing Garrett and Allegany Counties, opposed the bill, as did Delegate George Edwards.

White is concerned about the

Winterfest XI Plans Finalized

Winterfest XI activities will officially get underway Friday evening, March 23, with a Kick-Off Party to be held at the Will O' the Wisp at Deep Creek Lake from 8 p.m. until 1 a.m. The evening will feature the announcing and crowning of the 1984 Winterfest Queen, along with an evening of entertainment and dancing. Advance tickets for the Kick-Off Party are $75.00 per couple and are available by calling Paul Miller at (301) 826-8738.

One of the new events scheduled, snow or no snow, will be the Wisp Mountain Endurance Run. Runners will face the challenge of a race against the clock by running a course up and around the slopes of the Wisp. This race will take place on Sunday at 3 p.m. There is a $5.00 entry fee required.

Allan Rosson, of Harvey's Peninsula, will perform his straitjacket escapes Saturday and Sunday at 1 and 3 p.m. each afternoon.

The three-day festival schedule of events will also include the following:

Saturday

Slalom Race, 10:30 a.m., with registration beginning at 8 a.m., $3 entry fee.

Open sleigh rides beginning at 11 a.m., courtesy of Western Trails.

Directors Agree To Operate Senior Citizen Program

The Garrett Community Action Board of Directors voted unanimously Thursday night to accept the designation by the State Office on Aging as the Area Agency on Aging beginning October 1.

The county commissioners announced last week that the state intended to transfer the designation from the county Commission on Aging to Community Action, but Community Action had the final decision of whether or not to accept that designation.

The action by the board will now allow Community Action staff to begin necessary work in transition of programs from the Commission on Aging to Community Action.

Duane Yoder, Community Action executive director, said Wednesday he first plans to meet with senior citizens throughout the county by visiting the 13 hot meals centers. These meetings will give him the opportunity to learn from the senior citizens what needs are or are not met through current programs.

After these meetings, he will prepare a service plan which he will present to senior citizens at each center before sending it to the state before its deadline of May 15.

Once this task is accomplished, Yoder expects to focus on staffing arrangements and a plan for transition between the Community Action and the Commission on Aging.

Kimberly A. Grimm Will Represent Maryland In National Teen Pageant

Kimberly Ann Grimm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Grimm, Mtn. Lake Park, was crowned Miss Maryland Teen Charm at a state pageant held in Cumberland on March 11. She will now represent the state of Maryland in the National Pageant, which will be held in Arlington, Va., July 10-14.

Besides being named Miss Maryland Teen Charm, she was also presented the Miss Charm award.

Selection was based upon interview, evening gown and talent competition. Miss Grimm presented a vocal selection from the Broadway musical "Annie."

Judges for the event were Miss West Virginia, Linda Hedrick; Lenore Pence, Patrice Wolf and Karen Malone-Wolfe.

Miss Grimm is a freshman student at Southern High School. She is a jayvee cheerleader and a member of the Southern Girls Athletic Association. Her hobbies include singing, dancing, gymnastics and other sports. She has received a number of awards for her singing. She plans to pursue a career in the computer technology field.

Kimberly was sponsored in the state pageant by the Oakland Junior Woman's Civic Club, Oakland Elks, Grandmother's House, Sandy's, Crabtree Photography and Hair N' Phernalia.

Contestants in the national pageant will be judged on interview, evening gown competition, talent, sportswear and state costume. Participants will be from all over the United States. Miss Grimm will compete in the Teen division.

GCC Board Sets Tuition Increase

Garrett Community College Students will face a tuition increase beginning with the Fall 1984 semester. The tuition increase was unanimously approved at the GCC Board of Trustees meeting Tuesday.

County residents will have their tuition increased $2 per credit hour, while Maryland residents from out of the county will see an increase of $4 per credit hour. Out-of-state tuition will not be affected.

County tuition per credit hour will be set at $24 and out-of-county tuition will total $42 per credit hour.

Maximum tuition will be set at $360 for county residents and $630 for state residents, which is the total for 15 credit hours. Students taking more than 15 credit hours will do so at no additional tuition cost.

Randall Harman, president of GCC, explained to the Board of Trustees that the increases should not pose a hardship to needy students, as about 40 percent of GCC students receive some form of financial aid. Tuition increases are automatically included in the students' financial aid payments.

Harman pointed out that most community colleges will adopt similar or larger increases this year, and that GCC has one of the lower tuition scales in the state.

In other business, the proposed 1985 budget was distributed to board members for review. Discussion was postponed until the state's budget is completed and levels of aid to community colleges have been determined. A meeting to examine the proposed budget in detail was scheduled for April 11.

Legislation that would limit the state's contribution to Social Security payments of college employees was discussed. The state currently pays the employer's share of Social Security payments. According to Harman, a cap on the state's contribution is very likely, but the level at which payments will be frozen has yet to be established by the legislature. As Social Security contributions are rising, additional cost to the college could amount to about $8,000 per year. Harman opposes the cap as an example of the trend to shift costs from state to local levels.

Fires Destroy Two County Homes, Causes Remain Under Investigation

Two Garrett County homes, one located on the Mt. Zion Crosscut and Walnut Bottom Road near Swanton, and the other along Boy Scout Road, were completely destroyed by fire this past week and investigations are continuing into the origin of both blazes.

The Swanton area structure, an unoccupied Lincoln log home owned by Mark Duckworth, was found completely burned by Deer Park firefighters who had been called at 2:38 a.m., Tuesday to extinguish what had been reported as a woods fire.

According to Glenda Baker, dispatcher for Garrett Central Alarm, the persons who phoned in the alarm were located about three miles away from the fire and it appeared to them that it was the woods which were burning. The Duckworth home was the only one in that vicinity.

Firefighters remained on the scene for two hours. There were no injuries reported.

Guy Carola, fire investigator for Garrett County, also responded to the scene to begin an investigation into the cause of the fire, which is still underway.

Carola reported that Duckworth was in the dwelling at about 4 p.m., Monday, attempting to thaw frozen water pipes by keeping a fire in the fireplce and using a kerosene heater.

Carola estimates the loss to be about $60,000.

The second structure fire occurred Wednesday at 1:12 p.m., and destroyed a single-story, five-room home owned and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Lester O. Bittinger. The structure was located about 150 feet east of Pawn Run Tavern, Boy Scout Road, which is also owned by Bittinger.

According to Robert H. Shimer, assistant chief deputy fire marshal, the Bittingers were not at home at the time of the fire and it was discovered by Dave Gangler, who is employed as a truck driver for the Lohr Beer Distributing, Oakland. Gangler had stopped to make a delivery at the tavern and noticed heavy smoke coming from the house.

Bittinger, who was at the tavern, was alerted by Gangler and then went to the house. Bitt-

Bausch & Lomb Plans Temporary Work Reductions

The Consumer Products Division of Bausch & Lomb announced this week a reduction of manufacturing schedules for its metal sunglass business over the next few months "to correct imbalances in worldwide inventories."

The reduction will affect about 70% of the workforce at the Bausch & Lomb facility near Mt. Lake Park, according to John Sheltra, plant manager. It will also affect employees at the Frame Center in Rochester, N.Y.

A release from the Consumer Products Division stated that the reduction will be accomplished through temporary furloughs. Where possible, the furloughs have been scheduled adjacent to company holidays.

Shutdowns have been scheduled as follows: March 26-30, April 16-27 and May 21 to June 1.

B&L said this method of inventory adjustment was selected as the least disruptive for employees. On shutdown weeks, employees will have the option of using vacation or occasional absence days.

County Officials Planning To Buy Vacant B&L Site

Garrett County officials expect to apply for state loan funds for acquisition of land for a Southern Garrett Industrial Park, located on vacant Bausch & Lomb property, south of Route 135, in the next two weeks.

County development director Tom Jones stated last week that a draft lay-out for the property has been prepared by Potomac Engineering, an Oakland engineering firm, and, when warmer weather arrives, that firm will also conduct an aerial photogrammetry which will help in the final engineering plans.

The county has received a grant from HUD, under a special jobs bill appropriation, for development of the site which includes engineering expenses as well as construction of a road into the site and installation of water and sewer facilities.

Jones noted there are currently two companies who plan to purchase land at the 94-acre site from the county. One company, IBMI, which is located in Oakland and has announced plans for expansion is interested in purchasing a six-acre plot and construct a data processing and direct mailing plant. It hopes to sell its property at its current location.

The other company, Power Brake Co., Inc. of Wheeling, W.Va., wishes to purchase a two-acre plot now and build a 4,000 square foot building in the next two years.

Jones said there is a third company interested in the industrial park, but he could not disclose that company's name at this time.

The county's application to purchase the site will be for Maryland Industrial Land Act Financing, Jones said.

IBMI's plans for expansion could mean the creation of 35 to 40 new jobs, Jones said. While the Power Brake Co. business will mean about five new jobs in the first few years of operation. Jones explained this company supplies heavy duty equipment for trucks, primarily brakes.

Shaffer Named As New Social Services Director

The Garrett County Department of Social Services Board of Directors has selected Robert C. Shaffer as director of that department to succeed W. Perry Shaffer, Sr., whose retirement becomes effective April 1.

Alfred Marucci, acting chairman of the selection committee, said the committee interviewed nine people for the position. The committee selected Shaffer, Marruci said, because, "we felt he was the best applicant because of his experience, talents and his knowledge of this area and its people."

Robert Shaffer, a 1953 Southern High School graduate, served from 1954 to 1958 in the United States Navy before receiving his bachelor's degree in business administration from the University of Maryland in 1961. He obtained his master's in social work from West Virginia University in 1971.

He joined the Garrett County Department of Social Services in August 1961 as a caseworker. In 1973, he served several months as supervisor of the department's income maintenance unit.

Shaffer was also appointed as supervisor of the social service unit in 1973, a position he has held until his recent appointment. His supervisory position involved overseeing such social services as foster care, adoption, protective services, homemaker program, day care services, legal assistance and the parent aide program.

Since 1966, Shaffer has been involved in the organization of various community programs such as the nursing home volunteer program, the volunteer service center, the Garrett County Team on Child Abuse and Neglect and a needs assessment committee which led to the establishment of Garrett Crossroads, Inc.

Shaffer is a member of the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department, St. Paul's United Methodist Church, the Oakland Zoning Planning Commission and the Garrett County Disabled Persons Review Board. He also serves as a nursing home volunteer at Cuppett/Weeks Nursing Home, Oakland.

He and his wife, Gretchen, reside with their two children in Oakland.

Judge Reserves Decision On Railey Rezoning

Associate Circuit Court Judge J. Frederick Sharer, presiding in Garrett County Circuit Court Tuesday, reserved his opinion on the Railey, Inc. appeal of a denial of their zoning request by the Garrett County Commissioners.

The judge said he would reserve his opinion until he has had an opportunity to review the record and recent memoranda submitted by Charles Wagaman, Jr. on behalf of Railey, Inc. and Tom Janes, representing the county commissioners.

Wagaman, who noted that Railey's owns approximately 40 acres at the north end of the Route 219 bridge and south end of Negro Mountain, had asked a zoning change from lake residential to town center.

Wagaman then pointed out that the county Planning Commission had essentially made no recommendation on the issue and that after two hearings, the commissioners declined to grant the rezoning request.

Wagaman based his appeal on the premise that the commissioners had issued no findings of fact although such facts are specified by statute.

Janes said he and Wagaman are agreed on many facts, including that no findings of fact were made. At the time of the decision, a different board of commissioners was in office.

He submitted, however, that there is no evidence on record sufficient to justify rezoning, such as a change or mistake in original zoning. Janes also suggested that it would be futile to remand the case to the commissioners simply for a finding of fact.

Edwards Lists Road Projects Out For Bids

Delegate George C. Edwards has been informed that two projects he has working on closely with the State Department of Transportation are out for bids and the delegate hopes these will be started in June or July.

The first project is on what is known as "Layman's Cut" on the west end of Long Stretch on Route 40. There is an S curve there and there are considerable problems in this area, particularly in winter. Work to be done is laying back the land and modification to the curves.

Edwards stated that this project is "way overdue" as it has been of considerable concern to the citizens for a long time. He feels this project should go a long way in correcting the problem and making for a much safer condition.

The second project is one on Route 42 starting ½ to 2 miles south of Friendsville and going toward the town. This project will consist of resurfacing, some widening, guardrails and drainage. Edwards stated that this project will make another completed link in the reworking of Route 42, and will help improve access to Friendsville.

Judge Withholds Opinion In Appeal Of Zoning Decision

Judge J. Frederick Sharer reserved his opinion Tuesday in Garrett County Circuit Court in the case of an appeal filed by Harvey's Peninsula residents against zoning decisions for Patterson Boat Company.

Judge Sharer, who is from Allegany County, said he would not file an opinion until he had an opportunity to review memoranda and information from the zoning board and the attorneys in the case.

The case is actually two cases heard at one time. The appellants seek repeal of a permit granted in June of 1982 by Zoning Administrator John Nelson so that Patterson Boat Company could use a lot in Enterprise Homes subdivision as a graveled parking area. In September of that year, following adoption of an expanded definition for marinas, Patterson Boat was granted a special exception permit to allow boats on trailers to be parked on the property and a second appeal was filed.

Tuesday, Stephen Fielder, attorney for the appellants, raised numerous points to be regarded as matters of law. He pointed out that the most important item is the intent of the zoning ordinance itself and goals to be achieved with lake residential zoning. He contends the Board of Zoning Appeals action to allow the lot to be used for boat parking is contrary to the legislative intent of the zoning ordinance when it was first passed. He also questioned the legality of Mrs. Friend's membership on the board of zoning appeals when her property was under discussion, even though she did not vote on the issue.

Linda Sherbin, attorney for the zoning board and Nelson, said the conflict of interest point was not set forth in the original petition. She also said that it is clear the court cannot avert the decision unless evidence clearly shows the decision was arbitrary, unlawful or capricious and asked that the decisions be allowed to stand as they are.

Property owners filing the appeal are Mr. and Mrs. Walter O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Zurinsky, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin L. Whitefield, Wilmer E. Murphy and Ruth V. Wilt.

Second Annual Community Feud Set By JWCC

The Junior Woman's Civic Club, Oakland, announced this week that it will sponsor its second annual Community Feud on Saturday, March 31, at 7 p.m. at the Southern High School cafetorium.

The proceeds from the event, which involves teams from eight local volunteer organizations, will benefit local charity and service organizations.

The competition is patterned from the television game show, Family Feud. The games will be slightly different from last year's event, according to a JWCC spokesman. Each game will consist of five complete rounds to insure a fair chance for each team. It will also insure that each member of a team will have an opportunity to participate.

To keep up the fervor, for all five rounds the team with the highest overall score in a single game will win an extra $25 for its chosen charity. There will also be a lollipop tree, as in the television version. In this way, extra money may also be won.

The organizations which will send a team to the event include: the Oakland Women's Civic Club, the Business and Professional Women, the Oakland Rotary Club, the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions Club, the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad, the Southern Garrett Athletic Association, the Oakland Merchants Association and the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department.

The returning champions are the members of the Oakland Women's Civic Club.

Rob Michael, who received some unusual gifts last year during the event, will return as the host.

The JWCC will be surveying in different shopping areas this Saturday for responses to questions that will be used in the championship game.

Deer Park Man Pleads Guilty To Five Thefts

A 21-year-old Deer Park man pled guilty to five charges of theft each of which occurred in the Oakland-Deer Park vicinity between August and December of 1983.

Terry Calvin Roth pleaded guilty in Garrett County Circuit Court proceedings held March 15 by District Court Judge Jack Turney who was sitting on the bench for the absent Judge Fred A. Thayer.

Roth had been charged with the thefts from Mellinger Enterprises, Southern States Co-operative and BFS Food all located in the Oakland area; from a storage building at Kings Run Road owned by the Maryland Department of Natural Resources; and a hunting cabin located at Pysell Crosscut Road owned by William G. Savage.

Judge Turney has ordered a pre-sentence investigation while Roth continues to be held in the Garrett County Jail.

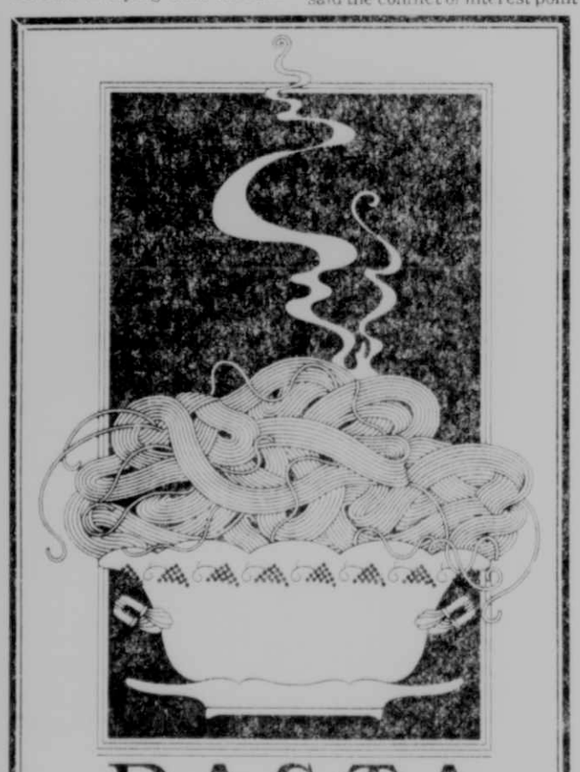
Group Choses Not To Appeal Water Permit Issuance

Garrett County residents who opposed issuance of a water permit to the Town of Frostburg by the Maryland Water Resources Administration have chosen not to appeal the February 16 decision to issue that permit which will allow the town to draw from two wells in northeastern Garrett County.

Paul Sullivan, a Cumberland attorney who represented the group and is himself an owner of land near the two wells, said recently that he and his clients are satisfied they will be allowed access to any information they want from the Town regarding the two wells and are satisfied with the permit stipulation that the water only be drawn when needed.

WRA director Col. James Peck issued the permit on February 24 which will allow Frostburg to draw the well water from the two 500-foot wells as a supplemental supply to its water supply at the Piney Run reservoir, also in Garrett County, and only when there is an actual or expected water shortage.



Parties to an adjudicatory hearing, held September 26, had 30 days from February 16 to appeal the decision.

Rotary Club Notes Results Of Radiothon

Although all the pledges and anonymous donations are not yet in, the Oakland Rotary Club raised about $1,900 through its Radiothon held Sunday on county radio stations WXIE and WMSG.

Tom Dabney, organizer of the event, said the club did not raise as much as last year's figure of $2,600, but he said the club members were satisfied. "We felt it went very well," especially as they considered the numbers of unemployed people in the county he stated.

Proceeds from the Radiothon will go to the House of Hope this year, Dabney noted.

Several persons participated in the Radiothon including Rotary club members and House of Hope volunteers. The Radiothon program included playing recorded music, performances by area musicians and interviews with House of Hope volunteers.

Among those interviewed were Sisters Joanna Sinko and Mary Ann Mazza, Pat Welch, a food shopper volunteer, Ida Maust, a phone volunteer, and Vicki Novak, a volunteer who discussed the overall operation of the House of Hope.

Rotarians who participated in the Radiothon were: Joe DiSimone, Allen Murray, Frank Eberly, Maurice Brookhart, Jim Murray, Dave Bolinger, Ken Ridder, John Wolf, Harold Holsopple, Tom Jones, Dr. William Fedde, Dr. Frank Custer, Ben Shaffer, Robert Ulino, Gordon "Sandy" Douglass, Craig Wengerd and George Hanst.

State Police Note Lake Area Thefts

Maryland State Police are investigating reports of two cases of theft, both of which occurred in the Deep Creek Lake area.

Robert Welch, manager of the Pizza Pub, reported that sometime between 4 a.m. and 9 a.m. on March 11, someone removed a cash box from under the bar containing $250 in currency.

The unlocked garage of Donald M. Wilson, which is located on U.S. Route 219 across from the Pizza Pub, was reportedly entered in the early morning hours of March 15.

Unknown persons then removed assorted tools and miscellaneous items valued at $131.00.

Cpl. G. Berkebile is investigating both theft reports.

Payne Receives Scholarship From Garrett BPW

A scholarship presentation and discussion on "Financial Planning for Women" were highlights of the Garrett County Business and Professional Women's Club meeting March 14 at Will O' the Wisp.

One of two guests was Nichelle Payne, Charleston, W.Va., a physical education major at Garrett Community College who was presented the annual scholarship from the club.

Making the presentation was Connie Trickett, BPW treasurer, with Ann Wellham, women's basketball coach, introducting Nichelle. Nichelle is representing Region 20 as the National All-Star basketball player, and if selected by the national committee will go to Kansas to play in the National All-Star tournament in April.

Rob Sharps, certified financial planner and registered representative with Butcher and Singer Investment firm of Cumberland, was the guest speaker and presented information on "Financial Planning for Women," although, as he pointed out, "Money has no gender."

Time and discipline are the essence of sound financial planning, Sharps said. A graduate of Bridgewater College, he obtained his master's in management science in 1981 and his CFP in 1984. He is also an adjunct instructor at GCC in the business and continuing education departments.

Club president Leona Beckman and Young Careerist chairman Pat White will be accompanying the local Young Careerist competitor Kathy Zimmerman to the state speak-off competition and luncheon at the Baltimore Hilton, Pikesville, April 7.

Several club members have made reservations to attend the charter night for the Grantsville BPW March 31 at the Grantsville Holiday Inn.

The Garrett BPW is planning a board meeting April 4 at 7 p.m. at GCC's Oakland Center.

Thirteen members and guest Judy Davy were present last Wednesday. The next regular club meeting will be April 12 at 6:30 at Will O' the Wisp. Any working women interested in becoming members are invited to contact president Leona Beckman, membership chairman Marci McClive, or any member. The club presently has 34 members, including five new members initiated this year.

Any member having items for the monthly newsletter is asked to contact the president, Pat White or Cosette White by the Wednesday of the week before the monthly meeting.

RESOLUTION

Whereas, The Oakland City Police Department is currently experiencing a shortage of manpower, thereby unable to provide full-time police protection in the Town of Oakland.

Whereas, There are no Oakland Police Officers on duty approximately eight of every twenty-four hours.

Whereas, The State Police and Sheriff's Department are not always readily available to respond to calls when needed by Oakland residents or merchants.

Resolved: The Western Lodge 99 Fraternal Order of Police lend their full support to establish and to maintain a permanent five full-time Oakland Police Officer Force.

Good Luck, Belles . . .

The efforts and accomplishments of young people, particularly those of high school age, often go unnoticed by the adult community, which is unfortunate. Adolescence is a time when the building of self-image is critical to the future of a person's life. Praise and appreciation, which is so sorely needed for this image building, often is never remembered or expressed by those who have already passed through those younger years. Worse yet, the only attention some receive is criticism and ridicule, which does much to build a poor self-image.

We wish to recognize a group of young women who are students at Southern High School for their incredible dedication, hard work and contributions. These girls are the members of the Southern Belles, the winter guard unit of Southern High School.

It is impossible to put into words a description of their performance, which has made them a real contender for a national championship next month. The precision, the professionalism, the training, the skill and the dedication displayed by this group far exceeds many similar professional organizations. While witnessing their performance, especially if it is for the first time, one sits totally overwhelmed, amazed and dumbfounded. The Belles' performance at Southern High School Saturday evening and again on Sunday was nothing short of spectacular.

We congratulate the Belles on their winnings and their accomplishments. More especially, we thank them for providing such outstanding entertainment and for representing Garrett County on a national level with such fine style and class. Good luck at Nationals.

THAT'S FUNNY.. MONDALE PROMISED ME THE AMBASSADORSHIP TO THE COURT OF ST. JAMES, TOO...

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

We would like to commend you for your editorial in the March 15 Republican. Helmuth Heise should indeed be recognized for his efforts in helping to promote Garrett County. He is, and has always been, a person to whom the words "impossible" and "can't" mean nothing; but "achieve" and "quality" mean everything.

He is a dreamer (a long forgotten word), whose ideas have reached beyond his own needs to that of the county. Wisp and Will O' the Wisp were, at their inception, two "dreams" that only a person with imagination and old-fashioned "guts" could make work. Both now stand as reputable businesses of quality and excellence.

Will O' the Wisp was actually started by Dr. Bullard, who later sold to the Heise family. Will O' the Wisp was then developed into a motel, and eventually into its present condominium complex. Wisp was started by Mr. and Mrs. Heise as a means of attracting tourists during winter. Up until that time summer was the only season that brought tourists to the county, and the season ended at Labor Day. Wisp had a very modest beginning, with one slope, one rope tow, and a rental shop operated from the back of a pickup truck.

Who then could not offer their support to such a man in his newest and latest endeavor? If we are to see Garrett County take its rightful place in the State of Maryland, then it is up to us, as its citizens, to stand behind such a man as Mr. Heise and applaud and encourage his efforts. We must do our part to keep Garrett County on the map and to this end we, like he, should work and dream!

The Office Crew of Will O' the Wisp

To the Editor:

I would like to comment on Sen. Mathias' insert on page 4 of March 15 issue of The Republican.

In order to keep the record straight, the Continental Congress being in session were wrangling over individual issues and ideas and were not getting anywhere when Benj. Franklin suggested that Congress should invoke, through prayer, the guidance of Almighty God. After prayers were made Congress settled down to business and came up with the Articles of Confederation.

I prefer this version instead of the Senator's version and recommend that Congress seek God's guidance in the present controversy.

Had Congress done so at the time of The Panama Canal giveaway, our position in Central America would not be as serious as it is today.

In your opinion what percentage of congressmen are traitors to our nation?

Leslie J. Stanton

To the Editor:

Last month while visiting my husband's parents in Oakland, I was admitted to Garrett County Memorial Hospital for a minor operation.

In the hospital, everyone, regardless of how busy they were, found time to stop and ask how I was feeling. Their friendliness was very comforting while being far from home.

Your community should be very proud of its hospital and staff.

Sincerely,
Lynn Austin

To the Editor:

The Garrett County Fair has been in operation for 27 years, leasing the ground for a fee. This year the fair association purchased the ground, so support is needed by all citizens and organizations.

The association is a non-profit organization so any donations are tax deductible. Stock can be purchased at ten dollars a share. One individual or organization can purchase up to ten shares. These give voting rights and a dinner for stockholders. Each stockholder can support the fair further by buying bonds for $100.00 each. These bonds bear no interest and will mature randomly by lot drawing.

There are 20 directors and three honorary directors. All are non-paid volunteer workers for the fair association.

Anyone interested in seeing their fair surge ahead as an educational and fun week can help with donations, stock or bonds and volunteer work.

Please feel free to contact any director or call 245-4483 for more information.

A big "thanks" to all that have already helped.

Sincerely,
Loretta Opel

To the Editor:

Hopefully, Jim Willis will wake up and realize what a sick joke he made of the school prayer issue in last week's issue of The Republican. Perhaps it will take the response of concerned Garrett County citizens to bring him to this realization.

I believe Mr. Willis is a "free thinker" who would like to befuddle the minds of us poor Garrett County natives, so that we would doubt there really is a God for our children to have faith in—or a devil to ensnare them—so "why the big fuss?"

Jim Willis, please turn in your Bible to Philippians 2:10-11. The day will come when "every knee shall bow," and at that time there will be no more joking about sacred things.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Tom Brobst
McHenry

To the Editor:

My sincere compliments on your editorial on Helmuth Heise and his proposal for a resort/conference center in this county. Your word description of the man could not have been more accurate or precise.

When I first came to this county the name I most often heard mentioned with high regard and accolades for his achievements was "Ace" Heise. I never met him until this year when I had the pleasure to be part of a group to whom he afforded the use of the facilities of the McHenry House. He supported us personally as well as with the resources of his organization and is the most just and fair person I have met in a long time.

And you are so right; I watched the improvements on the ski slope take shape, a project to which he not only brought some original innovations, but actual physical, hard, back-breaking labor.

His proposed project cannot help but be successful and is certainly a logical alternative to the state-funded project which would only use our tax dollars needlessly. I have written supportive letters to both the Governor and the Department of Natural Resources and I hope all the citizens of this county will do the same.

To the Editor:

Garrett County educators and state employees take heart! I know the legislature on Friday the 16th took a monstrous "bite" out of our retirement system's benefits. We (retirees included) also know that in the future more "bites" will be attempted since this one had been "chewed" (by one vote) in the House of Representatives, "gulped" (passed in record time) by the Senate, and soon to be "swallowed" (signed into law) by Harry Hughes. However, the courts will ultimately decide whether it is "digested" (legal to break a guaranteed contract.)

Take heart, because during Friday's "dark events" our representation shown brightly. George Edwards and John Bambacus made us proud! Both resisted "arm-twisting" tactics and voted their own minds. Delegate Edwards deserves special recognition as he was the lone "no" vote from our area. (Allegany's three delegates voted "yes" to pension reform.)

The state can now, supposedly, fund the aid to education bill, among others. Therefore, a new bumper sticker is needed: "Thank your teacher for the books you read" (also state employees.) I hope in the future there will still be enough quality teachers employed to administer/apply the educational advantages created by the millions of dollars to be generated in the next few years.

Thank you George and John for your commitment to a "contract" and quality education. Teachers and state employees here in Garrett County and across the state salute you! I counted on your votes last week. You can count on mine in the future.

Respectfully
John Helmick

To the Editor:

I am writing to your paper to let people know how much I appreciate Mr. Bender who is in charge of the Dribbler's Club at Dennett Road School. He has helped us to learn how to play basketball like the big boys on the Southern Rams team.

It's been a good time to play with all the kids my own age and I've made a lot of friends from the other schools in our area.

We have had star players from GCC and the Southern Rams come help us play. I made a lot of new friends with these boys too.

Mr. Bender has taught us how to be good. Last year we had to do a lot of dead snails (that's what we had to do when we did something bad) but this year we only had to do a few.

Maybe in my future years, I can be a basketball player at Southern or GCC or be a famous coach such as Mr. Bender, because someone cared! Thank you.

To the Editor:

We would like to publicly thank the Rev. Daniel M. Yeiser, pastor of the Aurora-Red House Lutheran Churches. On February 23, as a result of a freak sleet and snow storm we were involved in an automobile accident about two miles south of Red House. The first motorist to arrive on the scene was Rev. Yeiser who gave unselfishly of his time to give us comfort and ease our stress.

He showed kindness and consideration by having me sit in his car out of the storm and waiting with my husband while police and wrecking service arrived. He also offered to take us to his home to await the arrival of relatives if necessary. He truly emulated the Good Samaritan and we will never forget his kindness to us.

We also wish to thank Corporal E.D. Selby for his expedient manner in which he handled the accident.

Commissioners Abolish Permits For Scavenging

Permits will no longer be issued by the Garrett County Health Department for the scavenging of trash from the county's collection boxes.

An amendment approved by the Board of County Commissioners at a public hearing Tuesday will delete the portion of the Solid Waste Ordinance approved in May 1982 which allowed for the issuance of scavenging permits to individuals. Approximately 50 persons have received permits for that purpose, according to Edgar Harman, Health Department.

No one attending the hearing opposed the amendment. Commissioners Ernest Gregg and Elwood Groves supported the amendment and Commissioner John Braskey opposed.

According to Perry Petersheim, solid waste contractor, scavenging activities at the collection boxes have caused problems for trash collection crews due to the scattering of trash from open bags.

Three additional amendments to the Solid Waste Ordinance were proposed by Harman at Tuesday's hearing.

The first amendment would prohibit the operation of a solid waste disposal site on private land without a permit from the Garrett County Health Department or the Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene. Maryland law presently requires that operators obtain a permit only if a facility is for public use.

A second amendment would prohibit the depositing of solid waste in a strip mine, along a public road, or at any location not designated to receive solid waste by the Health Department. According to Harman, this would facilitate the prosecution of those who dump trash in undesignated areas.

The third amendment would allow solid waste to be considered a nuisance when blown onto adjacent property, or when it accumulates to an extent that it attracts and harbors rodents. Harman stated that the department receives many complaints concerning nuisance situations.

The proposed amendments will be considered in a public hearing at a future date.

Judge Leasure Affirms PJ's Liquor Decision

Associate Circuit Court Judge Gary G. Leasure has affirmed the decision of the Garrett County Liquor Control Board granting P.J.'s Discount Liquor a special class D beer, wine and liquor license.

In an opinion dated March 15, Judge Leasure concurred with the liquor board decision made in December to allow James R. Browning to obtain a license for his store adjacent to Browning's Foodland along Route 135 near Oakland. Some 11 nearby residents or real estate owners in the election district had filed an appeal in late December of the liquor board's decision, and the case was heard before Judge Leasure in late January.

On February 15, the judge had remanded the case to the liquor board for clarification of two sections of the Annotated Code, and held a rehearing March 6.

The judge's opinion issued Thursday brought out the fact that the legislature has delegated to the board of license commissioners "full power and authority by rules and regulations to limit and restrict in accordance with a definite standard the number of licenses which they shall consider for any neighborhood."

This was in response to the appellants' contention that there is already an intense concentration of liquor stores in the Oakland area, already disproportionate to the number of residents.

Judge Leasure also found that although Browning is an officer of a corporation which has a subsidiary which holds a license, that license was not issued to Browning but to another member of the business organization. The appellants had protested that Browning's license would be in violation of the law which says no more than one license shall be issued in any county to any person or for the use of any partnership.

The appellants have 30 days to appeal, although their attorney Thomas Dabney indicated Tuesday no plans have been finalized for an appeal to the State Court of Appeals.

Northern Area Of County Has Power Outage

Potomac Edison customers in the Grantsville, Jennings and Bittinger areas were without power Wednesday for about five hours after lightning struck the Jennings sub-station.

Jerry Kremer, area line superintendent, said this morning that the lightning hit the sub-station around 3 a.m. Wednesday as a storm front passed through the county. The major damage was to step-voltage regulators in the sub-station which took out electric power to 1,800 customers.

All repairs were made and service restored by 9 a.m., Kremer said. Kremer noted that the customers affected are serviced through the Cumberland Potomac Edison office.

Commissioners Approve Revised Ethics Ordinance

A revised Public Ethics Ordinance was approved by the Board of Garrett County Commissioners at a public hearing Tuesday to bring the county's ordinance into compliance with the state's ethics commission guidelines.

At the state's request, the revised ordinance includes the Board of Education and its employees under the jurisdiction of the Garrett County Board of Ethics. However, the Board of Education adopted its own code of ethics in December 1983, which exempts it from the ordinance's jurisdiction. All county officials and employees not subject to a similar law are under the ordinance's jurisdiction.

The revised ordinance specifies that an individual must report involvement with a company doing business with the county amounting to more than $3,500 if their financial interest in that company is $5,000 or more. An employee of such a company who is under the jurisdiction of the ethics ordinance would also be required to report that relationship.

Persons involved in lobbying efforts with county officials will be required to report expenditures of $250 or more in gifts, food, or entertainment in pursuit of their lobbying efforts. The amount specified in the previous ordinance was $500.

Since its establishment in 1982, the county's Public Ethics Commission has acted once, exonerating Sanitary District Administrator Wendell Beitzel and three members of the sanitary commission of conflict of interest charges brought by the ethics board of the Deep Creek Property Owners Association.

Members of the ethics commission included Mary N. Bennett, chairman, Allan Stuart, and Beatrice Opel. County attorney, Dwight Stover, serves as legal advisor for the commission.

Jim Willis Trends

I have, on occasion, written factual articles for a type of publication known as the "supermarket tabloid." And, I have suffered criticism from my "serious" colleagues for allowing my name to appear in what they regard as pulp.

The truth of the matter is, I write this column for personal fulfillment; I write book-length manuscripts for the sake of my craft; I write for supermarket tabloids because they pay outrageous sums of money.

Despite my periodic contributions to the tabloids, I rarely ever read them. But I've lately discovered that they contain some fascinating information, not to be found in your run of the mill newspaper.

"Tiny girl raised by monkeys in African jungle amazes her rescuers with ape strength," says a headline over an article I read today.

"Claws come out as Joan Collins and Larry Hagman rip into each other like J.R. and Alexis." I'll bet the society pages of your regular newspaper neglected to tell you about that.

One of the most memorable quotes I've ever read by Dolly Parton: "I've always loved French fries—and I still do."

Johnny Carson is currently a hot item in these publications: "On the heels of settling his alimony dispute with Joanna, Johnny has reportedly bought an L.A. condo for steady date, Alexis Maas." Then a quote by ex-wife Joanna to dispute claims that she spent too much of Johnny's money: "I'm not frivolous. I wouldn't spend more than $5,000 on my own without asking." (Personally, I think Johnny is a cad. What husband would object to his wife making a $5,000 purchase, now and then?)

Here's a good one regarding actress Nastassja Kinski, who is expecting: "When her press agent was asked who might be repsonsible for the actress being in a family way, the agent replied, 'There is no father.'" (I was so ignorant of family matters that, prior to reading this, I hadn't thought such a situation was possible.)

"Ingrid Bergman died after entertaining friends, at 67." (Must have been one heck of a party.)

I have come to resent the attitudes of my fellow journalists who disparage these publications as being mongers of gossip, innuendo and lies. The lawsuit-happy Carol Burnetts aside, I don't believe these rags could print things that aren't true, if they weren't true—could they?

I find that even the classified advertisements in tabloid publications are intriguing.

"Astrology, Mother Bishop. She can and will help you. Sickness, love, lost hair, voodoo, luck. She has amazing powers. (713) 641-3367, Houston, Texas."

Now, I can hardly believe that if these publications are as questionable as my colleagues suggest, that someone as astute as Mother Bishop would risk her professional reputation by advertising in a supermarket tabloid.

Harman explained the college's recently completed "Allied Health Transfer Program" booklet. It will assist students wishing to pursue health careers in developing a course of study that will be transferable to other colleges offering programs in their chosen health career fields.

GCC's veterinary technician program is undergoing a pre-accreditation survey by the American Veterinary Medical Association this week. Harman explained that this preliminary survey will help the college identify any weaknesses in the curriculum so they can be corrected before the formal accreditation survey next fall.

Leo Martin reported progress in the area of computerization of the college's administrative services. Computer software, purchased recently for the payroll department, should be ready to run by April 1. Software systems for accounting and registration are scheduled for purchase and should be in operation for the fall semester.

County Commissioner John Braskey reported that the college's capital request for $10,000 for purchases of software was approved by the commissioners Tuesday.

Mark J. Biedka was appointed Research Laboratory Supervisor for the state-funded acid rain study being conducted at the college. Biedka was promoted from laboratory technician to the supervisory position.

Pension Bill

implication the bill may have for Maryland. Some teachers approaching retirement age might retire now to keep their pension benefits intact. She said she was afraid the bill might also keep new teachers from coming to Maryland schools.

Tom Shaffer, representative to the Maryland State Teachers Association for Garrett and Allegany counties commented, "It stinks. Our (MSTA) view is that it was nothing short of blackmail."

The pension reform bill was tied to legislation concerning state aid to education. Teachers groups believe that the pension bill would have failed if it had been voted on separately, rather than as part of the school aid package.

the communications system.

Ed Livengood, chief dispatcher, was notified this morning by the commissioners of their decision which is effective immediately. The commissioners offered Livengood a dispatcher position, recently vacated by an employee who did not pass his probation period, which would mean a decrease in salary. Livengood has not yet been contacted by The Republican for comment, however, the commissioners reported he did accept the position.

The commissioners reportedly do not intend any further personnel changes in the communications department.

Livengood's salary will be reduced over the next 12 pay periods. He will go from a grade level of 6 and a salary of $13,688 to a grade 4 level with a maximum salary of $12,678.

Supervision of the communications and Civil Defense departments has been assigned to Gary Mullich, manager of building and maintenance operations. Mullich will oversee changes in the equipment which the commissioners explained would be an overall upgrading in equipment and would be a change to more technologically advanced equipment.

In a letter to Livengood, the commissioners stated the change was made as part of their efforts to streamline operations and reduce costs and was in the interest of "good management."

Community Calendar

WOMEN

The Mt. Top Women's Volleyball League will have an organizational meeting Tuesday, March 27, at Garrett Community College in Room MC 360 at 7 p.m. Anyone interested in having a team is required to attend.

Home economist Jane Rentschler will demonstrate different ways of cutting up a chicken during the March 23 meeting of the Southern Mothers Matter group held from 10 a.m. to noon at St. Mark's Lutheran Church.

MISCELLANEOUS

There will be a general membership meeting of Habitat for Humanity on Tuesday, April 3, at Garrett Community College, McHenry, in Room TC 260 at 7 p.m.

A TRIAL RUN of the Olympic Torch Relay, which was to pass through Garrett County, was interrupted yesterday by none other than Garrett County's famous, and frigid, winter weather. According to George Broder, Torch Relay press secretary for the U.S. Olympic Committee, the four teams of four runners each left New Jersey on Sunday for a six-day trial run, scheduled to end in Cleveland on Saturday. However, the runners found going a little too rough near Mt. Storm during Wednesday's surprise snowstorm and had to board one of the many buses or mobile vehicles which are accompanying the runners. The run reportedly continued in West Virginia where better weather conditions prevailed. Broder stated that the runners would be back through the county again in May during the official relay "regardless of the weather," which will take the runners all the way to Los Angeles for the Olympic opening ceremonies on July 28. The relay will take 82 days and will raise monies for national charities and the Olympic Committee.

No One Turns Out For Sewer Ordinance Hearing

A public hearing Tuesday night on the Deep Creek sewer use ordinance drew no attendees for the Garrett County Sanitary Commission.

The record will remain open until March 31 for written comments which may be addressed to Wendell Beitzel, sanitary district administrator, Room 200, Garrett County Courthouse. The ordinance is available for viewing at his office, and is expected to be adopted at the next regular meeting of the Sanitary Commission on April 3.

Commission Chairman Harry M. Filemyr was the only sanitary commission member present Tuesday, so no official business was conducted during a brief commission meeting.

Henry Doyle, of Greenhorne and O'Mara, did inform Beitzel and Filemyr of progress in switching from telelphone to radio telemetry for the Deep Creek sewer system. The switch will cost more to install but result in lower operating costs over the years. Contractors for contracts nine and ten have been asked to submit cost estimates for the change.

The county commission has received unofficial word that the state health department is going to approve the design of the expanded system for the lake, and this would mean that advertisements for bids could be given in the near future.

The names of 22 qualified applicants have been submitted for the position of sewerage treatment plant operator for the lake, and Beitzel has prepared a rating review form so that all but five or six might be eliminated by the commission. The few most eligible would then be interviewed for the position which is to be open this spring.

A decision on the operator position is expected in April, according to Beitzel.

The Deep Creek basic system is now 77 percent complete, according to Doyle. The amount invoiced to contractors to date is $10,626,927.

Pre-Bid Conference

There was a pre-bid conference to answer questions for would-be bidders for the Kitzmiller water system Tuesday afternoon. Approximately a dozen contractors were represented. That water project has been divided into three segments.

Also present at that meeting was Henry Doyle, whose firm will be replacing that of Frederick Ward and Associates to provide project management and inspection services.

BIRTHS

A spokesman at Garrett County Memorial Hospital noted the births of six infants over the past week, four young men and two little ladies.

A daughter was born on March 16 to Robert Scott and Marilyn Susan Willis Buckholtz, Westernport.

A son was born March 16 to Gregory J. and Tammy Sue Beachy Tressler, Mt. Lake Park.

A daughter was born on St. Patrick's Day, March 17, to Joseph E. and Pamela Ann Rudy Kosanic, Davis, W. Va.

Also on St. Patty's Day a son was born to John Lee and Golda Diane Chadderton Paugh, Kitzmiller.

A son was born March 19 to Paul Daniel and Cheryl Ann Miller, Oakland.

A son was born March 21 to Roger Ray and Cheryl Elaine Collins Hinebaugh, Deer Park.

Admissions were listed at 59 with 73 discharges. This morning's census shows 53 patients.

Fires Destroy

inger told Shimer that he found the back section of the residence to be fully involved.

The entire structure was engulfed in flames when firemen from Deer Park and Deep Creek arrived. Also responding to the scene was the county air cascade vehicle and the Southern Rescue Squad equipment truck. Oakland and Accident firefighters were placed on standby at the Deer Park and Deep Creek stations.

Shimer said that Bittinger said he had left the home at 11:30 a.m., and went to the Oakland area. He returned about one-half hour prior to the discovery of the fire. Mrs. Bittinger was reportedly visiting her mother in the Kempton area at the time.

The occupants lost all of their possessions, salvaging only the clothing they were wearing at the time. Family pets were found outside the dwelling and were unharmed.

Shimer said that the fire originated in the living room area of the dwelling where a coal heating stove was located. The investigation is continuing to determine if the stove was responsible for the blaze.

The Bittingers told Shimer that they had some insurance, but weren't sure if it was enough to cover the entire loss. They are reportedly now staying with friends in the Deer Park area.

Fire personnel remained on the scene until about 4:30 p.m.

The fire ground operation, which involved about 30 firefighters, was under the direction of Fred Collins, Deer Park second assistant chief.

Protest

January. One candidate filed at 2 p.m. and Hetzel accepted the filing on the advice of now former mayor Karol Rush. She also accepted a change in registration for a candidate for mayor who switched to become a candidate for town council on that Monday evening. The 2 p.m. registrant became a councilman, the evening registrant did not.

Among the protesters are Meryl Sines and Ken Harding. Ten persons names were listed as clients in a letter from Watson to the town council; however, two people stood up at Thursday's meeting and said they had not consented to having their names included and would prefer to see the election results stand.

The town council has agreed to let the election stand. Linda Sherbin is the town's attorney.

James R. Spear I was elected as mayor, defeating Charles O. Ross, Jr. 115-97. Elected to the town council for two-year terms were Spencer Schlossnagle, Arthur Schmidt and R. Eugene Sines.

Citizens To Attend Public Hearing

Citizens in the town who are experiencing water problems because of a bad line on Walnut Street are urged by municipal coordinator Wendell Keaton to attend a public hearing at Allegany Community College April 2 at 7:30 p.m. in Rooms 12, 13 and 14. They are also requested to bring water samples to show.

Friendsville has been ranked 18th on the draft priority list for funding available through the Water Supply Financing Program of the state health department. Only projects in the top 15 rankings are expected to receive some of the $5 million available. Since the list is a draft, however, Keaton still has hopes that Friendsville's ranking could be changed.

Friendsville was seeking funds to rehabilitate the town's distribution system and treatment plant. Homeowners and a restaurant on Walnut Street are subjected to sudden spurts of muddy water.

The town has rescheduled its April 2 and 3 meetings to April 3 and 4 to accommodate attendance at the public hearing.

Ask Rezoning

Dr. Donald Pepper has submitted an application to the town's zoning board to have his property, the former hotel at the corner of Chestnut and First Streets, rezoned from residential to commercial.

Pepper is also seeking an amendment which would allow secondary manufacturing in a commercial zone so that he could have boat kits manufactured in the building.

A public hearing on his request is scheduled before the town's zoning appeals board April 10 at 7 p.m. at the town hall.

Other Business

The Environmental Protection Agency has withheld some $50,000 in funds for the sewer plant construction until the town has completed closeout procedures with all state agencies. Presently town officials are compiling data to be submitted to the state on change orders, contracts, etc. for the work completed in the early 1970s so closeout can be effected.

Arrangements for a full-time operator for the waste water treatment plant are being made by the town since the death of employee David Riley. Mitch Hetzel, who has an interim license for waste water treatment plant operation, is operating the plant on a volunteer basis until arrangements can be made for a full-time operator.

Representatives of the state police and Garrett County Sheriff Franklin G. Finch talked with the council about ways to insure law enforcement in the town.

Braskey Admonishes Bond For Rash Remark About Wisp

Garrett County Commissioner John Braskey admonished Allegany County Commissioner Arthur Bond Tuesday for rash remarks Bond had reportedly made concerning the proposed Western Maryland conference center.

Bond was quoted as having said that a conference center located in Allegany County would not hurt existing or future business at the Wisp Ski Area, "since most of the Wisp's business comes from Pittsburgh."

Braskey said Tuesday afternoon that Bond's remark had prompted him to do some checking on the economic situation at Wisp, and he found through information from the Garrett County Development Corporation that some 35 percent of Wisp's business comes from Maryland state agencies.

Thus, a state-subsidized conference center in Allegany County could definitely have an adverse impact on Garrett's existing convention business, Braskey said.

Southern States Co-op Designates Board Members

Stockholder-members of the Southern States Cooperative elected Troy Gnegy, Oakland, and Keith Stahl, Oakland, to the local Board of Directors at the annual membership meeting held in Mountain Lake Park on March 10. Over 250 stockholders and their families attended.

Lee Shillingburg, Deer Park, was selected chairman of the local board, with Hubert Custer, Deer Park, named vice chairman.

Elected to the local Southern States Farm Home Advisory Committee were Mrs. Elwood Sanders, Oakland, and Mrs. Richard Friend, Oakland.

Mrs. Keith Blamble, Gorman, was chosen as chairman of the Farm Home Advisory Committee. Mrs. Richard Friend was named secretary.

Jim Stutler, Clarksburg, W.Va., a member of the Southern States Cooperative regional staff, reported on over-all Southern States operations. His slide presentation entitled "Southern States: 100% You," emphasized that the needs of farmers are always changing and each individual must help the cooperative meet those needs.

Reporting on local operations and services rendered to farmer members was Rex E. Hoalcraft, manager of the Oakland cooperative. He stated that the total volume for the local co-op for the past year was approximately $1,764,500.

A special recognition ceremony honored new board members Troy Gnegy and Keith Stahl, and retiring board members Ralph Miller and Herbert Wildesen. Also honored were Mrs. Elwood Sanders and Mrs. Richard Friend, new Farm Home Advisory Council members, and Mrs. Mayo Shreve and Mrs. George Zimmerman, retiring members of the council.

Oakland FFA Chapter Presents Safety Program

The Oakland FFA Chapter provided a safety program for the Southern States-Oakland Coop's annual meeting, held March 10.

Karen Hamilton, chapter president and Patricia Hamilton, Jr. Chapter president conducted the program which consisted of a movie and a slide series. The movie entitled "Target You-Tractor Safety," produced for John Deere Company, covered basics in tractor safety using a cartoon character named "Goto Go Joe." It served as a reminder to farmers and agribusinessmen not to be careless with farm equipment. The slide series entitled "Be A Pro: Audi D Pesticide Accidents" covered areas of safe pesticide handling and storage on the farm.

The safety program is a part of the Oakland FFA Chapter's safety project for this year.

Farming in Maryland

Livestock Slaughter Figures Released

There were 5,800 cattle slaughtered in Maryland and Delaware during January. This number is down by 100 from the same month a year earlier. However, the average liveweight of these cattle slaughtered in the State increased from 1,087 a year earlier to 1,129 this January. Nationally, the number of cattle slaughtered commercially was up one percent to 3.1 million. Calf slaughter in the two states during January jumped from 3,600 in 1982 to 5,500 this year. The total liveweight was up 56 percent from January a year ago.

Hog slaughter in Maryland dropped precipitously from year earlier levels. Only 6,000 were killed in January compared to 26,500 in January of 1983. However, nationally the number of hogs slaughtered rose seven percent to over 1.7 billion pounds. Sheep slaughter in the two-state area was down from January a year earlier, but it was up five percent in the United States.

Red meat and poultry reached record levels last fall due to expansion plans made in 1982 and early 1983. Low livestock prices and high feed costs caused producers to market animals that typically would have been held longer, thereby increasing near-term meat supplies. Herd reductions will result in lower meat production by mid-1984. However, total meat supplies during second-half 1984 may still be the third highest on record, due to expanded poultry production.

Pork reduction this fall is expected to rise 14 percent above a year ago, while beef output may advance one percent over the large levels of a year ago. Poultry producers, with a shorter production cycle, have already cut output in response to higher feed costs and prospects for large red meat supplies. Total poultry production during October-December is likely to be unchanged from a year ago. Egg production this fall will likely be down about four percent.

Total red meat and poultry supplies are expected to remain large through early spring. If the winter is unusually harsh, forcing more non-fed cattle on the market as reduced forage supplies become exhausted, total meat supplies could be even larger. Total red meat production is expected to drop below a year earlier in the second quarter through second half of 1984. Meantime, poultry production is expected to rise above this year's levels in second-half 1984, as favorable prices this fall and prospects for reduced meat supplies encourage expanded broiler production. Egg output may remain below year-earlier levels through first-half 1984.

Magazine Reports On Maryland FFA Tour Of Annapolis

A front-page article in Maryland Agriculture reported recently on the 1984 FFA Leadership Conference in Annapolis held February 7 and 8.

Among the 56 Maryland FFA leaders attending were several from this county, including Karen Hamilton and Patricia Hamilton, Southern High School; Roger Wilhelm and Gary Broadwater, Northern High School; Leonard Custer, Region I vice president; Mrs. Janet Boggess, SHS Vo-Ag instructor; and Beverly Murphy, Board of Education member.

The group met with Gov. Harry Hughes, toured the Maryland Department of Agriculture, State House and Nationwide Insurance Company. The group lunched February 8 at the Naval Academy and also accepted an announcement from the governor proclaiming FFA Day.

The conference was co-sponsored by the Maryland Department of Agriculture, Nationwide Insurance Company and Maryland Farm Bureau.

Senate president Melvin Steinberg helped FFA president Laura Albaugh open the mock legislative session, and the group discussed four actual bills including cultivation near tidal waters; motorcycle helmets; minimum wage law - youth opportunity wage, and crime and punishment - guilty but mentally affected.

The local members also met with Sen. John Bambacus and Del. George Edwards of this county, and both men agreed with FFA decisions.

Photographs of two of the local group - Karen Hamilton, local FFA president and Sweetheart Queen, and Garrett's 1983 Farm Queen, and Patricia Hamilton, local FFA vice president, were included with the article. Karen was quoted several times, saying the experience "helps you to be a better citizen" and that the understanding of what actually takes place in the State House will help her pass along knowledge to the rest of her FFA chapter.

Of Bambacus and Edwards she noted "It showed they do try to understand what FFA is all about, and what we were in favor of. It showed me that you can work with your legislators."

Farmers Plan To Plant 705,000 Acres Of Corn

Maryland farmers intend to plant 705,000 acres of corn in 1984, eight percent more than in 1983, according to the Maryland Crop Reporting Service's prospective planting report. Corn acreage for the nation is expected to total 81.8 million acres this year, 36 percent more than last year and virtually identical to the pre-payment-in-kind level in 1982.

Olin S. Davis, Jr., chairman of the Maryland State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said the acreages actually planted can vary from those indicated because of the 1984 acreage reduction programs, the effects of weather, availability of production inputs and changes in expected prices for 1984 crops. The report is based on voluntary responses from about 40,000 growers to a mail survey taken near the end of Janaury. "The sign-up period for our farm programs opened on January 16 and closed on March 16," Davis said. "Therefore, the report provides only a preliminary indication of farmers' response to the farm programs for 1984."

Under the 1984 feed grain program, farmers who plant no more than 90 percent of their corn base will be eligible to receive a federal target price of $3.03 per bushel and price support loans at a National Average rate of $2.55 a bushel. The Maryland loan rate has historically been 23 cents higher than the National rate.

The USDA report shows that Maryland farmers planted 650,000 acres of corn in 1983 and 750,000 acres in 1982.

PARTY WALLS

If two buildings are put up and there is only one wall between them, that wall is called a "party wall." There are practical and economic reasons for using a party wall. If there was no party wall concept, an extra wall would have to be built, costing more money and taking up more space.

You would probably build a single division wall if you owned two lots and built a building on each one. If you should sell one of the lots, that division wall immediately becomes a party wall and keeps that status until both buildings are removed. If one of the properties should be destroyed, the owner of the lot where the destroyed building stood can build another building using that same wall.

Or another party wall situation could come about if you should buy an empty lot next to a lot where there already is a building. You may want to use the wall of the existing building as a party wall, but that wall may stand partly on your lot. To avoid future litigation, a formal party wall agreement is made between you and the owner of the existing building. The agreement, which should be recorded, specifically states that you can use that wall. By all means check with your attorney if party walls are in your future.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone one of our offices.

GATB Test To Be Offered By HCO Program

The Homemaker Career pportunities Program of Garrett Community College has made arrangements with the Department of Employment and Training to administer the GATB Test (General Aptitude Test Battery) to interested persons on Wednesday, March 28. The GATB Test measures aptitudes in individuals' lives which can be used to direct them into new careers or can help support career ideas that persons may already have. It can also help determine what classes to pursue in building or improving skills.

The test will be administered in Room 306 of the Oakland Center of Garrett Community College, beginning at 9 a.m. and continuing until noon, or until the testing is completed.

This testing opportunity will be offered free of charge to the public and registration is limited to 11 persons. In order to assure registration, persons should call the HCO Program office as soon as possible at 334-9184 as adequate testing materials must be reserved ahead of the testing date.

Mt. Top D.A.V. Chapter To Meet

The DAV Mt. Top Chapter #29 and the auxiliary unit #29 will meet Monday, March 26 at 7:30 p.m. in the Oakland fire hall.

Both groups will elect officers and make plans for the installation meeting in April. The auxiliary will also make plans for an April visit with veterans in the local nursing homes.

Both commanders urge all members to attend this meeting.

Sheriff's Office Receives Theft, Vandelism Reports

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department received several complaints from area residents ranging from the theft of grocery items to mailbox vandalism.

A breaking and entering and theft occurred Thursday at the residence of Mark Bittinger, located on the Crellin-Underwood Road. An undetermined amount of groceries and cash was removed from his home during nighttime hours.

Following an investigation, Robert Russell McRobie, 36, Crellin, was arrested and charged with the incident.

McRobie was also charged with resisting arrest by Deputy Don Tucker.

Susan Friend reported that sometime between Monday and Wednesday, someone damaged her mailbox which is located at her residence on the Oakland-Sang Run Road. Damage was estimated at $10.00. Deputy Tucker is investigating the incident.

Frank L. Bruckey, Shallmar Road, reported that on Tuesday or Wednesday, someone shot a hole in his mailbox with a small calibre or pellet gun. Assist. Chief Deputy Harland Tichnell is continuing the investigation.

Offices To Close

County and state offices in the Garrett County Courthouse will be closed on Monday, March 26, in observance of Maryland Day. The offices will be open for business on Tuesday.

County Native To Receive Funeral Director License

L. David Savage, Baltimore, formerly of Grantsville, has recently been informed by The Conference of Funeral Service Examining Boards of the United States, Inc. that he has successfully passed the National Board Examination for Funeral Service. Having previously passed the Maryland State Practical and Oral Examinations, Savage will now receive his Maryland Funeral Director's License from the Maryland State Board of Morticians.

A 1978 graduate of Northern High School, Savage attended West Virginia University in Morgantown before transferring to Catonsville Community College, Baltimore. There he received an associate of arts degree in mortuary science.

An apprenticeship was served by Savage at both the Leonard J. Ruck, Inc. Funeral Home in Baltimore and The J. William Lee's Sons Company in Washington, D.C., where he is presently employed at the Clinton establishment.

Savage is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Martin, Grantsville, and P. Deane Savage, McHenry. He also is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Parley M. Savage, McHenry, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cutter, Frostburg, and the late L. Dewey Yommer, who resided in Grantsville.

Garrett Students Faring Well At Frostburg State

Garrett Community College students enrolled at Frostburg State College during the 1983 fall semester attained an average grade point average (AGPA) of 2.6, according to a January report from the Maryland State Colleges Information Center.

The highest AGPA attained by GCC students, according to the report, was 3.3, or better than a B average, during the 1979-80 academic year.

This report is a summary of the academic success of all GCC students who have attended Frostburg State College since the spring of 1973. A total of 169 students have transferred from Garrett to Frostburg in the previous 11 years. Their cumulative average grade point is 2.82, according to the report.

Commenting on this data, Dr. George Dailey, transfer coordinator at GCC stated, "It appears that GCC is doing a very good job in preparing its students to meet the academic challenge of a four-year college. The Garrett students' success rate is very favorable and speaks well for the academic integrity of the college."

Information on transfer programs at GCC can be obtained by contacting Dr. Dailey at 387-6666, 245-4133, or 359-9520, Ext. 167.

Area Auto Mishaps Result In Three Personal Injuries

Traffic accidents occurring in the area this week have hospitalized three persons, two in Memorial Hospital in Cumberland and one in Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Robert Anthony Sagace, 28, Thomas, W. Va., was critically injured Saturday night at approximately 11:55 p.m. in an accident on US. Rt. 219, .1 mile south of the Gortner Road.

According to Maryland State Police, Sagace was southbound in his 1978 Chevy C-10 when he started skidding, ran off the left side of the roadway, struck an embankment and overturned.

He was transported to Garrett Memorial Hospital by the Southern Rescue Squad and later flown to Cumberland Memorial by "Lifeflyte". He is listed in critical condition."

He reportedly sustained fractures of the femur, hip, jaw, clavicle and vertebra.

Tfc. L.N. Smith was the investigating officer and, according to reports, charges are pending.

A one-vehicle accident Monday afternoon resulted in serious injuries for an Oakland area man.

Richard Blaine Rinker, 31, is listed in "serious" condition in Cumberland Memorial Hospital after being involved in a 12:04 p.m. mishap along the Sang Run Road, approximately one mile west of U.S. Rt. 219.

According to police reports, Rinker was operating a 1978 International truck owned by the Oakland Oil Company. He was in the process of making home fuel oil deliveries when the truck ran off the right side of the roadway and struck two trees.

The truck reportedly sustained heavy damages, however, there was no fuel spillage.

Tfc. G.R. Chaney is continuing the investigation.

A Swanton woman, Shirley F. Spiker, 35, is listed in "satisfactory" condition at Garrett County Memorial Hospital after being involved in one-vehicle mishap Wednesday morning.

The accident occurred at approximately 8:30 a.m. on the Old Oakland-Deer Park Road, .4 miles east of Broadford Road.

According to police reports, Spiker was operating her 1981 Chevy Citation westbound when she approached an eastbound vehicle that had stopped for a dog in the roadway.

As the unknown vehicle proceeded, it crossed the center line and Spiker skidded off the road avoiding it. Her vehicle struck a corn crib and some old boards.

She was transported to the Oakland medical facility by the Southern Rescue Squad. She reportedly sustained a concussion and contusions.

Tfc. G.R. Chaney investigated the mishap. There were no charges.

A two-vehicle collision in Mt. Lake Park Sunday resulted in no injuries for any of the parties involved.

Runetta Kaye Field, 20, Oakland, along with her passenger, Douglas Field, 16, was northbound on I Street when a vehicle being driven by Regina Lynn Sanders, 19, Oakland, failed to grant right of way at the intersection of I Street and Baltimore Avenue and struck the Field vehicle in the left side.

A passenger in the Sanders vehicle, Cathy Clutter, 18, Terra Alta, W. Va., was also uninjured.

Tfc. Riggleman investigated the mishap.

AAUW Chapter Holds Annual Spring Luncheon

The Garrett County chapter of the American Association of University Women (AAUW) held its annual membership luncheon Saturday at the home of chapter president, Barbara Hornyak, Gnegy Drive, Mtn. Lake Park, to introduce potential new members to AAUW and its functions.

Seventeen members attended along with nine guests, including Betty Kehoe, Suzanne Conger, Debbie Beck, Kathy Porcarro, Susanna Kurtz, Traci Sweene, Ginny Grove, Connie Margison and Patrice Tritt. Hostesses were Linda Garris and Carole Lupis.

Traci Sweene, one of the guests, is the recipient of the AAUW scholarship to Garrett Community College, where she is currently maintaining a 4.0 average.

A brief explanation of AAUW and its activities was presented by Anna Bishop before the luncheon.

Women with four-year college degrees who are interested in finding out more about AAUW or becoming members may contact Mrs. Hornyak at 334-1169. Other officers include: Laurel Grant, program chairman; Bonnie Fedde, secretary; Nan Gangler, treasurer; and Pat Powers, membership chairman.

Oakland Police Investigate Theft At Englander's

The Oakland Police Department is continuing its investigation into a theft at Englander's Pharmacy in Oakland which occurred on the night of March 14.

According to a department spokesman, an unknown person or persons hid somewhere in the store until after closing time and then removed numerous items including radios, calculators, tapes, and cash which amounted to a loss of $668.65. Authorities do not believe that stealing drugs was intended.

The subjects then found time to fry some hamburgers for themselves in the coffee shop before exiting through an upstairs window onto the roof.

Police Chief Hobart Shillingburg is in charge of the investigation. Police have several suspects, he said.

"Winter Frolic" Raises Funds For Local Hospice

The First Winter Frolic, a dinner-dance sponsored by the Senior Women's Civic Club, assisted by the Garrett County Business and Professional Women, was held recently at the Silver Tree Inn, Deep Creek Lake. Proceeds of the event, which amounted to approximately $1,000, was donated to the Hospice of Garrett County.

Music ws provided by Sierra, with the floral table arrangements donated by Flowers by Webers, The Flower Basket and Jan Florists. Approximately 104 persons attended the semi-formal affair as sponsors.

The funds from this event, memorial contributions and other donations assist in paying for the hospice coordinator, volunteer liability insurance, education and other non-reimbursable services in hospice care. Funds totaling $2,500 were required to match a grant provided by the Public Welfare Foundation in the amount of $6,500. These monies will cover this year's expenses only, so ongoing support is needed, according to a Hospice spokesman. Hospice of Garrett County does not receive county or entitlement monies.

Hospice of Garrett County is a community-organized and community-based program caring for terminally ill patients and their families. Support and care are provided by trained volunteers, physicians, nurses, medical social workers, and other support personnel. Hospice care and counseling is available 24 hours per day on an on-call basis. Dr. Walter Naumann is Hospice medical director and Nancy Trimble, R.N., M.S.N., is the Hospice coordinator. Information about Hospice can be obtained by calling 334-8111 or 895-5050.

County Back-Up Roads Crews Not Needed This Year

Although the Garrett County Commissioners in December 1983 authorized the county roads department to call out reinforcements during severe winter weather, the department never had to do so, Paul Shockey, county personnel director stated Tuesday.

The commissioners had voted to allow the roads department to maintain a list of people who were described as temporary or part-time people available to be called out to assist county roads workers in the midst of a severe winter storm.

Shockey noted the commissioners took the action because there were just enough county roads workers to man trucks and other snow removal equipment and in times of prolonged harsh weather those employees might need assistance.

But, officials did not need to call out the temporary assistants this winter, Shockey said.

Shockey noted that roads workers have not worked an unusual amount of overtime this year. He explained that 12 percent of the money budgeted for salaries was to cover expected overtime expenses and, to date, 10 percent of that money has been used.

Lioness Club Notes Activities, Elects Officers

Twenty-three members and one guest of the Deep Creek Lake Lioness Club met on Thursday at Deep Creek Lodge.

Plans for Winterfest, March 23-25, were finalized. The Zone Social will be held on April 29. Anyone planning to attend should contact Shirley DeMatz by April 23.

New officers for 1984-85 were elected as follows: president, Shirley DeMatz; first vice president, Nita Northcraft; second vice president, Nancy Deckman; secretary, Mary Ann Russell; treasurer, Charlene Stone; Tail Twister, Henrietta Garner; Lioness Tamer, Marjorie Funk; and board of directors, Lois Lear, Mary Foley and Carolyn Martin. The new officers will be installed on June 23 during a joint meeting with the Deep Creek Lake Lions Club.

Plans are in progress for a Big Bucks Bingo Game to be held July 14 at the McHenry House. Further details will be forthcoming.

The board of directors will meet on April 12 and the next club meeting will be on April 26. Both meetings will be held at Deep Creek Lodge, beginning at 7 p.m.

Vepco Soliciting Walkers For March Of Dimes Fundraiser

Hundreds of walkers are expected to don Vepco tee shirts Sunday, April 29, for the second March of Dimes Teamwalk starting at the Mt. Storm Power station.

"Last year the walkers in the Mt. Storm area raised over $9,000," states walk chairman Diana Shoemaker, of Thomas, W. Va., "and this year we're optimistic that we'll reach our goal of $20,000". Last year was the first time Vepco employees sponsored a walk at Mt. Storm and employees and other volunteers raised the top amount in the state. One of the walkers, H.R. Fulk, was the "Top Walker" in the state of West Virginia, according to Mrs. Shoemaker.

The public is invited to participate. Further information may be obtained by calling the Mt. Storm Power Station at 304-259-5272. Money collected from walk pledges assist March of Dimes research, medical services and education programs.

Committee members this year in addition to Shoemaker are Delores Alt, Dorcas, W. Va., Lynn Corrall, Harry Reed, and Gary Luzier of Davis; Lee Brittingham, Petersburg; Rick Simonetti, Maysville; Dick Yates, Moorefield; Connie Carr, Mt. Storm, and Dave Johnson, Keyser.

Marine Petty Officer 2nd Class David K. Lohman, son of Robert and Elizabeth Lohman, Route 1, McHenry, recently spent a weekend in Panama, Central America.

He was part of an 85 member medical team which spent a weekend in Panama with the Navy Reserve for training in jungle survival and tropical disease control.

This detachment is one of many which make up the medical unit for the Fourth Marine Aircraft Wing. Six of these detachments participated in the Panama training, the first training period for this unit outside the continental U.S.

During the weekend, the medical team was given instruction and hands on experience with shelter preparation and water procurement, and identification of various plants and animals inhabiting the jungles of Central and South America. Doctors from the Panama City Hospital, Gorgas Memorial, provided assistance to the unit on identifying and treating tropical diseases.

Before returning to the U.S., the medical team toured the Miraflores Locks, the last set in a series of five locks that make up the Canal Zone.

Times have changed . . . Hearing Aids have too!

We've come a long way from the old horse and buggy days. Now we're living in the Electronic Age and our former concept of sight and sound has been revolutionized. And keeping pace with the technological marvels of our present era are such innovative advances in electro-acoustic engineering as miniature amplifiers with high quality listening effect designed exclusively for hearing aids. This means that you can now be custom-fitted from a whole new generation of hearing instruments to enjoy the marvelous sounds of the 1980's. So, if your hearing is no longer as keen as it once was, have it tested by specialists. Then you, too, will be able to tune in on our changing times.

Byron Introduces Spare Parts Bill

Sixth District Representative Beverly Byron has introduced legislation in the House of Representatives that will require manufacturers or suppliers of consumer goods to include a statement which would indicate the number of years that spare parts would be available for a particular product.

Congresswoman Byron said she was introducing the Spare Parts Availablity Act (H.R. 5108) "because Americans are spending billions of dollars a year on consumer products that can be made worthless by a cessation of spare parts production. Consumers should know ahead of time what the availability of spare parts will be after the warranty expires."

"Rather than have the federal government mandate guidelines, though," Mrs. Byron added, "my bill allows each manufacturer to set their own standards on how long spare parts will be available. Consumers can then make their own decisions based on the information. We can thus protect consumers without having the government overregulate industry. I hope my colleagues will support this effort." The bill has been referred to the House Energy and Commerce Committee.

Book Exchanges Are Scheduled By Reading Council

Churches Throughout Maryland To Ring Bells On March 25

Churches throughout Maryland are being asked to join in the statewide peal of bells on Sunday, March 25, to celebrate the 350th anniversary of Maryland.

On that day, celebrations of the state's founding and the birth of religious freedom will be conducted at St. Clement's Island and St. Mary's City in Southern Maryland.

Events will begin at 10:00 a.m. on St. Clement's Island with a re-enactment of the landing of the first Maryland settlers in 1634 and the first Catholic mass celebrated in the English-speaking New World. An ecumenical program will be followed with a moment of silence as church bells across the state toll at noon.

The day will also include a special session of the Maryland General Assembly at 2 p.m., in St. Mary's City near the reconstructed state house. The meeting will feature an address by Governor Harry Hughes and the official opening of the St. Maries City Historical Park.

The festivities at St. Mary's City will also include crafts demonstrations, exhibits and displays and a wide assortment of Southern Maryland food.

Admission to all exhibits will be free on Maryland Day.

Besides the Maryland Day activities on St. Clement's Island and in St. Mary's City, 350 committees in counties across the state have also planned activities throughout the year to commemorate the state's anniversary.

March 25 will mark the day for the opening of a state-sponsored traveling exhibition called "Moving Maryland." This exhibit explores 350 years of the state's transportation history. The exhibit features steamboats, trains, autos, airplanes, sailboats and balloons and will travel throughout the state during 1984. It can be seen through April 1 at the State House in Annapolis; April 8-29 at the Ellicott City B&O Railroad Museum; May 7-28 at the World Trade Center, Baltimore; June 4-July 1 at the C&O Canal Museum, Great Falls; July 9-27 at the Washington County Free Library, Hagerstown; August 4-26 at the Allegany County Historical Society, Cumberland; and at other locations in the fall. (For a complete tour schedule, persons should contact the Chesapeake Bay Maritime Museum, St. Michaels, 745-2916.)

Dateline: Annapolis

Among the big news from the State House this week are budget changes recommended by the Senate Budget and Taxation Committee, some technical and two fundamental changes in the Youghiogheny River legislation, and suspension of House rules so that a bill can be introduced to change the formula for Special Class D liquor licenses.

Sen. Laurence Levitan, chairman of the Budget and Taxation committee, kicked off the consideration of the state's $6.9 billion budget by saying Gov. Hughes' complaints about budget cuts recommended by his committee were "unfair and most unfortunate."

Levitan ticked off his own list where cuts could be made, including the almost $30 million for new equipment for state employees; $5 million for out-of-state conferences, $41 million for consultants, $6.5 million for new cars, not counting those purchased for the state police, and $2.7 million for dues and subscriptions.

Then the Senate began consideration of 150 amendments proposed by the committee, and later voted 24-15 to eliminate state support for driver education programs. That would save about $4 million.

In the past, however, the Senate committee has proposed this cut and the money has always been restored by the House of Delegates. Del. George Edwards noted this morning that he feels this will be the case again this year. As he pointed out, this is a tremendous help to the poorer subdivisions and he noted the state has made a commitment here and it is a good one to provide driver education which would otherwise be too expensive for many families in today's mobile society.

Del. Edwards also feels that the county will not see cuts in income from the alcoholic beverage and tobacco taxes.

The Senate committee's amendments, if all passed, would cut about $44.5 million from the governor's budget. In the general fund, the critical part of the budget funded by major taxes such as sales and income, the committee suggested cuts totaling $35.3 million.

Rules Suspended For Liquor Bill

Liquor license changes in a proposal by Del. Edwards were given rules suspension approval Monday night by the House, and the measure will now go before the rules committee for consideration. If that committee agrees, the measure can then be entered for General Assembly consideration even though the regular deadline for introduction of bills passed a month ago.

This morning Del. Edwards had little comment about the proposed changes, saying only that this was basically a change in formula for the license fees for Special Class D licenses. He did not elaborate on other changes. He had requested input from both the liquor control board and the commissioners but apparently neither group had suggestions for changes and agreed to be more forthcoming on the bill if the rules committee permits it to be entered.

River Bill Gets Favorable Report

The House Environmental Matters committee has given a favorable report to HB 429 on the Youghiogheny River changes for the Scenic and Wild Rivers bill. Both Del. Edwards and Del. Tim Finan, (Allegany County) a member of the environmental committee, said that the amendments passed by the Senate were included, along with a few amendments which are basically technical in nature suggested by the House committee.

Two fundamental changes are that the DNR Secretary is required to submit a map to property owners to show proposed boundaries of the affected property owners. If a property owner is not satisfied, within 30 days he may request in writing a field survey. The basic change here is that the survey will be done IF funding is available. This latter change was made at the request of DNR officials. However, the House amendments require that the DNR is required to request funding when submitting its annual budget request to the governor.

One technical change is to eliminate the words "purchase or" when referring to possible DNR acquisition of land.

Motel Tax Passes Senate

SB 669 for a public accommodations tax for the county has passed its third reader in the Senate and recently passed the House. A similar measure which would provide that tax for all the 23 counties and Baltimore City received an unfavorable report.

That measure would instigate a maximum three percent tax on hotels, motels, campsites and cottages used for rental purposes. The measure does not include the words that 50 percent of the amount collected shall be given to the Promotion Council for promotion of the county. Rather, the bill says simply that 50 percent shall be used for promotion of the county. This would give the commissioners leeway to assist such ventures as Friendsville Days and Grantsville Days, according to Del. Edwards.

Sunday Sales Referendum Passes

SB 635 to require a referendum vote in this county this fall on Sunday sales of alcoholic beverages by restaurants has passed its third reader before the Senate. Companion measure HB 1237 had a hearing but no vote was made in the House.

Conference Facility Debt Discussed

HB 404, to provide a $250,000 state debt for planning and construction of a conference facility in western Maryland had a hearing last Friday in the House and a lot of good questions were asked, according to Del. Edwards. No action was taken.

Edwards did not speak against the bill, saying that if the state is going to continue to push for a convention center, then Garrett needs to remain in the running as a possible site. In his testimony Friday, Edwards brought out the plans of Helmuth Heise to greatly expand accommodations at his Wisp ski resort and said he feels the state should redirect its efforts in order not to be in direct competition with private enterprise.

An amendment to change the bill to provide a state debt for planning and construction of a facility "on public or private lands" will probably not be added to the bill, according to Del. Finan. His county is particularly interested in seeing the measure remain as originally written since Allegany is under consideration as a possible site for a state-subsidized convention center.

Grantsville Gets Proposal From MES

Representatives from Maryland Environmental Services presented a proposal for operation and maintenance of the town's sewer plant to the mayor and council of Grantsville at Monday's town meeting.

The town officials are considering their proposal, and have also asked MES to provide a cost estimate for repairs which would be needed to make the plant operational.

Present from MES were Bob Pierce, Allen Holbach, and Jerry Diehl. MES presently operates the treatment plants at Accident and Deep Creek Lake State Park.

Wendell Keaton, municipal coordinator, asked council members to attend a hearing at Allegany Community College April 2 on the Water Supply Financing Program of the state health department. That meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. in Rooms 12, 13 and 14.

Presently Grantsville occupies the number eight slot of the top 15 projects to be funded. The town stands to gain $500,000 to provide a reliable source of water, either through more wells, underground storage, or a combination of both. Treatment facilities are also needed.

Town residents are invited to provide testimony March 29 at 8 p.m. on a proposal to annex land north and south of present town limits.

Attorney James Braskey presented an update on law suits over roads in the town.

The town's next meeting will be April 16. Present Monday were Mayor Fred Holliday and council members Gerald Beachy, Ronald Gillum, Joe McRobie and Walter Younkin.

Land Preservation Petitions Receive Board's Approval

The Garrett County Commissioners have approved two petitions for agricultural land preservation districts, one located near Accident and the other near Red House.

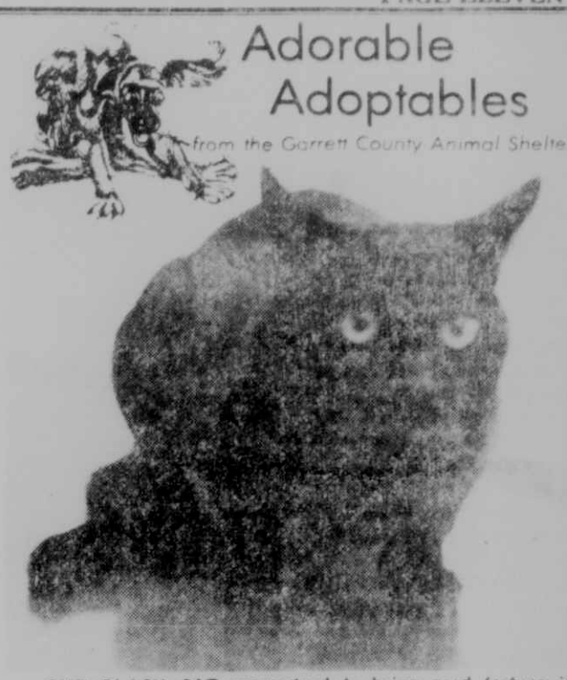
The commissioners held a public hearing on Tuesday, March 13, on a petition by Clark A. and Fannie Mae Kolb to have 131.69 acres of their property, located on the northeast side of Accident, designated as an agricultural preservation district.

For the first time since the county entered the Maryland Agricultural Land Preservation program in 1980, the commissioners received testimony during a public hearing on a petition. Two letters came in from adjoining property owners in support of the petition. There was no opposition.

A petition on property near Red House was heard at a public hearing several months ago. Originally R.H. Ridder sought to have 44.28 acres designated as an agricultural land preservation district, but it did not meet the state stipulation that a district be no less than 100 acres.

Adjoining property owners, Peter and Susan Beachy, added their 227.53 acre property to the petition which brought Ridder into compliance with the requirement.

The commissioners approved both the Kolb and Ridder-Beachy applications on March 13.



Final approval for designation of the two properties as agricultural land preservation districts must come at the state level, county planning director Tim Dugan explained. The commissioners' decision was actually to recommend approval of the petitions at the state level.

The Kolb petition represents the 18th petition to be filed in the agricultural program. However, several of those who filed removed their petition from consideration to be included in the program. To date, the commissioners have approved 11 petitions.

The program, established in Maryland in 1977, is intended to preserve agricultural land and woodland as a resource for present and future agricultural production. Entrance into the program is voluntary.

Lakers Drop Three Of Four, Two Of Them In Bottom Of Seventh

The Garrett Community College baseball team opened its season this past weekend on the road, losing three of four contests to the Rockville Campus of Montgomery Community College; however the Lakers were defeated soundly only once, 10-0, in Saturday's opener. Rockville took Saturday's nightcap, 3-2, Garrett rebounded in the first game on Sunday to win 13-7, and Rockville nipped the Lakers in the final contest, 5-4, when the host team scored in the bottom of the seventh with two outs.

Ted Walker, who Laker Coach Phil Caruso called "outstanding," tossed a three-hitter against the Lakers in the opener on Saturday, all scattered singles, and struck out six, while teammate Robinson went four-for-four and knocked in five runs.

In the nightcap, Jack Wolfarth chased home the winning run in the bottom of the seventh inning with a single.

Garrett's hitting was led by Ted Sova, who rapped a double and Bob Armeni, who had a two-run single in the fourth. Newborn and Ferlin tripled for Rockville.

The loss was particularly disappointing for Laker pitcher, Dan Schwerer, who gave up only three hits and struck out five.

"We had first game jitters in the opener," Caruso said, "but we played much better in the nightcap. We led the whole way, until the bottom of the seventh."

The Laker bats finally came to life on Sunday in the first half of the second doubleheader.

Ed Frizzell went the distance for the Lakers, who collected 14 hits and stole eight bases.

Sova, Garrett's freshman shortstop, went four-for-four, including a double and a pair of RBIs, while Tim Bishop added three doubles and drove in three runs.

Sova set a Garrett record in the second game, going three-for-three for seven consecutive hits. The Lakers were on top once again throughout the entire game until Wolfarth, for the second time, plated the winning run for Rockville on a single with two outs in the bottom of the seventh.

Tim Kocis, who relieved starter Mark Rodeheaver in the fifth, took the loss.

"We were an entirely different team on Sunday," Caruso said. "Ted Sova had the best offensive day of anyone I've ever coached at Garrett."

He noted the "outstanding" defensive play of Bob Scavina.

The Lakers also set a school record for stolen bases in a doubleheader with 16.

"All in all, I felt that we played very well for an opening weekend, being outside as little as we have," Caruso said. "With any luck we could have been 3-1 instead of the reverse. I think we may have a lot to look forward to in future games."

Garrett will return to action this Saturday at Chesapeake for a 1 p.m. doubleheader and then face Frederick on Sunday, also away.

Police Charge Bradshaw Man With Auto Theft

State Police arrested a 26-year-old Bradshaw man and a 16-year-old Baltimore County youth Saturday afternoon as the two were travelling in Garrett County in a late-model passenger car stolen from New Jersey.

Dale C. Vandevander was charged with auto larceny and is reportedly also facing criminal charges in Baltimore County, according to State Police. He was taken to the Garrett County Jail but has since been released to Harford County authorities.

A 16-year-old youth, reportedly from Baltimore County, was charged with juvenile delinquency and was placed in Juvenile Detention under the authority of the Juvenile Services Administration.

State Police Tfc. R.J. Resh reportedly stopped the duo at about noon Saturday as they were travelling on U.S. Route 48 in a 1979 Chevrolet passenger vehicle, bearing New Jersey registration.

The vehicle was impounded by state police when the arrests were made.

Area Police Note Four DWI Charges

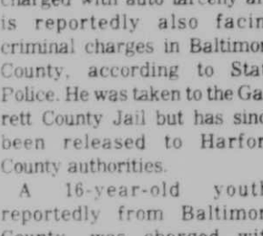
Charges of driving or attempting to drive while under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs were brought against four drivers this week by the Maryland State Police and the Garrett County Sheriff's Department.

Those drivers included Leslie Allen Bittinger, 18, Oakland; Everett B. Weimer, 23, Oakland; Jeffrey Allan Beckman, 23, Swanton; and Robert Edward Downton, 39, Grantsville.



Arresting officers were Tfc. R.C. Resh, Assistant Chief Deputy Paul Pratt and Deputy Kutchman.

CHAPTER I WEEK was observed in Garrett County and across the state last week. Events in the county culminated Friday at Friendsville Elementary School with special tours, programs, and guests. Pictured above, left to right, front row, are Lois Bittinger, County Chapter I Parent Advisory Council chairperson; Albert Ringer, Assistant Superintendent for Curriculum and Instruction; Anna Mary Fratz, Associate Board of Education member; John Braskey, chairman of the county commissioners; Jill Porter, representative for Sen. Charles McC. Mathias; Ray Baldwin, Mathias representative; Amon Burgee, assistant branch chief for the Division of Compensatory Urban and Supplementary Program, Maryland State Department of Education; and Jane Fox, principal of Friendsville Elementary. In the second row, same order, are Spencer Schlosnagle, representative for Friendsville Mayor James Spear; Francis Harris, Chapter I Supervisor; Beverly Murphy, Associate Board of Education member; Charleen Evans-Thomas, Director of Elementary Education; and Jerome Ryscavage, Superintendent of Schools. Below, left to right, front row, are Carolyn Corley, Chapter I Resource Teacher; Joan Whetsell, Chapter I Resource Teacher; Nancy Durst, parent from Grantsville; and Barbara Flinn, Chapter I Resource Teacher. In the second row, same order, are Jane Fox, principal of Friendsville Elementary; Lois Bittinger, Parent Advisory Council chairman; and Franci King, Chapter I aid from Friendsville.

DESCRIPTIONS ARE MORE EFFECTIVE if accompanied by gestures and facial expression. Therefore the above message about educational offerings through Chapter I being given by Al Ringer, assistant superintendent for curriculum and instruction should be memorable indeed. In the background are parents, school personnel, and other invited guests for last Friday's Chapter I Day observance held at Friendsville Elementary School. For further details, see story elsewhere in today's issue.

Schools Observe Chapter I Week With Special Activities, Visitations

During the week of March 12-16 the Chapter I Program was given special recognition by the schools of the county. Chapter I of the Education Consolidation and Improvement Act is a special program designed to supplement the regular school program by giving extra help to children who are doing below average work in reading and/or math.

Some activities that occurred during that week were:

Broad Ford Elementary held a three-day classroom visitation program in celebration of Chapter I Week. Parents were invited to have lunch with their child. Hall displays and special bulletin boards were exhibited throughout the school. A special program planned by the P.A.C. for community leaders had to be cancelled due to a school snow day.

Crellin Elementary invited parents into the school for classroom visitation and lunch. A special movie, "Sammy, The Way Out Seal", was presented for all students and their parents with refreshments being served by P.A.C. members Mamie Reckart and Ann Martin. Chapter I hall decorations were displayed and "Chapter I Cares" bookmarkers were given to all students.

Dennett Road Elementary used "Kids are #1 With Chapter I" as their theme to celebrate Chapter I Week. Care Bear name tags were given to all students stating "Chapter I Cares." The Southern High School Band, under the direction of Richard Clever, gave a special performance for all Dennett Road students. A special P.A.C. meeting on "Homework - What Is Expected of Students at Dennett Road" was presented by teachers on March 14.

Friendsville School parents and aides constructed a large cafeteria bulletin board display entitled "Chapter I Cares - Do You?" which lists services of Chapter I and the number of students served. Care Bears were the decorating theme used for the meeting relating the idea that "Chapter I Cares." A number of Care Bears were used each with a slogan regarding Chapter I.

Grantsville Elementary held a presentation for parents on Functional Writing by Paul Harr, Project Basic Facilitator, on Thursday, March 15. Classroom visitation was also held with parents being invited to lunch. Chapter I bookmarkers were given to all students and special hall displays decorated the school.

Kitzmiller Elementary held a special program on Wednesday, March 14, about Chapter I and the Parent Volunteer Program. The school presented the Chapter I Staff and parent volunteers with a corsage for recognition of the special work they do for the children at Kitzmiller. Parents were then invited to have lunch and visit the classrooms. Special hall displays and bulletin boards were on display throughout the school.

Route 40 Elementary published a newsletter announcing the observance of Chapter I Week in the Garrett County Schools. A special Parent advisory Council meeting will be held on March 23 when Patrick Delaney, Route 40 principal, will demonstrate the use of computers for parents.

On Friday, March 16, the week's activities culminated in a special luncheon meeting held at Friendsville Elementary School. The program consisted of an overview of the work being done by Chapter I in county schools. Making presentations were F.E. Harris, Supervisor of Chapter I; Amon Burgee, Assistant Chief Maryland State Department of Education; Mrs. Jane Fox, Principal of Friendsville Elementary School; Mrs. Carolyn Corley, Mrs. Barbara Flinn and Ms. Joan Whetsell, Chapter I Resource Teachers, Mrs. Lois Bittinger, County Chapter I P.A.C. Chairperson. Others assisting were Frances King, Friendsville aide, Susan Holiday and Anna Miller, teachers at Friendsville, and Mrs. Nancy Durst, parent from Grantsville.

The meeting was attended by parent representatives and principals from all Chapter I Schools, school board members, county commissioners, school board central office staff, and two representatives from Senator Charles McC. Mathias' office.

The meeting concluded with remarks from Mrs. Beverly Murphy, school board member.

Grantsville BPW Gets Congratulations

A letter of congratulations from National Federation of Business and Professional Women's president Polly Madenwald was read at the March 19 meeting of the Grantsville Area BPW.

Club secretary Dottie George read that letter to the 25 members and two guests present, while Martha Sebold, club treasurer, read letters of congratulations from state federation officers.

Sonya Golden, a charter member, won the drawing for the hickory rocker and footstool manufactured by Foxtown Hickory Furniture Company. Barbara Flinn, a guest from the Garrett club, drew the winning ticket and ways and means committee chairman Sue Beachy gave a report on tickets for the rocker.

President Ruth DiPaolo introduced Mrs. Flinn, chairman of the Individual Development Program for the Garrett County BPW. Mrs. Flinn recently organized a class on individual development attended by four Grantsville club members and four Garrett County BPW members.

Ruth DiPaolo, Ruth Newman and Patsy Zumpano completed the course, and Earlena Tressler attended the classes. On Monday, Mrs. DiPaolo gave a prepared speech on "How I Deal With Stress;" Mrs. Zumpano gave a talk on "Protocol" and Ruth Newman, IDP speakoff winner, gave her winning talk on "Happiness." Mrs. Tressler gave an impromptu talk on "My Favorite Hobby" and another talk on the BPW pin and what it symbolizes.

The charter night committee is continuing plans for Charter Night March 31 at the Grantsville Holiday inn, and that committee met Monday after the regular meeting and another meeting is scheduled March 26 at 7 p.m. at the Holiday Inn.

The next regular club meeting will be April 16 at 6:30 p.m. at Hilltop Restaurant.

Judge Jack Turney Sentences Three For DWI Charges

Three drivers were found guilty by Judge Jack Turney during Garrett County District Court proceedings held on March 14 of driving or attempting to drive while under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs.

Those three included Calvin C. Love, who was fined $500, plus court costs. Judge Jack Turney sentenced Love to 89 days in the Garrett County Jail, 79 of those days were suspended. Love is also to observe 18 months of supervised probation.

John M. Rosser was fined $500, $300 of which is to be refunded when Rosser completes DWI school. Rosser is also on unsupervised probation and paid court costs.

Robert Harold Stemple was fined $500, plus court costs, put on 18 months of supervised probation and given an 89-day suspended jail sentence.

"NOW WHAT SEEMS TO BE YOUR PROBLEM?"

Friendsville Man Found Guilty Of Several Charges

A 21-year old Friendsville area man was found guilty during Garrett County District Court proceedings held March 13 and 14 of charges of battery, trespassing, destruction of property and being intoxicated.

Raymond W. "Buckshot" Metheny had been charged with entering the home of Christine D. Sines, Friendsville, and assaulting her on two separate occasions.

According to court reports, Metheny entered the Sines home on April 23, 1983, at which time he physically assaulted Sines, became violent and destroyed personal property in her home.

He again entered the residence and assaulted her on January 21, 1984, after being warned to stay away.

Judge Jack Turney has ordered a pre-sentence investigation.

Also found guilty during court proceedings were Nellie M. Wiley, 44, Grantsville, who had been charged with battery against Marvin E. Wiley, 43, Grantsville, in an incident which occurred on September 20, 1983.

According to reports, Marvin Wiley entered the residence of Nellie while in an intoxicated condition and assaulted her.

Ms. Wiley reportedly hit Wiley in the head with a cooking utensil during the incident.

Turney fined Nellie Wiley $25, plus court costs, gave her an 89-day jail sentence, with 82 days being suspended, and ordered her to serve 12 months of unsupervised probation.

As a result of the same incident, Marvin Wiley was found guilty of battery, trespassing, and being in an intoxicated condition.

He was fined $25, plus court costs, given an 89-day jail sentence, 82 days being suspended, and put on 12 months of supervised probation.

Found not guilty was Phyllis Pacheco, 60, Oakland, who had been charged with selling alcoholic beverages to a minor.

The incident occurred on January 27, 1984, at Ward's Liquor Store in Oakland.

Probation before judgment was declared for the cases of Charles Ruben Friend, 22, Markleysburg, Pa., who had been charged with battery against Herb Clevenger on January 23, 1984; Susan E. Ingram, 25, Mt. Lake Park, and Madeline Virginia Gank, 29, Oakland, who were both charged with passing a bad check. All three were fined $25, plus court costs, and put on six months of unsupervised probation.

The case against Richard B. Orr, 25, Mt. Lake Park, was declared nolle prosque.

Orr had been charged with battery against Patricia D. Orr in an incident which occurred December 28, 1983.

Free Tax Help To Be Available On Maryland Day

"Maryland Day marks the last holiday during the income tax filing season when you can get free assistance in completing your State income tax return," Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein announced this week.

All 14 State income tax offices will remain open on Monday, March 26, from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. when most other State offices will be closed in observance of Maryland Day.

The Comptroller reminded taxpayers that State tax experts will answer questions, provide all necessary forms, double-check calculations and even complete State income tax returns free of charge, as long as taxpayers bring a completed copy of their Federal return and all W-2 statements.

The addresses and phone numbers of the State income tax offices are listed in the State tax packet and in local telephone directories.

SUNNYSIDE-UNDERWOOD

The Wednesday evening cottage prayer meeting was in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Fulk. Bible discussion taken from first chapter of St. John was under the direction of Mildred Peterson.

Those attending included Joyce and Carolyn Foster, Myrtle Spencer, Bessie Canan, George Snyder, Lou Ann and Margaret Savage, Keith, Ivadine and Becky and Elaine Cummings.

The Ladies Bible Study group was held on Thursday afternoon in the home of Bessie Canan. Opening devotions were hymns, Bible study in Genesis was led by Mrs. Jane Kope. Opening prayer was led by Wilma Waybright and closing prayer was by Joyce Foster. Table grace was by Anne Cannon.

Those attending were Elaine Beckman and daughter Amanda, Myrtle Spencer, Myrtle Fulk, and Sybil Merrill besides others mentioned above.

The following were recent dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Waybright, Sunnyside Road: Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Knotts and daughter, Lori; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Knotts, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jones and son; Dale, Matthew and Jeremy Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Knotts and son Doug, Mr. and Mrs. Rick Simmons and Derek, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mullenax and Diane, Mrs. Ann Jones, Mrs. Debbie Knotts, Sarah and Tommy of Sugarlands, W.Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Galen Fike, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Fike and Shannon, Eglon, W.Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Orval DeWitt, Oakland, and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Waybright and son, LaVerne.

Bessie Canan visited her sister, Mrs. Nelle Lee, in Kingwood, W.Va., on Friday and on Saturday she spent the day on Location Road near St. George with a brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Lantz. She was an evening visitor of an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Talmadge White, Eglon.

Mrs. Nada Nethken, Mrs. Mabel Nethken, Mrs. Jessie Fulk, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Fulk, Bessie Canan, Sunnyside; Mr. and Mrs. Keith Cummings, daughters Elaine and Becky; Mildred Peterson, George Snyder, Margaret and Lou Ann Savage, Underwood, were among the numerous other guests on Sunday afternoon attending the open house celebration of Mrs. Edna Ashby at her home in Loch Lynn in honor of her birthday on Monday.

The Cummings and Mrs. Peterson then visited several of the residents of Dennett Road Manor Nursing Home.

Harold Boling has been a patient in Garrett County Memorial Hospital for several days. He hopes to be able to return home this week.

Equine Specialist To Visit County, Conduct Programs

Dr. Edwin Goodwin, equine specialist, University of Maryland, will present two programs on Saturday, March 31, in Garrett County, according to Ted Sprangel, Garrett County Extension Agent.

The first program will be held at 1:30 p.m. at Acorn Acres owned by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kepple, on Spring Glade Road. Dr. Goodwin will cover all aspects of judging including oral reasons and participants will be able to judge and be scored on several classes.

The second program will be in the evening at 7:30 p.m. at the Garrett Community College Mining Center Lecture Hall, McHenry Campus. Goodwin will provide information for discussion on horse related activities for youth, including judging, dressage, horse bowl, etc. Raising of foals, management and other subjects of interest will also be discussed.

Both sessions are open to the public, particularly for any youth interested in the 4-H youth program.

ACCIDENT

Zion Lutheran Church will be showing the Martin Luther Film on Sunday, March 25, 7:45 p.m. at Zion Lutheran Church in Accident. The public is invited to attend.

Edward Deal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Deal, was home on a weekend pass from Ft. Sill, Okla., where he is stationed with the U.S. Army.

FSC Named Site For Economic Education Center

The Council for Economic Education in Maryland has selected Frostburg State College as the new site for its western Maryland economic education center.

The Western Maryland Center for Economic Education at Frostburg will serve schools and community organizations in the four westernmost counties of Maryland, the same area served by the center when it was located at Mount Saint Mary's College in Emmitsburg.

Co-directed by Dr. Robert C. Burton, economics, and Dr. David J. Fell, education, the Center's programs are designed to improve economic literacy in the area through consultation with local schools, educational agencies, and community organizations; development of in-service and credit courses and workshops for teachers; and through development and distribution of economic education materials. To carry out such programs, the local center is fully funded by the Council for Economic Education of Maryland, and is eligible, through grants, for additional funding from its national affiliate, the Joint Council for Economic Education (Park Avenue, NYC.)

The Frostburg State College center joins seven other centers throughout the state; based at the University of Maryland, Towson State University, Washington College, Johns Hopkins University, Loyola College, Morgan State University, and St. Mary's College.

The organization is both non-profit and non-partisan.

For information regarding center activities and programs, persons may call Dr. Fell at 689-4216 or Dr. Burton at 689-4386.

Computer Talk For Kids

by Stan and Chris Lambert

You've probably heard that a computer can't do anything without being programmed to do it. But what exactly is a computer program?

A program is simply a set of instructions that is used to make the computer do a certain task.

However, there are some things the computer knows how to do. It can add, subtract, multiply, divide and perform other higher level mathematical functions.

The computer can't understand English. So people decided to make languages that computers and people can understand, one of which happens to be BASIC (Beginnger's All-Purpose Symbloic Instruction Code). This language is available for most computers. It's one of the simplest languages to learn.

Starting with this issue there will be a section in the column entitled "BASIC Tips." This section will help you learn BASIC in a simple way.

BASIC TIPS

Now that we are all ready to begin to learn BASIC, the first command to learn is the PRINT statement. The PRINT statement is a BASIC command that allows the user to print anything he wants on the screen. In order to do this, you use the following format: PRINT "whatever." Where the word "whatever" is placed in quotes, you may type anything you want.

First, type PRINT, then a quote, then what you want printed, and finally another quote. Then press the RETURN or ENTER button, whichever your computer has. Check your manual to see if the word PRINT needs to be capitalized. Try using the PRINT statement to print anything on the screen.

Once you feel comfortable using the PRINT statement, try to print this sentence: "I want to learn to program". Did it work? If it didn't, check to see if you capitalized all the letters in the word "PRINT" if they were supposed to be capitalized. Make sure you put "I want to learn to program" in quotes. Remember to press RETURN or ENTER. If you have any computer other than an Apple or Commodore 64 and your PRINT statement doesn't work consult your manual.

Dr. Sommers To Lead Conference At Cherry Glade

Dr. Levi B. Sommers

A Biblical Conference on human sexuality is to be held at the Cherry Glade Mennonite Church the weekend of March 31 and April 1. Dr. Levi B. Sommers, Sarasota, Fla., will be the guest speaker.

The theme of the conference will be, "Appreciating our Sexuality." The topic for Saturday evening will be, "Man as Male and Female."

The Sunday morning service will have a pulpit exchange of the sponsoring churches. Ivan J. Maust, pastor of the Maple Glen Mennonite Church, will be speaking on "Husband and Wife Roles." This service will begin at 10:30 a.m.

Dr. Sommers will be speaking on "Developing Oneness in Marriage" in the Sunday afternoon service which begins at 2 p.m.

On Sunday evening the subject will be, "Maintaining Moral Purity." Both evening services begin at 7:30 p.m.

Following the Sunday morning service a covered-dish dinner will be served in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

Dr. Sommers is a graduate of Fuller Theological Seminary in California, with a specialty in marriage and family counseling. He served as a school administrator for 11 years. He is presently serving as bishop and pastor of the Palm Grove Mennonite Church in Sarasota and is the director of its Christian Family Ministries. He also serves as moderator-elect of the Conservative Mennonite Conference. He is originally from Hartville, Ohio.

The Cherry Glade Mennonite Church is located on the Accident-Bittinger Road, four miles from Accident.

Elmer H. Maust, pastor, extends a welcome to all to attend any or all of these services.

Deep Creek Lake

Debbie Bowman, Annapolis, was a recent weekend guest at her parents home, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bowman. Debbie is employed at Fran O'Briens Restaurant which was burned down two weeks ago. She lost her coat in the fire.

Edith Egensperger, Cleveland, Ohio, recently returned to her home after visiting with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bowman, McHenry.

Congregations Of Grantsville UM Charge Surprised

The Grantsville United Methodist Charge was given a surprise on Sunday morning by their current pastor, Rev. K Almond.

During her children's sermon at St. Paul's, Emmanuel and Mt. Zion, she was discussing the "Great UM Circuit-Riding Preachers." During her story, the Rev. Edgar Suite appeared, playing the part of Francis Asbury, who was one such preacher in the frontier of Garrett County back in the late 18th century.

The Rev. Edgar Suite and his wife, Hazel, served the Grantsville UM Charge from 1954-1958. The Rev. Suite is now serving the Calvary United Methodist Church in Keyser, W. Va.

Rev. Christner To Lead Nazarene Revival Services

Rev. Jack Christner, an ordained elder in the Church of the Nazarene, will lead revival services at the Oakland Church of the Nazarene March 27 through April 1, according to Kenneth G. Rice, pastor.

Rev. Christner, who is a full-time travelling evangelist, is a graduate of Eastern Pilgrim College, Allentown, Pa. He has pastored for 24 years in the Church of the Nazarene.

The services will be held at 7 p.m. each evening and on Sunday, April 1, at 10:45 a.m. and 7 p.m. The church is located at 203 South Eighth Street. Rev. Rice invites the public to attend.

Remaining Lenten Services Noted

The remaining Wednesday evening Lenten Services for the Grantsville United Methodist Charge are as follows:

March 28 - Mt. Zion UMC, Route 40, music will be provided by the Mt. Zion Choir.

April 4 - Jennings UMC, music will be provided by Emmanuel's United Methodist Youth Fellowship, and guest preacher will be Stirling Whitley, director of The Burlington Home for Children and Youth.

April 11 - St. Paul's UMC, Grantsville, music will be provided by St. Paul's choir, and a local quartet, David and Camilla Rawe, and Norman and Joan Menhorn.

The evening services begin at 7:30 and The Rev. K Almond, pastor, invites all to these special services.

Missionary To Lead Service At Kitzmiller Church

Patrick L. Dickerson will be the guest speaker this Sunday, March 25, at 11 a.m. at the Assemblies of God Church in Kitzmiller.

There will also be a Sunday evening service at 7 p.m. which will feature the newest Assemblies of God documentary film, "Mission America." The film concerns Assemblies of God ministries here in the United States, featuring more than 50 home missionaries from Brooklyn, N.Y., to Shiprock, N.M.

Dickerson and his wife, Kathy, are newly appointed missionaries to the American Indian Bible College in Phoenix, Ariz. He has a master's degree from the Assemblies of God Graduate School and is presently pursuing a Ph.D degree in New Testament Studies at the University of Virginia. He also has teaching experience as an instructor in Biblical Studies at Evangel College of the Assemblies of God.

The community is invited to attend these special mission services, according to Juris V. Reneslacis, pastor.

Grace Lutheran Church To Host Lenten Service

The fourth in a series of Community Midweek Lenten Services will be held at Grace Lutheran Church, Friendsville, on Wednesday, March 28, at 8 p.m.

Pastor William Carlson will present a sermon on "Peter At Gethsemane: 'Could You Not Watch With Me One Hour?'." The sermon subject is the fourth in a series of messages based on the theme, "Simon Peter Witnesses the Passion."

Special Lenten music will be presented by combined church choirs of the area, called the Good News Chorale, under the direction of Dr. Charles H. Springman and accompanied by Mrs. Marilyn Illick. Other special music will be provided by soloist Ellinor Hamilton, the Zion Lutheran Church Youth Choir and Bell Choir, and the "Galileans."

A freewill offering will be collected for the Hospice of Garrett County.

The fifth in this series of services will be held Wednesday, April 4, at 8 p.m. at Zion Lutheran Church, Accident.

Those wishing to participate in the Good News Chorale should attend practices to be held at 7 p.m. each Wednesday evening, prior to the service at the host church.

Peter Dyck To Be Speaker At Glade Mennonite

Peter Dyck will be guest speaker at the Cherry Glade Mennonite Church, Accident, this Sunday, March 25. The program will begin at 7:30 p.m. and the public is welcome.

Dyck was born in Russia and at the age of 12 emigrated to Saskatchewan, Canada, with his parents and family.

He attended the University of Saskatchewan, Bethel College in Kansas, and received a BA degree from Goshen College, Goshen, Ind. He received a master of divinity degree from Bethany Theological Seminary in Chicago. Waterloo University, Ontario, Canada, granted him an honorary doctorate.

During World War II and after, he served as MCC worker in Europe, first in England and transferring to Holland, and then to Germany as soon as war conditions permitted. In 1945 he and his wife, Elfrieda nee Klassen, moved to fulltime MCC service with Mennonite refugees, helping to care for them in camps in Germany, accompanying them on four transports to South America, and assisting in the processing of many others for immigration to Canada.

From 1950 to 1957 he served as pastor of the Eden Mennonite Church, Moundridge, Kan. Since 1957 he has again been in MCC service. He and his family returned to Europe in July 1957, where he directed the Europe and North Africa MCC program, including the East-West work for ten years. In 1967 he returned to North America with his family.

Since January 1, 1982, he is retired, but available to MCC for special assignments. He is located in Akron, Pa., the MCC headquarters.

Women's Bible Study, Prayer Group Forming

A Women's Bible Study and Prayer Group is being formed in the Accident area. This group will meet one day each month and the first meeting is being planned for April 4. It will be Inter-denominational group and all women are welcome to attend.

Interested persons who desire more information may call Peggy Close at 826-8590 or Janice McFetridge at 826-8705.

Masons To Meet

Oakland Lodge No. 192, AF&AM, will have a regular communication on Tuesday, March 27, at 7:30 p.m. in the Paul B. Naylor Masonic Temple, 3 S. Wilson Street. Besides an important business meeting, catechisms will be returned and March Masonic birthdays will recognized, according to Michael Nestor, Worshipful Master. All Master Masons are invited to attend.

Hospital Honors Custodial Staff

Pride Day was celebrated Wednesday, March 14 at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital in honor of the housekeeping, laundry, and plant operations staffs.

A special recognition ceremony was held which featured speeches by Jacquelyn L. Shirer, vice chairman of the Board of Governors; Jared B. Zelman, M.D., chief of staff; Larry M. Beck, administrator; and Calvin Asbury and Michael McGhee from Servicemaster, Inc., which oversees custodial services for the hospital. Employees were presented with carnation boutonnieres.

The Hospital's Housekeeping Department consists of 12 employees, whose combined years of service total 107 years. They are: Rosalie Baker, Berlin Cuppett, Laura Friend, Barbara George, Judy Martin, Linda Moon, Edward Rice, Herbert Roy, Hattie Shaffer, Darene Swartek, Larry Thomas, and Rhonda Thomas. The housekeepers are supervised by Thomas E. Dunbar, director of housekeeping and laundry.

Housekeepers are responsible for the cleaning of approximately 71,000 square feet of hospital space. This includes care of hard surface floors and carpeting, thorough cleaning of patient rooms between each admission, sterilization cleaning of patient isolation rooms, cleaning operation rooms between cases, special cleaning of the Dietary Department kitchen area, and specialized spot cleaning as needed.

The Laundry Department, also supervised by Dunbar, includes staff of five laundry workers and one seamstress; whose combined years of service total 101 years. They are Mary Beckman, Jean Donham, Alice Dunithan, Mary Jo Savage, Alide Werdebaugh, and Cathleen Winters.

Laundry employees clean and sterilize all linens used throughout the hospital and are responsible for keeping nursing units and doctors lounges fully stocked with clean linen daily.

Plant operations at the hospital provides routine maintenance for the entire hospital. The department is staffed 24 hours per day and has a staff of 10, which totals 67 years of service.

Director of plant operations is Russell Friend. Staff includes: Douglas Beavers, Frank Clark, Harold Collins, Michael Collins, William Davis, Rodney Durst, Randall Friend, Joseph Helbig, Attrenis Kanagy, and Larry Lucas.

The Plant Operations Department performs ground maintenance, boiler operation and maintenance, electrical maintenance and repair, painting, plumbing repair, mechanical maintenance, and renovations throughout the hospital.

YOU'RE DIFFERENT

There is no one in the world who has a fingerprint exactly like yours. Nor does anyone else have the same texture of hair — identical personality or even the same problems that you have.

One thing is certain, though. We all have problems. They may differ from person to person, but they all require the same two things — the courage to face them and the strength to solve them.

Where then can we, among millions of different people, find the problem-solving courage and strength to ease our course through life? For centuries people have been going to the Church. It welcomes young and old, rich and poor, people from all walks of life and all races.

Different? But you may find, along with your fellowman, just the ingredient to face life unafraid — in your church or synagogue next week.

WHAT IS A HERNIA?

When an organ protrudes through an opening in the surrounding walls it is called a hernia. Most hernias are in the abdominal, groin area. This hernia weakness can be there at birth but it may be much later in life that it is discovered.

At one time having a hernia repaired surgically was a long drawn out process. Often the patient was out of commission for many, many weeks. Some preferred to wear a confining belt rather than have the operation. But today recovery is much more rapid and it is more advisable and common to have it taken care of. If you suspect a hernia, see your physician.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

PETER'S REBUKE
March 25, 1984

Background Scripture: Mark 8:27 through 9:50.
Devotional Reading: Mark 9:33-41.

Everyone wants to be a winner--or at least to be able to identify with one.

No one wants to be a loser. And that's what it seemed Jesus was going to be. By his own words it was evident that the movement was in great danger of failure. The writer of Mark says, "And he began to teach them that the Son of Man must suffer many things, and be rejected by the elders and the chief priests and the scribes, and be killed, and after three days rise again" (8:31).

PLAIN SPEAKING

Jesus made no attempt to hide the forboding path that he was going to travel. The writer says, "And he said this plainly." He didn't want anyone to misunderstand what it would mean to follow him. This is not what Simon Peter wanted to hear. So, "Peter took him and began to rebuke him" (8:32).

Jesus' reaction to Peter's rebuke was, to say the least, startling: "Get behind me, Satan! For you are not on the side of God, but of men" (8:33). Those sharp words must have quickly gotten Peter's attention!

Yet, if we examine this exchange, we can begin to see the reason for the harshness of Jesus' reply. He was not condemning Peter for his wrong thinking, but because Peter's words were like the temptation of Satan himself. Jesus reacted harshly, not because what Peter was proposing was so unthinkable, but because it seemed so reasonable.

Jesus said that Peter's thinking on this represented, not "the side of God, but of men." Thus, Jesus was acknowledging that it is very human to think the way Peter was thinking. It must have troubled him to think his ministry was headed for failure. He was as aware as we are how the world regards "winners" and "losers."

SAVING AND LOSING

Worst of all, Jesus made it clear that the path to Calvary was not only his, but all those who would be his disciples. They too were to become "losers" in the eyes of the world. "If any man would come after me," said Jesus, "let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me" (8:34).

No matter how many times we read or hear these words, we scarcely can take them in. The words bounce harmlessly off our hearts, for it is hard for us to think of self-sacrifice when everything in us cries out for self-preservation.

Ah, but Jesus knows that and it is here that he reaches us with the full force of his challenge: "For whoever would save his life will lose it; and whoever loses his life for my sake and the gospel's will save it" (8:35). Thus, we can only achieve self-preservation when, following the example of Christ, we learn self-sacrifice.

I believe THE PRODIGAL may be the most powerful evangelistic film ever made to reach people for Christ.
—Billy Graham

How long I've longed for films of this caliber to be produced — the realism of the story line — the dialogue — the relevancy of the lyrics of the songs — all of it is first class — plus the incredible message.
—Joyce Landorf, Author

THE PRODIGAL is a profound commentary on our present condition — a mirror in which we all see ourselves. It is a Christian film in the best and deepest sense. I hope and pray it will reach a wide audience.

Pamela S. Wolfe, Stephen W. Smith United In Marriage On February 4

Pamela Susan Wolfe and Stephen Wayne Smith were united in marriage on February 4. The double-ring candlelight ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Goldsborough, Broad Ford Road, Mt. Lake Park, with the Rev. Dr. David Mahoney of the Mt. Lake Park Bethel United Methodist Church, officiating.

Mr. Smith is the son of Mrs. June Smith and Bobby Smith, both of Deer Park.

The bride was attired in a white pleated street length Gunne Sax dress. The bodice featured a high neckline accented with Chantilly lace and seed pearls and was trimmed in satin. She carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds, white carnations and baby's breath, and wore a round headpiece of pink rosebuds and baby's breath.

Barbara Tichnell, who served as her sister's matron of honor, wore a burgundy flowered dress of similar design. She carried a bouquet also complementing that of the bride.

Lyle "Mike" Madigan served as best man.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride. Sharon Rowan served the cake and Ruth Ryan and Joy Buser assisted with the serving of the coffee and punch.

The bride, a graduate of Southern High School, is employed by Garrett County Memorial Hospital as a nursing assistant M/S.

Mr. Smith, also a graduate of Southern High School, is employed by the L&C Coal Company.

The couple is residing at their home in the Deer Park area.

Satellite TV Information
— Dish Antenna Facts —
Absolutely nothing in a Satellite Installation is as important as the Dish antenna, and mount. The Dish sets the signal to noise ratio of the whole receiving system. Receivers, LNA's and cables, though absolutely necessary for a working system, actually add noise to the received signal. The picture being what we want to see and the noise if present, being white sparkles or black tears in the picture. Dishes are available in many sizes and shapes. Also the materials that they are constructed of varies with different manufacturers.
Regardless of their construction they must meet the signal to noise ratio sufficiently to provide a quality picture. The signal to noise of a Dish is most affected by 3 factors: 1. Size of the Dish; 2. Parabolic or Reflective Surface Tolerance; 3. Focal Point to Diameter or F/D. The mount must be sufficient to support the Dish at all angles, and provide rigid parabolic support to maintain picture quality. It also must be heavy enough to do these things in severe weather conditions.
Good Dishes and Heavy Duty mounts don't come cheap, but that's all we sell, because we know what it takes to make a great Satellite Receiving System. We offer 6', 7½' semi-installed kits, also 8' and 10' completely installed systems.

A GUIDE TO GUILT-FREE SNACKING

Are snacks and desserts bad for children? As long as they don't replace nutritious foods or add unneeded calories, snacks and desserts aren't "bad" for children (or adults). Some snacks and desserts give you little but calories, and others give you calories plus nutrients. Help your children stay on the healthy track by watching—

1. WHAT they eat: Filling up on sugary, high-fat, and high calorie snacks and desserts doesn't leave room for more nutritious foods. Salty snacks also encourage a thirst for drinks like sugary sodas. Snacking on sugary drinks and sticky sweets also helps promote tooth decay.

2. HOW much they eat: Have you ever nibbled on a snack while watching television and wondered how the food suddenly disappeared? Snacking can become an unconscious habit of nibbling on food without really tasting it and without being really hungary. This can lead to overeating and overweight. By helping children build sound eating habits now, they'll be less likely to have weight problems later on.

3. WHEN they eat. Snacks should be small but satisfying and should take place at established times . . . about one and one-half hours or more before mealtime. If allowed to raid the cupboards and refrigerator anytime, children can turn the day into one continuous snack period, and meals take on little or no importance. If children do not eat well at meals, observe snacking patterns for a few days. You may discover that snacks are too frequent or take place too close to mealtime.

4. WHAT if your child is skinny? Skinny children will not necessarily become skinny adults. Active, growing children do burn a lot of calories. If you encourage a sweet tooth or a taste for fatty foods, your children are more likely to become overweight adults. Your food choices shape your child's eating habits for life. Help make them healthy ones.

Try these nutritious snacks:

CARROT RAISIN BROWNIES

1 cup brown sugar, packed
½ cup margarine, softened
2 eggs
1 tsp. vanilla
¾ cup flour, unsifted
1/8 tsp. salt
½ tsp. baking soda
½ tsp. baking powder
½ cup raisins, chopped
1½ cups carrots, finely grated
½ cup walnuts, finely chopped (optional)

(Makes 24 brownies, 2x2¼ inches each at about 130 calories).

PEANUT BUTTER SWIRLS

1 slice whole wheat bread
1 T. peanut butter
12 very thin slices of banana

Flatten bread with a rolling pin. Spread peanut butter on bread. Top with banana slices. Roll up bread like a jelly roll. Slice into six slices. (Can be prepared ahead and wrapped in wax paper or plastic wrap to hold in refrigerator). Bake in 350 degrees oven for 10 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool and serve.

(Serves 1 at about 190 calories).

ENGLISH MUFFIN PIZZA

1 8-oz. can no salt added tomato sauce
½ - 6 oz. can (⅓ cup) no salt added tomato paste
1 tsp. Italian seasoning
4 oz. shredded mozzarella (1 cup)
6 whole English muffins (split, 12 halves)

Mix tomato sauce, paste and seasoning. Spread a generous 1½ tablespoon on muffin half. Sprinkle with 1 generous tablespoon of cheese. Repeat for each muffin half. Broil a few minutes under broiler until cheese is bubbly.

Chapter I Week Observed At Crellin

The showing of a Walt Disney movie, classroom visitation and parents and grandparents having lunch with students were among the activities at Crellin Elementary School in observance of Chapter I Week March 12-16.

State To Give Pine Seedlings To Local Students

The 100th celebration of Arbor Day is being recognized across Maryland as the Forest, Park and Wildlife Service with a gift of scotch pine seedlings to public school students, kindergarten through eighth grade, according to Garrett County Project Forester Ernie Metz.

"This seedling distribution program was developed to show the importance of trees to our future and their value every day," Metz said. Working closely with the Department of Education, each county project forester has made available to teachers a guide to assist the schools with appropriate recognition of Arbor Day and the 350th anniversary of the State as well. Approximately 850,000 scotch pine seedlings are being given out in all areas of the state.

In Maryland, Arbor Day is always the first Wednesday in April. A proclamation by the Governor was shared this year with the Department of Natural Resources and the Department of Education calling attention to this 100th celebration in the State.

"This year's program in the schools is an effort to instill in children the value and importance of trees with the hope that they will carry the thought with them into adulthood," Metz said.

Persons may call the Maryland Forest, Park and Wildlife office at the Mt. Nebo, 334-3296, for information about how managing woodlots can benefit owners and their environment.

State Tourism Ads, Publications Earn Awards

The Maryland Office of Tourist Development's tourism print advertisements, television commercial and tourism song won the first place Addy Award for Best Mass Media Campaign in the Advertising Club of Washington's 16th Annual Addy Awards last month.

The Office also received acknowledgements in four categories in the 1983 Associate Contest sponsored by the Maryland-Delaware-D.C. Press Association.

Developed by the Earle Palmer Brown Companies of Bethesda, under contract for the Tourism Office, the tourism entry that was awarded first place on the basis of creative excellence, consisted of three color magazine ads, the 60-second song, and the 30-second television commercial.

The finalist in this category included entries by The Washington Federals and C&P Telephone Company. The Maryland entry competed with 30 different campaigns.

As the Maryland-Delaware-D.C. Press Association Associate Contest, the Office of Tourist Development was awarded second place for the best black and white brochure. This award was presented for the Maryland Calendar of Events.

In the same contest, OTD took first and second place in the radio public service advertising category for its winter and summer commercials.

In the television category of public service advertising, OTD was awarded second place for its "Capture A Maryland Memory" campaign.

Paul Rodriguez finds a future in comedy

By Joe Haviland

Paul Rodriguez

Known in most circles as a stand-up comic, Paul Rodriguez stands out as Paul a.k.a. Pablo Rivera in his first TV series, "a.k.a. Pablo."

"Humor is humor. It crosses over," says Rodriguez discussing the new series produced by Norman Lear. "This show is not about a Mexican family, it's about a family that happens to be Mexican. A family that cares for each other; that disagree with each other; that have certain ambitions; and that came to America like many immigrants in hopes of a better living."

In many ways the character of Paul Rivera mirrors Rodriguez' own life. But Rodriguez is quick to point out that it is a younger version of himself.

"I know who Paul Rivera is," he says. "He's a naive person who has a certain kind of 'Wizard of Oz' type of feeling about show business. Paul Rodriguez, however, knows a little about the business and he realizes that there are many compromises and that there are many bummers in show business. It's not all jacuzzis and parties in Beverly Hills. It's a lot of work. When you become a public person you literally become responsible for your actions and your words."

After earning a degree at Long Beach City College, Rodriguez enrolled in pre-law studies at California State University, Long Beach, but an appearance at amateur night at the Comedy Store in Hollywood in November 1980 led to a job offer working at the club and the opportunity to perform on stage. It is this Paul Rodriguez, a rising young comedian, who most resembles his character. "It's kind of ironic," Rodriguez says, "because the very reason that I didn't finish school and became a comedian was because I shun responsibility.

"My parents love me and I'm their son but they still believe that it's a part-time job and I'll quit and go back to college," says Rodriguez referring to his own home life, a home life that is reflected in the series. "They don't see show business as any kind of future. Like my dad said, only a lunatic or a madman would decide to make a living out of telling jokes. Of course I disagree with him."

For Paul Rodriguez, stand-up comedy will always be his first love. "Whether 'Pablo' goes or dies," he says "I will always be a stand-up comedian. After all, you have to know on which side your tortilla is buttered."

TV TATTLE

Charles Kuralt

'American Parade'

Charles Kuralt will anchor "The American Parade," CBS News' new weekly prime time series, premiering Tuesday, March 27.

"The American Parade," which will look at and listen to the people of this country, will be presented in a multi-segment format, with reports from its team of regular contibutors: Morton Dean, Andrew Lack, Bill Kurtis, Diane Sawyer, Maria Shriver and Art Buchwald.

'Terrible Joe Moran'

James Cagney stars as Joe Moran, a retired boxing champ, with Art Carney portraying his buddy Troy, in "Terrible Joe Moran," an ITT Theatre special, airing Tuesday, March 27 on CBS.

'Texas'

James Michener's "Texas," a novel tracing the development of the Lone Star State, is now in development as a ten-hour "ABC Novel for Television," for future broadcast on ABC.

'Winter Carnival'

Anne Murray hosts her third television special, "Anne Murray's Winter Carnival...From Quebec," Friday, March 30 on CBS.

The Canadian-born singer's guests will include Dionne Warwick and Glen Campbell. One segment of the special will feature Miss Murray and Miss Warwick singing a medley of current popular songs.

Anne Murray

Joanne Woodward and Paul Newman, who have shared their lives and careers for over 26 years, join Hugh Downs for a rare interview on ABC's "20/20," airing Thursday, March 29.

STARVIEW

'Kate & Allie' find a home in Manhattan

By Tim Boxer

How did New York manage to grab a prime-time series to be filmed entirely in the Big Apple — instead of sunny California where they are usually made? Shows such as "Mama Malone," "Cagney & Lacey" and "Mickey Spillane's Mike Hammer" are set in New York but shot on the West Coast.

Jane Curtin

Leave it to Susan Saint James, whose motto is "I Love New York." She had a development deal with CBS and when the idea for a sitcom called "Kate & Allie" came up, she insisted that it be produced in Manhattan.

After all, the comedy was set in Greenwich Village where Kate McArdle (Miss Saint James) and Allie Lowell (Jane Curtin), two divorcees with children, share an apartment. One works, the other tends the house and kids.

Miss Saint James wants to stay close to her home in Litchfield, Conn. Her husband, Dick Ebersol, is producer of the New York-based "Saturday Night Live." "My kids are at an age (11, 9 and 1) when they are a whole lot of fun," she says.

Her co-star, Jane Curtin, was one of the original Not Ready for Prime Time Players on "Saturday Night Live." Miss Curtin and Miss Saint James starred together in the movie "How to Beat the High Cost of Living."

Both actresses are neighbors and both gave birth within two weeks of each other. They resolved to keep their show close to home. The network let them have their way. The ladies have clout.

Susan Saint James

"The show is about divorce," Miss Saint James says. She admits that that is not a terribly funny topic. Yet it is full of funny situations and the laughs come from a live audience, not from a mechanical laugh track in Hollywood.

Her kids warned her, "If you're opposite 'The A-Team,' we're not watching." Not to worry. "Kate & Allie" airs Mondays on CBS; Mr. T is on Tuesdays on NBC.

MONDAY

Sharon Gless (l.) and Tyne Daly star as two N.Y.P.D. detectives who have earned the respect of their male counterparts on "Cagney & Lacey," airing Mondays on CBS.

(Stations reserve the right to make last-minute changes.)

TUESDAY

James Cagney (l.) stars as ex-boxing champ Joe Moran, and Art Carney stars as his companion, Troy, in "Terrible Joe Moran," an ITT Theatre special airing Tuesday, March 27 on CBS.

(Stations reserve the right to make last-minute changes.)

IN FOCUS

Gross gets big break; Love at first bite

By Peter Meade

Long before there was "Saturday Night Live," Mary Gross worked for five years as a secretary for the American Dental Association in her native Chicago.

"I was never on time for work," she recalls. "But I always kept the boss laughing. I always had the image of being Rose Marie working with Dick Van Dyke and Morey Amsterdam." The image got closer to reality when she answered an ad for a comedy workshop.

"I ended up being funny in a Don Knotts sort of way," says Miss Gross. But after completing the workshop, her teachers asked her to stay on as an apprentice and soon a new career, with the famed "Second City" comedy troupe, was born.

John Schneider

"Everyone talks about getting that big break," says John Schneider. "When 'The Dukes of Hazzard' came along, I knew this was it."

Schneider auditioned for the CBS series the same week he tried out for the movie, "The Great Santini" and the series "Welcome Back Kotter."

"'The Dukes' was the least known of the three, but there was something special about it. Now it's hard to remember before the 'Dukes,'" Schneider says of the CBS Friday night series, which debuted in January 1979. "I don't think 10 to 12 years (on the air) is out of hand."

While there are rumors about a "Knots Landing" regular being "killed" when the CBS series ends its fifth season, Lisa Hartman won't be the victim. She was last year when her character, singer Ciji Dunne, was found dead on the beach as the season ended. It wasn't the end, however, for Miss Hartman as she reappeared in "Knots Landing" this season as ranch hand Cathy Geary.

According to Miss Hartman's boyfriend Barry Bostwick, who will play the title role in the CBS miniseries "George Washington," Cathy Geary will return to "Knots Landing" next season.

Bostwick hopes that next season Miss Hartman's character will be allowed to get more involved with a singing career. Miss Hartman recently signed to sing the title song of the remake of "Where the Boys Are."

Bostwick's manager introduced him to Miss Hartman at a March of Dimes cookout in Houston four years ago. "It was love at first bite," he says.

CINDY SAYS

Diana Ross is gifted; Moore for 'Mame'?

By Cindy Adams

NEW YORK — Diana Ross, who worked the Westbury Music Fair for two weeks, received an interesting gift. Producers Lee Guber and Shelley Gross bought her a color enlargement of a 1920's oil portrait of Josephine Baker, whose life Miss Ross wants to play... Milton Berle's year-and-a-half pout against the Friars ended. Uncle Miltie finally re-entered their hallowed halls to lunch with the managing director. A glass was hoisted — and the hatchet was buried.

Milton Berle
buries hatchet

Harper & Row is publishing a 35-year retrospective of Francesco Scavullo. We'll get it in October. The book has 239 photos, from Rose Kennedy to Janis Joplin to Lauren Bacall to Leontyne Price. It will begin with Scavullo's box camera black-and-white days... Sean Connery is suffering from vertigo, and he says that it's increasing. He says that there'll be "no more movie stunts" for him.

There's a reward out for Mary Tyler Moore. She's wanted in 50 states by producer Mitch Leigh, who has a national road company of "Mame" on its mark, set to go. All he lacks is the dame to play Mame. Discussions were opened with Miss Moore's agent, the script and offer were delivered days ago. Leigh says, "I'd genuflect if she'd accept."

Erin Gray
into fitness

Erin Gray of NBC's "Silver Spoons" has begun an exercise program and says that the "big problem since I began exercising is that my husband says I walk like a jock."

"Second Serve," the story of Richard Raskin who became tennis star Renee Richards, will air this fall on CBS. The movie will star Vanessa Redgrave. Says producer Linda Yellen: "This story's about a person fighting all odds to be herself. Why not Redgrave, who's also fighting all odds to be herself? Besides, she's physically right for it and she's a great actress. She also plays tennis."

Paul Rodriguez stars as Paul a.k.a. Pablo Rivera, a young Mexican-American comedian on the brink of stardom, in Norman Lear's new comedy series, "a.k.a. Pablo," airing Tuesdays on ABC.

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By Val Carew

A girlfriend and I are having an argument. She says that David Hasselhoff, who stars on "Knight Rider," also plays on a daytime soap opera. Is this true? Where can we write him? — E.M., Elizabeth Township, N.J.

Hasselhoff was on a soap opera prior to "Knight Rider." He played Snapper Foster on "The Young and the Restless" for six years. The day after he left the soap he was cast in "Knight Rider." Write him in care of his present series, Universal Studios, Universal City, Calif. 91608.

Who played Steven Cord in "Peyton Place"? — E.W., Kimberly, Ore.

James Douglas played Cord, the illegitimate grandson of Martin Cord, for the whole run of the series that premiered in September 1964 and ran through June 1969. When "Return to Peyton Place" made an effort at being a daytime soap in 1972 (it lasted until 1974), Cord was played by Joe Gallison who now plays Neil Curtis on "Days of Our Lives."

David Hasselhoff

Do you know the name of the young actress who plays on "Whiz Kids"? Where can I write her? — B.S., Colorado Springs, Colo.

Melanie Gaffin

You must mean Melanie Gaffin, who plays Cheryl, the sister of Richie (played by Matthew Laborteaux). Write her in care of the series, Universal Studios, Universal City, Calif. 91608.

What happened to "Tales of the Gold Monkey"? Will it be back? Is the guy who played Louie related to the guy who plays the IRS man on "Lottery"? — B.M., Kings Mountain, N.C.

First of all, "Tales of the Gold Monkey" was a victim of low ratings and will not return. Roddy McDowall played Bon Chance Louie and he is not related to Marshall Colt, who plays Eric, the IRS man on "Lottery."

(Do you have a question about TV? Write Val Carew at 200 Park Avenue, Room 602, New York, NY 10166.)

SHOW AND TELL

Anderson breaks out of good-guy role

By Richard King

Richard Dean Anderson

HOLLYWOOD — This time, Richard Dean Anderson may have wanderlust thrust upon him. Anderson comes from a family that has a tradition of wanderlust — when things get a little slow, they move along — and he has long been one of the wanderlustiest of the bunch.

Now the actor is playing Lt. Simon Adams on CBS' "Emerald Point N.A.S." But that may not be for much longer because the show has been temporarily dropped. Because that temporary drop may turn out to be permanent, it may be time for Richard Dean Anderson to move along — again, whether he wants to or not.

It all started back home in Minneapolis, where he grew up. He was the oldest of four sons of a teacher. When Anderson was 15, he began his career of running. He never says "running away," but prefers "running off."

"I'd go off for a few months here and a few months there," he says, "and then I'd come home. Most fathers would have been very upset, but my father just said it was the old Anderson wanderlust coming out. And, anyhow, he said it was broadening for me to go off and see something of the world."

So he wandered, until it was time to settle down. But even in his professional life, he has been on the footloose side. He quit a good job on "General Hospital," where he played Dr. Jeff Webber, because, after five years, he just wanted to move along again.

When he was a child, his father used to coach his students in a play every year. "In one such play, there was a big cake as a prop," he remembers. "There were a lot of rehearsals and they couldn't afford a big cake at each rehearsal, so, instead, they had a bunch of Twinkies. I was maybe 5 at the time, and I was very impressed by a line of work in which eating Twinkies was an integral part."

So he decided to become an actor, although parts calling for the conspicuous consumption of Twinkies are few and far between. Even though "Emerald Point" is in danger of being cancelled, it did something good for Anderson. It helped him break out of the good-guy image he found himself locked into and showed that he can be good — "but not perfect."

New 'lives' for Jessica and Josh

By Kimberly Redmond

Would you enlighten me as to how Jessica and Josh Fallon were written off of "Days of Our Lives"? They were my favorites. — K.C., Auburn, Maine.

Josh, portrayed by Scott Palmer, and Jessica, portrayed by Jean Bruce Scott, moved to San Francisco to start life over as newlyweds after the mystery of the Salem Strangler was solved. In real life, Miss Scott left "DOOL" to accept recurring roles in two night-time series, "Magnum, P.I." and "St. Elsewhere."

Jean Bruce Scott

I read somewhere that Ernest Graves used to appear on the soap opera "Guiding Light." I've watched this show for years but don't remember the role he played. Can you help me out? — K.W., Rockaway, N.Y.

In the very early years of "Guiding Light," Graves portrayed Alex Bowden, a womanizer who was married to Robin Lang before he chose to skip town.

Can you tell me whether Al Freeman of "One Life to Live" has any children? — H.R., Montgomery, Ala.

Al Freeman, who portrays Lt. Ed Hall on "OLTL," and Sevara, his wife of 21 years, do not have any children.

Al Freeman

I missed some episodes of "As The World Turns," and therefore don't know how Dan Stewart actually died, or if he really did die at all. Could you please tell me what really happened and where the actor is that played Dan? — V.R., Logan, Ala.

The character of Dan (played by John Colenback) died of a rare and fatal blood disease. Colenback is currently appearing on "Capitol" as Detective Keyes.

Eastern Garrett Firemen Install Officers For '84

The Eastern Garrett County Volunteer Fire Company recently installed its officers for 1984. Harry Michael, past president of the Allegany-Garrett Firemen's Association, administered the oath of office.

Al Ward was elected to a second term as president. Ron Nair was elected secretary. Paul Clark and Willard Crowe were re-elected treasurer and chaplain, respectively. Steve Baer was elected publicity director and Randy Baker and Danny Baer were elected to the board of trustees.

Jim Raley was voted into a second year as chief. Raley reappointed his line officers from last year: Robert "Sonny" Dunn, first assistant chief; Dean Bolden, second assistant chief; Dick Gallegher, captain; Dale Fike, 1st. lieutenant; and Al Ward, 2nd lieutenant.

Ward appointed Greg Dishong as vice president; Ken Garlitz, sergeant-at-arms, and Dale Fike, parliamentarian.

Raley also reported that the department answered a total of 60 alarms in 1983. Of that number, 16 were vehicle accidents and 13 were structure fire calls including five flue fires and one electrical fire. The company also answered eight calls for mutual aid from other fire companies, seven public service calls, six brush fires, six search and rescues, two mutual aid calls from ambulance companies, one vehicle fire and one Medevac landing. Approximately 1300 man-hours were spent fighting fires and the companies five engines travelled a total of 26,000 miles.

Public Hearing on an Application for a State Discharge Permit.

PUBLIC NOTICE NO.: MD-2043

Issue Date: March 21, 1984

The Office of Environmental Programs (OEP) has made a tentative determination on an application for a State Discharge Permit listed below and has scheduled a public hearing as indicated. Persons who wish to present information about this tentative determination may speak at the hearing and/or submit a written statement to the Office of Environmental Programs no later than five days following the hearing. All comments will be considered in OEP's final decision concerning this application.

Any person who feels adversely affected by the following tentative determination and wishes to contest the determination may request that contested issues be adjudicated. Each request must be in writing to the address given below, must contain the name, address, telephone number of the requesting person; the specific rights, duties or privileges of the individual which are adversely affected by the tentative decision, the name of the other party whom the requester represents, the issues proposed for adjudication, and must be received by OEP before April 10, 1984. The Assistant Secretary for Environmental Programs will decide whether a request presents valid issues for adjudication, notify all parties of his decision, and may schedule a pre-hearing conference.

Significantly altered determinations would initiate further opportunity for adjudication.

All information concerning permit applications and tentative determinations is on file at the Office of Environmental Programs (201 West Preston Street, Baltimore, Maryland 21201) and may be inspected Monday through Friday between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Facilities for obtaining copies at a reasonable cost will be available.

Written requests for information or adjudication may be addressed to Mr. Ronald Nelson, Director, Waste Management Administration for Industrial Discharge Permits. Telephone requests should be made to Ms. Gail Castelman at (301) 383-5740.

The Department will provide an interpreter for the deaf or hearing impaired persons provided that a timely request is made for such service.

A public hearing on the following tentative decisions will be held:

Monday, April 30, 1984
At 1:30 p.m.

The work for which proposals are invited consists essentially of the construction of a 140,000 gallon ground storage tank with foundation, all necessary excavation and grading, macadam access drive, 255 feet of 6-inch water main with all necessary appurtenances and fire hydrant, minor drainage structures, sediment control, and stabilization.

The above work shall constitute a complete project, appurtenances in place, and ready for continuous operation.

The Contract Documents may be examined at the Sanitary District's office, Old Courthouse, Room 200, Oakland, Maryland 21550, or at the office of Frederick Ward Associates, Inc., Consulting Engineers, 5 South Main Street, Bel Air, Maryland 21014.

The Contract Documents may be obtained from the Sanitary District, Old Courthouse, Room 200, Oakland, Maryland 21550, upon payment of $50.00 for each set. This amount will not be refunded.

Each bidder must deposit with his bid a certified check of satisfactory bid bond in amount of not less than five percent (5%) of the total bid amount, subject to the conditions provided in the Information for Bidders.

No bidder may withdraw his bid within 90 days after the date of opening thereof.

The Sanitary District reserves the right to waive any informalities, to reject any or all bids and to accept any proposal which it deems to be in the best interest of the Sanitary District.

The District encourages small businesses and minority owned businesses to express an interest in this project, and encourages all bidders to utilize small businesses and minority owned businesses for sub-contracted services.

A prebid conference will be held on the project on March 20, 1984 at 2:00 p.m. All prospective bidders are urged to attend.

DOYLE BUILDERS
General Contractors
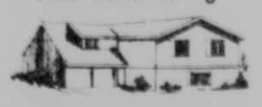
Residential homes, commercial construction, additions and remodeling.

Now's the time to plan on a home for this year. We are builders of quality homes and businesses. We plan energy savings into the original design.

Buying a home from someone? Shouldn't it be inspected as you would have a car mechanic inspect your car? We do inspections of homes prior to purchase for banks, private parties and businesses.

This is going to be a great year for building, so let's get your plans, or ours to the bank and get going while the weather is unstable.



We are a turnkey contractor—we take it from the plans to the final grade and present you with a key. We thank all of our homebuyers for their patronage and we were happy to have a part in their realization of the American dream.

THE WATCHMEN, hailing from Clymer, Pa., will perform at Northern High School on Wednesday, March 28, at 7 p.m. The concert is being sponsored by the Northern High God Squad and there is no admission charge. A freewill offering will be accepted. The Watchmen, who have traveled extensively and have recorded some of their music, use mostly original material, composed by keyboardist Tink Abraham, and drummer Ken Abraham.

HUSKY HALLS

by Shari Broom
The Watchmen

A pop/rock Christian group from Clymer, Pa., will be visiting Northern on March 28. This group, called "The Watchmen", will perform at 2:30 during clubs and at 7 p.m. that night in the cafetorium. Students who wish to attend the concert during clubs should sign up on lunch shifts. This event is being sponsored by the God Squad. There will be free admission.

Drill Team Practices

Any girl in the 8th, 9th, 10th or 11th grade may try out for the Northern Drill Team. The Drill Team uses flags, pom-pons and dance routines during the football and basketball seasons and may cheer at wrestling matches. There is a drill team class when the students practice their routine instead of practicing after school. Drill Team tryouts are to be held on April 11. Practices are March 28, April 3 and 5 in the cafeteria from 3:30 to 5 p.m.

J.S.H.S.

Autumn Frazee, junior, attended the Maryland Junior Science and Humanities Symposium in Baltimore, on Thursday, March 8, and Friday, March 9. She went to various sessions with scientists, visited a lab at John Hopkins Oncology Center, went to the Inner Harbor to see displays and exhibits and also to the Planetarium. Some of the objectives of the National J.S.H.S. are to promote research and experimentation of youth in the sciences, math and engineering at the high school level, to search out talented youth and their teachers, and to enlarge the number of future adults capable of conducting research and development.

Parent Visitation Night

There will be a parent visitation night on March 29 from 6-8 p.m. Staff will be dismissed at or before noon on March 30. There will be no school on this day (Professional Day).

Band Boosters Organization

Any parent or former student wishing to help out with the band by attending the band boosters meetings will be greatly appreciated. The meetings are held on the third Thursday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in the teachers' lounge at Northern High School. In order to engage in band trips and other activities during the year, more people are needed to support the band.

Phys. Ed. Champions

The 5th period team, which won the basketball championship game recently, included Stacey Thomas, Shelly Murray, Crystal Swauger, Shayne Couch, Bev McCarty and Jill Sines.

Students of the Month

The students of the month for February are: ninth grade, Jenny Dailey; 10th grade, Mary Ann Faidley; 11th grade, Paul Everly; and 12th grade, Dave Brandes.

Physical Education Tournaments

In badminton, the singles champion was Rich Kinzey, and second place went to Marla Brenneman. In doubles, the winners were Richard Sines and Greg Lytle. Second place went to Karen Sisler and Becky Thomas.

In ping pong, the singles champion was Bryant McKee. Tom McCarty received second place and Connie Butler, third place. In doubles, first place went to Brian Warnick and Jeff Eggleston. Dennis Hetrick and Bryant McKee won second place, and third place went to Kris Speicher and Christine Rounds.

In golf, the singles champion was Randall Beitzel. The doubles champion were Randall Beitzel and Jeff Sheffield. Randy Kamp and Jeff Gillum received second place, and Kevin Sines and Steve Baker won third place.

Gas Works Assembly

There was a Gas Works Assembly today, March 22, for physics, chemistry and earth science classes. It was entitled "Gas Works: Pipeline to the Future," and was developed by Oak Ridge Associated Universities. The goal of this assembly is to give students information on natural gas, such as its uses in our economy, how it is formed, and how it is transmitted.

Foreign Language Week

The French class is celebrating Foreign Language Week this week. They are sponsoring a Proverb Contest, which is when students translate a French phrase into English, and the person whose name is picked will receive a prize.

Also, the students who wanted to, could buy a French Chocolate Kiss for someone special for only five cents. The kisses would be put into the person's locker with a message.

Garrett BPW Offers Scholarship

The Garrett County Business and Professional Women's Club will accept applications through April 1 for the summer or fall educational sessions. That announcement was made Wednesday by Mildred Wucik, scholarship chairman.

Applications are available by calling Miss Wucik at 826-8668 during the day, or 826-8434 at home. Her mailing address is Route 2, Accident.

Applications are also available from Barbara Flinn, 309 Oakland Drive, Oakland, who may be reached at 334-3452 at work, or 334-3228 at home.

To be eligible, an applicant must be a female over 30 years of age enrolled in any type of program—vocational, technical, or academic. She may be working toward certificate completion or toward a degree.

Amount of the scholarship is $300.

FRANK RECEIVES AWARD — Colonel Jack D. Koch, commander of the 167th TAG, West Virginia Army National Guard, right, presented the Air Force Meritorious Service Award to Major Paul S. Frank, Jr., in recent ceremonies. Frank is a former resident of Accident.

Frank Honored By West Virginia National Guard

Major Paul S. Frank, Jr., formerly of Accident and now residing in Brunswick, was recently awarded the Air Force Meritorious Service Medal in ceremonies held at the 167th Tactical Airlift Group, West Virginia Air National Guard in Martinsburg.

The award was presented by Colonel Jack D. Koch, Commander of the 167th TAG.

Major Frank served as the Disaster Preparedness Officer for the 167th from August 1, 1976 through April 30, 1983, and was responsible for building a disaster preparedness program that is regarded as "highly effective and outstanding." He created a disaster response force and personally trained each member, a task which resulted in many 14-hour workdays.

During Major Frank's tenure, the Department of Defense directed increased emphasis and training in chemical warfare defense. He developed new series of training programs for both aircrews and support personnel. The guard noted Frank's "sound management and ability to identify and correct problems" as two reasons for the program's success.

Among Frank's accomplishments was the production of a Forest Management Guidance package that is presently utilized at all Air Force installations having this particular type program. This publication furnishes specific guidance on forest product sales and forest management service contracts that have been needed throughout the Air Force.

Frank is presently a teacher in the field of earth science at Brunswick Middle School. He previously taught in the Garrett County public schools.

January Students Of The Month Named At NHS

Northern High School has announced its January Students of the Month. These students were selected on the basis of their scholastic achievements, citizenship, and the enthusiasm they exhibit toward school.

The January student of the senior class is Brad Yoder, who resides near Grantsville with his parents, Olen and Viola Yoder. He is a member of the varsity basketball team, the senior class activity committee, and the Cherry Glade Youth Group. He plans to attend the University of Maryland in Baltimore County and major in either biology or biochemistry.

Kim Buckel, daughter of Joseph and Linda Buckel, Bittinger, is the 11th grade Student of the Month. She is a member of the Viking, Girl's Varsity Club, softball team and the chorus. She is also an honor roll student, president of 4-H club, treasurer of her youth group and she attends the Emmanuel Lutheran Church. She plans to attend college and major in teaching or some other field in which she can help people.

The sophomore student is Jodi Rush, daughter of Mack and Judy Rush, Hoyes. She is an honor roll student, a member of the computer club and the Bear Creek Church of the Brethren where she participates in both the choir and quartet in addition to serving as the secretary of her youth group. She hopes to major in computers in college.

Emily Otto, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Otto, Bear Creek, is the freshman Student of the Month. She is a member of the Color Guard and Aerobics Club. She attends St. Peter's Church, enjoys swimming and would like to have a career with the airlines.

National Peanut Council Display Viewed At GCC

The National Peanut Council, Washington, D.C., provided display materials at Garrett Community College highlighting March as National Peanut Month.

The display included posters, nutritional brochures, and unique recipe suggestions using peanut butter and peanuts.

According to Carole Ann Lovett of the Public Information Office, "The edible part of the display was the most popular. A generous sampling of salted and unsalted peanuts in-the-shell was donated by the Farmers Market, Oakland."

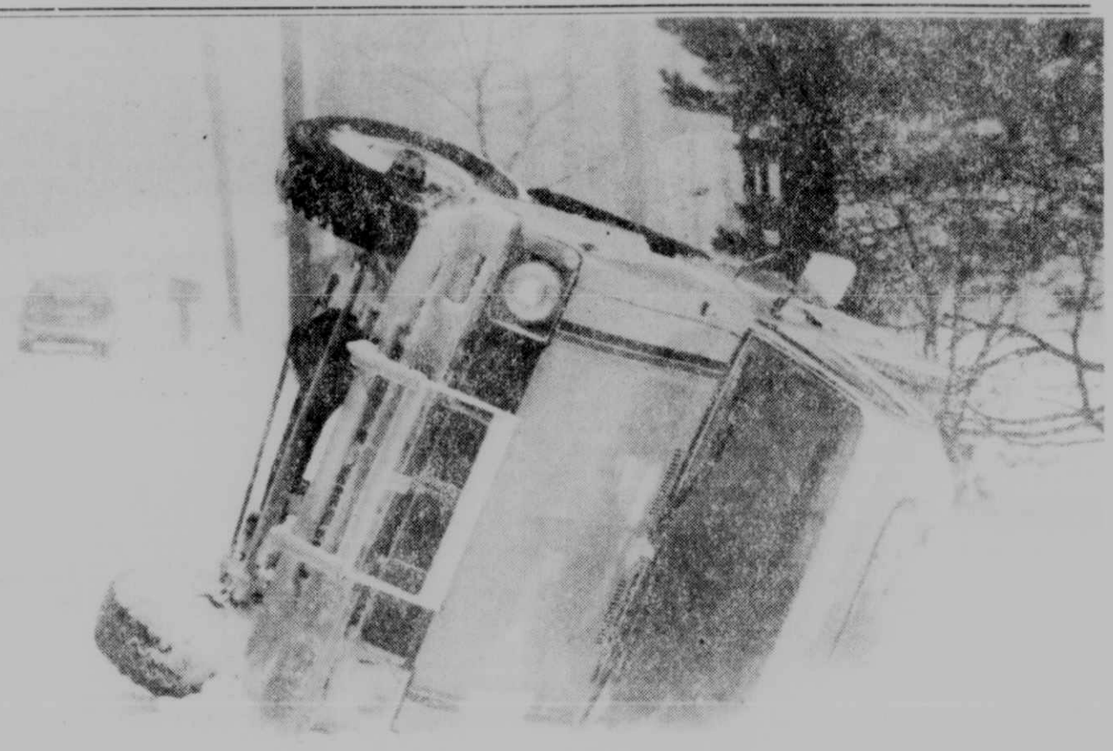
No Tainted Girl Scout Cookies Reported Here

No incidents of foreign objects found in Girl Scout cookies have been reported in Garrett County nor in the Southwestern Pennsylvania Council, to which this county belongs, report county and council sales directors.

Beth Koch, sales director of the southwestern Council, said that the officals at the Girl Scout National Headquarters in New York are still viewing reports of foreign objects in the cookies in St. Louis, Maine and San Francisco as isolated incidents, but advised persons who buy the cookies to check for signs of tampering.



Reports of the cookie tampering began in the last two weeks when four people in St. Louis found in their cookies a sewing needle, small fragments of glass, a paper clip and a granular substance that turned out to be plastic.

But, officials in the Southwestern Pennsylvania—which includes counties in Southwestern Pennsylvania as well as Preston and Monogalia counties in West Virginia and Garertt County—believe there are no tainted cookies in this council. "We are sure our cookies are all right," said Ms. Koch.

Koch also said the reports have not yet affected cookie sales in this council. Cookie sales will continue until April 11.

UPSY DAISY — Warming conditions on roadways, with ice hidden beneath thick blankets of snow, brought grief to many area drivers in the past week. Slicker than-ever highways this morning in particular made this a familiar scene as vehicles left the highways for a sojourn in ditches. The above pickup resting on its side could be said typical of the attitude of many residents who are feeling the need of a little "rest" from winter hardships. No serious accidents were reported by Maryland State Police this morning, although many disgruntled drivers had to face towing bills and vehicle damage after a split-second slip on the ice.

Power Outage Slated For Friday In Crellin Area

A scheduled interruption of electrical service to the Crellin area is planned this Friday, March 30, by Potomac Edison Company to complete maintenance work.

The outage will be from 12:30 to 4 p.m., according to Jerry Kremer, area line superintendent for Potomac Edison. In case of rain, the outage will be held April 2 from 2:30 to 5:30 p.m.

Work scheduled includes replacing conductors at the Youghiogheny River crossing at Crellin for better reliability.

Areas to be affected include Route 39 West of the Old Crellin Road and Route 39 intersection, roads adjoining Route 39 to the West Virginia line; Hutton and the Hutton end of Fingerboard Road. Approximately 200 customers will be involved.

AFSCME Files Roads Grievance

The local chapter of the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees filed a grievance March 6 contesting the Commissioners' February 14 decision to eliminate the requirement that two men travel in county road trucks at all times.

Under the Commissioners' recent ruling, the supervisor in charge makes the decision as to whether one or two men are needed in each vehicle on a given day, based on weather conditions. According to county personnel director, Paul Shockey, the commissioners felt that there are many times when a second man in each truck is unnecessary and needlessly expensive.

Harold Fox, AFSCME representative, stated that the union's position is that the ruling raises significant health and safety issues, presenting safety risks to both workers and the public.

According to Fox, interpretation of when two workers are needed is highly subjective. He also pointed out that no other county in the state has such a ruling, and pointed to Garrett County's severe weather conditions as the worst in the state.

Fox stated that the union definitely plans to proceed with the grievance process, and expects the issue to be placed under arbitration.

The measure passed by a two to one margin, with Commissioners Gregg and Groves in favor, and Commissioner Braskey opposed.

School Board Slot To Be Filled By Commissioners

The Board of County Commissioners will fill the vacancy on the Garrett County Board of Education created by a lack of filed candidates for the School Board, the Assistant Attorney General of Maryland, Jack Schwartz revealed in a letter received by county officials last week.

Only one candidate filed with the Board of Supervisors of Elections for the two board positions which will be vacated this year. Anna Mary Fratz and Clarence Stem are the board members whose terms expire this year.

Schwartz commented on the possibility of a write-in campaign to fill the vacancies, stating that such a campaign could

Roads Employee Files Grievance, Is Reinstated

A county roads employee has been reinstated in his job as truck driver following a review of the circumstances of his suspension, according to Paul Shockey, county personnel officer.

Bryan Sines, Accident, was suspended for 30 days for allegedly exercising irresponsibility and gross negligence in leaving a county roads truck that had broken down in a manner that risked the safety of the vehicle and the public. He left the truck without placing safety flares and equipment as required by the roads department. The truck was struck by a car during the night. There were no flares or similar safety equipment in the truck, according to Shockey.

Sines was suspended from his job before a hearing took place. The roadworkers' union, the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees, filed a grievance with the county. After reviewing the circumstances of the suspension, Shockey determined that Sines' right to defend himself had been denied, and recommended that he be reinstated in his job.

Accused Confesses To Hit-And-Run Auto Accident

A 19-year-old man has confessed to a hit-and-run accident that occurred March 9, seriously injuring a 21 year-old Oakland man.

According to Oakland Police Chief Hobart Shillingburg, a written confession has been obtained from Bruce Lawrence McDonald, formerly of Terra Alta, W. Va., who now resides in the Highview Apartments, Oakland.

According to police reports, the incident occurred on that date at approximately 8 p.m. on Ninth Street, in Oakland.

The victim, Mark Allen Gallagher, was found lying along the road with his head on the pavement. Authorities determined that the victim was struck by McDonald's vehicle, flipped up onto the hood and then the cab of the Ford pickup before becoming airborne for some 15 to 20 feet.

McDonald is currently being held in the Garrett County Jail.

Gallagher was taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital and transported by the State Police Medevac crew to Memorial Hospital's Shock-trauma unit in Cumberland. He has since been released from the facility.

Rescue Squads Request County Financial Aid

Representatives of the Northern and Southern Garrett County Rescue Squads presented a request for $10,000 per squad to the Board of County Commissioners Tuesday.

The rescue squad representatives explained that the squads are dependent on community support for operational expenses. They acknowledged the assistance the commissioners have provided through the county's central alarm system and in obtaining federal and state grants, but pointed out that all other ambulance services in Western Maryland receive direct financial support from their county governments.

Ambulance costs have more than doubled in the past ten years, and the state no longer provides funding for ambulance purchases to local rescue squads, according to rescue personnel. Ambulances have an average life of three years.

According to squad representatives, the Northern Rescue Squad has one ambulance out of service, and lacks the funds to replace it, resulting in only one ambulance to serve the 275 square mile area encompassing the Acident, Friendsville and McHenry areas.

The commisstioners agreed to consider the squads' request,

GCC Cuts Four Positions For '85

Four Garrett Community College employees were notified yesterday that their contracts will not be renewed for the upcoming funding year which begins July 1.

According to Randall Harman, president of GCC, the college will save about $60,000 by eliminating the four positions.

Harman said the positions which have been eliminated are the coordinator of community planning and public relations, director of the computer center, coordinator of vocational education tutorial services and the coordinator of institutional research.

Although the GCC Board of Trustees has agreed with the action, Harman said the Board will not formally approve the elimination of the positions until it approves the 1985 budget. Because of this, he declined to name the persons who held the four positions.

The affected employees were notified by letter Tuesday that their contracts will not be renewed.

Thayer Instructs Jurors, Commends County Schools

Grand and Petit jurors for the March, 1984, term were recently named by a spokesman at the Garrett County Circuit Court and a Garrett County first was observed when Judge Fred A. Thayer combined the two for instruction in Circuit Court proceedings held Tuesday.

In addition to his usual charge, Judge Thayer shared with the group of 47 men and women his concern "about a general lack of understanding of our Court system by the public."

His honor stated that he believes "responsibility for the more basic concepts of the Court system is, in part, a function of the public schools."

With that in mind, Judge Thayer indicated he had been in contact with Garrett County Board of Education authorities Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, Robert Rodeheaver and Charlene Evans-Thomas to determine what was contained in the local curriculum on the subject of local government and the local Court system.

He says he received an "immediate response" from Dr. Ryscavage. The curriculum outline and class materials, which are presently in use in both the elementary and secondary levels of the schools, were shared with Judge Thayer.

After observing the material available to Garrett County stu-

More Chloride Contamination Discovered East Of Grantsville

Possible additional contamination of water supplies by sodium chloride in an area about two miles east of Grantsville along Route 40 has been reported to the county health department in the past few weeks, and tests are underway to determine if salt runoff from Route 48 is the culprit.

According to Edgar Harman, director of the environmental health division of the health department, water from three wells shows high concentrations of salt, while another half-dozen water sources are presently being tested to see how far contamination has spread.

Natural water contains about 100 parts of sodium chloride per million parts water. Water from Martin Tressler's well showed 965 parts chloride per million while samples from Daniel Klotz' water supply showed 430 parts per million and from Homer Glotfelty's well, 870 parts per million.

EPA suggests drinking water not exceed 250 parts per million.

The health department is awaiting the results of further tests to pinpoint the source. As Harman said Wednesday, "Quite frankly, we suspect Route 48 because of a deep cut behind the Klotz property. It is possible salt runoff is coming through that cut and introducing contaminants into the ground water."

The State Highway Administration has been notified of the three latest cases but has not begun its investigation process, which includes water and soil core drilling samples. The local health department does not yet have reports from the state lab on the latest samples taken by health employees, which include the three above and samples from a half dozen other wells nearby.

Tresslers have drilled another well on their property to attempt to obtain drinking water. Klotz has installed a conditioner and hauls water.

Report Completed

The SHA has recently completed a report tabulating results of chloride investigations last fall in the region of the Keyser Ridge SHA salt storage facility. Three water supplies in that vicinity showed high concentrations of chloride last fall and it has been determined that the salt was coming from the SHA storage area.

Wells and a spring used for water by the Reichenbecher family, Carrie Miller, Alma Kamp and the Trading Post showed salt contents about five times the recommended levels for drinking and were about half the concentration of ocean water.

As a result, the SHA has now developed a project to alleviate the situation by eliminating seepage of salt into the surrounding environment, according to Wallace Beaulieu, district engineer for SHA.

Beaulieu said the administration's efforts to eliminate contamination will include construction contracts this summer to reline ditches and build up the dome of the salt storage area to make certain there will be no more contamination. "We feel certain this will take care of it," he said in connection with the problems last fall, but had no statement concerning the recent reports until more

Engineer Reports Costs For Changes In Bridge Project

The cost of the reconstruction of the Glendale Bridge, a project scheduled to begin in the spring of 1985, could increase by $325,000 if the Garrett County Commissioners decide to raise it to allow a 16-foot clearance above the water, the engineer for the project said last week.

Jim Duffy, Duffy, Montgomery & Associates, at a meeting Thursday, March 22, presented break down of costs to raise the bridge as requested by State Highway Administration officials who are planning to begin replacement of the U.S. 219 bridge over Deep Creek Lake in 1985 and desire that both bridges have a uniform clearance over the water.

The meeting Thursday was attended by the county commissioners, county roads department staff, Duffy, SHA officials and Gary Yoder, Deep Creek Lake manager, who discussed the possible change in the design of the bridge and possible ways of financing it.

Earlier this month, the commissioners asked Duffy to investigate the costs of raising the bridge from the current plan for

Cablentertainment Seeking Input On Proposed Changes

The possibilities of adding two channels, dropping two and a rate increase of $2 monthly for Cablentertainment were discussed at a public hearing for the Oakland area last Thursday evening. Some three citizens attended to present their feelings on the proposals.

William Randles, vice president of Cablentertainment, and Bob Harper, regional manager, showed excerpts from the channels which may be added, including ESPN, 24-hour sports; Nickelodeon, top-quality children's programming; PTL, religious program, CNN, 24-hour news; and MTV, 24-hour music station.

Opinion cards so cable users can indicate their preferences will be included with the next month's bills, according to cable officials.

Two channels will be deleted if two are to be added. These would be either WJAC channel 6 or WDTV, channel 5; and WPXI channel 11 or WTRF channel 7.

The $2 increase would bring the basic monthly charge to $10, according to Delores Moyer, employee at the Oakland Cablentertainment office.

Another Hearing Scheduled

A public hearing for cable users in the Mt. Lake Park-Loch Lynn areas will be held this Thursday, March 29, at 7 p.m. in the Mt. Lake Park town hall.

The three attending last Thursday's meeting were Eric Tribbey, Kevin Lilier and councilman-elect Francis Seifert.

SURVEY FOR FEUD — Members of the Junior Woman's Civic Club were busy on Saturday conducting a survey of local shoppers to obtain responses to a number of questions that will be used in the second annual Community Feud, slated for this Saturday, March 31, at Southern High School. The competition, which is patterned after the television game show, Family Feud, will involve eight teams representing various local organizations, all vying for cash prizes which will then be donated to a charity or service organization of their choice. The fun is set to begin at 7 p.m. and the public is invited to attend.

WINTERFEST ROYALTY — Cathy Hanes, Accident, was crowned Queen of Winterfest XI Friday evening to kick off the events of the annual celebration, sponsored by the Deep Creek Lake Lions Club. Placing the crown atop Miss Hanes was Kim Habel, the 1983 Queen, and presenting flowers was Paul Miller, president of the Lions Club. At left are G. William Baker, former district governor of the Lions, who served as master of ceremonies for the event, and Greg Rodeheaver, Miss Hanes' escort. The ceremony took place at the Will O' the Wisp, Deep Creek Lake.

Governor Seeks Federal Aid To Complete Freeway

Governor Harry Hughes urged Congress Monday to approve a $319.5 million budget for the Appalachian Regional Commission, including funds to help complete the National Freeway in Western Maryland.

He said completion of the 16-mile segment of the freeway, old U.S. 40 east of Cumberland, would "boost the entire economy" of Appalachian Maryland. He added that, by linking it with key highways in Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania, the project would bring the entire central part of the nation closer to Baltimore and other ports and markets in the East.

"Leaving it uncompleted is almost unthinkable," the Maryland Governor said in testimony prepared for a budget hearing before the House Appropriations Subcommittee on Energy and Water Development. Hughes is states' co-chairman of the Appalachian Regional Commission.

The $109 million sought by the National Freeway project is part of a $234 million budget request for the Appalachian Development Highway System. It would place another 40 miles of highway under construction, bring to 1,990 miles the total completed or under construction in the 13-state region under the commission program. Another 210 miles are available for right-of-way work.

Hughes said the $109 million requested for completion of the National Freeway would not provide full funding. "We will have to find other ways to finance the rest of the total cost of $175 million to $200 million."

Besides the highway funding, the budget requests include $78 million for area development; $64 million for a jobs and private-investment program including preparation of 100 sites for businesses and industries providing 20 to 500 jobs each; $15 million for a distressed counties program; $8 million for a health program, and $4 million for support of administrative activities in 69 local development districts of the region.

The subcommittee is chaired by Rep. Tom Bevill (D-Ala.).

Jobless Rates In State, County Rise In January

Above average seasonal layoffs caused Maryland's estimated unemployment rate to increase to 6.8 percent in January 1984 according to statistics released by the Maryland Department of Employment and Training (DET).

At the same time, the unemployment rate for December 1983, previously recorded at 6.2 percent, was revised down to 5.7 percent as a result of a new 1983 benchmark as determined by the U.S. Department of Labor (DOL).

Garrett County's jobless rate also climbed significantly, from 15.7 in December to 18.4 percent in January. However, the current figure is still well below the January 1983 unemployment rate of 25.0 percent.

The most recent statistics also indicate, however, that in spite of the increase, the January state unemployment rate is the lowest for any January since 1980 and significantly lower than the 9.0 percent recorded in January 1983.

Prior to this January's increase, the state rate had been stable from October to December. From January to December 1983, the unemployment rate fell by a total of 3.3 percentage points.

In Garrett County, an estimated 10,122 persons were employed in January, a decrease of 155 from December, and 2,287 persons were unemployed, an increase of 376. The total labor force in the county for January was estimated to be 12,409 persons, compared to 12,188 in December.

Local Physicians Recognized On Doctors' Day

The physicians of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital Medical Staff will each be offered a red carnation on Friday, as part of the hospital's observance of Doctors' Day, March 30.

Since the first Doctors' Day was initiated by the Barrow County (Ga.) Women's Auxiliary in 1933, many communities throughout the nation have adopted this date to honor local physicians. March 30 was chosen because that was the day in 1842 that Crawford W. Long, M.D., of Jefferson, Ga., performed the first painless surgery by utilizing ether.

Medical training of physicians takes at least eight years after graduation from high school, and may require an additional 2-7 years for those who want to specialize. Basic education is the same for all physicians, regardless of later specialization. Generally, the minimum entrance requirement for medical and osteopathic schools is three years of college, but most students have bachelor's degrees. In addition, every premedical student must take a preadmissions test, MCAAP, given under the sponsorship of the Association of American Medical Colleges. Medical and osteopathic school programs are three-four years in length. College and medical school costs approximately $60,000 to complete.

Instead of internship, most MD graduates now go into speciality training, known as a residency, which can last from three to seven years. Internal medicine, for instance, requires three years, general surgery five years, while specialization in child neurology requires five-six years to complete.

The cost of a physician to set up a new practice, including leasing of office space, purchase of equipment and staffing, is $100,000 to $150,000. The average physician works 60-80 hours a week in his practice plus may work additional hours in the hospital emergency room or on other community health projects.

The active medical staff at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital includes: four board certified radiologists; two pathologists board certified in clinical and anatomical pathology; a physician board certified in internal medicine; a physician board certified in preventive medicine; and 14 family practitioners and general practitioners, seven of whom are board certified and two of whom are board eligible in family practice. The active surgical staff at the hospital consists of three surgeons, who are all board certified in general surgery, and two of whom are vascular surgeons. The consulting medical and surgical staff includes a psychiatrist, an orthopedic surgeon, and a thoracic and cardiovascular surgeon, all board certified.

Kitzmiller Declines Tax Differential

Commissioners John Braskey and Elwood Groves attended Monday evening's meeting of the Kitzmiller town council to discuss a tax differential.

At the conclusion of the explanations about the tax differential, which would grant the municipality a tax break for the services it provides, the mayor and council agreed unanimously that a differential is not necessary.

No incorporated town in this county will seek such a differential this year.

The town has been petitioned by William R. and Katherine L. Paugh to incorporate their property into the town limits, and town attorney John Toston has been asked to look into the possibilities and procedures before a decision is made. Discussion on the matter is expected to continue at the next council meeting, according to town clerk Diane Paugh.

Wendell Keaton, municipal coordinator, reminded the town officials that bids for construction of the town's water system will be opened April 2, at 2 p.m. At that time, the town will know if funding is sufficient to complete the project.

Mayor James Barrick and council members Kenneth Knotts, Daniel Paugh, Frank Reel, and Ben Sims were present. The next meeting will be April 23, at 7 p.m., in the town hall on Center Street.

Full Membership Of County Housing Group Will Meet

Persons wishing to join the Garrett County Habitat for Humanity, an ecumenical housing ministry dedicated to improving living conditions of low-income people, will have that opportunity Tuesday, April 3, at a general membership meeting to be held at 7:30 p.m. in MC 360 at the Garrett Community College McHenry campus.

The local Habitat group, part of an international group, hopes to raise $100,000 to build three to four new homes this year for low-income families.

"Substandard housing is a significant social probelm in this county," said Sister Catherine Arata, one of the group's organizers. "The 1980 census revealed that 15 percent of county citizens live below the poverty level. Forty-six percent of those people are without complete bathrooms, while 31 percent do not have complete kitchen facilities and 48 percent do not have approved septic systems.

No government money is used in Habitat projects, Arata noted. Money for the groups work comes from gifts and donations and provides the capital for construction of the house. The labor is volunteer and recipients of the house are involved in the construction and are expected to pay back the loan through a no-interest mortgage payment.

This is the first general membership meeting since the group became incorporated in December, but the Board of Directors has been meeting on a monthly basis.

The meeting will involve reports from the Board and chairpersons of the family selection, fund raising, publicity, work camp and building committees. The meeting will also provide an opportunity for idea sharing, discussion and involvement of the general membership.

SHS Students Perform Well In National Test

Southern High School juniors fared well in the preliminary scholastic aptitude test, a nationally-normed test which prepares students desiring to enter college for the scholastic aptitude test taken in their senior year.

Les McDaniel, SHS guidance counselor, said last week that the 52 juniors who took the test, which represents about 25 percent of the academic students at Southern, as a group scored better than the national average on a significant number of questions.

McDaniel drew his information from a report prepared by the company which supplies the tests. A similar report was not available for Northern High School students, because the company only prepares the report for schools where 50 or more juniors take the test, explained Jim Thomas, a NHS guidance counselor. Twenty-four juniors at Northern took the PSAT this year.

The test is not required for college entrance, but must be taken by juniors who wish to enter the National Merit contest, a scholarship program.

McDaniel said that the SHS juniors averaged a 490 score in the verbal portion of the test and a 510 in the math section. Both scores are higher than the national SAT averages for this year's seniors of 470 in verbal and 490 in math.

In 16 areas of the test, including verbal and math sections, the students averaged scores of 10 percent above the national average. On seven questions in the verbal section and 10 in math, the students averaged 15 percent or more above the national average.

The NHS juniors who took the test averaged scores of 420 in the verbal and 450 in the math.

Thomas said those scores were down from the 1982 juniors who scored 460 in verbal and 520 in math, but he noted more of the students who took the test this year have not been enrolled in the academic program and did not have the same educational background as the group taking the test last year.

Sheriff's Office Investigates Cases Of Theft, Damage

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department received complaints this week of a breaking and entering and theft and also of a destruction of property.

Earle Palmer Brown, Cabin John, reported to authorities on Saturday that someone had entered his home on I Street in Mt. Lake Park and taken numerous items.

Entry was gained to the home by way of the basement sometime between February 12 and March 23.

Items taken included a Homelite chain saw, a stereo tape deck unit, a variety of tools and a tool box. Loss was estimated at over $700.00.

Deputy L.E. Gnegy is in charge of the investigation.

A destruction of property was reported on Tuesday by Earl Glass who reported that someone had destroyed his mailbox post which was located on the Zeddock Miller Road at the edge of his driveway. Total loss was set at $50.00.

Deputy Gnegy is also in charge of that investigation.

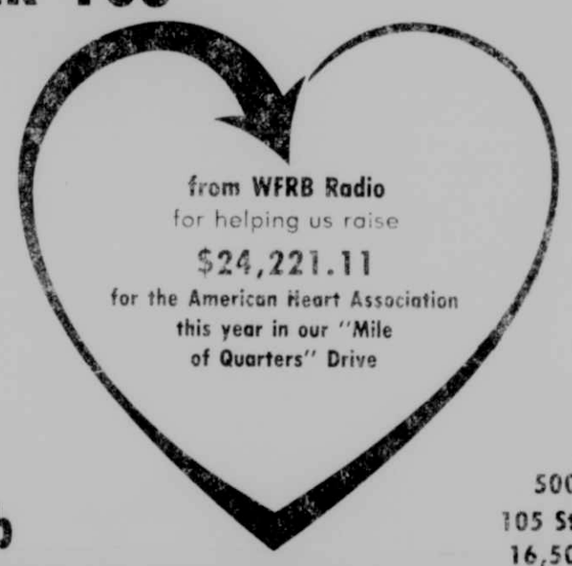
Walthall Elected President Of Promotion Board

The Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion council board of directors recently elected officers for 1984.

Elected to serve were: Edwin Walthall, Alpine Village, president; Ben Ridder, First United National Bank & Trust, vice-president; Randy Rodeheaver, Rodeheaver & Associates; treasurer; and Cindy Kutchman, executive director of the Promotion Council, secretary.

The board of directors consists of 14 persons elected from the membership of the Promotion Council and one representative from the Garrett County Commissioners. The Promotion Council membership numbers are 187 members this year which is the largest ever.

Other board members include Wendell Beitzel, Point View Inn; Judy Devlin, Book Mark'et; George Evans, Garrett National Bank; Dennis Glotfelty, Double G Ranch; Evelyn Heise, Will O' the Wisp; Tom Janes, Burnett, Eiswert, Crawford & Janes; Patty Manown, Village Inn; Rob Michael, State Farm Insurance; Margaret Oliverio, Douglas Spaulding Real Estate; Bill Sisler, Bill's Marine Service; Karen Spiker, A & A Realty; and Ernie Gregg as the representative for the commissioners. Jerry Thayer from Garrettland Realty will serve as alternate in the event that any member cannot serve his full term.



John Denver's real name is Henry John Deutschendor, Jr.

FREE INCOME TAX ASSISTANCE

Free income tax assistance in the Garrett County area is available to individuals who cannot afford professional tax help, particularly those who file short forms and qualify for the Earned Income Credit. Assistance is also provided to low income elderly, handicapped and non-English speaking individuals.

Taxpayers with relatively simple tax returns can obtain help in preparing basic tax forms through the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) program.

VITA assistance will be offered February 1 through April 15, 1984, Garrett County's VITA Site No. 60, John H. Spencer, Coordinator, Route 5, Box 150, Oakland, Maryland, from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Taxpayers can also receive information on tax benefits, such as the child care credit, credit for the elderly and others; by calling 387-6156.

Persons seeking help should bring documents such as W-2 forms, interest and dividend statements and copies of their 1982 federal and state tax returns.

Commissioners Declare April 2-8 Hospital Admitting Personnel Week

In conjunction with the national observance of Hospital Admitting Personnel Week, the Garrett County commissioners are shown above signing a proclamation declaring April 2-8 as Hospital Admitting Personnel Week in Garrett County. Pictured left to right, standing are Doris M. Genco, admitting officer at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, and representing the admitting clerks at the hospital are Arthelia V. Dixon, Kathy M. Swartzentruber, and Bernadine Tasker.

The admitting department at the hospital will hold an open house on Friday, April 6, from 1 to 4 p.m., and all interested persons are invited to come tour the facility and learn more about the functions of the department.

The admitting staff at GCMH consists of 12 workers who last year handled over 3,200 admissions and approximately 14,000 outpatient visits. "Hospital admissions has come of age as a science and an art," according to a hospital spokesman. "Today it entails a working fund of professional skills in such areas as management, communication systems, computer science, human personality and the dynamics of interpersonal relations, economics, current hospital policy and procedure, administrative organization and interdepartmental relations, and public relations and advertising. Hospital admitting personnel must meet the patient at the door, to provide him with an introduction and an orientation to the sometimes scary and unfamiliar world of the modern hospital, to provide a suitable room at the hospital, and to give the message that the needs of the patient are looked upon as a sacred trust."

The admitting staff at GCMH includes: Doris M. Genco, admitting officer; Lesley N. Williams, assistant admitting officer; Arthelia V. Dixon and Josephine M. Wolf, senior admitting clerks; Doris L. Baker, switchboard operator; and Kathy M. Swartzentruber, Dottie L. Ball, Patti A. Tasker, Bette L. Rhodes, Cathy A. Paugh, Bernadine Tasker, Diana Ashby, and Deborah H. O'Donnell, admitting clerks.

DAFFODILS BRING SPRING CHEER and also netted over $2,100 for the American Cancer Society from local businesses and professional people during Daffodil Days in this county. Chairman Dr. Jim Jones gave plenty of credit this morning to his assistants, including his wife Tracy, Susie Draper, Beth Anne Earley, and Jean Sweitzer. They canvassed businesses to solicit donations and then provided the 10,000 flowers for the businesses to give to patrons. Some businesses chose to have their flowers delivered to the local hospital and to the nursing homes. Above, Garrett County Memorial Hospital administrator Larry Beck and Director of Nursing Charlotte Bock present a flower to new mother Roberta Manning. The Cancer Society will soon be holding its annual door to door residential canvass, according to Dr. Jones. Nancy Barr is chairman of this segment of the fund drive.

Eighth Rabies Case Confirmed

Health officials have tabulated the eighth confirmed rabies case for the county this year after a test on a raccoon from the Tasker's Corners area proved the animal had the disease.

According to Rodney Glotfelty, rabies prevention coordinator for the health department, the animal was discovered by Larry Hardesty March 21 on his property, at the intersection of Combination and Potomac Camp Roads, approximately 4 miles off Route 560. The raccoon approached two dogs owned by Hardesty and began fighting with the dogs, so Hardesty shot and killed it.

Rabies was confirmed on March 23.

There was apparently no human contact in this incident and both dogs had been vaccinated. The dogs have been revaccinated and will now need to be kept tied for three months to see if signs of the disease develop.

Heads of several animals, including three raccoons, a skunk, a cow and an opossum, were sent to the lab in Baltimore this week for tests, although Glotfelty said no confirmations had been received as yet.

Auto Mishap Injures Local Mother, Child

A Deer Park woman and her two-year-old son were taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital Thursday afternoon after being involved in a one-car mishap along Memorial Drive.

Maryland State Police reported that Patsy L. Reckart, 22, and her son Kenneth, Jr., were injured when their car hit a slick spot in the road and ran off the roadside into a culvert.

The Southern Rescue Squad transported the two to the medical facility where they were treated and released.

Garrett Central Alarm also dispatched the Oakland firemen as well as state police to the scene.

Verne Leininger Given Scholarship By Bridgewater

Verne E. Leininger, a senior at Southern High School, has been named to receive a $16,000 President's Merit Scholarship awarded by Bridgewater College.

Dr. Wayne F. Geisert, president of the private liberal arts college, has announced that Leininger was selected following competition held on campus.

Leininger, the son of Verne H. and Phyllis E. Leininger, Deer Park, plans to enter Bridgewater in the fall and major in mathematics and computer science.

Students from five states competed for the three President's Merit Scholarships and for the President's Scholarships which are being awarded by the college. Each President's Scholar will receive a $10,000 scholarship.

The President's Merit Scholarship is the largest ever awarded by the college and the first for which on-campus competition has been held.

Scholarship recipitents were determined on the basis of written projects completed prior to the competition, their individual academic records, essays composed while on campus, and individual interviews with faculty members and administrators.

Bridgewater, located in the Shenandoah Valley, is Virginia's first co-educational college. The four-year college, founded in 1880, is affiliated with the Church of the Brethren.

Oakland Woman Found Guilty Of Food Theft

An Oakland woman was found guilty of the January 30 theft of foodstuffs from the Southern High School in Mt. Lake Park.

The charge against Anita Gail Stroebel, 44, was heard during Garrett County District Court proceedings held March 20 by Judge Jack Turney. A pre-sentence investigation was orded by Judge Turney.

A Mt. Lake Park man was found guilty of breaking and entering the office of W. Dwight Stover, Oakland.

Judge Jack Turney fined David Theodore Friend, 35, $25 plus court costs. He is to observe one-year of unsupervised probation and was given an 89-day suspended sentence.

The charge stemmed from an incident which occurred on January 29, when Friend broke into the office and allegedly assaulted two men who were engaged in office maintenance. The charge of assault against Friend was declared nolle prosque.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered by Judge Turney for David E. Liller, 23, Oakland, who was found guilty of disorderly conduct. According to court reports, the incident occurred in Rosedale on February 1, 1984.

Steve Alan Hardesty, 21, Deer Park, was found guilty of the January 27 theft of a six-pack of beer from Browning's Foodland in Mt. Lake Park. A presentence investigation was ordered.

Kathy Sue Chapman, 25, Kitzmiller, was found not guilty of malicious destruction of property. The charge stemmed from an incident which occurred on December 9, 1983, involving the car window of Haven D. Chapman, Jr., Kitzmiller.

Rodney Horchler, 35, Grantsville, was found not guilty of trespassing on the property of Curtis Savage, Grantsville. The alleged incident occurred on January 26.

March Leaving Like A Lion

March apparently has an overwhelming desire to go out like a lion as snow and sleet continue to pelt the area. High temperature of the past week was 56, noted Saturday, and the overnight low for the week was Friday night, when the mercury dropped to 14 degrees.

An additional 10½ inches of snow fell during the past seven days.

High last Thursday was 38 and the .36 of an inch of precipitation was recorded as 3½ inches of snow. High Friday was 39 after the night's drop to 24. The .12 of an inch of precip fell as one-half inch of snow, according to Weber's weather station near Oakland.

Saturday night's low was a moderate 34 degrees and high Sunday under mostly overcast skies was 51. Some .05 of an inch of precipitation was recorded between Saturday night and Sunday at 5 p.m.

Sunday night's low was 31 degrees, and Monday had a high of 53. By 5 p.m., an additional two inches of snow had fallen.

The overnight low was 28 degrees and an additional .03 of an inch of precip was recorded Tuesday, which had a high of 52. Low Tuesday night was 33, and high Wednesday was only 44. Some .75 of an inch of precipitation was noted Wednesday.

Last night's low was 28 degrees and the .78 of an inch of precip which began shortly before 11 p.m., amounted to 4½ inches of snow.

Oakland OES Chapter Meets

The regular meeting of the Order of the Eastern Star, Oakland, Chapter #67, was held Tuesday, March 20. Worthy Matron Denise Shrout's opening thought was "What Will You Do, With This Year That's So New?"

Elizabeth Mullenex, Deputy Grand Lecturer, was greeted in the West. Also greeted were one visitor, Deanna Parsons, the officers, and 15 members in attendance.

After conducting the regular order of business, an obligation ceremony was given by the Worthy Matron and her officers. She thanked Wilda Hile and her refreshment committee. The closing thought was "After the Winter God Sends the Spring."

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, April 3, at which time signs and passes will be reviewed.

TROPICAL WORLD, a deluxe shop offering all types of gold and tropical fish and other small pets, opened its doors in January at the Bottling Plant in Oakland, and so far business has been better than expected, according to owner Barbara Visniski, pictured above with some of her wares. Barbara and her husband, Rich, operate the store six days a week and offer advice on special problems in addition to cages and aquariums, live birds of all types, gerbils, mice, etc. Food and supplements, toys and pet needs of all types line the various shelves not filled with cages and fish tanks.

Drivers Ed Granted Stay

We are pleased that the Maryland State Senate voted on Monday to continue the state's subsidy for school driver education programs. The 23-20 approval of the measure reversed the Senate's earlier decision to cut the funding in July of this year. Unfortunately, the driver education funding is slated to expire in 1986 anyway, so this move only delayed its termination.

We are of the opinion that the $4 million spent annually for the program is money well-spent. In today's world, driving is easier classified as a necessity, rather than a luxury. If the state does not continue to cover the cost of driver training, there will be a large percentage of youth who will not receive any training because they will not be able to afford it. The law says that these persons must then wait until they are 18 before they can apply for a license.

At 18, however, they still will not have had training and, even though they may be able to pass the test for a license, they could still possibly be a danger behind the wheel because of this lack of complete training. We believe that a 16-year-old driver with training is, in most cases, going to be a safer driver than an 18-year-old driver without training.

We agree with Senator Jerome F. Connell, Sr., D-Anne Arundel, who said that the state has a responsibility to ensure that motorists drive safely in Maryland. "We say drive carefully, obey all the rules, don't drink, but we're not going to train you because the state won't fund it," he stated.

If a few cents per taxpayer per year will ensure safer driving in Maryland, and thus the saving of lives, which we believe driver education is accomplishing, then the funding for the program should not be terminated now or in 1986. Surely there are far less important, more expensive programs that could be reduced or eliminated.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

As president of the Maryland Classified Employees Association (MCEA), the largest independent public employee labor organization in Maryland, I am dismayed by the recent passage by the Legislature of House Bill 991, "Pensions - Benefits and Contributions."

It is a shame when legislators have to be encouraged to vote for a bill, not on the basis of its merits but, in essence, by being "politically blackmailed" into voting that way.

Some legislators voted against the Bill because they studied the actuaries' reports and realized there is no problem. Some legislators voted for the Bill because they were afraid of losing bridges, leadership positions and individual projects for their counties.

It is sad when legislators that we elected do not feel obligated to honor a contract of employment for State employees and teachers.

Even though we feel bad about the outcome, we can feel good about the fact that we did not resort to "political blackmail," threats and promises like many of the elected officials did in order to get people to vote on their side.

If I were not a public employee but only a citizen of Maryland, I would be concerned as to whether or not my elected representatives were going to sell me out at any given point because somebody was going to give them something more than I could afford.

MCEA has never witnessed a situation where the Senate, this early in the Session, passed a bill the same afternoon as it was voted out by the House of Delegates. This action effectively denied members of the public an opportunity to contact their Senators to make their feelings known.

This is certainly not an example of the democratic process. A matter of fact, this is as close to dictatorship and totalitarianism that I ever want to get.

Sincerely,
Betty Lea Duncan
MCEA President

To the Editor:

I would like to comment in regard to a letter written to the Editor about five or six weeks ago concerning the manner in which state employment is handled.

About four weeks ago a job at the Garrett County Health Department was posted in your paper. There were 44 persons who applied for this position. I found out from reliable source that this position had been filled before it was ever posted. Meanwhile, 44 letters were mailed, after about three weeks of waiting, to these people telling them someone else got the job. I call this a waste of state money on postage when they already knew it was taken when they interviewed these 44 people.

Do you call this equal opportunity? Why do they bother posting it if it's already filled, let alone disappointing 44 people hoping to get a job?

Thank you.

To the Editor:

This area has been relatively free of cults up to this time, and not many of our children have been lured away because of them. However, a young student found the following letter in her locker at Northern High School, and I would like to suggest that every parent in the area explain the lure and dangers of becoming involved with a cult. It is hoped that every area priest and preacher will warn of this danger from the pulpit so that we can stop this before it gets started! The letter follows:

"We at the Walbu Hiji have voted on who will represent us in northern Garrett County. It has come to five people, and you are one of them. We hope you are taking us seriously.

"The Walbu Hiji is not a cult. It's a new religious order that was formed in Bakersfield, California. We believe that when Jesus Christ comes back to earth, he will come to the United States. But before He will do so, there will have to be total serenity on this planet. This is our goal at the Walbu Hiji and we are desperately in need of a representative in northern Garrett County. We will contact you in a few days on your decision. Please!! Don't let us down. Bless you."

To the Editor:

Delegate Edwards introduced House Bill 1738, 24 days after the House deadline. It was sent to the Economic Matters Committee on March 21. The next day, the committee voted a favorable report. No time was given for testimony from opponents or county officials. Delegate Edwards stated publicly he would not introduce this bill without approval of the majority of the county commissioners, which he did not have.

This bill is Delegate Edwards' campaign promise to the Licensed Beverage Association as an alternative to the 10% surcharge paid by the licensees to the county. The tax revenue is approximately $171,000.00 annually. It will increase in future years, like the beer tax of 2¢ per bottle that now returns about $135,000.00 annually. Repeal of this tax might be next.

HB 1738 repeals the 10% surcharge paid by the licensees and replaces it with a licensing fee that ranges from $2,000.00 to $5,000.00. This license structure will fall short of the present revenue received and will limit the expected revenue increase of the future.

Garrett County's liquor and beer tax is envied by every county in the state and Baltimore City as a revenue source. We must protect it at all costs.

I appeal to the Garrett County taxpayers to oppose this loss of county revenue and express their opposition to the campaign promise of Delegate Edwards, promise that will only benefit the Licensed Beverage Association and do a disservice to the county government and the county taxpayers.

Call Senator Bambacus (1-800-492-7122) or write him.

Don't Hesitate! The session ends April 9. Delegate Edwards' game plan is not to allow you, the taxpayer, enough time to oppose this change in the law. Why else would he have introduced the bill so late in the session? You, the taxpayer will be the loser!

Sincerely,
DeCorsey E. Bolden

To the Editor:

Win or lose, Jesse Jackson and America's blacks still win! For instance, are you paying attention to how the Maryland Democratic Central Committee have adopted certain rule changes in Delegate selection?

While I do not agree with many of Mr. Jackson's positions or ideology (however, I must first determine what his ideology is—it would help if he were to become more specific), oh well, I've always liked a "glib politician," I do applaud his courage and success so far.

Having been raised in the south, in fact, on the boundaries of "Liberty City," Miami, Florida, countless occasions I have witnessed the refusal by bus drivers to continue their drive until the blacks moved to the rear of the bus. How many fountains have I walked up to, one marked "black" and the other marked, "for whites only?"

Well, here we have Mr. Jackson ripping the fountains from the walls, telling the bus driver that "we will sit wherever we damn well please, so keep on truckin."

You see, he doesn't have to get elected President to win; he is already winning!

The Democrats have given nothing more to the blacks and other minorities but higher levels of shackles. The Republicans, seeing it hopeless to regain their support, offer only lip service.

Regardless of how many Democrat voters there are and no matter how many blacks vs. whites, it just might be that one man will determine who gets the Democrat nomination. Thus, that same man may decide who wins in November. How about that America, one black male could be the factor in this year's election!

So, Mr. Jackson, I don't have to agree with all of your perceived positions on the issues to like and respect you. As I have said before, go for it, Jesse!

Very truly yours,
R. Dan Ritchie
Member, Maryland State Republican Central Committee,
22nd Legislative District

Lutheran Braille Worker Center To Be Dedicated

The Dedication Service for the Lutheran Braille Worker Center No. 173 will be held this Sunday, April 1 at 3 p.m. at the Zion Lutheran Church, Accident. The speaker for the service will be Rev. Paul Kreyling, executive director of Missions, Eastern District of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, Buffalo, N.Y.

This Lutheran Braille Worker Center, to be located in the Zion Lutheran Church Parish House, will soon be producing the Gospel in braille free of charge for the blind in over 100 countries. Over 65 volunteers from the Accident-Friendsville area churches have begun to receive training toward that goal. A fund drive during the fall of 1983 provided the monies to procure the necessary equipment.

The public is invited to attend the Dedication Service this Sunday. A social hour and refreshments wil follow the service.

The Inter-Lutheran Fellowship of the Accident-Friendsville area and the Aid Association for Lutherans are the sponsors of this endeavor.

Commissioners Hear Ryscavage On School Issues

Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, superintendent of Garrett County Schools, informed the commissioners Tuesday that the schools need to make up eight snow days, as well as January 2, when school was originally scheduled to resume after Christmas break.

Today's school closings due to snow will add an additional snow day to the number that must be made up. The Board of Education will consider several options as to how the days will be made up at their April meeting.

At Tuesday's county staff meeting, Ryscavage also informed the commissioners that the school board has contracted with Mattingly Construction for track work scheduled for this spring behind Southern High School. He stated that work will begin as soon as the ground has dried sufficiently.

He also stated the specifications for a double tennis court and multi-purpose court at Southern are completed, and the project will be opened for bids shortly.

Ryscavage requested a letter from the commissioners to the Interagency Committee for Public School Construction to facilitate funding of the renovation project at Northern High School. The renovation project includes additional classrooms for the vocational education program, as well as general improvement of the school's facilities.

The question of a possible conflict of interest for GCC trustee, William Goldsborough should he be elected to the Board of Education was discussed. The commissioners stated that it is their understanding that the state will not rule on the question and that resolution of the question is a local matter.

When contacted for clarification, Fred Sanders, county election supervisor, stated that the county election board has no objection to Goldsborough serving on both boards, and that the college would decide if there was a problem from their point of view.

Mayors Request County Aid For Circuit Rider

A delegation from the Garrett County Mayors' Association met with the Board of County Commissioners Tuesday to request $5,000 in funding assistance for the municipal coordinator, or circuit rider, position which gives town governments technical assistance in areas such as budget preparation, grant applicatons, liaison activities with government agencies, and legislative matters.

Funding for the position has come from various sources since its inception in 1979, according to Wendell Keaton, municipal coordinator. The Appalachian Regional Commission, through the Tri-County Council, provided the bulk of funding through 1982, with assistance from town governments. In 1982, funds for ARC were cut and the state provided $18,400 to the program, in addition to $4,500 from the county, and continued assistance from the towns.

Last year, the county did not provide direct financial support, but continued assisted with in-kind services such as office space.

This year, the state will reduce their contribution from $18,400 to $13,400, resulting in a $5,000 shortage in funds.

The commissioners requested that the Mayors' Association submit their proposed budget for consideration before reaching a decision.

The municipal coordinator's office receives funding from, and work with, all county incorporated towns except Loch Lynn.

Mayors from Grantsville, Deer Park, and Kitzmiller attended the meeting with the commissioners.

dents. Judge Thayer stated he believes the local schools are fulfilling their responsibility to students in making them understand that segment of their government.

In conclusion, Thayer said, "It would be improper if I did not commend the local school system publicly for their efforts in this category of basic education."

Of all the shows on television, the one which I refuse to miss is "Dynasty." Call it trash, call it a nighttime soap opera, call it what you will, but "Dynasty" is addicting.

A friend made the mistake of watching "Dynasty" with me last week. As she had never seen the show, she asked me to identify the characters and bring her up to date on the story line.

"Who is that?" she asked as the incomparable Joan Collins appeared on the screen.

"That," I began, "is the cunning Alexis, who is the ex-wife of Blake Carrington who owns the oil company. Alexis married his business rival and she inherited the company which is Blake's principal competition, Colbyco."

"Where's her new husband?" she asked innocently.

"Oh, he died of a heart attack, but his nephew, Jeff, married Alexis' and Blake's only daughter, Fallon. There's Fallon," I pointed. "She is having recurring dizzy spells after being beaten by her former lover, Peter Devilbliss, after it was discovered that Devilbliss masterminded the kidnapping of Allegre."

"And Allegre is Fallon's daughter?" my friend asked.

"No, Allegre is a fabulous race horse which is owned by Devilbliss and Krystal, Blake's new wife. Fallon has a son by Jeff, but she divorced him and he married Kirby who is the daughter of Blake's major domo, Joseph, who killed himself after he set fire to a mountain cabin while Krystal and Alexis were in there. He was trying to kill Alexis, but they were saved by Mark the tennis pro who was Fallon's and Alexis' lover and used to work for Fallon at 'La Mirage', but now he works for Alexis as her personal bodyguard - but really he's spying on her for a former congressman. Anyway, Kirby was raped by Adam which resulted in a pregnancy and she had a miscarriage but Adam wants to merry her after her divorce from Jeff is final and now it looks like Fallon and Jeff are in love again and Krystal is pregnant again as well, which is endangering her life . . you see, she miscarried two seasons ago when she was horseback riding and Alexis fired a shotgun on purpose and spooked the horse."

". . . which is Allegre?" my friend winced.

"No, Allegre wasn't around then."

"Who's that?"

"That's Steven, the good son who used to be a pouf until Blake killed his 'friend', Ted Dinard, by accident and Steven married Krystal's niece, Bobby Jo, who is now a model in New York and is persona non grata after she abandoned their baby. Now Steven is married to Claudia whose husband, Matthew, and daughter, Lindsay, were killed in South America, except Matthew is still calling Claudia on the phone and sending her violets which will probably send her back to the mental institution."

"Who is that?"

"That is Adam, the evil son who is getting nicer. He was kidnapped as a baby and came back last year and tried to kill Jeff by painting his office with a lethal lead-based paint."

She sat there massaging her temples and in a tiny whisper, asked, "And who is that?"

"Ah - that is Dex Dexter, Alexis' new romantic interest and business partner who also serves on Denver Carrington's board of directors. We are made to think that it is he who is sending Claudia the violets and signing 'Lancelot' to the cards."

"Who is Lancelot?" she wept.

"Lancelot was a famous medieval knight and a member of King Arthur's Round Table . . . AND YOU ARE NOT MAKING ANY ATTEMPT AT UNDERSTANDING THIS," I bellowed as she slammed the front door on her way out.

I've learned my lesson. This week I'm going to watch "Dynasty" all by myself and I won't have to share the popcorn either.

Grievance

Harold Fox, area representative for AFSCME, stated that the union and Sines will confer when the union receives official notification of the county's decision.

Shockey emphasized that Sines' reinstatement did not absolve him of all wrongdoing, but that his right to defend himself had been violated, necessitating his reinstatement. He added that it is the responsibility of roads supervisors to provide the equipment needed to prevent negligent behavior on the part of roads employees.

Previous to the filing of the grievance, road trucks were not checked daily for the presence of safety equipment as part of the daily checklist inspection which roads equipment is required to undergo before it goes out.

The trucks were recently checked for missing safety equipment, which includes flares, reflectors, and fire extinguishers, and missing equipment was provided for each vehicle. A safety equipment check has been added to the daily checklist to prevent future recurrences.

Bridge Project

an eight-foot clearance to a 12 or 16-foot clearance.

Duffy had presented a change in design for the bridge from a two-span to a three-span bridge with a humpback shape to allow the 16-foot clearance at the center of the bridge.

The commissioners said the new bridge would have to be built alongside the old bridge if the clearance were changed which might mean a need for right-of-way agreements with area landowners and would mean some extra costs not included in construction estimates.

Apparently federal officials have said that if the county raises the bridge, it could receive some federal assistance, but that aid would be from an advancement in bridge repair funds from a succeeding year's allocation rather than an increase in money for the county. The commissioners explained this would mean the county will have to spend more local money on bridge repairs in the future.

The engineer's estimates for the cost of replacing the bridge with the originally planned eight-foot clearance is $1,025,000. To raise the clearance to 12 feet would cost approximately $2,325,000, while a clearance of 16 feet would cost approximately $2,375,000.

The commissioners said they have not yet decided whether they will change the planned clearance and noted they still have many questions which have to be answered before they make a decision.

Contamination

information is available.

The SHA engineer said that a well has been drilled for the Reichenbechers, and some well work completed at the Kamp property. The SHA is still providing drinking water for Mrs. Kamp.

Beaulieu pointed out that contamination is a problem here from time to time by virtue of the county's reliance on wells and springs, and the long winters which require use of salt to keep roads passable. Over the last two years, he said the department has switched to a combination of 50 percent salt, 50 percent sand to treat the roads, although the concentrations vary depending on the individual storms. "Our prime criteria is to make roads safe for the traveling public, and I think we're accomplishing that," Beaulieu noted.

April 9 Last Day For Voter Registration

The Board of Supervisors of Elections for Garrett County reminds Maryland voters that April 9 is the final date to register to vote before the May primary election.

Only voters who affiliate with a political party are permitted to vote in a primary election, although all registered voters can participate in a general election.

Any person who will be aged 18 by November 6 may register and vote in the primary election. Maryland has no residency requirement other than requiring a permanent residence to be established in the county.

The local election office is located on the lower level of the Garrett County Courthouse.

Garrett County Red Cross Chapter Announces Instructor Certifications

Four Garrett County residents have been certified as instructors, instructor trainers, or specialists in a variety of Red Cross programs including cardio-pulminary resuscitation, water safety, nursing and health services, and lifeguarding.

Garrett County has been allocated only one specialist or instructor trainer per instructional area. To obtain instructional certification the applicants attended training programs, and met the standards of the national headquarters of the American Red Cross. They have been authorized to teach by the Pittsburgh-Allegheny County Red Cross.

Paula Briggs, McHenry, received certification as a Water Safety Instructor Trainer. She has served as the Red Cross Water Safety Instructor Chairman for the past five years, and set up the present Garrett County Learn To Swim program for children and adults.

Sara F. Donley, Oakland, recently completed instructor specialist training in the area of Nursing and Health Services. She is qualified to train instructor candidates in nursing and health services, to teach health education for Red Cross chapters, and to assist local chapters in managing community health education programs.

Michelle Hesen, Oakland, recently completed the Lifeguard Training program at the University of Pittsburgh. The Lifeguard Training program goes beyond standard Advanced Lifesaving to meet the safety needs of pools and inland waters. Hesen will be conducting lifeguard training programs this summer for those who have already passed their Advanced Lifesaving certification.

David Bardsley, Friendsville, was recently certified to train individuals in CPR. Bardsley obtained certification to teach advanced first aid in emergency care and standard first aid and personal safety about two years ago.

Hesen acknowledged the work of the many Red Cross certified residents of Garrett County and for their "outstanding community service for the Red Cross."

Bloomington Lake Is Offering More Tourist Attractions

Fishing and the new picnic sites are expected to be the bid draws for people at Bloomington Lake this year, according to N. Russell Newman, reservoir manager.

The lake is expected to reach its recreational pool elevation of 1,466 feet on April 8, and at that time Howell Run boat launch will be open for public use. The boat launch has been in use for the past two years.

On the first weekend in May, Howell Run Picnic area will open for the first time. Facilities completed late last summer include 25 sites with cooking grills and two picnic shelters which can accommodate 25 to 30 people each. There is no charge or reservation required for use of the shelters, which are open on a first come, first serve basis.

Near the picnic sites is a playground for children, comfort facilities and ample parking.

Also opening the first weekend in May will be the Robert W. Craig Campground, located past the boat launch and picnic area. There are 90 sites, each with a grill, parking pad, tent space, lantern post, and picnic table. There is a post hydrant for water for every 15 sites and there are hot and cold showers in a central building. The complex has two central toilet facilities as well.

Although there are no individual hookups for water and sewerage, there is a central dumping facility.

Camping will be free until the 20th of May, and from May 21 through September 6, campsite fees are $5 per night. A ranger will patrol daily to collect fees. After September 6, camping will again be free until the beginning of October.

The staff of nine, which includes a resident manager, four maintenance personnel, a secretary, and patrol rangers, has begun logging wildlife sightings in the vicinity.

The lake staff is especially proud, Newman noted, of the fish population. Water quality remains high and the bass stocked last year appear to be flourishing. Although West Virginia has not included the impoundment on its regular stocking scheduled this year, Maryland's Department of Natural Resources plans to stock walleye fry.

Last year West Virginia stocked largemouth bass, black crappie, channel cat and northern pike. Maryland stocked 12,850 smallmouth bass, and numerous other large bass apparently came downriver from the Vepco Mt. Storm impoundment.

Some trout has also been stocked.

The local Bassmasters group is planning a tournament on Bloomington Lake April 8, and another tournament later in the summer.

Bloomington Lake scenic overlook from the Maryland side may be reached by taking either Walnut Bottom or Chestnut Grove Roads off Route 135. However, there is no access to camping, picnic sites or the lake from this side.

To reach West Virginia's scenic overlooks and the lake facilities, turn off Maryland Route 135 onto Route 38. In West Virginia, the road turns into Route 42, and those wishing to reach the lake should turn left onto Route 46 at Elk Garden. The lake is approximately five miles from Elk Garden. The property is owned and maintained by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, which completed construction in 1981. The lake has 13.6 miles of shoreline.

Community Concert Offering Scheduled

The next offering of the Tri-State Community Concert Association, set for Monday, April 9, at Fort Hill High School, will be the Czechoslovak Folk Ballet, Lucnica - pronounced "lootch-nitsa" and translatable as "beautiful meadow."

The group, formed over 50 years ago, was designed for the purpose of preserving the folk songs and dances.

In the past 15 years, under the direction of Stefan Nosal, Lucnica has received international recognition. Their gold medals include that of the Brussels World Fair and they have made two previous tours of the United States.

The dancers are backed by a chamber orchestra and a choir.

Susan Fedde To Attend O'Brian Youth Foundation

Susan Fedde will represent Southern High School at the Maryland Hugh O'Brian Youth Foundation to be held March 29 through April 1 at the Baltimore International Hotel at the BWI airport.

The seminar for high school sophomores will reward leadership potential; encourage and assist students in their quest for self-identification and self-development; introduces them to recognized leaders of today through informal discussions on a variety of current subjects; and present exposure exploration of the American Incentive System and the democratic process.

Susan is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. William Fedde, Oakland. She has attended the Maryland Gifted and Talented Programs two summers, was in the casts of the Garrett County Choral Society's "Fiddler on the Roof" and "Oliver"; has substituted as a Sunday School teacher at the St. Mark's Lutheran Church; donated time to work at the Rotary French Fry Booth at the County Fair and volunteered time at the House of Hope.

She is enrolled in the honors program at Southern High School and is an honor roll student.

During the State seminar a boy and girl will be selected to represent Maryland at the International Leadership Seminar to be held in Boston this August.

BIRTHS

Three boys and one girl were born this week at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, according to a hospital spokesman.

A daughter was born March 22 to Kenneth L. and LaDonna Rae Upole Butler, Deer Park.

A son was born March 23 to Richard M. and Patricia Ann Smalley Spencer, Gormania, W.Va.

A son was born March 24 to Bradley A. and Lenora Jean Martin Reams, Oakland.

A son was born March 25 to Mark Allen and Barbara Elaine Snyder Furman, McHenry.

Admissions were listed at 71 with 63 discharges. This morning's census shows 61 patients.

A daughter was born March 25 in Monongalia General Hospital in Morgantown, W.Va., to Gerald Franklin and Jonna Kay Shaffer Sanders, Terra Alta, W.Va., Mrs. Sanders is formerly of Crellin.

A son was born March 27 in Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Howe, Grantsville.

Dateline: Annapolis

Gov. Harry Hughes presented a budget supplement Monday that incorporates legislative revenue-raising programs in place of raising taxes.

The budget addition calls for transferring $25 million from the Transportation Trust Fund to the state's general treasury and for the state to withhold $5 million in tobacco tax revenue now shared with local governments, a part that is still opposed in the legislature.

The Senate has trimmed nearly $50 million from the budget while the House Appropriations Committee has recommended about $20 million in cuts.

The package also calls for a $21 million transfer from the state's parkland acquisition program; $6 million transfer of gas tax revenue, and $7.1 million in increased revenue estimates for next year.

House, Senate Agree On $60 Million In Increased School Aid

The Senate voted overwhelmingly Tuesday to approve a $60.1 million increase in aid to education for next year but will also require future legislative approval for almost half the amount of the Civiletti five-year school aid plan.

However, the House is expected to quickly reject that requirement, setting the stage for difficult negotiations over the bill.

Final Senate vote on the bill was 43-2.

As amended by the Senate, the bill does not guarantee $616 million in automatic school aid over five years, as recommended by a state commission led by former U.S. Attorney General Benjamin Civiletti.

The Senate version virtually freezes that amount for use next year. For the following three years, school aid would rise by only five percent annually to a maximum of $323.4 million by 1989 and this increase would have to be approved each year by the General Assembly.

The Civiletti plan would boost new funding to $86.7 million for fiscal 1986 and go up gradually to $191.5 million for 1989, the version favored by the House.

House speaker Benjamin Cardin has made it plain delegates don't like the amendments for education added by the Senate. Cardin and Senate President Melvin Steinberg are making plans to set up a conference committee of three senators and three delegates to try to work out a compromise. Both are agreed that the program should start with a $60 million increase in state aid next year.

The House wants a formula which would automatically increase the level of aid each year to $191.5 million by 1989. Under the Senate plan the additional aid over the five years could be as little as $323.4 million if no increases were approved in the formula.

Driver Education Restored

The Senate voted 23-20 Monday to continue the state's subsidy for school driver education programs next year, reversing its earlier stand.

The General Assembly had voted last year to end the state subsidy in 1986, but Senate action to cut the $4 million from this year's budget would have meant an earlier demise.

One Senator, Laurence Levitan, Chairman of the Senate Budget and Taxation Committee, acknowledged that the effort by the Senate to kill the program would not have passed the House of Delegates, which successfully fought last year to restore funding.

HB 1738 Stirs Controversy

House Bill 1738, which would break down class D special class D liquor licenses into six categories and more than double the annual fees, has passed its second reader before the House and had its third reader yesterday.

Although introduced three weeks after the deadline, the measure was allowed by the rules committee to go before the Economic Matters committee.

The bill was introduced by Del. George Edwards after remarks made by various citizens during his campaign that the present system of a 10 percent surcharge on special class D licenses is unfair and could allow some retailers to turn in inaccurate figures in order to pay less.

Some other citizens indicated they are tired of so many licenses being issued, and Edwards felt that the much higher fees might discourage "liquor stores on every corner." Edwards is opposed to putting a limit on the number of licenses after talking with Allegany county officials, who said that this has become a political situation there.

Edwards also pointed out that a committee, with Commissioner John Braskey as chairman, was formed six months ago to investigate ways of changing the special class D setup, but that cooperation from the liquor board was lacking. At that time the commissioners requested that the administrative officer position be eliminated.

Commissioner Braskey said Wednesday that he is in support of elimination of the 10 percent surcharge and feels this bill is in step in the right direction.

Braskey verified that the commissioners had been asked in February for comments on draft legislation and that no comments had been sent to Edwards. Both Commissioners Ernie Gregg and Elwood Grooves are withholding comment until they actually see the bill, and now are refusing to make a stand until they see the four pages of amendments which have been drawn up.

Sen. John Bambacus, who was listed as a co-sponsor of the draft legislation in February, said Tuesday "If and when this bill (HB 1738) comes to the Senate I will insist on a public hearing and full airing of the issue, including a full hearing before the committee assigned to the measure."

Bambacus also said he had not seen the bill in its present form, nor the amendments.

The bill would affect 55 of the county's 85 current liquor license holders. Instead of an annual fee of $800 plus the 10 percent, an application fee of $250 will be required, and the annual fees will double, depending on the new classification for the business. Annual fees will go to $2,000, $4,000, $1,700, $3,000, $2,500, or $5,000, depending on the new classification.

Other proposed charges include that licensees may hold only one license, and removal of administrative duties to the commissioners' jurisdiction.

Although the measure could mean up to $40,000 in lost revenues, part of this could be redeemed by eliminating the liquor board clerk's salary, benefits and office space, and by paying the annual fee at the beginning of each fiscal year rather than quarterly, says Edwards and Braskey. This would mean a better financial position for the county, which could conceivably invest some of the fee monies to help recoup the loss of revenue now being generated.

All other license fees would be raised by the measure, including draft beer which would increase from $75 to $150. The bill would also require that half the fees paid by businesses in incorporated towns be paid to the towns.

The liquor surcharge had originally been 20 percent, but the amount was reduced to 10 percent at the request of DeCorsey Bolden when he was serving in the House of Delegates.

Miscellaneous Matters

The bill amending the wild and scenic rivers act in regard to the Youghiogheny River has passed the House and Senate, although at the last minute some property owners had requested the bill be withdrawn because the measure would not leave their situation improved.

Sen. Bambacus said Tuesday that he feels the bill is "workable even if it's not everything we want" and pledged to watch every move the Department of Natural Resources makes to ensure that all proper approvals and checkoffs regarding property owner rights have been obtained. He also said he will be available to any property owner to insure that the intent of the bill is carried out, and stated that Dr. Torrey Brown, DNR Secretary, has assured him that department will not be doing anything unless and until regulations are approved by the local advisory committee.

Bambacus was pleased with a 44-0 Senate vote Monday which will send $850,000 to volunteer fire companies and rescue squads across the state. Bambacus, a strong supporter of the measure which will help these groups purchase equipment, had recommended the fund last year but the matter was instead remanded to a special task force to which he was appointed. He was vocal in his pleasure over passage of the bill, and noted Garrett and Allegany counties have done well through this process.

The senator also said he feels that the county will be in good shape overall after the budget is approved by the General Assembly, with increased aid to education and community colleges having a significant impact.

Del. Edwards said that a bill he sponsored to allow more equitable division of Program Open Space monies and freeze the number of acres DNR owns in this county is moving well and he anticipates no trouble with passage.

On the Yough River bill, he said the bill passed the house with two amendments and the senate version has been voted out of the Economic Affairs committee and passed its first reader before the entire House.

He feels that if landowners still have problems, these can be addressed through legislation next year, and reiterated his belief that the bill gives more authority than outlined in the present laws. He also said DNR Secretary Brown has expressed willingness to "work with us to resolve problems."

House Speaker Cardin credited Del. Tim Finan (D, Allegany County) with the overwhelming passage Wednesday of a major Chesapeake Bay clean up and environmental protection bill.

The vote was 102-28 in favor of House Bill 970, introduced by Cardin at the request of Gov. Harry Hughes.

The governor also congratulated Finan prior to final House consideration Wednesday. The measure now goes to the Senate, where it could face considerable opposition through a filibuster.

The bill is designed to "preserve, protect and improve the water quality, natural habitats and scenic character of the Chesapeake Bay and certain tributaries and streams." A critical area committee would be appointed to oversee state planning and policy.

Certain zoning ordinances, including limits on development, would be established in cooperation with the towns and counties serving about two million people who live within the designated critical area.

Finan, during the 90-minute debate on the measure Wednesday, said at least half the state's waterways drain into the bay, and that the population around the bay is expected to double within the next 30 years.

be conducted against the filed candidate, Bill Goldsborough, but not the commissioners' appointee.

Four years ago the state legislature approved the election of school board members after a county referendum supporting the measure was passed. Previously, school board members were appointed by the governor.

Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, county superintendant of schools, expressed confidence that the commissioners will exercise their responsibility wisely in selecting the school board member. He also commented that the lack of candidates this year will hopefully create an awareness of school board election vacancies that will prevent similar problems in the future.

The new school board members will take office in January, 1985.

Pre-Measurement Suggested Before Planting Crops

Before planting spring crops that may be covered by acreage reduction programs in 1984, Olin S. Davis, Jr., chairman of the Maryland State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, suggests that farmers obtain pre-measurement of their acreages.

To remain eligible for price support loans, target prices and other program benefits, farm program participants must report actual planted acreages. "One gamble that a producer should never take is the loss of program benefits because of failure to comply with acreage requirements," Davis said.

He said pre-measurement is important in helping farmers plan which land to devote to the acreage conservation reserve and which fields to plant.

Before crop planting time, ASCS will stake and measure any type of acreage, or portions thereof, that a farmer requests. To be assured that program requirements are met, producers must plant within the stakes that are planted when the land is pre-measured. After planting, they are required to report their crop acreages to ASCS.

"We will accept pre-measurement service requests until the final reporting date, which is June 1 for small grains and July 15 for spring seeded crops. The service costs $20.00 plus 40¢ per acre and includes measuring, referencing and marking fields with stakes prior to planting. Acres pre-measured by ASCS are guaranteed for the program year.

Other producer services include measuring total cropland, field or subdivisions to be planted and land area for other purposes. Fees vary, depending on the type of service rendered.

In order to fulfill requests on a timely basis, Davis says farmers should apply early.

Beef Cattle Management Tips

Now is the time to shop for insecticide ear tags for fly control. Fly tags impregnated with a formulation of synthetic pyrethroids do a good job controlling horn flies and a very adequate job controlling face flies. Several are on the market which have the potential to do a good job of fly control if properly utilized on your cattle. Shop now so you have them ready to go in the cattle's ear in May.

Most replacement heifers will be bred in April, May or June for late winter and spring calves. Heifers need to be calfhood vaccinated for Brucellosis before 13 months of age. Replacement heifers also should be vaccinated prior to breeding season for IBR, PI3, BVP, 5 strains of leto and vibriofetus. It is recommended to deworm the heifers with one of the recommended materials.

Grass tetany season is here. Cows with small calves should be getting a daily supplement with magnesium. Use a commercial high magnesium mineral mix or use a homemade one that includes salt, magnesium oxide, dicalcium phosphate, and something palatable like ground corn or soybean meal on an equal parts by weight basis. Keep magnesium before cows through May at least.

Baby beef calves need to be identified with ear tags along with their mother if she has not been identified. Bull calves for steers need to be castrated, the earlier, the better. Most people like to give calves a shot of Vitamin A, D, and E, and in lot areas also Selenium. An esophageal feeder is the best method to get electrolyte material to be mixed with warm water for treating dehydrated calves. Never put milk down them. Get fluids and electrolytes and you will be surprised how quickly the calf will go back to nursing.

Now is the time to soil test pastures and hay fields for recommendations of fertilizers and lime according to soil tests. Get soil bags and sheets from your local Extension Office.

Local Woman Involved In Police Chase

A 32-year-old Mt. Lake Park woman was charged with driving while intoxicated and fleeing a police officer after a chase Saturday night which involved the Luke Police Department, the Maryland State Police and the Garrett County Sheriff's Department.

The chase began on the Savage River Road at the primitive camping site when Captain Ray Guy of the Luke Police attempted to pull Wanda Cheryl O'Brien over for erratic driving.

According to police reports, O'Brien fled the scene as the officer left his patrol car and approached her on foot.

She was then pursued through the Dry Run Area, eventually turning onto the New Germany Road where a roadblock had been set up by Tfc. L.R. Rosage and Assistant Chief Deputy Paul Pratt.

The report continued with O'Brien then attempting to elude authorities by turning off her headlights and hiding in a private driveway.

She was then apprehended and taken to the Garrett County Jail where she was charged with improper passing, DWI, fleeing or evading a uniformed police officer, reckless driving, turning off lights to avoid identification and refusing to sign a citation.

O'Brien was incarcerated in the jail facility overnight and released the following day.

CRIME SOLVERS

Call 334-3111

Reward $100-$1000

This week Crime Solvers and the Garrett County Sheriff's Department are seeking information concerning an armed robbery which occurred at the Starlite Restaurant in Oakland on March 18, 1984, at approximately 6:35.

According to Criminal Investigator Harland Tichnell, a lone white male entered the restaurant, went over to the coffee counter and paid for a cup of coffee to go. The subject then raised his sweatshirt and displayed the butt of a handgun tucked in his pants and stated, "give me all your money and go to the back room." After receiving approximately $1,000, the subject fled through the front door on foot.

The subject is described as follows: white male, approximately 25 years in age, six feet, 1 inch tall, 200 pounds; he has brown shoulder length hair, unshaven for approximately two weeks. He was wearing mirrored sunglasses, a camuoflaged hunting cap, a blue pullover hooded sweatshirt jacket and faded blue jeans with dark colored belt and low cut white tennis shoes.

All leads in this case have been exhausted and Crime Solvers are seeking the help of the public. A reward of up to $1,000 in cash is being offered for information leading to the arrest and indictment of the person or persons responsible for this crime. Callers to Crime Solvers Hotline, 334-3111, need not identify themselves and no court appearance is ever necessary. All information will remain confidential and the caller may remain anonymous.

Crime Solvers also pays cash rewards for information leading to the capture of wanted persons in other unsolved homicides, rapes, etc.

Boal Speaks To Local DAR Group

The Youghiogheny Glades Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met on March 19 at the home of Alice Proudfoot, with 25 members present. After the opening ritual led by Pauline Parrack, Regent, and prayer by Chaplain Clara Bell Briner, Robert Boal, speaker for the evening, was introduced.

In keeping with the 350th Birthday of Maryland, Boal's address centered on the founding of Maryland and the Colonial period of its history. He illustrated his talk with a series of slides depicting scenes from the early 1600s up to the time the state capitol was moved from St. Mary's City to Annapolis. Boal's discussion elicited many litle-known facts about the state and its past.

After the program, various items of business were discussed and refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The next meeting will be held on April 16 at the home of Mary Jones, with Jim Ross presenting an educational program on "The American Indian."

HUSKY HALLS

by Shari Broom

Talent Show Winners

Marcella Yoder won first place in the talent show, which was held March 21. She played portions of Liszt's "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2" on the piano.

Second place went to Marcie Beiler and Sheila Bender. Marcie sang "For Annie," while Sheila did the song in sign language. There was a tie for the Students' Choice award. Dee Dee Seaman did a dance routine to "Beat It," while Miranda Hicks and Michelle Clutter danced to "Thriller."

Gas Works Assembly

An assembly was held first period on March 22 for all chemistry, physics and earth science classes, entitled "Gas Works, Pipeline to the Future." It was developed by Oak Ridge Associated University. The speaker gave students information on natural gas, such as how it is used in our economy, how it is formed, and how it is transmitted.

Skills Unit

Recently held in the physical education department was a "Fitness Olympics" competition. Ninth grade girls performed such skills as pull-ups, soccer dribbling, situps, jump rope, whiffle basketball, and running laps. The object was to see who could score the most points during a three-minute time period. The winning team was period 5. These students are Stacy Thomas, Shayne Couch, Beverly McCarty, Tracy Frazee and Christy Beitzel.

March of Dimes Walk

There will be an assembly on April 6 at 2:30 for the student body. Two people will be coming in to show a film on the March of Dimes walk, its purpose, and what the money will be used for. Students who are interested in helping raise money will receive registration forms, which are to be sent by April 28. They will receive sponsor sheets later.

Winners

The students who won prizes during "Foreign Language Week" were Janie Friend, Crystal Thomas, Tammy Swauger and Marylan Canan. Each of these people received a small prize.

Southern Speaks

by Criss Kepple

Foreign Language Week

Southern High School held Foreign Language Week March 18-24. German and French students made posters with French and German phrases and displayed "I Love French" and "I Love German" pins to promote Foreign Language Week. The students also made a large banner stating "Foreign Language Week" in three languages which they hung in the main lobby.

Tuesday after school students had a party featuring French and German foods. The party, which lasted from 3:30 until 5:00, was enjoyed by approximately 150 people.

Thursday was costume day. Students dressed as German Punk Rockers, Bavarian native costumes, and typical dress of German and French High School students. The weekly school lunch menu was posted in French and German. French students had a guest speaker to relate her experiences as a student at a French university. Chris Teets, who is a French student at Frostburg State College, talked to French students and related to them her experiences while living in a French colony. Mr. Leitzel also showed slides from his trip to France last year.

German students discussed a popular German rock song "Codo." The song tells about a man from outer space who wants to bring love into the world, but hate won't let him land. They also played Simon Says in order to learn the German words for the parts of the body.

Students Race

Orientation

Eighth graders from Southern Middle School are attending orientation at Southern this week in preparation of their ninth grade year. The students are being informed of general school procedures, media services, jobs programs, foreign languages, co-curricular programs, extra-curricular programs, guidance services, functional tests, and question and answer periods. The students are being given guided tours of the school by members of the National Honor Society, who also answer any questions the eighth graders may ask. It is believed that this program will better prepare students for their school years at Southern High School.

Video Showing

The Guidance office will show a video tape entitled "Taking the SAT" to interested juniors April 5, second and third period. Students must sign up in the guidance office to be included in this activity.

Poetry Reading

Honors and college prep juniors will present a poetry reading April 11 at GCC. The featured poet will be Robert Frost. Interested students should consult their English teachers for more information.

FFA To Tour

The Oakland Chapter of the FFA will take a tour of two veal farms on March 28, belonging to Lawrence Bernard and Joe Kauffman. This tour is part of a program which encourages second income ideas for dairy farmers. The FFA Horse Judging Team is preparing for their State Contest April 7.

Football Meeting

Coach Tom Woods held a meeting to promote interest in the 1984 football season March 21. Prospective players were encouraged to start independent conditioning programs to be in top shape for the upcoming season.

County Businesses Pay $3.6 Million In State Taxes

Garrett County retail businesses paid $3,586,397 in retail sales and use taxes for the Maryland fiscal year 1983, Louis L. Goldstein, state comptroller, has reported.

A report recently released by the state Retail Sales Tax Division lists taxes collected during FY 1983 and shows a breakdown for each county. It also gives a breakdown of distribution of admissions and amusement tax revenues to counties and incorporated cities and towns in the state.

Net sales and use tax revenues, the second largest source of Maryland General Fund revenue, amounted to $866,366,601 during the year, compared with $796,581,356 last year, an 8.7 percent increase, Goldstein noted.

Tax collections totaled $873,098,713, license fees amounted to $79,685 and refunds totaled $6,811,797.

Garrett County food and beverage businesses, including grocery stores and restaurants, paid $897,153, up 3.66 percent from last year. Apparel stores paid $126,485, a $43,120 increase over last year.

General merchandise stores—such as drug stores, sporting goods and toys, and jewelry stores—paid $507,268 this year, up from the FY '82 payment of $464,683.

Other retail groups in the county which showed an increase in their tax payments were furniture and appliances, $130,120, a 16.83 percent increase; building and industrial supplies, $558,909, a 3.49 increase; and utilities and transportation, $11,358, a 6.78 percent increase.

Businesses in the county which registered payments below last year were automotive dealers, $349,688, down by $30,185; hardware, machinery and equipment, $179,033, down by $18,874; and the miscellaneous group, such as bottlers, schools and colleges, membership organizations, fuel dealers, florists, and auctioneers—$711,255, down by $254,524.

The Retail Sales Tax Division also reported on its collection and distribution of admissions and amusement tax revenues for the counties and incorporated cities and towns in the state.

In its report, the division reports that counties, cities and towns received $18,668,844 in admissions and amusement tax revenue for FY 1983, a 12.9 percent increase over last year.

The tax is based on rates set by local elected officials and reflects spending of $328,097,289 on taxable entertainment during FY '83.

Garrett County received $76,157.87 in FY 1983.

Lakers Improve Record To 4-4 With Doubleheader Sweep, Split

The Garrett Community College baseball team improved its record to 4-4 this past week by sweeping a doubleheader over host Chesapeake Community College Saturday, 10-3 and 7-1, and splitting with Frederick CC on Sunday, also on the road. The Lakers were edged in the first contest, 6-5, and came back to win the nightcap, 11-6.

In the opener against Chesapeake, Laker pitcher Mark Rodeheaver took the mound in the second inning facing a bases-loaded, no-out situation and retired the side. He then completed the game for his first college win and a 1-0 record.

Tim Pavlic led the Lakers' hitting attack with three hits and a pair of RBIs. Rick Day and Allan Popa each recorded three hits and Bob Armeni rapped a two-run double.

Ted Sova extended Garrett's record of hits in consecutive at-bats to nine with safeties in each of his first two appearances at the plate. He has set the school record at seven in a row the previous weekend.

Chesapeake was limited to three hits in the first game.

Mike Matthews paced the Lakers' offensive efforts in the second game by knocking in three runs on two hits. Day collected a pair of hits and Armeni added another two-run double. John Lusko, who received relief from Tim McCoy in the fifth inning, picked up the win from the mound.

In Sunday's opener against Frederick the Lakers were on top 5-4 after Tim Bishop's two-run homer in the fifth inning. They maintained that advantage until the bottom of the seventh when Tim Mocis walked the lead-off batter, who advanced to second on a ground-out. Kocis intentionally walked the second batter and both base runners advanced on a balk by Kocis. A ground-out and fly-out then tied the score.

Frank Martinez gave the home team the win with his run-producing single in the bottom of the eighth.

The Lakers erupted for seven runs in the third inning of the nightcap and four more in the fourth to pick up their fourth win of the season in a game that was shortened to five innings because of inclement weather.

Frederick jumped out to a 3-0 lead in the second inning before the Laker bats came alive in their half of the third. Frederick than rallied in the bottom of the third with three more runs, but Garrett responded with the four-run fourth to seal the win.

Bishop accounted for three of the Lakers' nine hits, while Mike Mathews added three RBIs. Ted Sova's two hits upped his season batting average to .600. Armeni, Bob Scavina and Mike Gough all added run-producing singles.

Mark Ciarmella started on the mound for the Lakers and was relieved in the third inning by Mike Uram, who shut down the FCC attack and was given the win.

"The fact that we were confined to indoor practice the entire week and still able to come back with three wins in four games is a tribute to these young men and their efforts thus far this year," stated Laker Coach Phil Caruso.

The Lakers' home opener is scheduled for this Saturday, March 31, against Allegheny of Pittsburgh. Game time is 1 p.m.

NUMEROUS HONORS were earned by four members of the 1983-84 Garrett Community College women's basketball team, which recently completed its best season in the history of the college. Leading the team to a 13-8 record and being recognized for their efforts were, left to right, Shelley Brown, Cindy Peet, Nichelle Payne, and Susan Harper. All four were named Region XX West All-Stars by the Region XX Basketball Committee and played in the All-Star game last month at Allegheny Community College-North Campus. Brown, Payne and Harper were named to the second team of Maryland All-JUCO, the first time GCC has ever placed three players among the top ten in the conference. Payne and Harper were named to the All-JUCO Tournament Team, based on their performances in the JUCO Tournament. Harper was named to the All-Region Tournament Team for her performance at the Regional Tournament. Finally, Payne was named the number one forward in the Region, as well as a nominee for the National All-Star Forward position. Coach of the Lakers is Ann Wellham.

Southern Baseball To Open Tuesday; Rams Rebuilding After 12-6 Season

The Southern High School baseball team, after recording its best record in 12 years last season, will open its 1984 campaign on Tuesday at 4 p.m. at Keyser.

The Rams, who won 12 of 18 contests last year, lost a number of key players to graduation, so Coach Jim Bosley will be relying heavily on four returning starters as the nucleus.

Returning are Gary Hardesty, a senior right fielder; J.R. Gibson, junior, second and third base, as well as pitcher; Scott Colaw, junior, third baseman and pitcher; and Scott Stem, Junior, short stop and pitcher.

"These four need to be our leaders," Bosley stated. "We are very inexperienced at other positions. We have only three seniors on the entire squad."

Once again, the weather has been a negative factor in the Rams' training program. They have had only one outdoor practice, that being on Petersburg's field last Saturday. "With the youth of this team, we especially need good weather for practice," Bosley said.

Another major obstacle for the Rams, according to Bosley, is the difficulty of the 1984 schedule.

"It is one of the toughest in the area for a Class C team," he said.

Southern has doubleheaders scheduled with West Virginia powers: Berkeley Springs, defending state champions in West Virginia; Central Preston, an 18-5 team last season which did not lose a single player to graduation; and Tucker County, who went 21-10 last season.

"Allegany, Bruce and our arch rival, Northern, will also be good this year," Bosley concluded.

The Ram roster and schedule are as follows:

Pen-Mar League To Begin 35th Season This May

The Pen-Mar Baseball League, a semi-pro league, is beginning its 35th season this spring. This year teams will include Oakland, Mt. Savage, Westernport, Cumberland and LaVale, Md.; Hyndman, Everett, and Salisbury, Pa.; Moorefield, W.Va., and possibly Bedford, Pa.

The Oakland team is beginning its 11th year in the Pen-Mar and anyone wishing to try out for the Oakland team should contact Terry Helbig at 334-3343 or 334-4491.

The season begins May 13 and will continue through August with doubleheader games on Sundays.

Expired Trout Stamps For Sale

The Department of Natural Resources has expired 1983 Trout Stamps for sale at a reduced cost of $1.00 each.

The stamp was printed from a picture of two Brown Trout circling a lure at the bottom of a quiet stream. The painting was done by James Taylor of Baltimore.

The stamps are available to the public until April 29th, 1984 in quantities not to exceed thirty (30) stamps per individual.

After April 29th, all remaining stamps will be sold to the highest bidder.

Karate Courses Offered By GCC

The Continuing Education Division of Garrett Community College will offer Basic & Intermediate Karate beginning on Saturday, April 7. Sessions will be held each Saturday for 10 weeks at the McHenry Campus gymnasium. The basic class will meet from 8 to 10 a.m., and the intermediate class will meet from 10 a.m. to noon.

Uniforms may be purchased from the instructor. Registration is now being taken on a first-come, first-serve basis.

For more information, persons may contact the Office of Continuing Education at 334-8266.

Volleyball League Results Announced

North Garrett

There were three sweeps in North Garrett Volleyball action this past week as Mt. Top Paving topped Youmans, Jerry Bears defeated Micro Integration and DeWitts topped American HV Testing. Don't Build a Log Home . . .

UNTIL
you have questions like these answered to your satisfaction:

1. SPECIES & GRADE OF WOOD—The U. S. Forest Service recommends the use of cedar, spruce, pine, fir, and larch in that order. MOUNTAINEER LOG & SIDING COMPANY offers your choice of spruce, pine, or hemlock in your new home.
2. Does another company provide dry-kilned or pressure-treated logs at your option? Mountaineer has always used the air-drying method of seasoning logs prior to delivery at your job site; however, our facilities also permit us to offer you logs dried under controlled conditions in a special kiln and/or CCA salt treatment.
3. Does another company offer 8" wide double T & G logs or do they rely heavily on caulking and splines to try to assure you that their home will be warm in winter and cool in summer? Wood has always had the reputation as a good insulator; it makes sense that more wood between you and the outdoors provides a more energy-efficient home. Mountaineer's standard log home package uses a machined 8" wide log with a double tongue-and-groove, plus a special between-log sealant.
4. Are you dealing with a company hundreds of miles away or can you visit the plant and see how your home will be made? Mountaineer's company headquarters is located right here on Rt. 219, between Oakland and Deep Creek Lake. Our plant is in nearby West Virginia.
5. What will be your total freight and delivery cost? For all of Garrett County, Preston County, Tucker County, Mountaineer's total delivery costs are $200.00—includes delivery of trusses, logs, and component materials. Nearby Monongalia County, W.Va., and Allegany Co., Maryland, is $250. Compare that with thousands of dollars in delivery expense from long distance companies.
6. What is actually included in your log package that is advertised as a kit? Many companies advertise a kit as "complete" when it really includes only the logs or perhaps the logs and some other lumber. Mountaineer's package includes everything you need to place on top of your finished foundation to complete the exterior, plus the interior partitioning. Ask for our material specification list and compare item for item. You'll save.
7. Is custom designing available to make sure that your investment is built to suit your needs and desires? Mountaineer has a special custom design department staffed from 9-5 daily, that can meet with you by appointment to discuss your needs in detail.
8. Are you buying "logs" only or will you have the advantage of a completely engineered log design and building method? Mountaineer is continually striving and researching to develop new and better methods of machining and building to insure that your new log home is the finest possible. New machining technology developed exclusively by Mountaineer is helping to insure the very minimum of air infiltration at windows and doors and corner sections.
9. What is the track record of your company? Mountaineer's sales have doubled for each of the past three years and dealers from Michigan to Pennsylvania to Ohio to North Carolina and even to Florida are finding the Mountaineer package to be the best in quality and most competitive in pricing.
10. Does another company have available a local factory crew trained and qualified to erect your new log home? Mountaineer can provide you with a list of local building crews who are experienced and knowledgeable about the specialized techniques of working with logs. If you want to "owner-erect" or have your own contractor build your house, Mountaineer will provide you with video technical assistance as well as complete step-by-step building instruction.

SOME 45 HEALTHY LARGEMOUTH BASS were returned to Herrington Manor Lake last Thursday after a five-month stay at Manning Fish Hatchery in southern Maryland. Shown above are Ken Pavol, left, fish biologist with the Inland Programs of the Department of Natural Resources, and Don Milburn, conservation associate, as they remove the fish from the traveling tanks to place back in the lake, which is again at full pool after being drained last fall. Average weight of the largemouth bass is 3½ pounds, according to Pavol. Also placed in Herrington were 1,500 bluegills, sunfish, and shiners which spent the winter in a pond on the Oakland Country Club grounds. Another 3,500 young bass will be stocked at Herrington soon from the golf course grow-out pond. Assisting with catching the 1,500 bluegills, etc., were members of the Garrett Bassers Association.

Reagan-Bush Western Maryland Chairmen Named

The men and women selected to head the Reagan-Bush Re-election Campaign in Western Maryland were announced this week by Congresswoman Marjorie S. Holt, Maryland Reagan-Bush Chairwoman, at a regional meeting for key campaign organizers for this area at the Washington County Republican Headquarters in Hagerstown.

Garrett County campaign leaders are DeCorsey Bolden, Oakland, a former member of the House of Delegates who was also Garrett County's Reagan-Bush chairman in 1980; and William Crawford, a realtor in Swanton, who also serves as secretary of the Garrett County Republican Central Committee, and is a past president of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions Club.

The meeting's program also included presentations by the Maryland campaign's executive director, Dr. Bo Denysyk, on overall campaign strategy; deputy director, Frances Eagan, on field coordination; Jacqueline Phillips on coalition development and themes; and Carol Hirschburg on media.

Mrs. Holt said the Western Maryland regional meeting for key organizers is the fifth of seven such meetings to be held around the state during these opening weeks of the campaign.

Hutchinson To Speak At FSC Commencement

Donald F. Hutchinson, Baltimore County Executive and a graduate of Frostburg State College, will deliver the address at the college's 84th Commencement Ceremonies on Sunday, May 13, according to Dr. Nelson P. Guild, FSC president.

The college will confer some 400 degrees at the ceremonies that are scheduled to begin at 2:30 p.m. in the Physical Education Center Arena. In December, the college awarded 311 degrees to persons who completed degree requirements last summer and in December.

Hutchinson, a resident of Essex, was elected Baltimore county executive, the highest office in county government, in November 1978. At that time, he was the youngest man ever elected county executive, but yet one of the most experienced government leaders ever to assume that post.

Hutchinson is now in his second term as county executive, having been re-elected in 1982. Major accomplishments of his administration have included the delivery of expanded programs and services to senior citizens and the development of a network of educational and training programs for both the disabled and the unemployed.

Kathryn Sincell To Present Senior Recital Saturday

Kathryn Sincell, mezzo-soprano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Sincell, Mt. Lake Park, will present her senior recital this Saturday, March 31, at 8:15 p.m., in Pullen Hall Auditorium on the Frostburg State College campus.

Selections will be by Handel, Bach, Brahms, Debussy, Bellini and Bowles. Miss Sincell will be accompanied by Sharon Davis, pianist, from Keyser.

This recital is the second of two programs Miss Sincell has chosen to give in her senior year to receive her bachelor of arts degree in vocal performance.

Miss Sincell has been a member and soloist of concert choir, choral union, and opera workshops. She is also a member of St. Mark's Lutheran Church choir, Oakland; and the Garrett Choral Society, and has performed with the Garrett County Playhouse. She has received honors in the National Association of Teachers of Singing student auditions, Maryland D.C. chapter. She is currently teaching voice at Family Music and Harmony Music, LaVale.

Miss Sincell is a student of Sara Pierce, a member of the Frostburg State College faculty.

Deal-Corbell Wedding Slated

Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Deal, McHenry, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Jo Ann, to Jeffrey A. Corbell, son of Mrs. Nancy Michaels, Oakland.

Miss Deal is a graduate of Northern High School and attended Garrett Community College. She is employed by High's Dairy Store, Oakland.

Mr. Corbell attended high school in Indiana and is a graduate of Southern High School. He is employed by Classic Car Company, Oakland.

The couple will be wed at 2 p.m. on Saturday, April 14, at the McHenry United Methodist Church. Although some invitations have been sent, the families invite all friends and relatives to attend.

Oakland Rotary Hears Students

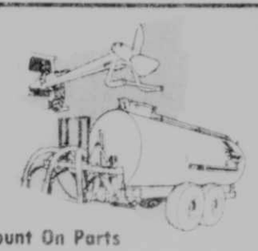
Students at Southern High School presented several programs to the Oakland Rotary Club this month as part of the club's youth activities program. The students, assisted by Joan Lambert, English and German teacher at SHS, presented programs at the weekly Rotary meetings.

At the first week's program, Gregg Flinn, a senior student in Lambert's honors English class, gave a critical analysis of author C.S. Lewis and his works.

A group of honors English students presented oral interpretations of portions of Shakespeare's works and T.S. Eliot's "Hollow Man" in German and English. Students participating were Shawn Garner, Cindy King, John Paul Marple, Margaret Oliverio, Cathie Perando, Scott Reed, and Chris Werdebaugh.

Most recently, Jeff Cooley, the editor of the school newspaper "Acorn", described how the student staff produces the newspaper on a monthly basis.



One additional program at this week's meeting will conclude the series, which was designed to further communication of the school's educational programs to the community.

DEFENDING THEIR TITLE in the annual firemen's slalom race during Winterfest at the Wisp Ski Area on Sunday were the members of the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department ski team, pictured above. Oakland recorded a combined time of 46.9 seconds to top second place finisher, Deep Creek, pictured below, by six seconds (52.9). In third place was Arlington County, Va., Fire Department, with a time of 54.5, followed by Lock Haven, Pa., VFD. Oakland VFD was awarded $250 by the Deep Creek Lions Club for their victory. Deep Creek VFD received $150 for second place, and Arlington, a paid firefighting company, donated their $100 in winnings to Deep Creek. In the photo above, from right, are Don Sincell, Mark Durst, Denny Murray, Mark Welch, and Randy Robinette. Below, led by team captain Pete Brosnihan, are Ron Doerr, Scott Doerr, Todd Doerr, and John DeWitt.

HOUDINI WOULD HAVE BEEN PROUD — Escaping from a straitjacket is difficult enough and seemingly impossible while suspended from a rafter in an upside down position. However, that was the feat presented more than once during Winterfest this past weekend by Allan Rosson, of Deep Creek Lake.

Fish Management Programs Listed

Area fish management programs are on the upswing at this time of year, indicates Ken Pavol, fish biologist with the Department of Natural Resources. Pavol listed various programs for the Youghiogheny River, Bloomington Lake and Deep Creek Lake.

In the Youghiogheny River, emphasis is on bass and trout. This past fall, Pavol and his assistant Don Milburn moved 200 adult smallmouth bass to the Upper Yough and this spring they plan to move still more fish upriver from the reservoir area.

Other smallmouth bass will be stocked in the region, Pavol noted. Trout stocking will begin April 8.

The Maryland Inland Fisheries division plans to trade West Virginia, 20,000 fingerling brown trout in exchange for one-half to three-quarters of a million striped bass hybrid fry from this state. This would help alleviate the loss of fish from former federal fish hatcheries.

Pavol hopes to set up similar trades with West Virginia on an annual basis.

Attempts to establish another game fish in Deep Creek Lake many years ago led to the introduction of walleye, which now have excellent chances of spawning. These fish were first stocked in 1969 through 1972 but never seemed to reproduce naturally, Pavol said. Since stockings began again in 1980, however, the population has begun reproducing and this past September the fish biologists saw large numbers of young.

These fish probably will not be stocked again this year. Pavol suggested that the fish stocked earlier were from the Ohio River, while recent stockings used fish from lakes, which may be better suited genetically to the lake conditions.

During April, Pavol will be working in southern Maryland.

THE PENNINGTON COTTAGE in Deer Park was the model for this doll house constructed by Dennett Road Elementary fifth grader Randy Livengood, above, and his father. Livengood made the replica as part of a project on the history of the Deer Park Hotel and its cottages undertaken by 10 fifth grade gifted and talented students at Dennett Road, under the direction of teacher Marianne Green. The studeits donned apparel worn during the days when the hotel was in its glory at a program Monday night at the Ruth Enlow Library when they presented their projects and a slide show they compiled and narrated to parents, teachers, and guests. Students participating in the project were, below, left to right, seated, Scott Hamilton, David Banks, Heather Hamilton, and Barbara Leininger; standing, Todd Fearer, Billy Mahoney, Randy Livengood, teacher Marianne Green, Stephanie Smith, Laura Bittinger, and Ginger Zimmerman.

Students Present Deer Park History Project Monday

A group of 10 fifth graders dressed to fit the time period they were portraying at a program Monday evening. Donned in late 1800 garb, the students, members of the Dennett Road Elementary School fifth grade gifted and talented class, told their guests about life during the glory days of the Deer Park Hotel and cottages.

The one-hour program, presented to over 50 parents, teachers and guests at the Ruth Enlow Library, included a slide show prepared and narrated by the students and a presentation of the students' projects.

The program was the culmination of a three-month research project made possible through a $405 grant from the Maryland Humanities Council, an affiliate of the National Endowment for the Humanities. They entitled their project, "Deer Park: Days of Glory."

As the program began, Marianne Green, the gifted and talented resource teacher who worked with the class, told of the contributions to the project by people in the community including information obtained from the Robert Garrett family and from the current owners of the remaining cottages.

In gathering information for the project, the students took field trips to the five remaining cottages, interviewed local historians and researched materials in the Ruth Enlow Library.

The students then presented their projects. There was Randy Livengood who with his father constructed a doll house size replica of the Pennington Cottage. Billy Mahoney told of the significant events for Deer Park from its founding to the razing of the hotel. David Banks explained the decline of the hotel and how it was razed for lumber and World War I materials.

Student Ginger Zimmerman discussed important people in the development of Deer Park while Todd Fearer talked about the four presidents who visited Deer Park. Stephanie Smith explained a felt map of the Deer Park Hotel grounds and Barbara Leininger presented her map of Deer Park.

A listing of the recreational activities offered at Deer Park was provided by Scott Hamilton. The final project shown the group before the slide show was a 20-page activity book, compiled by Heather Hamilton and Laura Bittinger, which will be distributed to fifth-grade students at Dennett Road during a program to be presented there.

As a part of their project, the students also set up a display in the picture window at the Ruth Enlow Library.

Also assisting in the project were Dennett Road fifth grade teachers Virginia Grove, Dwight Harvey and Debbie Hinebaugh. The costumes were provided by Joan Sussman and some parents.

North Garrett Parish To Meet

The North Garrett Cooperative Parish will meet on Sunday April 1, at 2 p.m. at Blooming Rose United Methodist Church, located on Route 42, west of Friendsville. This includes the United Methodist Churches of the Deep Creek Charge, the Friendsville Charge, and the Grantsville Charge.

The Parish includes 11 churches which are all active in Hymn Sings, which they conduct in the spring and fall of each year. The next one is scheduled for Sunday, May 6, at 7 p.m., at the Friendsville UMC, Water Street, Friendsville, at which all the 11 churches will participate.

The North Garrett Parish was selected as the Parish-of-the-Year last year, an award given yearly by the Romney United Methodist District.

AAUW SCHOLARSHIP AWARDED — Tracey L. Sweene, on the merit of her 4.0 grade point average at Garrett Community College, is the recipient of the annual spring scholarship award by the Garrett Branch of American Association of University Women. Presenting the check to Miss Sweene in the above photo is Dorothy Frame, chairman of the Education Foundation Program for AAUW, and at right is Barbara Hornyak, AAUW president. Miss Sweene, McHenry, was also awarded the fall scholarship from AAUW last year. She is a graduate of Northern High School and is a math-science transfer student at GCC. AAUW awards the scholarship to a Garrett County woman who meets requirements established by the Education Foundation Program Committee of AAUW. Application may be made through the financial aid office of GCC.

Rev. W.E. Roth To Visit Glade Mennonite Church

Willard E. Roth, director of Church Relations at Mennonite Board of Missions, will visit the Glade Mennonite Church, Accident-Bittinger Road, on Sunday, April 8, at 10:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Roth administers a six-member staff whose job is to be a liaison between front-line mission workers and Mennonite Church supporters.

Roth came to the home office after serving with MBM in Ghana, 1968-73.

A native of Iowa, he attended Hesston (Kan.) College and was graduated from the University of Iowa School of Journalism and Goshen (Ind.) Biblical Seminary.

An ordained pastor, Roth founded the Des Moines (Iowa) Mennonite Church in 1956. From 1961 to 1968, he was editor of youth publications for Mennonite Publishing House in Scottdale, Pa.

Roth is married to the former Alice Metzler, and they have two children. They are members of Southside Fellowship in Elkhart, Ind.

SHS, Baltimore Park, Similarities Discussed Thursday

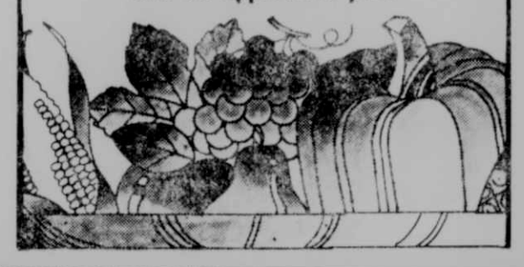
Approximately a half dozen persons attended a meeting last Thursday of the Maryland Recreation and Parks Association Citizen Board Member branch to hear Baltimore officials recount their experiences with park projects.

According to John Nelson, county zoning administrator, Bill Heppart, executive director of the Recreation and Parks association of Maryland, and Jim Overtoom, Baltimore County parks and recreation director, provided insight and organizational information which could be used to help with the Southern High School recreation center.



However, as Nelson explained early this week, the urban area has quite a different approach, beginning with its much larger budget.

Program Open Space funds are being used to complete the baseball field is essentially complete. This spring, when Potomac Engineering says the ground is firm enough, Mattingly Construction will pave the 400-meter track. Other work to be completed includes tennis courts, a multipurpose court, and two softball fields. These latter fields will be located where the pond was located, according to the zoning administrator who is also Garrett County's POS liaison.

Present Thursday night at the commissioners' meeting room in addition to Nelson were James Lupis, assistant superintendent of schools for administrative services; Commissioner John Braskey, county personnel director Paul Shockey, and parks association member Russell Alexander.

Southern project. POS has contributed approximately $106,000 while the local contribution has been basically in kind, with grading work by county roads workers and many other donations of time, equipment and materials.

IN PREPARATION FOR AN ADVENTURE, approximately 40 children were registered recently at the Dennett Road School in Mt. Lake Park. The children will be enrolled in kindergarten classes this fall. Garrett County Health Department personnel were on hand for testing sight and hearing. They also administered dental check-ups, completed immunizations and gave development I progress and co-ordination tests. Shown above left, Roxanne Reed, R.N., P.N.P., gives a little "boost" to Liza Coviello; above right, Elaine Marple, dental hygienist, checks out the smile of Matthew Blythe; lower left, Betty Shaffer, R.N., determines Liza's height and weight; and lower right, Matthew smiles at his mom, Patty, after completing a job well done. The health department staff registered approximately 20 children at Loch Lynn School yesterday and will be on hand for registration at other county schools during April and May. The schedule is as follows: Rt. 40 and Yoder School, March 28; Grantsville Elementary School, March 29; Bloomington, the morning of April 4, and Kitzmiller in the afternoon of April 4; Broad Ford Elementary, on April 11 and 13; Crellin, April 18; Red House and Swan Meadow, April 25; and Friendsville Elementary, April 27. The Accident School registration, canceled due to inclement weather, has been re-scheduled for May 4. Any parent who has not yet made a registration appointment for any child entering school this fall should call the Garrett County Board of Education at 334-8121.

Friendsville School First Grade Holds Balloon Launch

The first grade class of Friendsville Elementary School held a balloon launch at the Information Center on Route 48 on Monday, as part of the national Weekly Reader Program called Writing Pals Balloon Contest. The goal of the program is to motivate children to write to others. The first grade class has been studying air and air currents as a part of a science unit taught by Susan Holliday and Patsy Gales.

Sharon Garner took the students on a tour of the Information Center. She incorporated the 350th birthday of Maryland by giving each student a brochure on Maryland. The school-wide theme for the month of March pertained to Maryland's celebration. Students of grades four and five, under the direction of Eleanor Teats and Michael Pula, presented a special Maryland program to the rest of the school.

Brilliant Deduction!

Brilliant Deduction! That's just one of the benefits you get with your First United Individual Retirement Account. Every dollar you deposit to your IRA may be deducted from your income, which means you pay less in taxes—both federal and state taxes!

The limit each individual may put into an IRA is $2,000.00 per year. If you can not set that much aside, go ahead and start your IRA with whatever amount you can. You can begin your First United IRA for as little as $10.00 and earn money market rates.

There is still plenty of time to contribute to your IRA and take a deduction on your 1983 tax return. But, don't wait too long!

Best of all, your IRA will grow tax free until you retire—and you have the peace-of-mind of knowing that your IRA is fully insured by FDIC!

Call or stop in any of our branches today for further details on how you can get your "Brilliant Deduction" with a First United IRA.

Substantial penalty for early withdrawal.

FASCINATING FISHES

"See! See!" Amy cries, using one of her new-found words. Her voice trembles with wonder, and suddenly the fish Bob brought her become more than ordinary. They're magical creatures, slashing through the water with a flick of their tails, golden gleams of fascination.

How thrilling is a baby's world — changing, growing. Every day brings a new experience, some added lore to shape the growing personality.

Bob and I know how important these days are in Amy's development. Her acquaintance with the world now will affect her life greatly. That's why we take her to church every Sunday. We want her to learn of God's love from earliest remembrance.

God is the light of the world. His Church offers you and your family the opportunity to make His presence a joyous reality in your lives.

MOM CALLS IT PNEUMONIA WEATHER

When the weather is either hot or cold we can easily prepare and wear the proper clothing. The dangerous time comes when there can be a drastic change from day to day or even during the course of a day.

Sometimes it is impossible to avoid a cold or cough, no matter how well we are prepared. The most important advice then is not to neglect a cold. If it does not clear up quickly or seems to be getting progressively worse see your physician. He can most often prescribe a medicine that will get you over it quicker and with less discomfort. This advice particularly is important for the elderly. To them a cough or cold can be more serious.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

THE GLORY SEAT
April 1, 1984

Background Scripture: Mark 10.
Devotional Reading: Mark 10:23-31.

This may come as a surprise to you, but I want you to know that writing this weekly column is a rather dangerous occupation. And I'm not referring to irate readers, either—there have been refreshingly few of them over the years.

What makes writing this column dangerous is that, in order to write it, I first have to read and reflect upon a passage of scripture selected by the Interdenominational Committee on Uniform Series. It is in the reading and study of this assigned passage of scripture that puts me into a kind of weekly spiritual jeopardy.

THE GLORY SEATS

For example, when I read Mark 10 a few minutes ago, I felt a rather substantial stab in my conscience. Mark 10 fell on me like a ton of bricks. Here's Jesus laying it out with disturbing simplicity what it means to be his disciple. Of course, the twelve who are his closest followers don't seem to be able to absorb any of what he is saying. But the problem with Mark 10 is not that the disciples didn't seem to buy what Jesus says following him is all about, but that today we still don't appear to have gotten his message.

As I look about me, it seems that little or nothing of the values Jesus lifts up in Mark 10 are very important in the life of Christianity as I know it today. For example, in Mark 10 Jesus confounds his disciples—and us—by emphasizing the importance of children in the kingdom of God: "Whoever receives one such child in my name receives me..." (10:37). I don't mean to imply that in my experience we've been unkind to children in the churches, but that it is very obvious in many ways that the really important people are the adults.

Then, in verses 17-22, there's the story of the man with "great possessions." Now that's just the kind of man most of us try to get in our churches and "elevated" to a position of authority. We wouldn't think of telling the man that "You lack one thing: go, sell what you have, and give to the poor..." Despite all our fund drives and budget campaigns, we try to take the bite out of membership in the body of Christ.

GETTING THE NEEDLE

And Jesus' saying about how hard it is for a man with great possessions to "enter the kingdom of God" (10:23-27) is even more difficult for us. Our objective is to find and build up the affluent congregation, not to tear it down.

Worst of all, however, is what he told his disciples about power and authority: "whoever would be great among you must be your servant" (10:43). We've never really bought that one, have we? We play the same "power games" in the church that are played in the rest of society, no matter how sanitized we try to make them appear. There's at least one glory seat in every church on a Sunday morning.

If that's not your experience, then praise God! If it is, there's room on the mourner's bench with me.

Cannell and King bow to 'Riptide'

By Peter Meade

It's not surprising that "Riptide," NBC's new Tuesday night adventure series, has done well in the ratings.

The show blends many of the elements necessary for a successful series: buddy-buddy private detectives a la "Simon & Simon," a distinctively painted helicopter a la "Magnum, P.I.," a computer nerd a la "Whiz Kids," plus pretty guest stars and plenty of action on land, sea and air.

It also has pedigree parentage. The ingredients of "Riptide" have been collected and concocted by Stephen J. Cannell, a top-flight TV chef, whose previous credits include "The A-Team."

Cannell and Perry King, who stars as Cody Allen on the series, hope the concoction will yield the sweet taste of success. Both men tasted bitter failure with last season's short-lived series, "The Quest." It was canceled with four episodes left un-aired. Despite the experience, King was eager to find another series, especially a Cannell creation.

With "The A-Team" reigning as NBC's top-rated series, Cannell used his influence to assure that his new series would have an additional element in its favor: an advantageous time slot. So when "Riptide" was added to the Tuesday night lineup, "Remington Steele" was moved back an hour, with "The A-Team" remaining as the evening's lead-in.

"It was a smart move," says King. "We share similar demographics with both shows. 'Remington Steele' is more sophisticated, so it's better off at 10 o'clock. And if any new series deserved the weight of 'The A-Team' as a lead-in, Stephen's did."

King says Cannell created "Riptide" as a "bow to the '60s" because it borrows from "Surfside 6," "77 Sunset Strip" and "Route 66."

Similar to its 1960's predecessors, "Riptide" films most of its footage outdoors, especially by the water. King enjoys this aspect because he spent his boyhood summers in Nantucket, Mass., where he put in a lot of time working on his father's boat. The boats used in the series, both the Riptide and the handmade Contessa, are docked near Redondo Beach, Calif., at King Harbor.

"My harbor," says King, noting the coincidence with a chuckle. "If the show goes 10 years, hey, I'll buy the place."

Don Stroud is crazy about good-guy role

By Joe Haviland

As Captain Pat Chambers on CBS' "Mickey Spillane's Mike Hammer," Don Stroud has defied critics by proving he can play a good guy.

"They said 'Stroud can't get a laugh. He can't be a sensitive guy,'" remembers Stroud, a heavy in such TV series as "Streets of San Francisco," "Matt Houston" and "The A-Team" and in feature films including "Coogans Bluff" and "Bloody Mama." "I was playing mean guys, not just tough guys. The kind of guy that will rap you over the head when you're down. I've always gotten beaten up or shot at or thrown off a cliff at the end."

Determined not to become typecast, Stroud tried out for the part of Captain Pat Chambers, chief of the NYPD homicide division, in the two-hour movie, "Mickey Spillane's Mike Hammer 'More Than Murder,'" which preceded the series. "They didn't think that I could play this kind of part, so I had to go to read for CBS and Columbia and talk them into it. And the show's producer, Jay Bernstein, took a shot."

The movie went over so well that the network ordered a series and Stacy Keach (Mike Hammer in the movie) and Stroud were both asked back to re-create their roles.

"This series has changed me so much," says the 20-year veteran actor. "I got a new wardrobe and even go out to different restaurants now. When I was playing the bad guys, I would stay out late half the time and not worry about it. I could come in kind of bad guy. Now I get to bed early and come in shiny and clean. I've always taken my parts seriously, but with the bad guys I could be a little foggy.

"I had to practice on not squinting my eyes," continues Stroud, who has played the heavy in more than 100 guest appearances on TV and in more than 40 feature films. "Before, I was into my character so much that when any kind of violence broke out I felt right at home. Now I have to find a little easier door, and this is happening with this character."

In the series, Chambers has a wife and a kid, organizes Little League, works with the juveniles, doesn't smoke and only has a few drinks — after work. "The guy's a hero. He's out there punching out bad guys," says Stroud. "He's the type of guy who, if he sees someone stealing an old lady's purse, will chase him for six blocks."

Passenger Bert Hamilton (Barry Corbin) is rescued by a hovering helicopter from the freezing waters of the Potomac River after the crash of an Air Florida jet, in "Flight No. 90: Disaster on the Potomac" Sunday, April 1 on NBC.

SHOW AND TELL

Kemp uses her past to develop character

By Gregory Garver

HOLLYWOOD — Once in a while, Hollywood casting people get lucky. They cast an actor or an actress in a part where the performer has some special knowledge about the type of character he or she is being asked to play.

That has happened in the case of Brandis Kemp, who plays Alma Cox, the executive secretary on the hospital staff of CBS' "AfterMASH," which is currently on hiatus.

Because of her background, Miss Kemp is one of the few people in a network television role who could probably both act in a show and serve as the show's technical adviser. "My father," she says, "had suffered serious injuries in World War I. And, when I was a child, growing up in Palo Alto, he was confined to a veterans hospital. I used to go and visit him all the time. So I can vouch for the authenticity of everything on the 'AfterMASH' set — the beds and the chairs and everything.

After her father died, Miss Kemp's mother supported the family by working as a beautician. Miss Kemp's brother's constant playing of show music was what got her interested in the theater when she was very young.

She went to Stanford, not generally known for its acting studies, but she says she got a good grounding in the theater there. She also got a graduate degree in drama.

Brandis Kemp

Before "AfterMASH," Miss Kemp played in the Los Angeles-based play, "Women Behind Bars." One of her co-actresses was Sally Kellerman, the original Hot Lips in the original "M*A*S*H" movie. When Miss Kemp left, to play in "AfterMASH," Miss Kellerman gave her a set of model lips that director Robert Altman had given her.

Miss Kemp is pleased that her character on "AfterMASH" is softening, as she was originally very tough. And she hopes that her progress follows in the fancy footsteps of Loretta Swit.

"When Loretta started playing Hot Lips," she says, "the character was a real meanie. But gradually they let her show other facets of her character. At the end, she was often very sweet."

Joe Penny (l.) and Perry King play an unlikely pair of detectives living out their fantasies aboard a yacht at Redondo Beach, Calif., in NBC's "Riptide," airing Tuesdays.

WEDNESDAY

The comedy team of Dean Martin (top) and Jerry Lewis is remembered in a nostalgic look back through a century of comedy, in "Bob Hope's Who Makes the World Laugh, Part II — A Century of Comedy," Wednesday, April 4 on NBC.

(Stations reserve the right to make last-minute changes.)

FRIDAY

The Tin Woodsman (Jack Haley) and the Scarecrow (Ray Bolger) are just as apprehensive as Dorothy (Judy Garland) when they see Emerald City for the first time, in "The Wizard of Oz," airing Friday, March 30 on CBS.

(Stations reserve the right to make last-minute changes.)

Boone gambles image in 'Sins of the Past'

By Tim Boxer

Why would a wholesome lady such as Debby Boone want to portray a reformed prostitute in "Sins of the Past," an ABC movie airing Monday, April 2?

"I talked to my sisters and parents," says Miss Boone, "and we all thought it would be a good thing for me to do. This is the first role that came along since I had my twin girls last September. I just weaned them and felt like going back to work."

Miss Boone is well aware that "it might harm my image in some people's eyes. People have already stereotyped me and would be shocked to see me play a hooker. But they're focusing on this character's sordid past and ignoring her present role."

The 27-year-old actress plays Clarissa, a reformed hooker who is now a gospel singer for a traveling evangelist. She is shown as a call girl only in flashbacks to her former life.

A mad killer stalks Clarissa and seven other former prostitutes — played by Barbara Carrera, Kim Cattrall, Kristin Meadows, Tracy Reed, Kirstie Alley, Megan Gallagher and Mallie Johnson — and murders all but three.

The hero in this thriller is Tony Geary, the former soap opera heartthrob who used to set hearts aflutter as Luke Spencer on "General Hospital." Naturally, while pursuing the slayer, he falls for one of the heart o'gold hookers (Miss Carrera).

It was on her last day of filming that Miss Boone — dressed as a lady of the night — green mini-dress, black fishnet stockings, high heel shoes, long teased-up hair — was visited by a close friend of her late grandfather Red Foley, the country singer. He opened the door and his jaw dropped. "That's the last thing he expected of me," Miss Boone says.

As an evangelical singer, Miss Boone wore a long unattractive silk dress. During the movie's production, a passer-by walked over and remarked with obvious disdain: "With all the money Debby Boone has, you'd think she'd wear nicer clothes." Someone explained that Miss Boone was playing an evangelist. "Oh," the man replied, "she's supposed to look like a trump."

Debby Boone

That got Miss Boone's goat. "I hope I can show in this movie that a person involved in Christian activities is not necessarily a trump," she says.

Miss Boone wants her fans to know that, given the standards and morals she's known for, she doesn't feel a contradiction in any way by doing this picture. "This is my first movie," she adds, "and I started off with a bang. A little controversy never hurts."

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By Val Carew

I would appreciate it if you could send me some information about the show "Donahue," especially an address where I can send host Phil Donahue a letter. — M.S., Tacoma, Wash.

"Donahue" originates from Chicago, although the show occasionally travels to other locations and will be moving to New York next year. Write him at 630 North McClurg Court, Chicago, IL 60611.

Phil Donahue

I have always enjoyed the series, "Little House on the Prairie." A person named Laura wrote the stories that the series is based on. Do you have information to send to me about these stories? — J.T., Greenfield, Wis.

There really was a Laura Ingalls Wilder and she wrote a series of books on which the series was based. One of them is called "Little House on the Prairie." That was the second one she wrote. The first was "Little House in the Big Woods." There were seven others: "Farmer Boy," "On the Banks of Plum Creek," "By the Shores of Silver Lake," "The Long Winter," "Little Town on the Prairie," "These Happy Golden Years" and "The First Four Years." Your local book store should be able to order them for you if they are not in stock. They are Harper Trophy Books, published by Harper & Row.

Sam Elliot

I am a big fan of "The Yellow Rose," but haven't read much about it. I think Sam Elliott, who plays Chance, is perfect. I run a ranch and have traveled the rodeo circuit so I've seen all types of cowboys. The cowboy he presents is an honest characterization. I'd like to tell him so. — J.R., Ardmore, Okla.

In real life, Elliot is an outdoors man, laconic, wry and witty. He drives a jeep but is perhaps most comfortable on a horse. Write him in care of the series at NBC, Burbank, CA 91505. The ratings haven't been great, but critical acclaim for the series has been good, so mail might help it get picked up for a second season.

Will Luke and Holly love again on 'GH'?

By Kimberly Redmond

Whatever happened to Stefano DiMera on "Days of Our Lives"? Will Luke and Holly ever fall in love again on "General Hospital"? — K.M., Santa Anna, Texas.

As avid viewers of "Days" already know Stefano was revealed to be the evil schemer Phoenix, who is connected to the Salem Slasher murders. As the story line went, Stefano faked his death with the use of drugs after he was arrested for kidnapping Liz Chandler and Marlena Brady.

As to your second question, even though Tony Geary (Luke Spencer), who will soon be seen in the TV movie "Sins of the Past," has said he might be making guest appearances on "GH," it is highly unlikely that he and Holly Scorpio (Emma Samms) will be romantically reunited.

Tony Geary

I've been wondering for some time about Lisa McColl's son on "As The World Turns," and would like to know if you could give me some information about him. I believe he was fathered by Lisa's second husband, Michael Shea. — S.N., Nevada, Ohio.

Lisa Hughes, Shea, Coleman, McColl, had one son, Chuckie, by Michael Shea. The boy, who returned briefly to the family fold when she married Grant Coleman, was killed in an auto accident on his way home from college.

Sherilyn Wolter

I'm a fan of Sherilyn Wolter, who portrays Celia Quartermaine on "General Hospital," and I'm wondering if you can tell me some facts about her background? — L.K., Greene, Maine.

Miss Wolter was born in Clarksburg, W. Va., and studied drama at California State University where she appeared in college stage productions. She appeared as lady trucker Cindy on the series "B.J. and the Bear" and has guested on several other nighttime series. Miss Wolter is engaged to actor Tom Prolapp, whom she met while doing a theatrical production in California.

Lenten Organ Recital Slated In Terra Alta

First United Methodist Church of Terra Alta will present a Lenten organ recital at 2 p.m. this Sunday, April 1, featuring area musicians.

Five of the artists made their first appearance together in a similar performance on March 20, 1983. Joining them Sunday, April 1, will be Dr. David Sheets, organist at St. Paul's United Methodist Church, Oakland. The practicing dentist has a background of music history from the University of Pittsburgh and studied under Robert Lynn at Allegheny College.

Dr. Paul Getty, Kingwood surgeon, has had an extensive career in mission work and church music. He studied piano with Raymond Paradis of Oneonta, N.Y., and now attends the Wesley United Methodist Church in Kingwood.

Betty Jean Getty, vocalist, has had the opportunity to serve in many churches while accompanying her husband in the mission field. She has been soloist at the First United Methodist Church of Ann Arbor, Mich., and the Grace United Methodist Church of Dayton, Ohio. She also lends her talent to the musical programs of the Wesley United Methodist Church music program.

Janice Crane serves as organist for the Kingwood's Wesley United Methodist Church music program. She holds a bachelor of arts in music and master of arts in elementary education from West Virginia University.

This is the second year in Preston County for Rev. Bruce D. Reed, pastor of Terra Alta First-Pleasant Valley Charge of the United Methodist Church. After earning an associate-in-arts degree from Parkersburg Community College he was graduated from West Virginia Wesleyan with a bachelor of arts in church music. His master of divinity was granted by United Theological Seminar. Rev. Reed is currently a student of the organ under Dr. William Haller at West Virginia University.

Kent Pomeroy brings to the organ bench his training via a bachelor of arts in music from West Virginia University. He was a student of the late Ralph Federer of Kingwood. Pomeroy is organist and choir director at the host church for this second annual Lenten recital.

A reception to greet the artists will follow the recital in the church's Fellowship Hall.

The public is invited to both events.

Opportunities For Volunteer Work At Hospital Noted

The Volunteer Program at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital, which is in conjunction with the Loar Auxiliary, is now "in full swing," according to Annette Livengood, who is in charge of the program.

Mrs. Livengood stated that there are many opportunities for volunteer service throughout the hospital, including a variety of clerical duties, transportation of patients from one area to another for testing, making of beds, filling water pitchers, greeting and directing of patients and visitors, attending to patient comfort and personal needs, work in the gift shop, circulation of the gift cart to patient rooms, and operation of patient televisions.

She said volunteers also participate in various community projects throughout the year, such as the Health Fair, a flea market in May and a booth during the Autumn Glory Festival.

Volunteers donate from two to eight hours per day, one to five days per week, depending upon their availability. Anyone 18 years of age or over who is interested in doing volunteer work at the hospital may contact Mrs. Livengood at 334-2155, extension 231, to discuss specific volunteer opportunities.

Persons under 18 years of age and in their junior or senior year of high school are eligible to participate in the candystriper program. Information on this may also be obtained from Mrs. Livengood.

CANDYSTRIPERS COMPLETE TRAINING — An integral part of the volunteer program at Garrett County Memorial Hospital is its candystriper program, which is open to high school juniors and seniors. The present group of five girls has just completed an in-depth six-week training period and will begin work in the patient units in the near future. According to a spokesman for the hospital, many former candystripers at the hospital have gone on to careers in the health care field, some returning to Garrett County Memorial as registered nurses. In the photo, left to right, front row, are Larry M. Beck, hospital administrator; Martha Rice, Buffy Goughler and Lucy Burnett, assistant director of nursing and in charge of the candystriper program. In the second row, same order, are Wilma Minor, assistant director of nursing from 3-11 p.m., whose shift the candystripers will work; Shari Copeland and Denise Livengood. Not present for the photo was Teresa Rager. The program is sponsored by the Garrett County Business and Professional Women's Club, which provides uniforms, caps and booklets. Anne Conner, R.N., is the club's liaison with the candystriper program.

HCO Program Plans Workshop

A workshop entitled "Learn, Then Earn" will be presented by the Homemaker Career Opportunities Program of Garrett Community College on Wednesday, April 4. The workshop will discuss the training that is available for upgrading or acquiring new skills for local employment.

Jeri Swartzentruber, associate director of Continuing Education for Garrett Community College, will be the speaker. The workshop will be held from 10 a.m. to noon at the Oakland Center of GCC in Room 306.

This workshop is offered to the public free of charge. To pre-register or for more information, persons may call 334-9184.

Reader's Theatre Presentation On Robert Frost Set

Two performances of "The Four Seasons of Robert Frost", a reader's theater presentation of the work of the famous American poet, have been scheduled for Garrett Community College auditorium in April, according to Joan B. Crawford, project director.

Dates for these performances, which are open to the public free of charge, are Wednesday, April 11, at 1:45 p.m., and Saturday, April 14, at 7:30 p.m. Students from the English classes at Northern and Southern high schools will be attending the Wednesday afternoon program. A third performance will be scheduled for the purpose of video-taping the program.

The program will consist of dramatic readings of Frost's poetry in a setting typical of the environment in which he wrote, with trees, stonewalls, woodpiles, and farmhouses. Narrative introductions will point out the metaphors of the poems, showing how the four seasons of the year became seasons of a human life, and how the things of nature are used to express the human condition. Some poetry will be illustrated with slides of Garrett County scenes.

The three readers on the program will be Dr. Jean Shaw, adjunct instructor; Robert W. Crone, assistant professor of English; and Joan B. Crawford, chairman, of the Humanities Division. Technical director of the performance is Ben Sincell, instructor of speech and theater.

"The Four Seasons of Robert Frost" is sponsored jointly by the Humanities Division of Garrett Community College and the Delta Kappa Gamma Society. The programs have been made possible in part because of a grant from the Maryland Council for Humanities, an affiliate of the National Endowment for Humanities.

Zion Lutheran Church To Host Lenten Service

The fifth in a series of community mid-week Lenten Services will be held at the Zion Lutheran Church, Accident, on Wednesday, April 4, at 8 p.m.

Rev. Fred Illick will deliver the sermon on "Peter At The Arrest: 'All That Take The Sword Will Perish with The Sword'." The sermon message is taken from the theme for the series of services, "Simon Peter Witnesses the Passion."

Special Lenten music will be presented by combined church choirs of the area, called the Good News Chorale, under the direction of Dr. Charles H. Springman and accompanied by organist Mrs. Marilyn Illick. Also providing music will be the Galileans, a men's group from St. John's Lutheran Church, L.C.A., Cove.

A freewill offering will be taken for the Hospice of Garrett County.

The sixth service in this series will be held on Wednesday, April 11, at 8 p.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Accident.

Those wishing to participate in the Good News Chorale should attend practices to be held at 7 p.m. each Wednesday evening, prior to the service at the host church.

Park Zoning Board Denies Ferguson Variance Request

A request by Mt. Lake property owner Raymond Ferguson for a variance for his M Street lot was denied last Thursday by the Mt. Lake Park Board of Zoning Appeals.

The board disapproved the variance request, saying that insufficient evidence was given to prove that denial of a variance would create a hardship for the property owner.

Ferguson had asked to construct a house on his 75 by 120 foot lot. Standard lot size for home construction is required to be 100 by 120 feet.

People speaking in opposition to the request included Joe Bowen, Mrs. Compton, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Friend. One man in addition to Ferguson spoke in favor of the request.

Zoning board members are Charlotte Griffith, Dan Elmlinger and William Clary, John Nelson, county zoning administrator, conducted the meeting.

THE GARRETT COUNTY CHAPTER of the American Cancer Society held a kickoff dinner at Will O' the Wisp Monday evening to mark the official beginning of its 1984 fund drive. Approximately 45 people were present to hear Dr. Mukund S. Didolkar, associate professor of the oncology program at the University of Maryland, present a factual and slide presentation on the various cancers. He listed lung cancer as the number one cancer killer for men and breast cancer as the number one killer for women, although lung cancer among women is rising sharply as more women smoke cigarettes. Dr. Didolkar, who devotes his practice to the treatment of cancer patients and education of medical residency students, pointed out the great strides made in cancer treatments and ability to detect cancer earlier so patients have a better prognosis. Pictured above are Dr. Walter Naumann, medical advisor for the local unit; Dr. Didolkar, Pauline Faucett, chapter president; and Pat Wade, field representative for the Allegany-Garrett chapter. Not pictured are Violet Reichenbecher, northern fund drive chairman; and Nancy Barr, southern county chairman. The house-to-house fund drive will be held during April, and volunteers will be receiving their packets to assist with the canvass this week, according to Alana Winters, publicity chairman.

Health Systems Governing Body Conducts Meeting

The Governing Body of the Health Systems Agency of Western Maryland met on March 21 at the Ali Ghan Country Club, Cumberland. Sister Cecilia Rose, chairman, presided and welcomed Robert W. Higgins, executive director of the Maryland Health Resources Planning Commission in Baltimore.

Ross James, chairman of the Management Commitee, announced the beginning of the Governing Body selection process. He reported that ten Governing Body seats are up for appointment or reappointment for the new year beginning September 1. The ten seats are: two from Garrett County, three from Allegany County, two from Frederick County, and three from Washington County. Four members have indicated that they wish to be reappointed, four are not eligible for reappointment, and two have indicated they they will not seek reappointment. Therefore, James announced that ten seats are eligible for appointment, and that six seats will be vacant. The distribution is: one consumer seat from Garrett, two provider seats and one consumer seat from Allegany, one consumer seat from Frederick, and one consumer seat from Washington.

How To Apply

Persons wishing to apply for the Garrett County seat on the Governing Body must be 18 years of age or older and live or work in the county.

The deadline for receiving applications is 4:30 p.m., Monday, April 16. Applications may be obtained, or questions may be answered by contacting the HSAWM at its office at the Algonquin Motor Inn, Suite 301, Baltimore and Greene Streets, Cumberland, or by calling 724-1616. Review of applications will be held at the April Management Committee and Governing Body meetings. Recommendations will be forwarded to each board of county commissioners in June and final selection will be made by each board of commissioners.

Carole L. Malin, chairman of the Review, Evaluation and Implementation Committee, presented the Committee's recommendation for non-endorsement of four applications for Certificate of Need to provide additional nursing home beds in Washington County.

The first project, Memorial Manor, Inc. submitted by Perini Services, Inc., proposed a new 144-bed comprehensive care facility and a 20-person adult day care program to be located on a three-acre site at the corner of Memorial Boulevard and Frederick Street in Hagerstown. The total estimated cost of the project is $4,471,386.

The second project, submitted by Hagerstown Medical Services, proposed a new 120-bed comprehensive care facility to be located on a 10-acre site on Mt. Aetna Road in Hagerstown. The total estimated cost of the project is $3,939,850.

The third project, submitted by Perini Services, Inc., proposes new construction of a 144 comprehensive care bed addition to Avalon Manor, an existing 211-bed facility currently located on a 26-acre site in rural Washington County, several miles northeast of Hagerstown. This addition will bring the total number of beds in the facility to 355. The total estimated cost of the project is $3,252,000.

The fourth project, submitted by Reeders Memorial Home, proposes a new 100-bed wing comprising 50 additional comprehensive care beds to Reeders Memorial Home's existing 150 beds and 50 replacement beds currently located on a two-acre site on Main Street in Boonsboro in Washington County. The total estimated project cost is $4,069,365.

The Governoring Body voted to not endorse any of the four applications for nursing home beds in Washinton County because the regional Long-Term Care Bed Allocation Plan, tentatively adopted by HSAWM in February, calls for needed, additional beds to be approved first in Frederick County and then in Allegany County on a priority basis.

Ms. Malin also presented the REI Committee's recommendation for non-endorsement of two applications for Certificate of Need to provide cardiac catheterization services in Allegany County. These projects were submitted by Cumberland Memorial Hospital and Sacred Heart Hospital in Cumberland.

The Governing Body noted to not endorse either of these projects.

Final decisions on Certificate of Need are rendered by the Maryland Health Resources Planning Commission. The HSAWM expects decisions to be made on the six above projects by mid-summer.

Sister Cecila announced that the Governing Body, Management Commitee and Plan Development Committee will meet on April 18 at the Sheraton Inn, Frederick.

Those members from Garrett County present included James E. Cuppett, Jack W. Fridinger, Ross B. James and John S. Parker.

Ryans Glade
by Daneille Meeks, reporter

An executive meeting was held March 15 to plan the agenda for the regular monthly meeting held March 20, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wildesen.

Mike Tichnell, vice president, called the meeting to order due to the injury and surgery of our president Joey Mousch.

Mike introduced Mrs. Charlotte Mousch who gave a program presentation for Poison Prevention Month and National Poison Prevention Week, March 18 through 25. Mrs. Mousch gave us some statistics on poisoning in the United States and a list of poison plants, animals, insects, foods, chemicals and products. Questions were answered and discussion followed.

The meeting proceeded with the Pledge of Allegiance, led by Sandy Shreve, and Andy Knox led the 4-H Pledge.

Roll call was answered by naming a county in Maryland in observance of Maryland's 350th Anniversary.

There were 13 members and six adults present.

The secretary's report was given by Randy Tichnell and Willie Riley gave the treasurer's report.

Old business included a reminder of Achievement Night April 14 at Grantsville Fire Hall.

We signed a "thank-you" card for the Garrett County Sheriff's Department.

New business included signing a get well card for Joey Mousch.

Demonstrations will be given by Sandy Shreve, Melissa Livengood and Andy Knox.

A special meeting will be held the next two weeks to make a centerpiece for Achievement Night.

IN MEMORIAM

In Loving Memory of my son "Dink" who died on Good Friday, April 1, 1983.

It is lonely here without you, so sad along life's way. Life does not seem the same to me, since you were called away. It broke my heart to lose you, but you did not go alone, for part of me went with you that day God called you home. They say time heals all sorrow and helps us to forget, but time so far has only proved how much I miss you yet.

Dearly loved, Fondly remembered, and Sadly missed.

CONCERNING PRESCRIPTION

To most people the word "prescription" refers to a doctor's writing on a piece of paper that they take to a pharmacy. It has an entirely different meaning in real estate. Home and landowners should be aware of this meaning because it could have a direct bearing on their property rights.

Suppose Mr. Smith owns a fairly large tract of land, either in a suburban area or out in the country. There's a drive-in theatre nearby. A main road leads to the theatre, but many patrons soon discover a shorter way to get there by cutting across Mr. Smith's property. Mr. Smith sees this, is mildly irked, but doesn't do anything about it. He figures that eventually they'll stop doing it. But they don't stop it—it goes on for years and Smith still doesn't take any action. Eventually the public will acquire the RIGHT to cut across Smith's property! In real estate parlance, getting the right in land by this means is called prescription.

So if you own property and some one's violating it some way, don't just stand and watch. If you don't like what they're doing, take some action, or you might lose some of your rights! Make sure you check with your attorney first.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone one of our offices.

BPW Approves Funds For Two Sewer Projects

Garrett County was officially notified last week that the Board of Public Works has approved an award of $145,975 from the Water Quality Loan Fund for two Garrett County sewerage projects.

According to Richard B. Sellars, Jr., Director of the Office of Environmental Programs Water Management Administration, these funds are the state's contribution to the joint federal/state/local sewerage construction program. In all, $1,389,200 will be spent in local, state and federal funds for the two projects.

The $145,975 is earmarked for the Kitzmiller collection system and Loch Lynn Heights, Broadford Park and Bausch and Lomb collection system, along with rehabilitation of the Trout Run interceptor.

The Kitzmiller sewerage project will be designed by Thomas Bourne at a total design and construction cost of $1,110,000. The proposed sewage collection, transport and treatments system for the town are expected to relieve a high rate of septic system failure and raw sewage discharge into the North Branch of the Potomac River, according to the release from Sellars.

The sewer rehabilitation project for Loch Lynn, Broadford Park and Trout Run would reduce excessive infiltration and inflow to the Trout Run Sewerage Treatment plant and improve water quality of the Little Youghiogheny River. This project will cost $288,200. This amount would be reduced, however, if the town of Loch Lynn decides not to participate. Although town officials discussed the project at their March meeting, no decision was reached on whether the town will accept funding for its share of the project.

The amounts contributed by the state represent 12½ percent of the total costs of the projects, with EPA to provide 75 percent and the remaining 12½ percent to be funded locally.

EPA funding for the projects was awarded some time ago, according Wendell Beitzel, sanitary district administrator.

Southern GOP Women Convene; Frantz Speaker

The Southern Garrett County Republican Women met at the Oak Park Church of the Brethren on Tuesday evening, March 20. The meeting was conducted by Verna J. Harvey, President.

After the invocation by Mrs. Mary Rollman, Paul Frantz, chairman of the Garrett County Republican State Central Committee, was introduced as the speaker of the evening.

Frantz put special emphasis on the importance of getting new voters registered in Garrett County. He stated that April 9 will be the last day to register before the Primary election which will be on May 9. He also gave facts and figures about the number of registered voters in the county, and how the number has increased over the past few years.

He also showed figures regarding the decline of inflation, interest rates, and mortgage rates since 1980. At the conclusion of his talk there were many questions and comments from the group.

After a brief business session, the meeting adjourned and refreshments were served by Mrs. Mary Alice Fries and Mrs. Arzella Parsons. The group will meet again on May 15.

Special Services Continuing At Crellin Assembly

Revival services are continuing at the Crellin Assembly of God Church through Sunday, April 1 at 7 p.m. each evening with the Rev. Jim Hilliard family of Shenandoah, Va., leading worship.

This is the sixth time the Hilliards have appeared at the church. They have recorded many Southern gospel songs and will be singing each evening. Rev. Hilliard will bring the messages.

The church orchestra will also be playing each evening for the services.

Sunday, April 1, will be a special Sunday starting with Sunday School at 10 a.m. Rev. Hilliard will be giving his personal testimony and the church orchestra will be playing a special number during this service. The Sunday School will be trying to break its record attendance this Sunday. The 11 a.m. worship service and the 7 p.m. service will again feature the Hilliard family.

Pastor Ray Beahm invites the public to attend.

Dennett Road School Observes Chapter I Week

Chapter I Week, which was March 12-16, was observed at Dennett Road School with a large banner and bulletin board entitled "Kids Are #1 With Chapter I." It was created by the Parent Advisory Council (PAC) parents and placed in the school's main lobby.

"Care Bears" declaring "Chapter I Cares" were worn throughout the week by faculty and staff members. Wednesday, March 14, was Chapter I Day and every student was given a Care Bear name tag to wear. There was also a PAC meeting entitled "Homework - What is expected of students at Dennett Road" held on Wednesday. Representing the various grade levels by speaking at the meeting were teachers: Patricia Foley, grade one; Pam Stover, grade two, Helen Fitzwater, grade three; Berlin Wilhelm, grade four; and Linda Fleming, grade five.

Students were entertained with the showing of the Walt Disney movie "Sammy the Way Out Seal" and hearing a performance by the Southern High School Band, directed by Richard Clever.

Planning the activities were PAC members Donna Collins, Vivian Nazelrod, Nancy Rose and Barbara Beeman. Also assisting were parent volunteers, Charlene Copeland, Clara Johnston and Ralph and Delores Bee.

"The parents are to be commended for doing a terrific job of organizing and following through on the week's activities," Barbara Flinn, Chapter I resource teacher at Dennett Road stated. "I couldn't have done it without their help."

CHAPTER I WEEK, which was March 12-16, was observed in a number of ways at Dennett Road Elementary School, including the creation of the above banner and bulletin board. Admiring it at left are Francis Harris, supervisor of Chapter I in Garrett County, and Clark Sharpless, principal at Dennett Road. ## Two More Products Found To Exceed Safe EDB Levels

The Office of Environmental Programs, Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, released this week the names of two national brand products that exceed the Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) recommended levels for EDB (ethylene dibromide) in foods. This information was received from sample results in other states.

The products are as follows: Nabisco, Instant Cream of Wheat, 13346; and Bordens Cracker Jack, Gourmet Popcorn, 3305D.

Consumers are urged not to eat or use these products, and storekeepers are asked to withdraw these products from their shelves.

To date, approximately 150 samples of food products have been analyzed for EDB by the State Health Department Laboratory. These include raw grains, noodle and pasta products, flour, nuts, citrus fruits and national brand products. According to David L. Resh, Jr., an administrator in the Office of Environmental Programs, only three food samples analyzed thus far by Maryland have exceeded EPA's recommended threshold levels. These products, one lot of bran flour, a natural wheat cereal and a previously listed Duncan Hines cake mix are no longer available to consumers. "We have every reason to believe that the food stores are cooperating by immediately checking for and removing all products identified by the Office of Environmental Programs," Resh said.

Rotary Donation Allows Library To Buy Projector

The Grantsville branch of Garrett County's Ruth Enlow Library has purchased a new 16 MM Elmo movie projector for circulation among its users. Funds for the purchase were donated by Grantsville Rotary Club as a service project.

Maxine Broadwater, librarian, says the previous projector was seven years old and "showing so much wear that we could no longer have it repaired." Since no funds were available from Western Maryland Public Library system, which had furnished the previous one, the Rotary Club stepped in to raise the needed money. Rotarian Charles "Bus" Bender spearheaded the fundraising.

Mrs. Broadwater emphasizes the new projector is available for overnight checkout either by individuals or by groups. The library charges each user 50 cents to cover the replacement of bulbs.

"Garrett and Allegany Colleges recommended the Elmo brand very highly," Mrs. Broadwater says. "Since we bought the projector in the last week of February, many customers have borrowed it. We are very grateful to Grantsville Rotary Club for their generous gift. Customers are invited to drop in or call the library at 895-5298 to reserve the projector. We also have films available from Interlibrary Loan."

THE GARRETT ARTS AND GIFT GALLERY on Alder Street opened its doors for business last week, offering a variety of craft and gift items. Art and craft classes, including painting and leatherworking, will be offered in private areas at the rear of the building, and ceramics classes will be scheduled. Above, owner Russell T. Sines, left, Mt. Lake Park, and manager Tom Simpson, also of Mt. Lake Park, stand in front of some of the wares offered. The store has rental space available for all local artists and craftpersons who wish to display and sell their work. The store will soon have available the Consolidated line of cards, gifts and wrappings, according to Sines. Simpson is a local artist who will be teaching some of the classes, and whose work is displayed in the store. Other craftpersons with work presently on display include Barbara Shaffer, finished ceramics; Linda Shreves, dolls, liquid embroidery, and afghans; Lizzie Zook, quilts and throw rugs; Tim Beitzel, leathercraft; and Jenny Beitzel, finished ceramics. The store will be open six days a week and will offer studio time on Friday nights.

Oakland CDA Meeting Noted

The monthly meeting of Catholic Daughters of the Americas, Oakland Court #2209, was held Tuesday, March 20, in St. Peter's Parochial School building with five officers, 15 members and Father Martin Feild attending. Court Regent Paula Redinger presided.

The group participated in a short program featuring aerobic dance given by Jeanne Matras, Cheryl Flanigan and Mary Weeks before the business meeting.

It was announced that the Communion Breakfast will be held Sunday, April 1, at the Alpine Lake Restaurant. Those members wishing to attend should have already made their reservation. It was also decided that the rosary would be said March 26 at the Dennett Road Manor Nursing Home.

Donations approved by the group included those to the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department, Southern Rescue Squad, Red Cross Water Safety Program, Project Handclasp, and the Southern High School Girls' Basketball Team.

Sisters Mary Ann Mazza and Joanna Sinko will present the program at the next meeting slated for April 17.

Promotion Council Attends Shows

The Deep Creek Lake - Garrett County Promotion Council has been active promoting tourism in Garrett County by attending two travel shows, according to Cindy Kutchman, executive director.

The county was represented at the Calypso Travel Show at the Valley Mall in Hagerstown last week and will be at the four Seasons Sports, Recreation, Travel and Leisure Show at the Country Club Mall in LaVale this week.

The Council exhibits a large travel display depicting activities available in the county and distributes brochures about the county. These two travel shows have helped to attract over 250,000 people to the county, according to Mrs. Kutchman.

After the Cumberland Show, which promotes the spring and summer seasons, the next travel show promotion will be at the Maryland State Fair in Timonium in August and September.

— Dish Antenna Facts —

Absolutely nothing in a Satellite Installation is as important as the Dish antenna, and mount. The Dish sets the signal to noise ratio of the whole receiving system. Receivers, LNA's and cables, though absolutely necessary for a working system, actually add noise to the received signal. The picture being what we want to see and the noise if present, being white sparkles or black tears in the picture. Dishes are available in many sizes and shapes. Also the materials that they are constructed of varies with different manufacturers.

Regardless of their construction they must meet the signal to noise ratio sufficiently to provide a quality picture. The signal to noise of a Dish is most affected by 3 factors: 1. Size of the Dish; 2. Parabolic or Reflective Surface Tolerance; 3. Focal Point to Diameter or F/D. The mount must be sufficient to support the Dish at all angles, and provide rigid parabolic support to maintain picture quality. It also must be heavy enough to do these things in severe weather conditions.

Good Dishes and Heavy Duty mounts don't come cheap, but that's all we sell, because we know what it takes to make a great Satellite Receiving System. We offer 6', 7½' semi-installed kits, also 8' and 10' completely installed systems.

AURORA-EGLON NEWS

St. Paul's Lutheran Church Women met March 15 in the home of Carol Forman. Lois Knight presented the lesson and devotions using the theme, "Rainbows and Promises," which was followed by the business meeting. Attending were Linda Terrant, Dean Sisler, Phillis Vandevender, Frances Roth, June Sisler, Marie Martin, Josephine Stanton, Ernestine Sisler, Mildred Kovalck, Delores Slawter and Pastor Daniel Yeiser.

On Sunday, March 18, members of St. Paul's Lutheran Church had an Italian dinner and watched movies in the church parish hall.

East Preston students Lisa Liller and Shauna Sisler have been chosen to represent their school as princesses to the Buckwheat Festival and will participate in the Queen's Pageant later this spring. Lisa is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Adams and Shauna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Sisler, all of Aurora.

The March 20 afternoon meeting of the Aurora Extension Homemakers was held in the home of Mrs. Ruth Teets with Opal Myers leading the opening devotions with a "Springtime" theme.

Mrs. Myers demonstrated various accessories which can be used to complement facial structure and body build or to emphasize the wrong things in her lesson on "Accent on Accessories." Mrs. Bonnylin Lantz wore a white basic dress and showed with various scarves, jackets, belts, and shoes how one's appearance could be changed.

Mrs. Lantz reported also on a recent 4-H meeting which she had attended and said help is needed to prepare the Preston County 4-H Camp for the spring and summer events there. Martha Bolyard reported on the club trip to Hopemont and expressed concern that many of the members should adopt a resident there to befriend. The club had also gone to Cortland Acres on March 12.

A donation of $50 was made to the Preston County 4-H Camp. The club will pay for their president, Martha Bolyard, to attend the county President's Day to be held at Alpine Lake in April. Russia was the country selected by the group for their emphasis at the Tannenbaum Festival next December. The club will provide an Easter treat for the children at the Eglon Child Care Center.

Hostess Ruth Teets showed an afghan she had made and Opal Myers showed the trapunto quilting or embroidery which she had made while at Jackson's Mill attending the Craft Weekend. The pig-in-the-poke was won by Martha Bolyard.

Fifteen members and three children were present. In addition to the above mentioned, attending were Betty Fint, Eva Wotring, Mildred Kovalck, Olive Beckman, Wilda Wilt, Fern Jamison, Beulah Lipscomb, Vesta Stemple, Cheryl Resha and Martha Crowe.

Eleven members of the Mt. Lions Club made a visitation to the Mt. Storm club on March 12. On March 15 they were hosts to a zone meeting at the Aurora United Methodist Memorial Building. Thirty-seven were present with all of the zone clubs represented there except one and Tunnelton announced that they will be cooperating with other Tunnelton organizations in a Health Fair on May 5 to which the local people are invited.

The Mt. Lions are assisting two elderly residents with eye care and made a contribution to the West Virginia Sight Foundation. They also remind everyone that they still have brooms for sale. The next meeting will be April 5 with a Ladies' Night at Eglon.

A ramp dinner will be served April 7 from 2 until 7 p.m. at the Mt. Grove Community Building. Sponsored by the Mt. Grove VFD, the menu features ramps, potatoes, ham, beans, cornbread, dessert and beverage for a donation of $3.50 for adults, $1.50 for children under 12. Mt. Grove is located three miles south of Silver Lake on U.S. 219.

A clothing workshop on Saturday morning and a foods workshop on Saturday afternoon, March 24, was taught by Extension Agent Margaret Blagg for 4-H members. Attending from the Eglon Mountaineer Club for the afternoon session was Cherri Minnig, Nicole Teets, Stephanie Evans, Debbie Rinehart and adults Jean Rinehart and Elaine Roth. Accompanying them was Tammy Slaubaugh, a member of the Aurora Pioneers.

Martha Crowe of Aurora was admitted Saturday morning to Garrett County Memorial Hospital where she was placed in the intensive care unit, suffering from a heart attack.

David Hardesty of Aurora, is a patient in Garrett County Memorial Hospital where he was admitted March 13. He expects to be abie to return to his home again soon.

Jessie Winters of Eglon returned to her home Friday night after having been a patient last week in the WVU Medical Center.

Mrs. Jenny Garrett has returned to her home in Eglon from Garrett County Memorial Hospital where she had been a patient for the past week.

Mrs. Lucille Arnold of Eglon, remains a patient in Garrett County Memorial at this time.

Charles and Peggy Mathes of Sutton moved recently to Eglon where they are occupying the former Shipe home presently owned by Russel Feather. Their two children remain in Sutton at this time. Charles was a patient in Garrett County Memorial Hospital last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kight of Bruceton Mills and Mr. and Mrs. Opie Stables of Rich Creek, Va., were Sunday afternoon visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Armand Heckert in Eglon.

Kirk and Anita Lantz and their three sons, Brian, Jeremy and Benjamin, of Brookside were weekend visitors in the Baltimore vicinity with her sisters, Twila Wotring, Marilyn Bachman and daughters, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hinche and sons.

Bruce and Mary Rembold and son, Shawn, of Eglon visited this weekend in Pittsburgh with his parents, Bob and Eileen Rembold.

Wade and Maxine Hauser returned Saturday from a three-week visit with their daughter and son-in-law, Mary and Lester Kelly in Eastover, S.C. They were met and returned home by another daughter and son-in-law, Dean and Scott Sisler, of Aurora.

Donetta Nice of Amboy, left for San Diego, Calif., to accompany her sister, Tamara Fauber, to Aurora. They will return this week.

EAT ICE CREAM IN THIS WEATHER? — Eating ice cream may not have been the first treat you would have thought of last week during the spell of winter weather on the mountaintop, but perhaps the fact that Maryland citizens were preparing to celebrate the state's 350th birthday Sunday would have made it a little easier to swallow. Linda Swearengen, left, manager of the Oakland High's store, and employee Donna Stone, entice customers with a new ice cream developed especially for Maryland's 350th anniversary celebration this year. The ice cream, called Chesapeake Wild Berry Ripple, was invented by Dr. Joseph Mattick, professor of dairy science at the University of Maryland at College Park, and is a blend of blackberries, blueberries and raspberries rippled through a French vanilla base. Stores which have agreed to sell the special 350th flavor include High's, Safeway, Giant and 7-Eleven. According to The Republican's reporter, who investigated this scoop, the ice cream is "really good!"

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Oakland Board of Zoning Appeals will conduct a public hearing on April 18, 1984, at 7:00 p.m. in the Town Council meeting room. The Board will review an application made by Mr. Thomas E. Doyle for a Variance from the terms of the Zoning Ordinance as it would affect the minimum land area required for converting the first floor of a storage garage into four one-bedroom apartment units. The conversion would make a total of nine apartment units in the building. The property is located in the ninth block of High Street (Zoned TR).

John E. Nelson
Zoning Administrator

PUBLIC NOTICE

In accordance with the regulations of the Maryland Agricultural Land Preservation Program, the County Commissioners will hold a public hearing beginning at 2:00 p.m., Tuesday, April 10 in the Commissioners' meeting room at the Courthouse. The purpose of the hearing is to consider the Petition (No. 19) filed by Mr. Virgil Jones, et al, for establishing a 273-acre District comprised of their farm adjoining U.S. 219 at Sunyside and the Petition (No. 20) filed by Mr. and Mrs. Harvey G. Kolb for establishing a 108-acre District comprised of their farm on George Road near Accident.

By Order of the Board

MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Grace Resh, who passed away March 30, 1971. Even death has a wonderful mission, though it robs us of ones we love, it draws us from our earthly homes, to long for the meeting above. No matter how great our despair, Heaven seems nearer and brighter to know we have loved ones up there, beyond the gate our loved one finds happiness and rest, and there is comfort in the thought that a loving God knows best.

The Deep Creek Watershed Board of Zoning Appeals will conduct a public hearing on April 12, 1984, at 7:30 p.m. in the Old Grand Jury Room (Third Floor, Courthouse, Oakland). The Board will review applications on the following cases:

1) Docket SE-120 and VR-84: an application made by Mr. Harland E. Beckman for Special Exception permits to allow the establishment of a mobile home park and a commercial campground on his property located off White Oak Drive on Beckman's Peninsula. Mr. Beckman is also requesting a Variance to allow the development of the mobile home park at a density higher than the one unit per acre standard prescribed in the Ordinance. Specifically, Mr. Beckman wishes to develop 31 mobile home spaces within the mobile home park containing a total land area of approximately 17 acres (Zoned LR).

2) Docket VR-85: an application made by Mr. James Railey, Jr., for Variances from the terms of the Zoning Ordinance as it affects the rear and side yard set-back requirements for single-family residences. Specifically Mr. Railey wishes to construct a residence on each of his two lots which would extend to within 15 feet of the Penelec line instead of the required 40 feet. In addition, the residence proposed to be constructed on the northern lot would extend to within 5 feet of the side line instead of the required 15 feet. The property is located in the McComas Beach Subdivision on Red Run Cove (Zoned LR).

DOYLE BUILDERS
General Contractors
Residential homes, commercial construction, additions and remodeling.

Now's the time to plan on a home for this year. We are builders of quality homes and businesses. We plan energy savings into the original design.

Buying a home from someone? Shouldn't it be inspected as you would have a car mechanic inspect your car? We do inspections of homes prior to purchase for banks, private parties and businesses.

This is going to be a great year for building, so let's get your plans, or ours to the bank and get going while the weather is unstable.

We are a turnkey contractor—we take it from the plans to the final grade and present you with a key. We thank all of our homebuyers for their patronage and we were happy to have a part in their realization of the American dream.

Auto Accident Monday Involves Town Snowplow

Oakland Police Department officials investigated an auto mishap which occurred Monday morning at approximately 2 a.m. involving a snowplow owned by the Town of Oakland.

According to police reports, the plow, being driven by Willie Thomas, backed into a utility pole at the corner of Fourth and Poplar Streets. The pole was broken and wires downed. Potomac Edison personnel have indicated that the pole will have to be replaced.

Sgt. Roger Lewis investigated the incident and no charges were made.

Heralds Of Hope To Hold Dinner In Grantsville

Heralds of Hope, Inc., an international radio and literature ministry proclaiming the Gospel, will hold its annual dinner on Thursday, April 5, at 7 p.m. Dr. and Mrs. J. Otis Yoder, their board of directors, and their team are inviting all interested persons to the Grantsville fire hall on that evening for a dinner and program. The theme of the evening will be the question. "Has God Cast Away His People?"

Slides of the Holy Land, a lecture and Israeli music will highlight the program which Dr. Yoder has prepared.

This dinner is the 13th of 18 which Heralds of Hope has planned this spring in eight different states. There is no charge for the meal, but tax-deductible gifts and a freewill offering to the ministries of Heralds of Hope will be received. Reservations are requested and may be made through April 1 by calling Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brenneman at 895-5660.

Dr. Yoder can be heard over WFRB, Frostburg, each Sunday afternoon at 2:30 in his "Voice of Hope" program.

GNB Notes 50th Anniversary At Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Garrett National Bank was held on Thursday, March 15, at the main banking office in Oakland.

The year 1983 marked the official 50th anniversary of Garrett National Bank and a brief summary of the past 50 years was presented. It was noted in this review that the bank had grown 136 times its size of 50 years ago and has grown by 816% in the last 20 years.

The progress of the bank and a review of its functional activities during 1983, as outlined in the Annual Report, was presented by George W. Evans and David W. Cathell. It was noted in this report that the past year was one of "excellent growth and profitability" for the bank, especially in the loan portfolio. Total loan growth for 1983 exceeded $10 million which represented an increase of 25% over 1982 figures. Results of the major renovation at the main office were also reviewed.

The shareholders voted to reelect the following directors to serve until the next annual shareholders meeting: Milford E. Beckman, president, The Garrett National Bank; Carl DelSignore, president, Buffalo Coal Co., Inc.; Richard S. Devlin, president, Devlin, Inc.; James H. Feaster, Jr., M.D.; Thomas J. Johnson, Jr., director, Rosedale Coal Company, Inc.; Thomas D. Jones, director, Garrett County Economic Development Department; Thomas D. Kight, president, Kight's Insurance, Inc.; Max A. Messenger, president, Daugherty Coal Co., Inc. and vice president, Wood Products, Inc.; Arthur Naylor, president, A.D. Naylor & Co., Inc.; W. Dwight Stover, president, Stover and Sherbin, Chartered (Attorneys-at-Law).

At the organizational meeting, following the Annual Shareholders' meeting, the following officers were elected to serve for the coming year: James H. Feaster, Jr., M.D., chairman of the Board; Milford E. Beckman, president; Dale E. Rodeheaver, senior vice president; Janey L. Hanline, vice president & cashier; David W. Cathell, vice president; George W. Evans, vice president; David M. Nordeck, vice president; Sandra P. Winters, vice president; Michael J. Longyear, trust officer; James V. Ashby, assistant vice president and manager Oakland Branch; David A. Davis, assistant vice president; Francis L. Martin, assistant vice president; Mary Lou Rohrbaugh, assistant vice president; Richard A. Rinard, assistant vice president and manager Bloomington Branch; Lawrence C. Elliott, assistant vice president and manager Kitzmiller Branch; C. William Frye, assistant vice president and manager LaVale Branch; James R. Moore, assistant vice president and manager Mountain Lake Park Branch; Daniel R. Paugh, auditor; and Steven C. Hile, assistant auditor.

Amerson Given Lengthy Sentence By Judge Thayer

A 29-year-old Fort Wayne, Ind., man, who was the subject of a local intensive manhunt last fall, was sentenced to 27 years in the Maryland Department of Corrections for crimes perpetrated during the three days he remained at large.

Samuel Alexander Amerson, Jr., was given the sentence by Judge Fred A. Thayer during Wednesday afternoon's Garrett County Circuit Court proceedings. He had entered a plea of guilty on January 19 to the charges of auto theft and to the burglary counts involving three local residences.

He was paroled on October 7, 1983, from the Westville Correction Institute near Fort Wayne, stole the vehicle, eventually crossed into Garrett County, was involved in a hit-and-run accident in Friendsville, abandoned the stolen car and during the course of three days, broke into seven Deep Creek Lake area homes.

Law enforcement agencies involved in the search included the Maryland State Police, McHenry and LaVale detacnments, the Garrett County Sheriff's Department, the Allegany County K-9 Unit, Department of Natural Resources personnel and local park and forest service personnel.

Amerson received two years for the auto theft charge; ten years for a burglary involving the Richard Cosner residence; five years for a burglary at the Donald J. Mitchell residence; and ten years for the burglary of the John Ray Smith residence. The sentences are to run consecutively.

He is wanted in Indiana on warrants for auto theft and on an extraditable warrant for violation of probation. He has been incarcerated in the Garrett County Jail since November 3 when he was apprehended. A Garrett County Sheriff's Department spokesman reported that Amerson will be transferred to the correction facility within the next week.

PREPARING TO DEPART earlier this morning for the 1984 Winter Guard International Olympics in Dayton, Ohio, are several members of the Southern High School Belles. The national competition is slated for this weekend and will feature competition by approximately 30 guard units from across the United States and Canada. See more information on page 5.

Eight Teams Vie In Annual Feud, Scout Troop Wins

Saturday night at Southern High School was the scene of the second annual Community Feud, sponsored by the Junior Woman's Civic Club. Eight organizations including the Southern Garrett Rescue Squad, Oakland Volunteer Fire Department, members of the Southern Band, the Oakland Rotary, adult leaders of Boy Scout Pack 31, the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions Club, Oakland Women's Civic Club, and the Southern Garrett Athletic Association, participated in the games for their chosen charities.

The winners of the first four rounds were Southern Rescue, the Rotary, the Scouts, and the Women's Civic Club.

During the intermission the host, Rob Michael, introduced two young women who JWCC sponsors in local contests: Miss Garrett County, Nancy Brokemarkle, and Miss Charm, Kimberly Grimm.

In the semi-final round the Rotary defeated Southern Rescue, and the Scouts topped the Oakland Women's Civic Club.

The overall winners of approximately $300 were the Scouts. They reported that they will put the money toward a new summer camp project.

The winners of the two $25 prizes picked from the lollipop tree were Southern Rescue and the Southern Garrett Athletic Association. The Rotary won $25 for having the single highest score for one game.

The top prize money came from the intake at the door and the concession's money.

April 9 Is Last Day To Register Before Primary

Monday, April 9, is the final day Maryland residents may register to vote in the May primary election, according to Fred Sanders, election clerk registrar.

Maryland law stipulates that only voters who affiliate with a political party may vote in a primary election. All voters can participate in the general election, slated this year for November 6.

Any person who will be 18 years of age by November 6 may register to vote at the election office on the lower level of the Garrett County Courthouse.

NEITHER THE HATFIELDS nor the McCoys won the second annual Community Feud in Oakland Saturday evening at Southern High School, sponsored by the Junior Woman's Civic Club. The most proficient feuders proved to be none other than the leaders of Boy Scout Troop No. 31, who were undefeated in the eight-team competition. Pictured left to right are team members Karen Spiker, Sonny Browning, Dee Browning, JWCC Feud chairman, Glenda Newcomb, and scout leaders Lorraine Gnegy and Paul Wampler.

Cable Proposals Hearing Draws 40

A second public hearing on Cablentertainment's proposal to drop two channels, add two channels, and a rate increase of $2 monthly attracted approximately 40 persons from Mt. Lake Park and Loch Lynn last Thursday evening.

William Randles, vice president of the West Virginia based corporation, and Bob Harper, regional manager, conducted the session, which included programs from the various channels they propose to add, and also gave a financial report for their firm.

Cable subscribers may select two of the following channels to be added: ESPN, 24-hour sports; Nickelodeon, top-quality children's programs; PTL, religious programs, CNN, 24-hour news; and MTV, 24-hour music station.

Opinion cards will be enclosed with the next month's bills so subscribers can select the programs they would like.

If two channels are to be added, two present channels will be deleted: either WJAC channel 6 or WDTV channel 5; and WPXI channel 11 or WTRF channel 7.

Both towns were well represented by their mayors and councils. Several persons voiced complaints about the quality of service they are receiving, and four or five spoke against the rate increase, but the majority of those attending did not voice any opinion, according to Mt. Lake Park Mayor Russell Alexander.

Goodwill Resident Celebrates 100th

Elmira Frazee celebrated her 100th birthday on April 2 at the Goodwill Mennonite Home in Grantsville. Friends and members of her family joined in the party which was given in her honor by her son, Earl, also pictured above.

Mrs. Frazee, known to her friends as Maude, was born April 2, 1884, in Addison, Pa., a daughter of Urias and Sarah Catherine Ringer. She was reared a farmer's daughter and in 1904 married William Scott Frazee.

The couple resided briefly in Unamis, Pa., and then bought a farm near Accident, where they raised their two children. Earl still resides at the farm and their daughter, Iva, is deceased.

William and Elmira were married for 64 years until they were separated by his death in 1968.

Other descendants of Mrs. Frazee include nine grandchildren, 24 great-grandchildren and 13 great-great-grandchildren. Mrs. Mahlon (Alice) Brown, McHenry, is her only living sister. Deceased siblings include Albert, Earle, Bessie and Effie.

According to a family spokesman, Mrs. Frazee has led "a busy and rewarding life." She was always active in church work and community programs. She claims that good health and hard work are the secrets to maintaining long life.

Historical Trust Schedules Public Meeting At GCC

Staff members from the Maryland Historical Trust in Annapolis will conduct a discussion on preservation monies available from the Trust at an informational meeting on Wednesday, April 11, in McHenry. The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Learning Center (LC 164) at the Community College and is open to the public.

The Maryland Historical Trust, an agency of the Department of Economic and Community Development, was created in 1961 to carry out the State's responsibility of preserving the best of the past, encouraging others to do so, and promoting interest in and study of archaeological and architectural heritage.

In an effort to meet its responsibilities, the Trust, through its Technical Preservation Services Division, administers a number of grant and loan programs which may be of interest to residents of Garrett County, according to Charity V. Davidson, the Project Administrator of that Division, who will discuss the available programs and eligibility criteria necessary to receive the funds.

This meeting is the first of three that will be held in Garrett County over the next several months to explain the

Four County Students Receive Honors AT FSC

Four of the 30 students at Frostburg State College selected for departmental honors this year are from Garrett County, according to Dr. Kenneth Jablon, vice president for academic affairs. The students were recognized Wednesday afternoon at FSC's annual Honors Convocation for their academic achievements and contributions to the college, Jablon said.

Among the honorees are: David A. Eberly, son of Frank and Jean Eberly, both of Oakland, political science; Judi C. Herring, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Herring, Crellin, biology; Kathryn L. Sincell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Sincell, Mt. Lake Park, music; and Christina L. Teets, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Teets, Swanton, foreign languages and literature/French. All four are graduates of Southern High School.

The speaker for the Convocation was Dr. Geoffrey Marshall, deputy chairman of the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Wholesalers File Suit Against Liquor Board

Two state liquor wholesalers have filed suit in Garrett County Circuit Court asking an injunction against the Garrett County Liquor Control Board. The injunction would prevent the liquor board from gaining access to records on liquor transactions with local business places.

The suit was filed April 3 by Quality Brands, Inc. and McCarthy-Hicks, Inc. wholesalers which serve this county.

A hearing will be held April 13 at 1:30 p.m. in Oakland, according to Joseph Wolf, administrative officer for the liquor control board. David Shaffer will represent the liquor board. Jerome Markoff is the attorney for the wholesalers.

The suit stems from letters written by the liquor control board to wholesalers who service this county, asking that the board be allowed to see accounts. All but the above two have been cooperating with the board, according to Wolf. The liquor board began in February to investigate the records in order to verify that Special Class D license holders are paying their fair share of the 10 percent surcharge.

Development Corp. Hears Status Of Industrial Park

Tom Jones, executive director of the Garrett County Development Corporation, updated the group on plans for the Southern Garrett County Industrial park at a meeting Tuesday. He informed them that two firms are definitely committed to locating in the park, and that another company has expressed a future interest in a 12-acre plot at the site.

He stated that Potomac Engineering and Surveying is proceeding with engineering work at the industrial park site, and has completed aerial and perimeter surveys of the site.

One Kitzmiller Water System Bid $340,281 Over Engineer's Estimate

The lone bid for the Kitzmiller Water project contract for the treatment plant came in considerably over the amount estimated by the project engineer. The discrepancy was discovered Monday during bid openings conducted by the Sanitary Commission.

The engineering firm of Frederick Ward and Associates had estimated the cost for the treatment plant and transmission main at $184,000, while the only bidder, H.J. Schneider Construction, bid the project at $524,281.

The Frederick Ward firm was replaced as project engineer with the firm of Greenhorne and O'Mara at the March 20 meeting of the Garrett County Sanitary Commission.

Now that the commission is discussing the dilemma of funding for the project since the overrun brings total cost of the project to $1,047,748.76. Funds committed amount to $732,600.

The commission had recently requested an additional $178,000 for Kitzmiller through the Water Supply Financing Program administered by the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene's Office of Environmental Programs. The Kitzmiller project is ranked second highest in priority, right after Shallmar, and Monday evening, at a meeting in Cumberland to discuss priority rankings for the area projects, Sanitary District Administrator Wendell Beitzel raised the request to a total of $315,200.

This would mean funding would still be short by $137,200.

The sanitary district will also be pursuing funding from state and Farmers Home Administration sources in attempts to decrease the cost discrepancy.

The district has also requested the new engineer to review plans and specifications for the treatment facility in an attempt to determine ways to reduce project costs.

As Beitzel pointed out after the bid opening, the possibility of cost overruns was not totally unforeseen, which is why the sanitary commission had already requested additional funding from the state. As Beitzel put it, the commission had several comments on the subject "but none suitable for printing."

Other Costs Okay

Four contractors had bid on contract one, for the distribution system, with the apparent low bidder Frank Arnold Contractors at $417,717.76. There were three bidders for contract two, construction of a 140,000 gallon storage tank, with H.J. Schneider the apparent low bidder with $105,750.

Both the above were within the funding projections.

Some Good News

Through record research, the sanitary commission and its attorney, Gorman (Mike) Getty III have determined that the property needed for the treat-

Plans For County Roads Heard By Commissioners

Garrett County Roads Department representatives Kenneth Metheny and Earl Foster met with the Board of County Commissioners Tuesday to discuss the department's plans for road improvements and equipment purchases.

Metheny presented the commissioners with a list of roads being considered for conversion from dirt to hardtop, and from hardtop to bituminous concrete surfacing. He explained that the list is tentative, and that final determination of which roads receive treatment will depend on how many new trucks the county decides to purchase. He stated that tentative budgets are being prepared based on the purchase of 20, 10, and no trucks.

He added that replacement of trucks, while expensive, will significantly reduce maintenance expenses, as many trucks currently in operation are old and costly to keep on the road.

Road improvements also reduce operating expenses, according to Metheny. Dirt roads cost more in manpower and equipment expenses than surfaced roads, he said.

Metheny pointed out that personnel expenditures must be taken into consideration in determining how much money is available for road improvements, and that the level of personnel expenditures cannot be determined at this time.

The commissioners agreed to provide basic budget guidelines to the roads department by the end of next week, after considering the state budget, which was approved by the legislature Monday.

Roads to receive surfacing treatment will be determined by an elimination process based on need, amount of traffic, and other factors.

The commissioners unanimously approved Metheny's recommendations regarding the awarding of contracts to provide stone, snow plows, sand, fuel, and liquid asphalt to the roads department. The successful bidders will be notified this week.

Sanitary Commission Hears Request To Expand Gorman Water System

A petition for an expanded Gorman water system, the Deep Creek Sewer project, the Upper Youghiogheny treatment plant rehabilitation and several pending projects were all given attention at the April 3 meeting of the Garrett County Sanitary Commission.

Two citizens, Mrs. Daniel Bosley and Mrs. Walter Skeweris, were present to ask the board to follow up on a petition signed by 37 Gorman area residents who want to have the water line extended to their homes. The petitioners live along Route 50 between Gorman and Table Rock and Route 560 to King Wildesen Road.

The commission members pointed out that funding had previously been obtained for phases II and III but because of public opposition at that time, plans were abandoned. The group also pointed out that it was unlikely that funding could be obtained in the amounts previously committed.

Interest rates are now much higher than when the project began, and the Appalachian Regional Commission is no longer active in funding projects of this type.

Also, the commission doubts it would be prudent to extend the system without developing an additional water source. Water is presently obtained from the Mt. Top Public Service District at Gormania.

BRAILLE WORK CENTER DEDICATED — Dedication ceremonies were held Sunday afternoon at Zion Lutheran Church, Accident, marking the beginning of Lutheran Braille Work Center No. 173. The purpose of the center, which will be staffed by volunteer teams from the five sponsoring Lutheran parishes, is to produce braille copies of the Gospel for missionary work all over the world. The first project of the group will be producing braille copies of the Gospel of John in the Swahili language for the people of East Africa. The idea of such a project was brought to the Accident-Friendsville area Inter-Lutheran Fellowship by Carl and Theresa Haentfling, who visited a braille center in Tulsa, Okla. In the photo, left to right, front row, are Joann Sander, representative of Lutheran Braille Workers, Inc.; Mr. and Mrs. Haentfling, and Rev. Paul Kreyling, executive director of Mission Services, Eastern District, Lutheran Church. In the second row, same order, are Pastor William E. Carlson, Accident Lutheran Parish; Pastor William Willson, St. John's, Cove; and Pastor Fred Illick, Zion Lutheran. The Lutheran Braille Workers reach out to blind and visually impaired persons in over 100 countries, free of charge.

Annual Garrett County Health Fair Scheduled

"Find Freedom in Fitness" is the theme of Garrett County's fourth annual Health Fair, set for Saturday, May 5, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Garrett County residents are encouraged to come to the remodeled Garrett County Health Department at 253 North Fourth Street in Oakland for free screening tests and informational displays.

Statewide sponsors of the fair are Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Maryland, WBAL Television, the American Red Cross, WLIF FM-102, and the National Health Screening Council for Volunteer Organizations. Local health professionals, Garrett County Memorial Hospital, the Garrett County Health Department, local chapters of national health organizations, Garrett County Rescue Squads and Garrett County Hospice are all volunteering their skills.

Health Fair participants will have free screening tests of their height, weight, blood pressure, glaucoma, hearing, vision, posture, and oral cancer. Status of their physical therapy skills and cardiac pulmonary abilities will also be tested. Blood tests for the level of iron in one's blood (hematocrit) and blood sugar are free.

Participants may elect to pay $8 for a test that screens 22 items in the blood that relate to liver-function, kindey-function, cholesterol, triglycerides, glucose and electrolytes. People planning to take this test should fast at least 12 hours before and drink only water, coffee, and plain tea during the period.

Another aspect of Garrett County's Health Fair will be the exhibit of information on how participants can free themselves from stress, extra weight, drugs, alcohol, heart problems, and poor eating habits. This aspect will include CPR demonstration, contemporary films on conquering fear, drugs, and alcohol, a puppet show on nutrition, and a variety of other presentations.

Persons may contact Rebecca Parks, R.N., or Liz Rees Gilbert at 334-8111 or 895-5050 for more information.

Criss Kepple To Attend National 4-H Conference

Criss Kepple, Oakland, has been named as one of five Maryland 4-H members to attend the National 4-H Conference from April 7-13 at the National 4-H Center, Bethesda.

Miss Kepple, a nine-year 4-H member, was selected following interviews held at the Maryland State Teen Conference last June. Selection to attend National 4-H conference is one of the highest 4-H Honors that a member can receive.

The conference involves youth and adult representatives from all 50 states. Its purpose is to involve 4-H members and adults in evaluating and developing 4-H programs at the national level and to strengthen 4-H public relations efforts.

During the week delegates will be participating in one of 15 in-depth consulting groups on current topics of interest to 4-H, attending assemblies spending a day on Capitol Hill plus social activities of tours of D.C., attending theatre, and dance at one of the embassies.

A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kepple, Criss is currently serving as president of the Country Kids 4-H Club. During her nine years of membership her main projects were Horse and Pony, Jr. Leadership, Clothing, Dairy Goats and Public Speaking. In 1983 she was named State Record Book Winner in the 4-H Horse and Pony Project and represented Maryland at National Club Congress where she was named one of six National alternates in the 4-H Horse program.

Miss Kepple also serves as one of two Garrett representatives to the State 4-H Teen Council.

Bloomington Sewer Project May Get Additional Funding

The Bloomington sewer project, with new funding avenues opening which may reduce the local cost of $64,600, was a topic of considerable discussion at the April 3 meeting of the Garrett County Sanitary Commission.

State health department officials recently advised the commission that with additional grant monies in the amount of $110,500 from the Hazards Abatement program, the local cost could be considerably reduced. This would mean that the average annual user cost will be $163.50 including operating and maintenance costs. Hook up costs will be $250 per home, which would mean that $32,500 would be recovered through hook-up fees and the remaining $32,500 would be recovered in the monthly charges.

The sanitary district will be sending letters to Bloomington residents advising them of the current status of the project and providing an opportunity for comment.

Wendell Beitzel, sanitary district administrator, who said that the project will probably proceed with design soon, stated that "This is probably better funding for Bloomington than any project in the state could obtain. The various funding sources will provide all but approximately five percent of the total cost."

Total project cost is estimated to be $1,365,300 with the Environmental Protection Agency to provide $987,900 and the state to provide $162,400. The additional $110,500 would bring the local costs down to the nearly five percent local cost share.

Browning's Inc. Applies For Tree Takedown Permit

Browning's Inc. has applied to the regional office of the Department of Natural Resources for a permit to remove the line of trees bordering Route 135 and the Mid-Towns Shopping Plaza.

The trees are the property of the State Highway Administration but DNR has legal jurisdiction over care and takedown plans for the trees.

Bill McKee, district landscape manager for the State Highway Administration, explained that the permit was originally denied by regional forester, George Gilmore, of the Department of Natural Resources, but that the decision was overruled by the director of Maryland Forest and Parks Service, Donald MacLauchlan.

Del. George Edwards said that he spoke with McLauchlan in support of the Browning's request because the tree removal would be necessary when Rt. 219 is expanded to four lanes at a future date. He said that removal of the trees by Browning's Inc. now would save the state money in the future.

According to Gilmore, the trees would be removed to improve visibility of the shopping center from Route 135. Browning's Inc. owns the Mid-Town Plaza.

Bill McKee stated that the trees would have to be removed because they would be in the way of future road construction, and that Browning's Inc. would have to plant 24 oak trees further back from the highway that would not interfere with future construction plans.

About 40 trees are involved, according to McKee.

Gilmore stated that Browning's Inc. must file a relandscaping plan by Thursday. When the plan is received, DNR will consider the proposal and will make a final decision within 10 days.

Cost Of Gas To Be Reduced

A reduction in the cost of natural gas that Columbia Gas of Maryland says will save customers about $4.50 a month has been filed with the Maryland Public Service Commission (PSC).

Typically, a Columbia of Maryland residential customer uses an average of 11,000 cubic feet of gas per month over a year's time. The reduction amounts to 41 cents per 1,000 cubic feet (Mcf) of gas used.

The reduction, effective April 4 subject to PSC approval, results from a decline in the company's cost of buying synthetically produced gas for its customers, a spokesman said.

The latest reduction follows a March 6 reduction of about $1.65 a month for a typical residential customer. The March 6 reduction was more than 15 cents per Mcf of gas used.

Group Asks Review Of Judge Leasure Decision On P.J.'s

The 11 residents who filed a suit appealing a decision of the Garrett County Liquor Control Board which will allow P.J.'s Discount Liquors to obtain a Class D liquor license have petitioned Garrett County Circuit Court to review Judge Gary G. Leasure's decision of March 15.

In his decision, Judge Leasure affirmed the Liquor Control Board's decision to grant a license to James R. Browning for P.J.'s.

Through their attorney, Thomas Dabney, the appellants are claiming that Judge Leasure, in his decision, did not address the issue of the liquor board's failure to give written reasons for granting the license.

Dabney is claiming the board is subject to the provisions governing administrative procedure in the Annotated Code of Maryland. The act cited requires that final decisions are to be given in writing and contain all pertinent findings of fact.

Joseph Wolfe, administrative officer for the Liquor Control Board, said Wednesday that the board has never before given written reasons for approval of an application, giving reasons only when an application is denied.

The 11 persons in the original appeal are Elwood and Maxine Jamison, Alice Mirick, Mark Marucci, James M. Glotfelty, James W. Glotfelty, Stephanie Long, Richard and Mary Lou Rohrbaugh, Douglas Railey and Roger Ruff.

Phoenix Awarded Repair Contract For Piney Dam

Phoenix Construction of Cumberland was awarded a $235,415 contract for repairs to be done at the Piney Dam reservoir in Garrett County during action Monday by the Frostburg Mayor and Council.

Involved are repairs to the drainage system and reservoir structure and installation of an inpermeable liner. Frostburg is presently obtaining water from two wells in Garrett County as well as from Piney Dam reservoir.

Frostburg has a three-year permit to allow it too draw well water as a supplement to its water supply when there is an actual or expected water shortage.

The city has experienced dire water shortages and is planning construction of a new Piney Dam. Monday the council distributed a draft "Water Project Information Pamphlet" to inform citizens of the project which will be required to meet anticipated water needs of the year 2020 and beyond.

The repair work will be funded by the U.S. Department of Commerce, Economic Development Administration, 80 percent; with Frostburg to provide the remaining 20 percent.

Phoenix was the lowest of three bidders and city and consulting engineers had agreed their proposal was the most satisfactory.

Roller skating was introduced in the U.S. by James Plimpton in 1863.

P.C.'s Announces Staff Addition

Bill and Judy Mossburg, Fairmont, W.Va., owners of Oakland's P.C.'s 1897 Saloon & Eatery, recently announced the addition of Chef Rod Wishon to their staff.

Wishon formerly was employed at the Elks Lodge and "This Old Farm" in Morgantown, W.Va., before coming to Garrett County.

He is a graduate of the Lowry Cooking School in Denver, Colo., and served with the U.S. Air Force for four years in which time he says, "I cooked for senators, generals and congressmen."

Wishon says his speciality is geared toward seafood or oriental cooking.

He is married and the father of one child. He and his family reside near Deep Creek Lake and he admits that living in Garrett County has required "some adjusting."

The Mossburg couple recently purchased P.C.'s from Paul and Joy Cornish. They assumed ownership on New Year's Eve, and will be moving to the area in the near future.

The establishment is located on Second Street.

Grantsville BPW Receives Charter

The Grantsville Area Business and Professional Women's Organization celebrated its chartering at the Grantsville Holiday Inn Saturday, March 31 with a dinner and program attended by BPW leaders and members from across the state.

Rosalie Tydings, president of the Maryland Federation of BPW Organizations, presented the charter to Ruth DiPaolo, president of the new Grantsville chapter. The Grantsville club joins 34 other local chapters throughout the state, according to Anna Paprocki, state expansion chairman, who spoke to the group about the goals and opportunities that BPW supports.

Officers of the Grantsville chapter were installed by Tydings. They are Ruth DiPaolo, president; Betty Jo Swauger, vice president; Dorothy George, secretary; and Martha Sebold, treasurer.

Leona Beckman, president of the Garrett County BPW, served as master of ceremonies. The Garrett County club sponsored the Grantsville Group in its organizational efforts.

Barbara Flinn, Oakland, past chairman of the State Foundation of BPW Clubs, presented a gavel to the Grantsville chapter on behalf of the sponsoring organization.

Guest speaker, Garrett County Commissioner John Braskey, congratulated the group on receiving its charter and predicted that the new organization will be heard in the business and political world as a force in making the Grantsville area and Garrett County more successful. He cited BPW's opportunity to serve the community by supporting increased educational opportunities for women, participating in public policy making, and promoting equal rights for women.

The Grantsville chapter's 33 charter members were introduced and presented with carnation bouquets by Mildred Wucik, Accident. Wucik is a former president of the Maryland Federation of BPW Organizations.

Representatives from local chapters throughout the state presented the Grantsville chapter with gifts to honor the chartering of the organization. DiPaolo also acknowledged the many local businesses that contributed to the club's charter night.

The program concluded with the BPW Emblem Benediction, sung by Betty Jo Swauger and accompanied by Dorothy George.

Special guests at the charter night included Delegate George Edwards; Commissioner John Braskey, Commissioner Elwood Groves; Grantsville mayor, Fred Holliday; Grantsville Rotary president, William Platter, Grantsville Lions president, Gerald Beachy; and James Winebrenner, Grantsville Civic Organization.

Leininger Named "Most Valuable Student" By Elks

Verne E. Leininger, senior student at Southern High School, was recently named winner in the final judging of the "Most Valuable Student" competition held by the Maryland, Delaware and District of Columbia B.P.O. Elks Association.

Prior to final competition, all students were judged by local and district lodges; by faculty groups from the University of Maryland and Montgomery County Colleges; the Business and Professional Women's Club of Chevy Chase; as well as some selected parents and individual educators.

Leininger will be awarded a $700 scholarship at the Elks annual convention to be held in Frederick in June.

He is also among seven students who have already won $1,100 and will go on to participate in the National Foundation's "Most Valuable Student" competition where he could receive up to $5,000 per year for four years.

Leininger was sponsored by Oakland Lodge #2481. He is the son of Verne H. and Phyllis E. Leininger, Deer Park.

Sturdy Crop Emerging . . .

Criticism of the "youth of today" by the adult community has been going on since the first folks were tossed out of the Garden of Eden. Adults of every age have been convinced that the end of the world is just around the corner because of the insolence, lack of direction, disrespect and waywardness of our young people. Even Plato wrote about this alleged problem in his day, using words that unknowing persons of today would swear were describing youth of the 1980s.

We believe, however, that the youth of today are essentially the same as the youth of yesterday. Attitudes and ideas change, but people basically do not change. According to a recent survey by the National Association of Secondary School Principals, the present youth have more positive, encouraging attitudes.

The survey discovered that 75% of these teenagers reported having no serious family problems and felt free to discuss their concerns with a parent. In 1974, only 50% felt that way and 40% said they would be happier living away from home.

Three quarters of them agree with their parents' views on drug use, while only half agreed in 1974.

Sixty-five percent reported attending church regularly, compared to 25% ten years ago.

Fifty-four percent now plan to attend four-year colleges, compared to about 33% in 1974.

One third now support the concept of a military draft, compared to one fourth ten years ago.

A number of school teachers also report that, within the past two or three years, respect by students has increased.

These are truly encouraging signs for the next few generations of human beings in this country. That transition from childhood to adulthood known as adolescence is an extremely difficult time for most people, and continued criticism and negativism from adults, who really should take a close look at their own lives, does nothing but harm. We are pleased to see that our present young people are so dealing with adolescence and its many pressures. We are convinced that a strong, confident, new crop of adults will be harvested shortly.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

A group of concerned citizens in this area formed the Bloomington Improvement Association, Inc. some time ago and by-laws were drawn up to include water for the town. However, the word sewerage was deleted. Since the founding of the organization, my water rates have gone from the promised minimum of $11 monthly to $22.50 for a family of two, including the recent $3.50 surcharge.

Now the Garrett County Sanitary Commission, in direct contradiction of its original stand to allow the people to vote on whether they want a sewer system, has taken action to proceed. At the third hearing held by the commission, the vote was 100 percent against the system, as was a petition given to the commission. The group has decided to proceed without residents' approval despite their promises to the contrary.

Never have costs for the changeover and hook up to a sewer system been presented.

I feel the Sanitary Commission took action which should be fully confirmed and explained as to accountability and legality, and that the Sanitary Commission and county commissioners should meet with the citizens in Bloomington to defend themselves.

At a recent meeting of the Bloomington Improvement Association, a request for use of engineering maps by the sanitary commission was voted against. Any reproduction or use of such material is in direct conflict with the Association's stand.

Association meetings are 7 p.m. the third Thursday of each month, and all area welcome.

To the Editor:

I'm writing this letter in regard to our prayer amendment that both our Maryland Senators voted against.

It's a terrible shame that our children can't have the right to prayer in their schools or even on their own time in school. How can we even call this a free country?

I hope when we the people go to the voting polls this year we will vote for someone who believes that children have the right to prayer. It's a blessing that we have a President who believes in God and that we need to put God back in this country...and I pray a lot of people feel the same.

I don't think people realize this is supposed to be a free country and in our First Amendment it states:

"Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances."

God Bless
this country

To the Editor:

I am writing to comment on the importance of agriculture. American agriculture is the world's largest commercial industry, with assets exceeding $1 trillion. The agriculture industry employs more than 23 million people—22 percent of America's labor force.

The Farm Bureau is an organization to help farmers. It informs farmers about legislation that concerns them. The Farm Bureau is trying to get another organization started for young farmers. The Young Farmers Organization is designed to help young farmers get started. The group, at the last meeting had Steve Lantz from the Farm Credit Service speak to the group about options open to the farmer through Farm Credit. The talk was very informative to all who attended.

The Farm Bureau is having a Farm City Week. Farm City Week is an opportunity for people from the city to come out to the farm and see where their food is produced. Many people from the city do not know where their food is produced. Garrett County does not have that sort of problem. To celebrate Farm City Week, the Farm Bureau invites a group of handicapped people to visit a farm. It is an educational experience for everyone to enjoy.

Agriculture is still the number one industry and one of which to be proud.

Thank you,
Karen Hamilton

To the Editor:

If Jim Willis is going to continue with his "Trends" he needs to get the facts straight.

Krystle Carrington's name is spelled Krystle not Krystal. Also, Krystle's niece is Sammy Jo not Bobby Jo.

Most important is the reason for Fallon's recurring dizzy spells and headaches. Her lover Peter is not the cause of her dizzy spells and headaches. Fallon and her ex-husband, Jeff, were crossing the parking lot at La Mirage. While crossing the parking lot a drunk driver struck Fallon. The accident caused a concussion, temporary paralysis and a cracked skull. Therefore, the cracked skull is now causing dizzy spells and headaches.

Maybe Jim really ought to start watching "Dynasty" alone so he can get the facts correct . . . Lay off the popcorn too!

My thanks to the folks at WMSG and WXIE radio stations for their community spirit. They took information about a lost dog and put it on the air. The dog's owner and I were both grateful.

It is nice to know that their helpfulness and timeliness are available to Oakland citizens. Thanks again to our community spirited friends on the radio.

To the Editor:

I would like to commend the young men who offered to help my wife change a flat tire for $5.00. Your compassion knows no bounds. Not content with needling her (presumably because she is a woman), you stood by while she competently changed the tire herself. To your credit, you did help loosen one lug that was beyond her strength. Other than that, my contempt for you knows no bounds. You know who you are.

Fortunately, the owner of the Hoyes Store called her husband to assist my wife in tightening the lugs on the tire that she changed. My thanks to you.

If these young men are typical of the product our schools are turning out, then we are in deep trouble as a community and as a nation. Had my wife offered to pay them $5.00 for their assistance, that would have been acceptable. But for them to ask for money before offering any assistance whatever is beyond my lowest contempt.

Sincerely yours,
Robert H. Banks

To the Editor:

I had the occasion to be present at the cheerleading tryouts at Northern High School last week. I was surprised at the outcome.

I would like to know what the judges based their decision on? Being an excheerleader, I thought a cheerleader should be loud, sharp in motions and jump high. Well, it doesn't seem to count anymore. Between the two girls, it was very plain to see that one in particular was by far the better of the two. As a matter of fact, she was better than a few of the others who made it. Yet this girl was not chosen. My sympathy's go out to her. "She was" terrific!

Quite a few others were also shocked too, that this particular girl didn't make it. I think the judges should tell before hand what they will judge on.

Signed concerned

To the Editor:

I would like to voice my opinion on the recent cheerleading tryouts at Northern. I would like to think because it was a school activity that it was conducted fairly. After having seen the outcome, I would have to question it.

It was very plain to see that everyone sitting around me also thought something was wrong. I have to say first that all the girls were good; a few were very good. The one in question was tied with another. When they broke the tie it was very plain that one was louder and a bit sharper than the other, but somehow the other girl won. Now I find out later that the one to lose has been a cheerleader for two years at Northern and was the captain last year also.

Now you tell me if you think things were fair. Most people around me also agreed with me on this. I think a wrong has been done and I feel for this girl who did not make it. It appears that the cards were stacked against her.

Planners Approve Two Agricultural Land Petitions

The Garrett County Planning Commission approved two Agricultural Land Preservation petitions at the commission's monthly meeting Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Jones' petition to establish a 273 acre preservation district on their farm adjoining Route 219 in the Sunnyside area was approved by a unanimous vote.

The petition of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey G. Kolb to establish a 108 acre district on their farm near Accident was also unanimously approved. The Kolb farm adjoins the Clark Kolb property which has already received local approval as a land preservation district.

After receiving local approval, the petitions must be submitted to the state for final approval.

Fran Pope, the planning commission's representative on the Land Reclamation Committee, asked the commission for clarification of her role as representative of the commission on the LRC. The commission voted that Pope could seek guidance from commission members on issues should she desire to do so, but is not required to act on their advice in voting.

Anna McNallie reported on her progress in developing a winter trail plan for the use of snowmobilers and cross country skiers. She informed the commission that the grant to fund the project received final approval from the Maryland Board of Public Works on February 14.

McNallie reported that she is working with state forest planner Mike Gregory to map out a proposed route based on the Meadow Mountain trail which already exists. The Meadow Mountain trail is currently about 30 miles long, but could double or triple if efforts to link it with state lands along Backbone Mountain are successful.

McNallie said that she will contact private property owners to determine if they would be willing to grant easements for the trail if the plan is eventually implemented. She emphasized that it is her job to develop a trail plan, but that any action to implement the plan would be up to private groups or enterprise.

She stated that she hopes to develop a similar plan for a cross country ski trail in Eastern Garrett County, but is concentrating on the snowmobile trail at this time.

Tim Dugan, county planner, noted that legislation was signed by President Reagan approving the Potomac Heritage Scenic Trail, which currently runs along the C&O Canal to Cumberland. Long range plans call for the extension of the trail to the west and north, eventually linking it with the Laurel Highlands Trail at Ohiopyle, Pa. Dugan stated that no federal land acquisition is scheduled for the trail.

Dugan requested that planning commissioners think about possible routes for the trail through Garrett County, and asked for suggestions for a county representative to serve on an advisory board for the trail.

After some discussion, a motion was approved for the commission to go on record in favor of the establishment of a convention center in Garrett County in the vicinity of Deep Creek Lake.

Dugan requested that planning commissioners think about possible routes for the trail through Garrett County, and asked for suggestions for a county representative to serve on an advisory board for the trail.

Park Council Asked For Facts In Wolfe Case

Saying that the present zoning ordinance for Mt. Lake Park is ambiguous and inconsistent, Circuit Court Judge Fred A. Thayer Monday asked the town of Mt. Lake Park to produce findings of fact for its decision to amend the town's zoning ordinance.

He also asked the attorneys to address whether or not the suit heard yesterday is premature in light of actions in two cases previously heard. Judge Thayer then agreed that if arguments presented Monday can persuade him the suit is not premature, then attorneys need not present this case again.

This suit stems from a 1982 request by Laurance Wolfe, owner of El Lobo Restuarant, to expand his building. Wolfe sought and obtained approval from the town for a zoning amendment which will allow restaurant expansion along Route 135, and then requested a special exception for the construction of an addition to his building.

Several citizens of the town protested the restaurant expansion and alleged that the town had not followed proper enactment procedures in an earlier case through their attorney Tom Dabney.

After the zoning amendment was granted Wolfe had been given a special exception upon several conditions, one of which is that he not use access from G Street, a condition Wolfe had appealed.

However, attorneys later agreed in court that the special exception procedure had to be redone. Judge Thayer pointed out again Monday that it is "technically moot" now since there is no present potentiality of expansion without a special exception.

In December, after hearing arguments from attorneys in the Wolfe case, Judge Thayer had remanded the case to the town for further proceedings, specifically on which the town had based its decision to make the zoning amendment.

Monday the town's attorney, Robert Watson, said that he had misinterpreted the judge's order and that he will immediately ask the town officials to convene a meeting on the subject.

Both Watson and attorney Ralph Burnett, representing Wolfe, appeared anxious to wrap up the case but Judge Thayer was adamant that findings of fact must be provided. If the town should decide to reconsider the matter and re-enacts the amendment, then Thayer feels there is no controversy and Wolfe should proceed with seeking a special exception from the town's zoning appeals board.

If, however, the town refuses, Wolfe would then have the right to ask interpretation by the court of the zoning law to see if he could bypass the council in seeking an amendment.

In conclusion, the judge said he would take into consideration anything the attorneys may wish to file in addition to their arguments Monday.

The town's zoning ordinance was approved in October 1973 and was drawn up by the consulting firm of Urban Research and Development Corporation through Housing and Urban Development fundings channeled to the county. That firm also wrote the ordinances for Deep Creek Lake, with the same wording that the judge feels is ambiguous.

At the March council meeting for Mt. Lake Park, the town officials discussed seeking the aid of Intergovernmental Services at the University of Maryland to update the town's ordinance and comprehensive plan, although no final decision was made.

For a lot of us, April is a very traumatic month, filled with apprehension and dread as we prostrate ourselves before our certified public accountants.

Each year, I rummage through a year's worth of "important" papers and gather my deductible receipts. These I load into a cardboard box and then I carry them to my C.P.A. firm where I always arrive with the feeling of a lamb being led to slaughter.

My accountant is an imposing man with the temperament of a live grenade. He lives in a fortressed office surrounded by ribbons of calculator tape. He intersplices expletives toward my stupidity with references to Keoghs and IRAs and a whole bunch of other people I've never met. And meanwhile, his partners, Dewey, Gippum and Howe, pace the corridors looking for loopholes.

My accountant is not a nice man. He is probably not the sort one would want to expose children to. And I suspect he pulls the wings off butterflies and is mean to little old ladies. But he saves me money. (Last year, he saved me so much money that I got a refund, which was almost enough to pay his fee.)

"You again!" he snarled as he entered his office and slammed the door. I cowered in my chair.

"Yes sir . . . just me and my taxes, which should be a lot easier than last year and (choke), I (sob) . . . You aren't going to yell at me and be nasty again this year, are you?"

"Quit your blubbering and sit up straight," he roared. "What in taxation is this?" he asked, holding one of my "deductions."

"That, sir, is a photograph of my new typewriter and camera equipment, which should be deductible because they are work-related. I lost the cancelled checks and the original receipts, so I took a photo of them as proof of purchase."

"How ingenious," he sneered at me. "We'll staple it to your return and give the feds a chuckle."

He flipped through my stack of evidence, shaking his head and muttering endearments such as "idiot," "mental midget," and "brain damaged."

"Is there any reasonable explanation, Mr. Willis, why 'entertainment expenses' exceed gross income by several thousand dollars?" he thundered.

"Ahhh . . . I was very depressed this past year," I lamely explained, "You have to understand - we writers are lonely, sensitive, fun-loving people. We -"

"DUCK DROPPINGS!" he slammed his fist on the desk as I dissolved in a flood of tears.

"I'm sorry," I stammered. "I'm so ashamed. What do you want from me?" I sobbed.

"Bring me the broomstick of the Wicked Witch of the East!" he shrieked.

"Huh?" I was stunned.

"It's a joke son. Laugh. Lighten up. Leave all this with me and I'll call you tomorrow with the bad news.

Visibly shaken, I crawled across the parking lot, into my car and I drove home with white knuckles. The jangle of the telephone greeted me upon my return and delayed a nervous breakdown. It was a friend, himself in a state of panic, calling to tell me that his wife is expecting twins.

"Why, that's wonderful!" I congratulated him.

"Wonderful?" he gasped. "Think of the diapers."

"No," I reassured him, "think of the deductions!"

Even if the commission should decide to pursue the extensions and seek funding, it would be several years before construction could begin.

The group was advised to contact their political representatives for their support, and also said that the board will not pursue the project unless the commissioners are advised and are in agreement. A meeting with the commissioners may take place as early as today, Wendell Beitzel, sanitary district administrator, advised after the meeting.

A problem with a phase converter led to a meeting between Uwchland Contractors, which built the water system, and an Arco representative from the manufacturer. The commission has advised the project engineer that it will take whatever measures are necessary to get the system operating properly and will look to the engineer and contractor for the cost.

Deep Creek 79 Percent Complete

Henry Doyle and Jeff Gilbert, Greenhorne and O'Mara, presented a progress and engineering report on lake sewerage system. According to Beitzel, the system is now 79 percent complete and $10,868,349.88 has been expended at this point. Some $13 million is earmarked for the first phase of the project.

The commission has received a letter from Wallace Beaulieu, district engineer for the State Highway Administration, saying that the state will not fund sewer lines across the planned new Route 219 bridge at the lake. The Environmental Protection Agency has provided funding for a line cross the present bridge but will not fund a line once the new structure is completed. The sanitary commission is planning to pursue the matter with the state, Beitzel noted.

Plans and specifications are complete for the expanded system (contracts 11 and 12) and the commission is awaiting construction permit approval from the state health department so that the project can be bid within the next few weeks.

The expanded system will take in Harvey's and Beckman's peninsulas, Glendale peninsula, State Park Road, Gravely Run Road, and Paradise Point.

A grant increase for the expanded system has been approved, giving $3,924,450 for construction of the system. The commission is expecting notification from EPA of their approval in the next few months.

The commission plans to narrow the applications for waste water plant operator to five next week. Some 22 applications have been received from qualified persons.

Upper Yough Rehabilitation

The district still has not received word from Loch Lynn on whether the town plans to participate in obtaining funds for the Upper Youghiogheny rehabilitation work.

The sanitary commission decided Tuesday to proceed with design of the work including sewer lines in Mt. Lake Park, Loch Lynn and Broad Ford.

Public hearings will be scheduled soon on the completed Upper Yough facility plan for Deer Park, Crellin, Mt., Lake Park, and Loch Lynn to allow public comment.

Agricultural Rate

The commission discussed the possibilty of an agricultural rate for some users of the Mt. Lake water system but deferred establishing a rate until all springs to be included in the system have been tied in. The system has experienced two water shortages and the commission does not want to be locked into an agricultural rate while there may be water shortages.

Sign Promissory Notes

The commission signed promissory notes and resolutions to proceed with the Bloomington, Kitzmiller and Gorman sewerage systems and the Upper Yough rehabilitation project.

The next commission meeting will be April 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the old grand jury room of the courthouse.

Beckman, Railey Zoning Requests Set April 12

Continuance of a hearing on a request by Harland Beckman for a mobile home park on Beckman's Peninsula and an application for variances from yard set-back requirements for James Railey, Jr. will be on the agenda for the April 12 meeting of the Deep Creek Watershed Board of Zoning Appeals.

The hearing will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the old Grand Jury Room on the third floor of the Courthouse.

Beckman, who was not present for the first hearing March 8, is seeking special exception permits to allow a mobile home park of 31 spaces on a 17-acre tract. He is also asking a variance from the zoning requirement of one unit per acre.

James Railey, Jr. is seeking variances from the zoning laws affecting rear and side yard set-back requirements for single-family residences. Railey wishes to constuct a residence on each of two lots, with the homes to extend to within 15 feet of the Penelec line instead of the required 40 feet.

The property owner also proposes to extend the residence on the northern lot to within five feet of the side line instead of the required 15 feet.

That property is located in a lake residential zone on Red Run Cove.

Industrial Park

Jones described his recent trip to Pittsburgh with a group of western Maryland development officials. The group visited 19 corporations in the Pittsburgh area in an effort to attract business expansions to western Maryland.

Jones commented that the trip had given him some valuable insights into the city's economic climate, but that most of the companies visited were not moving to expand their operations other than by the purchase of existing businesses. He added that simular trips in the future should be designed to include businesses more suited to possible expansion in Garrett County.

Jones reported that the bond bill for the proposed western Maryland conference center has been reduced from the original amount of 10 million dollars to one-quarter million dollars. The bond bill was designed to assist in creating a conference center in western Maryland.

Tom Thayer asked for clarification of Jones' role as spokesman for the Development Corporation in relation to the county commissioners' recent stand against state support for a conference center on state land that would be in direct competition with a private enterprise's plans for a simular facility in Garrett County.

Jones explained that he acted in his role as county government's monitor of the governor's Conference Center Study Commission, rather than as executive director of the Development Corporation in his statements regarding the proposed conference center.

Jones reviewed the status of industrial buildings available for sale or leasing in the county, and described his efforts to find tenants for the buildings. He said that he has recently been focusing on contacting meat processing firms for possible relocation into the Sterling Processing building.

The group was unable to conduct its scheduled election of officers or vote on new members due to the lack of a quorum. Members agreed that it is imperative to get inactive members of the group to attend the next meeting so that amendments to the bylaws can be acted on, and the future role of the corporation can be decided. The members agreed to schedule a dinner meeting for May 2.

HEADED FOR THE OLYMPICS is the Southern Belles Winterguard team of Southern High School. The team is departing this morning for Winterguard National Competition to be held April 5-8 in the University of Dayton arena, Dayton, Ohio. The Belles will be competing in the High School Class along with approximately 30 other guards from across the United States and Canada. The Belles are currently the 1984 High School champions of the Mid-Atlantic WGI. They placed second in the High School Mid-Eastern WGI Regional recently held in New Philadelphia, Ohio, and placed first in open class competition held this past week in Apollo, Pa., the final regular season competition in the West Penn Circuit. They scored an 80.90 with second place Penn Trafford, Pittsburgh, Pa., scoring a 71.45. Although the team will be missing one member in the upcoming championships, their advisor, Richard Clever, feels confident that the girls "can go all the way if they give all they're capable of giving." If enough interest is shown, a spectator bus will be leaving Saturday. Persons should contact John Michaels at 334-3719 or Judy Wilt, 334-9200, if they are interested in going to watch this championship competition. The Belles, shown left to right, are: front, Kristi Bowling, Captain; second row, Miranda Fitzwater, Brenda Plessinger, Gena McMillan, Sonja Peterman, Chloie Hutson, Lorie Teagarden, Chari Copeland, Theresa Rivenbark, Rhonda Warton, and Beth Zimmerman; third row, Cathy Marple, Debbie Riggs, Renee Helmick, Debbie Irving, Melissa Brode, Tamie Beere, Brenda Ruff, Jodi Wilt, Lori Riley, and Chrissy Chloros.

GOH Announces Nominations For Governor's Committee Awards

The Garrett Organization for the Handicapped has announced recently nominated Dr. Barry Conger, Mildred Crane, Albert Stiles and Naylor's Inc. for State awards given by the Governor's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped.

Dr. Barry Conger was nominated for the "Physician of the Year Award" which is offered to a physician who has made an outstanding contribution in advancing employment opportunities for disabled people and who played an important role in the rehabilitation of disabled people. Dr. Conger has donated his time and skills to assist handicapped clients at the Appalachian Center work towards "Job Readiness."

A 1981 graduate of the University of West Virginia School of Dentistry, Dr. Conger is a member of the Oakland Rotary Club, the American Dental Association, the Allegany-Garrett Dental Society, WVU Graduate Chapter Delta Sigma Delta, the American Association of Hospital Dentists and the American Society of Dentistry for Children. He is affiliated with Garrett County Memorial Hospital and Cuppett and Weeks Nursing Home. He and his wife, Suzanne, reside in McHenry.

Mildred Crane was nominated for the "Public Service Award" which is offered to one individual that has done an outstanding job to contribute to employment of the handicapped and to public understanding of the problems of the handicapped.

Mrs. Crane, a parent of a handicapped child, is one of the original incorporating members of the Appalachian Parent Association, Inc., which operates State and National renowned training and employment programs for handicapped adults in Garrett County. She is the Secretary of the Advisory Board of Directors, writer of the Appalachian Center newsletter, coordinates Appalachian Parent Association, Inc., fund-raising activities and volunteers at least two days a week at the Appalachian Center coordinating field trips, answering the phone and helping in the classrooms. As a member of GOH, Mrs. Crane served on a committee to help the local Board of Education establish graduation criteria for the handicapped and helped to compile a census of pre-school handicapped children. She is also a volunteer member of the local 4-H handicapped riding program, FREE. She and her daughter, Vauda, reside in Pleasant Valley.

Albert Stiles was nominated for the "Handicapped Marylander of the Year Award" which is offered each year to the outstanding handicapped individual who has shown "exceptional courage and determination" in overcoming his disability to enter or re-enter the world of work. Stiles, a Crellin native, has an hereditary disease of the central nervous system which has left him wheelchair bound. He was employed locally and in 1978, he reached his educational goal of obtaining his GED. During this time, he worked as a Maryland Service Corps Volunteer at the Appalachian Center.

In 1983, Stiles became a resident of the Dennett Road Manor Nursing Home. He is president of the resident council and is taking independent study in general psychology and creative writing and expression through Garrett Community College. Despite his own incapacitation, Albert visits and communicates with other nursing home residents and assists them in adjusting to their particular disability or handicapping condition.

Naylor's Inc. of Oakland was nominated for the "Small Employer of the Year" award which is based on the extend and relative effectiveness of the nominee's activities in promoting employment opportunities for qualified disabled individuals beyond what is mandated by federal, state, or local laws. Naylor's, a local business celebrating its 100th anniversary, has demonstrated policies which promote employment opportunities for qualified disabled individuals. Nine percent of the number of employees have handicapping conditions.

Naylor's has its own programs for employees with severe disabilities and have initiated a working relationship with the Western Maryland Consortium under the Jobs Training Partnership Act to hire capable handicapped workers. Janna Naylor, manager of the Oakland store, is an active member of the Private Industries Council which promotes hiring of the handicapped. Naylor's Oakland Store is accessible to individuals in wheelchairs.

The Governor's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped will hold its annual conference and Awards Luncheon on Friday, April 13, at Martin's West in Baltimore. The luncheon is to honor those who have distinguished themselves as handicapped individuals or on behalf of the disabled.

The Garrett Organization for the Handicapped will honor the nominees at their annual dinner in June. GOH is a local advocacy community group which serves all disability groups in Garrett County.

GOH's big annual fundraiser, Hike and Bike, will take place on Saturday and Sunday, May 5 and 6 (rain dates May 19 and 20). All monies raised by GOH support local handicapped services. For more information about GOH, persons may contact Dot Leuba, president, at 387-5810.

NOMINATED FOR AWARDS from the Governor's Commission on Employment of the Handicapped recently by the Garrett Organization for the Handicapped were three local individuals and an Oakland business. Dr. Barry Conger, left, has been nominated for the Physician of the Year award; Albert Stiles, seated, was nominated for the Handicapped Marylander of the Year award; Mildred Crane, not pictured, was nominated for the Public Service award; and Naylor's, Inc., was nominated for the Small Employer of the Year award. Also in the photo are Dot Leuba, GOH president, pictured center, and Jennifer Kotulak, GOH secretary. See story.

Food And Fitness Essay Contest Set

Junior and senior high school students between the ages of 13 and 18 have an opportunity to get extra mileage out of assigned essays or term papers this spring, if the essays relate to the nation's food industry.

Prizes will be awarded to first-place winners in three age categories at community, county, state and national levels. The national winners will receive free trips to Washington, D.C., and be given their trophies directly by the U.S. secretary of agriculture.

Theme of the essay contest is "Food—America's Growth Industry." Essays may cover any phase of the food industry, including production, processing, distribution and marketing. The essays should not exceed 500 words in length. Entry deadline has been extended to approximately May 25.

Further information is available from 4-H agents associated with the University of Maryland's Cooperative Extension Service.

The essay contest is part of a yearlong "Food and Fitness" educational campaign which began last summer. It is being sponsored by agencies of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, including the Cooperative Extension Service.

The observance will culminate with a national Food and Fitness Fair in Washington, D.C., on August 16-18. This event will be held on the mall of the Capitol Grounds. Tentatively, Maryland's participation will involve demonstrations to illustrate the role of seafood in food and fitness.

Library Corner

BOOKMOBILE SCHEDULE

Monday - Cuppett Weeks Nursing Home, Annexes 1, 2, 3-2, 10-11:45; Annexes 1, 2, Jail, 12:45-1:15 p.m.

Tuesday - The Meadows, 2:30-3 p.m.

Wednesday - Dennett Road Manor, East Annex, 1:15-2:00 p.m.; Loch Lynn, 3-3:30 p.m.; Paughville, 4-4:30 p.m.

Thursday - Goodwill Mennonite Home, 1st Floor, 12:30-1:15 p.m.

The Ruth Enlow Library is now taking requests for summer stops of the bookmobile throughout Garrett County. Any person who would like to have a stop in his or her area is asked to visit the main library or one of the branches to fill out a request form.

Requests will also be taken by phone, with the following information needed: possible locations, approximate number of patrons, best and worst times of day, and the name and phone number of a contact person. The main library number is 334-3996.

Deadline for making requests is April 30.

SUNNYSIDE-UNDERWOOD

A large group of people from Underwood and surrounding community attended the program on Sunday evening at the Bear Creek Church of the Brethren at Deep Creek Lake, when the Bethel Church of the Brethren from Petersburg, W.Va., presented the "Great Judgment Morning," in song and scripture. About forty people participated in the cast. Rev. Donald Matthews is pastor of the host chruch.

Harlan Miller, Table Rock, Raymond and Hattie Miller, Russell Harvey, Gorman, Charles Munday, Mt. Lake Park, Harriett McClung, Rosedale, and Bessie Canan were Monday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Knotts.

Dinner guests on Sunday of Mrs. Mildred Peterson and family were Mr. and Mrs. George White, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Cummings and daughters, Elaine and Becky, Bessie Canan and John Snyder. The occasion marked the birthday of John Snyder.

Diabetes Group To Meet Monday

The next meeting of the Garrett County Diabetes Association will be held on Monday, April 9, at 7:30 p.m. at St. Paul's United Methodist Church, Oakland. The speaker will be pharmacist Milton Proudfoot, whose topic will be "The New Insulin - Humulin."

Free blood sugar testing will be available and the public is invited to attend. For more information about the local group persons may call 334-1424.

NHS Students Attend Program By Columbia Gas

A program was recently presented to Northern High School earth science, physics and chemistry classes entitled, "Gas Works: Pipeline to the Future."

Utilizing an array of colorful graphic and electronic teaching devices, "Gas Works" featured a propane-powered motor bike, gasification domes demonstrating synthetic fuel production, a cryogenics demonstration explaining the liquification of natural gas, and a giant dinosaur illustrating the origin of fossil fuels. Students participating in the demonstrations included: Milissa Lapp, Brent Beachy, Courtney Rounds and Dee Dee Seaman.

The assembly was followed by special classroom sessions where teachers Valerie Frazee, Gene Pustolski and students explored ideas about current energy concerns and the impact of science and technology on social issues.

The program was sponsored by Columbia Gas.

Health Fair Poster Contest Deadline Noted

The deadline for entries in the 1984 Garrett County Health Fair Poster Contest is this Saturday, April 7. Posters will be accepted at the Oakland Health Department at 253 North Fourth Street on Friday, April 6, from 4:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. and on Saturday from 9 a.m. to noon. Entries will not be accepted at any other times.

Residents of Garrett County are encouraged to illustrate how physical and mental fitness are achieved by ridding oneself of extra weight, stress, and dependence on drugs and alcohol. The most creative and imaginative interpretation of the theme, "Find Freedom in Fitness", entered in each age category (Pre-School, Elementary School, Middle School, High School, Adult) will win.

Copies of the official rules for the Health Fair Poster Contest are available at the information desk in the Garrett County Health Department. For questions regarding the contest, persons may call Liz Rees Gilbert at 334-8111 or 895-5050.

SCHOOL PLAY SCHEDULED — Northern High School will present its second annual school play on Friday, April 13, in the school cafeteria. Tickets for "A Handful of Rainbows" will be available at the door, $2 for adults and $1 for students. Pictured in the front row, left to right, are cast members Darrell Yoder, Becki Tacket, Amy Wellborn, and John Miller. Standing, same order, are Cathy Hanes, Carissa Selby, Liza Zuckerman, Scott Watkins, and Shari Broom. The play is being directed by Gerry Snelson.

DOLLS DONATED — John Kurilla, treasurer of the Oakland Knights of Columbus Council No. 1771, is pictured holding two of the popular Cabbage Patch dolls, which will be raffled away on Saturday, April 21, to two lucky ticketholders. Proceeds from the raffle will be donated to the Garrett Organization for the Handicapped. Tickets are available at the Ben Franklin Store, the Country Oven Bakery, and Sears in Oakland, or from any K of C members.

COMPUTERS DONATED TO SCHOOL — Friendsville Elementary School recently entered the computer age with the receipt of two Apple II Plus computers donated by Micro-Integration, Inc., of Friendsville. The company also donated $500 for the purchase of supplies and programs. In the photo, left to right, are Jane Fox, school principal; Michael Pula, coordinator of computer programs in Friendsville for the Board of Education; and John Parsons, president of Micro-Integration. Parsons said the computers were donaed because "the people at Micro-Integration are very interested in furthering the computer undestanding of children." Friendsville thus becomes one of the first elementary schools in the county to have computers. The Board of Education has scheduled the installation of computers in all county schools by next fall.

BEING PRESENTED TO HS HONOR, Garrett County Circuit Court Judge Fred A. Thayer, are Suzanne X. Conger and Richard K. Wehner, both of whom recently passed the Maryland Bar Examination. The ceremony was conducted Tuesday, March 27, shortly before the Grand and Petit Jury orientation at the courthouse. Seated is Clerk of the Court, Clifford DeWitt. Conger is a resident of the McHenry area and is curently practicing with the Oakland law firm of Burnett, Eiswert, Crawford and Janes. Wehner is a resident of Kingwood, W.Va., and practices with the Wehner law offices in Kingwood, however he intends to do some legal work in Maryland.

landers who want to carry out preservation projects entailing actual construction: (1) The State Capital Grant Fund, monies for which are voted each year by the General Assembly; (2) Federal development grants from the National Park Service through the Maryland Historical Trust; and (3) the Revolving Loan Fund. Revolving Loan Fund monies can be used to acquire a historic property as well as to preserve it. The Federal (National Park Service) grants are available only when Congress appropriates funds for the program, something they have not done since 1981."

Who is eligible to receive these monies?

"Non-profit groups, governmental entities, and individuals are eligible to apply for both State and Federal direct funding. Buildings/sites for which Federal funds are sought must either be individually listed in the National Register of Historic Places or be located within the boundaries of a historic district that is listed in the National Register. Buildings/sites seeking State loans or grants should be either National Register listed or listed in the Maryland State Inventory. Significant or unique buildings/sites which have not yet been listed also are welcome to apply for State funds."

Is there a filing deadline?

"There is no filing deadline for a loan from the Revolving Loan Fund. Loan applications are accepted and reviewed on a first-come, first-served basis throughout the year. The filing deadline for a State Capital Grant is February 1 each year. The filing deadline for Federal grants, when available, usually is June 1 of each year."

What projects in Garrett County have received money from the Maryland Historical Trust in the past?

"Projects in Garrett County have received a total of $91,800 in Federal (National Park Service) money since 1971 - $1,800 for the Fuller Baker Log House in 1971 and $90,000 for the Casselman Bridge in 1978."

What other kind of assistance does your division provide?

"The Technical Preservation Service Division also is responsible for administering three programs which provide indirect financial assistance in the form of reduced taxes. These are: (1) the gift easement program; (2) the 502-H program for owner-occupied residential properties; and (3) the Economic Recovery Tax Act of 1981 (ERTA) for income-producing properties. People seeking benefits for projects of either the Gift Easement Program or ERTA must be listed in the National Register or be in a National Register historic district."

"We also provide information to assist Marylanders in carrying out their preservation projects. This information consists of providing lists of architects and contractors interested in doing preservation work; analysis of problems in the maintenance of historic buildings; technical advice or solutions to building problems; and assistance in getting through the maze of various state and Federal funding programs."

Mt. Zion Road Scene Of Thefts

The John Duckworth Coal Company, Frostburg, reported to Maryland State Police that over $1,000 in equipment had been stolen from a van parked on their coal strip site which is located on the Mt. Zion Road, four miles south of Swanton. The theft occurred sometime between March 23 and 27.

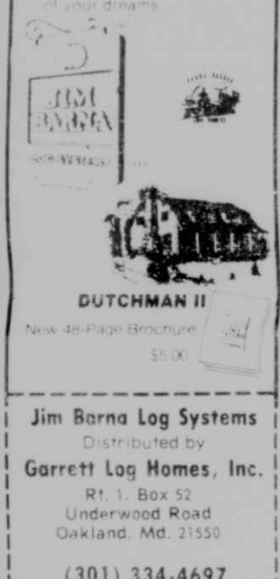
Police say culprits removed the items from the rear of a van after cutting the lock with a bolt cutter.

Stolen items included batteries, hose, gauges, tools, a tool box, fuel pumps, eight quarts of oil and a portable power plant. Total loss was estimated at $1,228.

The site is owned by Westvaco and being leased by the Duckworth firm.

Tfc. R.J. Resh is continuing the investigation.

Westvaco was the primary target of another theft occurring on the Mt. Zion Road involving 52 pine trees stolen during the month of December, 1983.



According to reports, the trees were reported stolen on March 16 by the management of Westvaco and yesterday police charged William Martin Harvey, 24, Swanton, with that theft.

Southern Speaks

by Criss Kepple

The Southern Belles won the final West Penn Colorguard Show of the regular season with a score of 80.90. They will be traveling to the WGI Olympics in Dayton, Ohio, today. Anyone interested in going to the championships Saturday, April 7, must contact Mr. Clever or Judy Wilt. Cost of the trip, including bus and ticket for admission will be $26.00. The bus will leave at 6 a.m.

In preparation for the contest, the Belles gave a performance for all Southern students April 4 at 2:45 p.m. The halls were also decorated in honor of the Belles.

The Foreign Language Department is sponsoring a dance April 13 to benefit the Foreign Language program. A drawing will be held to benefit the Maryland Special Olympics along with the Foreign Language program. Cost for the dance will be $3.00 per couple and $2.00 single. Semi-formal dress is required. DJ Dan Daniels, representing the Jaycees, will provide the music from 8-11 p.m.

On April 10 a frisbee demonstration will be held at Southern. The program, provided the Antrim Bureau, will demonstrate an inexpensive form of entertainment for all to enjoy. Tickets will be sold to students the day of the program.

Ping-pong and badminton tournaments were recently held in the girls' senior high gym class. Winners of the tournament are Lora Lowers, and Tina Legeer, ping-pong; and Lisa Paugh and Beth Griffith, badminton. Second place for both ping-pong and badminton are Cathy Rumer and Cindy Stuart.

The Rams will play Elk Garden on April 7 at 7 p.m. This game is a doubleheader. The Lady Rams will travel to Salisbury for a doubleheader April 10. Game time is 3 p.m.

Secretaries Plan Two Workshops For Office Workers

During Professional Secretaries Week, April 22-28, two computer workshops will be sponsored by the Garrett County Chapter of Professional Secretaries International. The first will be Friday afternoon, April 27, at the Oakland Center of Garrett Community College and the second, Saturday morning, April 28, at the McHenry Campus of GCC.

Both workshops, which are entitled "What To Do When The Computer Moves In," will be conducted by Marci McClive. Although primarily for secretaries, registration is open to anyone.

More details about time and registration will be available in next week's issue of The Republican or can be obtained by calling 387-6666 Ext. 114.

PSI is the world's leading organization for secretaries. Membership is open to anyone who is employed as a secretary. Its aims and activities are directed toward providing a network for interaction among professional secretaries, conducting ongoing projects to create greater awareness and recognition of those engaged in the secretarial profession and fostering programs for personal and professional growth and development. The Garrett County Chapter meets on the third Thursday of the month.

Country Oven Bakery To Be Open Weekends

The Country Oven Bakery will again offer Saturday hours beginning this Saturday, April 7. Hours will be from 6 a.m. through 2 p.m., according to the bakery supervisor Maureen Sweitzer.

The summer Sunday hours will begin Memorial Day and the store will be open from 6 a.m. until 2 p.m. on Sundays until Labor Day weekend. The Saturday hours will also continue through Labor Day weekend.

On a contractural basis, the bakery now provides baked goods to Bausch & Lomb, Oak-Mar Restaurant, Board of Education, Garrett Community College, C. P Martin & Son, St. Peter's Church, St. Matthew's Church, First United National Bank, and Garrett Memorial Hospital. Walk in customers provide a substantial portion of the bakery income as well.

Other employees are Dick Marley, Paul Miller, Terri Roy, Jeff Flaherty, Margie Bell, Trina Bray, Lorenzo Seminerio, Ruth Speicher and Elaine Baker.

Alpine Heritage Group Schedules Benefit Dance

Alpine Heritage Preservation Inc., the non-profit organization dedicated to restoring the Thomas, W. Va., Opera House and other historic sites, will be hosting a dance on April 14. The annual spring dance is titled "Between the Devil and the Deep Blue Sea."

Music for the dance will be by the Allegheners, a six piece band from the Deep Creek Lake area. Set-ups will be included in the ticket price as well as hor d'oevures that will be served between 9 and 10 p.m. Several door prizes will be awarded and a special prize for a drawing for the theme meaning.

The dance will be held at the Blackwater Falls State Park Recreation Building from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. and tickets can be purchased at the door.

Alpine Heritage Preservation will be planning other events for the year and participation in all events, which will benefit the Opera House, is tax deductible.

State Housing Agency Issues Report On Financing Programs

The Department of Economic and Community Development's Community Development Administration posted a record-breaking housing production year in 1983 by providing mortgage, construction and home improvement loans to over 8,600 families, Trudy McFall, CDA director, has announced.

CDA, Maryland's housing finance agency, recently released its annual report detailing the record production year, which ended on June 30, 1983, capping three successive years of record high production for CDA, a division of DECD, McFall noted.

CDA marked 10 years of loan activity in 1983 and pushed total housing production totals to over 28,180 units. The agency has invested over $1 billion in Maryland's economy since beginning its financing programs, and increased housing in the state by over 12,400 units in the past three years.

The annual report shows that 83 households in Garrett County received assistance through CDA. In the single-family programs, 21 households received assistance through the Maryland Home Financing Program and four received help through the Mortgage Purchase Program. The total which came to the county from these programs was $763,000.

Under the home improvement programs, $180,260 was loaned to 20 county households. Thirty-eight county households received financing through the existing subsidies programs such as Section Eight Existing program and Section Eight Moderate Rehabilitation Program. The total coming to the county through these programs was $97,032.

Among CDA's accomplishments in the 1983 fiscal year were:

•Financing 23 multi-family developments containing 2,423 units, an increase of over 100 percent over fiscal year 1982.

•Financing 925 units of single-family housing, also an increase of over 100 percent over the past fiscal year.

•Providing home improvement loans for 401 units.

•Administering federal rent subsidies for 4,929 units, an increase of 147 units in the Section Eight Existing Program and an increase of 57 units in the Section Eight Moderate Rehabilitation Program.

During the year, CDA sold mortgage revenue bonds and notes on five occasions to fund single-family, multi-family and home improvement and energy conservation loan programs for total financing of over $137 million. An additional $5 million in funding for rehabilitation programs came from a state sale of general obligation bonds.

Among the new programs initiated during the year was the Home and Energy Loan Program. This program became operational in April 1983 with a $3 million bond sale. CDA also agreed to participate in two demonstration programs sponsored by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, the Solar Energy and Solar Energy Conservation Bank and the Rental Rehabilitation Demonstration.

In 1970, the Maryland General Assembly created the Community Development Administration in response to a growing shortage of housing for limited-income, the elderly and handicapped. CDA operates four program areas: single-family, multi-family, home improvement and housing subsidies. The Administration is funded primarily through the sale of tax-exempt mortgage revenue bonds and uses no tax dollars.

Three Arrested On DWI Charges

Three drivers were charged by Maryland State Police and the Garrett County Sheriff's Department this week for driving or attempting to drive while under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs.

Those drivers included Dewey M. Warnick, 37; John M. Rexrode, 64; and a 17-year-old Oakland juvenile. Arresting officers were Tfc. John Foley, Deputy Don Tucker and Deputy Larry Gnegy.

News For

Senior Citizens

By Marilyn J. Metheny, Director
Garrett County Commission On Aging

According to the updates of the 1980 census figures done by the Maryland State Planning Department in 1983, Garrett County had approximately 4,577 senior citizens. Of that number, 49.8% (2,279) are 70 years or older.

One of the problems faced by this group of elders is the need for some assistance with activities of daily living (ADL). Some will also need personal care assistance for such activities as bathing, getting in and out of bed or tub, etc., or a combination of homemaking and personal care.

One of the services offered by the Garrett County Commission on Aging is the In Home Program for senior citizens who are not eligible for Medicaid or Medicare-paid in home care.

Individuals requesting in home services are evaluated by the Geriatric Evaluation Services. The GES team reviews services utilized or needed by the client to prevent duplication of services as they develop the care plan. If there is an aide available, they are assigned to the client. A client can receive up to four hours service once a week, dependent upon need and staff availability.

The In Home Aide will perform the duties assigned in the care plan. In addition, they will monitor any changes in the client's condition so that services can be modified to fit the client's needs.

For instance, if a homemaking client becomes ill and needs personal care, either short or long term, the aide can provide the care. There is no disruption in service of getting to know a new care provider when the client is ill. As their health improves, the personal care duties are gradually reduced and the client again receives homemaking assistance.

The Commission on Aging currently has three part-time Home Care Aides who service all areas of the county.

There are not charges for in home services, but donations are encouraged and deeply appreciated.

For more information, call Project Gateway offices at 334-1330 or 895-5498.

The break-up of the telephone company has left a great many questions in people's minds.

Some of them are:

—Should I buy or rent my phones?

—If I buy, whose should I buy?

—What kind of service—measured, limited or unlimited, can I afford?

—What do I do if my phone needs repaired?

—What about the other long distance companies (MCI, Sprint, etc.)?

There is no one answer that is right for everyone.

The State Office on Aging and the Project Gateway personnel have researched the various options available. They have compiled information to help senior citizens make an informed decision on these important issues.

You can call either the phone numbers listed in your phone bill or the local Gateway offices Tuesday through Thursday. Oakland Gateway office is 334-1330; Jennings Gateway number is 245-4204.

Your own usage and circumstances should determine what is best for your situation.

Remember: No decision is a decision or choice, and may or may not be best for you!

4-H Club News

Country Kids

The Country Kids 4-H Club held its monthly meeting on January 17 in the Deer Park Community Building. The new club officers were installed. They are: senior president, Chris Kepple, senior vice president, John Leininger; senior secretary, Diane Burns; senior treasurer, Becky DeBerry; senior reporter, Verne Leininger; junior president, Mike Kepple; junior vice-president, Barbara Browning; junior secretary, Barbara Leininger; junior treasurer, Amy Friend; and junior reporter, Tim Kepple.

The club is holding an exchange with the Travel All Club of Westmoreland County, Pa. The Country Kids visited Pennsylvania in March, and the Pennsylvania Club will visit here in June or September.

The February meeting of the Country Kids 4-H Club was devoted to the annual speech contest. In the junior division, Barbara Leininger was a blue ribbon winner and the champion. Barbara represented the club in the junior division at the area speech contest.

In the intermediate division, Tim Kepple was the champion and blue ribbon winner. Becky DeBerry and Mike Kepple won red ribbons, while Barbara Browning and Amy Friend were awarded white ribbons. Tim, Becky, and Mike represented the club in the intermediate division at the area speech contest.

In the senior division Chris Kepple, Marie Williams and Verne Leininger received blue ribbons. Chris and Marie were named co-champions. Receiving red ribbons were Paul Browning and John Leininger, while Diane Burns and Marsha Custer received white ribbons. Marie, Verne and Paul represented the club in the area competition.

The club met on March 20. Discussion revolved around the exchange trip to Pennsylvania which was held three days before the meeting. In Pennsylvania the club toured the Royal Charolais Farm, an equipment company, an art museum, Pools Mushroom Farm, and the Rolling Rock shooting range, dog kennels and fish hatchery. A list is being made of places to show the Pennsylvanians when they visit later this year.

Shepherd's 4-H Club
by Teresa Wright, reporter

The Shepherd's 4-H Club met March 12, at Barbara, John and Verne Leiningers' home.

Ron and Debbie Fulk, public relations committee, reported on Sheep Field Day, which will be held May 19, at the Garrett County Fairgrounds.

Additional committees were appointed by president, John Leininger, for field day as follows: Set-up, Rev. Verne Leininger, John Leininger and Tim Ruggerio; Food, Ruth Ruggerio, Jean, John C. and Teresa Wright and Kim Ruggerio; and Clean-up, John E. and Sam Wright. Making of crafts to sell were discussed.

4-H Achievement night will be held April 14, at the Grantsville fire hall. Centerpiece committee for achievement night is Phyllis, Barbara and Verne Leininger and Kim Ruggerio. John Leininger will be in charge of name tags for the night.

The Shepherds' next meeting will be held April 9 at 7:30 p.m. at the Leininger home. Any interested person is invited to attend.

Grantsville
by Tammy House, reporter

The meeting of the Grantsville 4-H was called to order by club president Roger Wilhelm. Johnny Friend led the pledge and secretary Vivian Wilt read the minutes.

We discussed the Achievement Night dinner set for April 14 at the Grantsville fire hall.

We also discussed having a teen dance and a skate-a-thon and a bowl-a-thon to raise money for our summer trips.

Demonstrations were given by Renee Beitzel, Sheila Beitzel, and Kevin Beitzel.

Bowling trophies were awarded to juniors: Karen Wilhelm, high average; Ronnie Knox, high series; and Kevin Broadwater, high game; and seniors Kelby Kamp, high average; David Wilburn, high series; Beverly Minor and Ivan Wilt, high game.

Corrections Noted

In an article in last week's issue of The Republican concerning a display and program presented at the Ruth Enlow Library about historic Deer Park, it stated that the class of students responsible for the display and program was from Dennett Road School. It should have stated that the class was from Broad Ford School.

It also stated that Dwight Harvey assisted with the project, which should have read Keith Harvey.

The Republican regrets these errors.

CPR Instructor Course Offered

Louise I. Maust, R.N., B.S., chairman of the Emergency Cardiac Care Committee of the American Heart Association-Western Maryland Chapter, Inc., announced that a CPR instructors course is scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday, May 16-17 and 23-24, from 6 to 10 p.m. each of the four evenings.

Applications for this course are available from the Heart Office, 551 North Centre Street (2nd floor over Buchanan Lumber Company), Cumberland, or by calling 1-301-724-4011.

The prerequisite for entering an instructors course is a current basic rescuer's certificate.

The objective of the instructors course is to advance students who have been certified previously as basic rescuers into the category of instructor.

The format of the instructors course is being reshaped by the Emergency Cardiac Care Committee to place more emphasis on teaching methodology.

Friday, April 13, at 5 p.m. is the registration deadline for the instructors course.

Revival Services Set

Revival services will be held at the Friendsville United Pentecostal Church April 10 through April 22 at 7:30 p.m. each evening. The speaker will be Evangelist David Davis, Morgantown, W. Va.

Talent Show, Arts Festival Slated For April 12 At Southern Middle

The Southern Middle School second annual talent show, "Rainbow of Talent" will be held Thursday, April 12, in the cafetorium at 7 p.m.

The talent show will feature a variety of acts which include vocal, instrumental, piano, dance and comedy skits. The top three winners from this performance will represent Southern Middle School in the county-wide talent show on April 27.

Pictured above, left to right, are Scott Clever, Bobby Bernard, Carolyn Lambert Wilt and Kristi Heatherman rehearsing for the talent competition. Below is one of several displays of art work by students under the direction of Marcette Danner.

Students participating in the show are: Candace Foley, Lisa Schmidt, Julie Hudnall, Shannon Goughler, Scott Clever, Bobby Bernard, Shelli Terlizzi, Bonnie Ruston, Mary Beth Johnson, Melissa George, Jennifer Panicho, Tim Kepple, Gordon Savage, Art Fedde, Tracy Umstot, Christine Paugh, Melissa Via, Kristina Heatherman, Melanie Barr, Jennifer Morris, Susan Ryscavage, Tara Wildesen and Marcy Polce.

Last year's winner, Kim Grimm, will provide entertainment while the judges select this year's winners. Awards will be presented by Jack Rickman, principal of the school and Kim Grimm.

The talent show is under the direction of Gary Thompson and Marge Clever.

The school will also be open for the annual arts festival displays presented by the Related Arts Department. There will be no admisison charge for either event.

LOOKING FOR A NEW COMPANION, one that's bashful and lovable? The Garrett County Animal Shelter can fill this wanted position with this four-month-old, female shepherd-collie pup named "Groundhog". She promises to be there when no one else is. Call 334-3553 and "Groundhog" can be ready for you in five to ten days. Last week's puppies went to Donald Miller and Mary Smith.

Saddle Club Social Draws 70 Sunday

Approximately 70 horse owners and their families attended a spring social sponsored by the Mt. Top Saddle Club Sunday afternoon at the Bittinger community building.

Club members baked desserts of all types and contributed snacks and doughnuts for the event, which was coordinated by club members Sandra Savage, Cissy VanSickle, Donna Miller and Debbi Campbell.

A special guest was Dr. Edwin Goodwin, animal science specialist with the University of Maryland. Special features included films on a ride and tie race and conformation faults in horses, a history of the club, and a display of trophies won by club members in previous years.

The club's next meeting will be April 24 at 7:30 p.m. at Garrett Community College. Plans will be discussed at that time for the trail ride May 27 in the White Rock area.

SPRING/SUMMER FASHION FORECAST

The days are getting longer and soon they will be getting warmer, the grass will turn green, flowers will bloom and heavy, winter clothes will make way for bright, lightweight spring and summer clothes. To keep your wardrobe in style, you may want to make a few changes for a slightly new look in '84. Remember that clothes should be fun and give you a mental lift, so don't add something to your present wardrobe just because it's in style, add it because you like it and because it will make you feel good. Knowing what changes to make might be easier if you know what the current fashion trends will be—here are a few:

*The chemise dress, belted or not, back buttoned with pushed up or three-quarter sleeve length, will be the most popular silhouette.

*Dressmaker suits with belted backs will be a sensible fashion trend.

*Safari jackets and cropped jackets will be quite popular.

*Long and lean seven-eighths length jackets will appear with skinny skirts.

*Unmatched suits, with their versatile jackets to be worn over dresses could prove to be a fashion essential, especially for the working woman.

*Skirts will be full princess like, flared, pleated, yoked, and slim.

*Skirt lengths will vary, from the knee to near the ankle.

*Pants and jumpsuits—pleated, wide and straight legs, three inches above the ankle—will be a wardrobe booster.

*A clean, easylook will be defined as soft femininity without frills.

*Wrapped and draped clothes will reflect the Japanese influence.

*These characteristics will be on the fashion scene: longer, leaner, looser shapes, wider shoulders and narrow hems.

*To accessorize your outfit, add shoes, bags and jewelry of bold colors or jewelry, belts, and buttons of straw, wood, brass, or ivory.

*Most importantly, enjoy your clothes—isn't spring nice?

ENERGY TIP: If you have a frost-free refrigerator, keep liquids covered inside it. Uncovered liquids allow more moisture to be drawn into the air, making the unit work longer and drying out the foods.

FOOD NOTES: Are you always looking for a good nutritious snack to have on hand for an after school treat? Here's one I think your whole family will enjoy. It will make 17 servings of ½ cup each containing 105 calories per serving.

GORP PLUS
Good Old Raisins and Peanuts

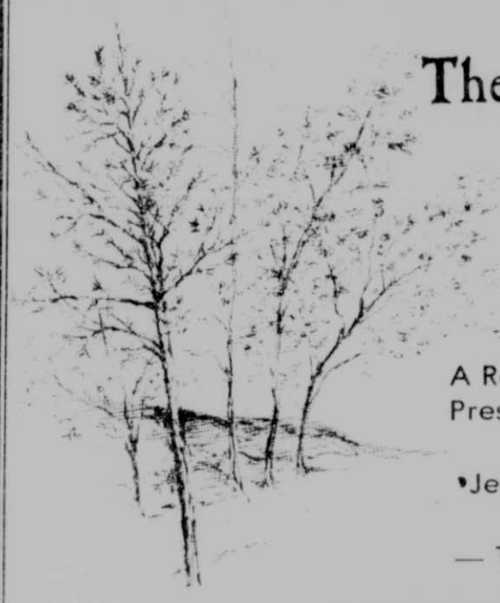
3 cups puffed wheat or rice
2 cups corn chex cereal
1 cup wheat chex cereal
1 cup spoon size shredded wheat
1 cup unsalted peanuts
½ cup raisins or chopped dates



Mix all ingredients well. Store in sealed container. Make 8 ½ cups.

EXTENSION HAPPENINGS

The first in a series of five "New Weigh of Life" classes will be held on April 9 at 10 a.m. at the Grantsville Extension Office. This free class will teach participants how to eat sensibly and exercise in order to lose weight. All interested persons are invited to participate, come ready to exercise. For more information, call 895-3124 (Mondays) or 334-2145.

The Homemaker's County Council will meet on April 10 in Room LC 164 at Garrett Community College. The executive board will meet at 12 noon and the Council will meet at 1 p.m. All clubs are urged to attend.

Because of a misunderstanding of dates, the Activewear II class will be repeated on April 12 at 7:00 p.m., in the Oakland Extension Office. Tips on making hooded or plain sweatshirts and sewing swim wear will be discussed. Everyone is invited.

Lakers Split With ACC Trojans As Rodeheaver Fires Nightcap Shutout

The Garrett Community College Lakers maintained their .500 record this past week by splitting a doubleheader with powerful Allegany Community College, falling 6-1 in the opener and taking the nightcap, 1-0, behind the pitching of Mark Rodeheaver.

J.R. Pardew picked up his second win in as many starts for ACC in the first game by going the distance and allowing only four hits by the Lakers. Mike Uram absorbed the loss for Garrett after being relieved by Tim Kocis, who gave up two unearned runs.

Rod Smith rapped three hits and knocked in three runs to lead ACC's hitting, while Mike Ickes added a pair of hits.

In the second game, former Southern High School standout Mark Rodeheaver, pitched his way into Laker baseball history by tossing Garrett's first-ever shutout over the Trojans. It was also the first shutout by any team over ACC in more than 40 games.

Rodeheaver battled through five intense innings against Randy Reise as both pitchers had shutouts until the Lakers pushed over what proved to be the winning run in the sixth inning.

With one out, Rick Day reached second on an error and advanced to third on a single to right field by Tim Bishop. Day scored when, on an attempted suicide squeeze, Reise tossed a pitchout that went wild.

The Trojans came back to threaten in their half of the sixth when lead-off hitter Mike Ickes doubled to right. The next ACC batter grounded out to short, moving Ickes to third.

Rodeheaver then intentionally walked Marshall Miller, one of Region XX's top hitters, and Bickel than grounded into a [illegible] play to end the inning.

In the seventh frame, Rodeheaver struck out the lead-off batter and forced the second batter to fly out to right. However, the Trojans then reeled off a pair of singles to put runners on first and second.

The next batter grounded out to third to end the contest.

Rodeheaver, now 2-0, has not given up an earned run in 13 straight innings.

The win over Allegany, now 9-3, was only the third by the Lakers in the history of the rivalry. It was the second time a Southern High graduate has pitched the Lakers to a win over the Trojans, as Ernie Shotwell topped ACC in 1974. Garrett also topped the Trojans in 1981 by a 9-1 score.

"It was the biggest win since I've been at Garrett," stated Coach Phil Caruso, "not only because it was over Allegany, but because it was a shutout of one of the top hitting teams in the Region. Mark's effort was without a doubt one of the finest pitching performances I've seen. You could see that he frustrated the ACC batters more and more as the game went on. I believe they were in shock when it was all over that a pitcher of his style could beat them, let alone shut them out."

Caruso also praised the defensive performance of his team. "I can't believe how this team has battled well in every game so far without getting on our own field even one time (because of the weather). We're playing teams right out of the gym."

The Lakers have yet another pair of road games, a doubleheader on Saturday at Dundalk, before playing their home opener on Sunday, also a doubleheader, against Community College of Allegheny South. Game time is 1 p.m.

First Game

Southern-Keyser Game Halted By Darkness At 4-4

The Southern High baseball team began its season as scheduled on Tuesday afternoon at Keyser, however the final outcome of the contest won't be decided until next month. The game had to be called after seven innings because of darkness, with the score tied at 4-4.

Scott Stem, who shared pitching duties with Don Evans, led the Rams' hitting in going two-for-three, while Angelo Taylor smacked a triple and a single good for a pair of RBIs for Keyser.

It was also the season opener for the Golden Tornado.

The Rams will return to action this Saturday, April 7, in a doubleheader at Elk Garden. Game time is 1 p.m.

Harlem Travellers To Perform At Union

The Fabulous Harlem Travellers, led by the Vance "Hands" Williams will bring their artistic show to Union High School, Mt. Storm, W. Va., on April 10 at 7 p.m.

Assisting "Hands" will be 6' 10" former ABA Star "Big" Bill Allen and former Fabulous Magician star, Art "Musk-Rat" Woodard. These three have a combination of 50 years of experience in comedy basketball.

Tickets may be purchased from Union High School. Presale prices are $2.50 students and $3.00 adults. All tickets will be $4.00 at the door.

Persons may call 693-7612 or 693-7317 for more information.

Huskies Nipped By Bulldogs In Opener On Balk

The Northern High School baseball team opened its season on Monday in Westernport by being edged by host Bruce, 6-5, as the Bulldogs' winning run was scored on a balk by Husky pitcher, Steve Zumpano.

The score was knotted at five each when, in the bottom of the seventh inning, Tim Ahern singled as the lead-off batter. He then moved to third on two successive walks by teammates and walked home to victory on the balk.

Going the distance on the mound was Ed Nealis. Zumpano, who took the loss, had relieved starter Brent Beachy.

Both teams finished with nine hits on the afternoon. Dan McGinnis rapped a two-run homer in the third inning for the Bulldogs, while Ahern added a triple in addition to his seventh inning single.

Pacing the Huskies' offensive effort were Phil Carr and Beachy, who each recorded a pair of hits.

Little League Tryouts Slated For Saturday

The Senior Division Oakland Little League tryouts will be held this Saturday, April 7, beginning at 1 p.m. at the Broad Ford fields. This division is for youth ages 13-15. In the event of inclement weather, the tryouts will be held in the Dennett Road School gymnasium.

Tryouts for Little League players ages 9-12 will be held at the same time and location. In the event of rain, they will be held in the Southern High School gymnasium.

Deer Park Man Seeks Possible "Cowboy" Career

A Deer Park man has the opportunity to tryout for what some people consider to be "America's Team," the Dallas Cowboys.

Donald Ringer received his second correspondence from team scout, Bob Griffin, on February 28 inviting Ringer to participate as a free agent in the tryouts set for May 19 in Dallas, Texas.

Ringer is a 1975 graduate of Terra Alta High School where he was active in the school's football team program. His high school coach advised him to pursue his career, so Ringer contacted Cowboy officials and was to attend tryouts in 1980; however, he broke his ankle in a softball game and was unable to attend.

Lois Ayers, owner and manager of The Big Tee Restaurant in Oakland, is conducting a drive to assist Ringer in his expenses for the trip to Dallas. Persons may contribute to the fund by donating at the Big Tee.

Ringer is married to the former Teresa Smith. The couple has two children.

Hillen Named To Girls All-Area Basketball Team

In an announcement that came as no surprise to anyone who follows local girls high school basketball, Jenny Hillen, a junior at Southern who led the area in scoring, was named to the All Area team.

Hillen was the only player who was a unanimous choice for the team by the 11 voting coaches. Others leading in the voting were Margie Morris, a junior at Bruce, and Fort Hill senior Ellen Chapman.

Also named to the team were Michelle Cotton, senior, Beall; Jill Stratton, junior, Allegany; and Traci Hutzell, junior, Fort Hill.

Among those receiving honorable mention were Southern's Jane Bell, also a junior; Paula Knieriem, Mt. Savage senior; Caroline Blizzard, Allegany senior; and Debbie Clise, Fort Hill senior.

Hillen, who led the Rams to the semi-finals of the state championship, netted 356 points and 27.8 average. She was also an area leader in steals, assists and foul shooting, hitting 75.1 percent. It is the second year in a row that Hillen was named to the team.

Accident Mayor

from the county commissioners' office that the deed transferring the old elementary school property to the town has been signed and recorded. Within the next few weeks, the town will publish information on the procedures for public participation in submitting expressions of interest on proposed utilization of the property.

Dog Ordinance

Numerous complaints from residents about dogs running loose in the town were discussed April 2. Unrestrained dogs appear to be a particular problem in the mobile home court area, and the council stated they definitely intend to work with the appropriate county officials on strictly enforcing the provisions of the county's dog ordinance.

Clean Up Day

Friday, May 4, has been designed "Spring Clean Up Day." Residents of the town are asked to gather debris and trash and place it along the street for pickup no later than 2 p.m. The usual household garbage will also be collected on this day. In case of rain May 4, an alternate date of May 11 was set.

Population Estimate Received

The town recently received notification from the U.S. Census Bureau of recently prepared population estimates. The July 1, 1982 population estimate for Accident is 258. The April 1, 1980 "base" population is 246. The 1982 figure will be used in calculating the town's share of federal revenue sharing funds.

CRIME SOLVERS

Call 334-3111

Reward $100-$1000

This week Crime Solvers and the Garrett County Sheriff's Department are seeking information concerning the illegal entering and thefts of the Oakland Clothing Wear-House which occurred on two separate occasions.

The first break-in occurred on December 3, 1983, when over $4,000 of clothing and money were taken. The second theft occurred on February 29, 1984, and resulted in a loss of over $600 in merchandise. Entry was gained through the rear of the building on both occasions.

All leads in this case have been exhausted and Crime Solvers are seeking the help of the public. A reward of up to $1,000 in cash is being offered for information leading to the arrest and indictment of the person or persons responsible for this crime. Callers to Crime Solvers Hotline, 334-3111, need not identify themselves and no court appearance is ever necessary. All information will remain confidential and the call may remain anonymous.

Crime Solvers also pays cash rewards for information leading to the capture of wanted persons in other unsolved homicides, rapes, burglaries, and aggravated assaults.

D.A.V. Auxiliary Elect Officers

Disabled American Veterans, Mt. Top Chapter 29, and its Auxiliary elected officers at their March 26 meetings.

Chapter officers elected were: Bill Meyers, commander; Bill Corbin, senior vice commander; Frank Perry, junior vice commander; Gerald Sanders, treasurer; Louise Harvey, chaplin; McKinley Stephens, judge advocate; and Jim McCrobie, sergeant at arms.

Auxiliary officers are Hazel Meyers, commander; Wilda Sanders, senior vice commander; Vida McCrobie, junior vice commander; Betty Stephens, treasurer; and Margaret Williams, chaplain. The new commander will fill the appointed officers before installation on April 23.

During the auxiliary business meeting a letter was read from Mrs. Thelma Williamson, past national commander and DAVA national convention chairman asking the auxiliary to furnish door prizes for the convention to be held August 26-30 at the Sheraton Hotel in Washington. A letter was also read from Kenneth Lewellen, DAV department commander, about legislative hearings concerning veterans.

Commander Sanders reminded committee chairpersons to mail their quarterly report forms ten days before the DEC meeting April 29. Annual report forms have been received and must be mailed by May 15. She also named an audit committee and announced an audit date of April 9.

Plans were made to visit the veterans in the local nursing homes in April.

Following the meeting refreshments were served by Wilda Sanders and Hazel Meyers.

Rains Contribute To Flooding In Several Areas

Heavy rains brought flooding conditions to several low-lying areas of the county this morning after 1.02 inches of rain fell during the past 24 hours.

The entire week's weather picture showed lots of snow and icy road conditions, although a slight warming trend in temperatures still gives hope that winter will soon relinquish its hold.

High for the week was 54 degrees on Monday, and the lowest overnight low was seven degrees on Saturday night, according to Weber's weather station near Oakland.

High last Thursday was 36 degrees and the .88 of an inch of precipitation fell as a slick five and one-half inches of snow.

Friday had a high of only 37 degrees after a drop the preceding night to 27, and there was an inch and a half of snow. High Saturday was 42 degrees after the Friday night drop to 26, and an additional inch and a half of snow was recorded.

Sunny skies Sunday brought moderating temperatures and a high of 47 degrees after the week's lowest overnight low. Monday was the warmest of the week after a mercury drop to 22 Sunday night. Tuesday had a high of 49 degrees after a low the night before of 31.

High Wednesday was 37 degrees after Tuesday night's low of 34, and there was .60 of an inch of rain. Last night's low was 35 degrees and heavy rains measured 1.02 of an inch on Weber's precipitation gauge.

Sheriff Reports Mt. Lake Park Theft, Vandelism

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department is investigating a breaking and entering, a theft and an act of vandalism which occurred Monday night at the Mt. Lake Park town hall.

According to a department spokesman, the theft was discovered at approximately 7:15 a.m. Tuesday morning when a $50.00 socket set was reported missing. The culprits had employed a hammer in an attempt to gain entry to the safe, but were unable to do so.

A town truck which was parked outside the building sustained approximately $200 in damage when the thieves shattered the windshield.

The investigation is continuing.

Golda M. Wilson, Kitzmiller, reported Saturday or Sunday, unknown persons removed an automatic washing machine from her abandoned mobile home which is located on Center Street in Kitzmiller.

Loss was estimated at $25.00.

Voters League Has Program On Housing Problem

The problem of housing for low income people was the topic for discussion at the Garrett County League of Women Voters luncheon meeting held Saturday, February 18, at the Starlite Restaurant, Oakland.

According to the 1980 U.S. Census figures 6.6% of Garrett County's year round housing units are without plumbing, as compared with 2.1% for all Maryland houses. The median household income for Garrett County (1980) was $11,537, as compared with $20,658 for Maryland (1980).

One possible solution to low income housing was presented by Dorothy Morris, speaking on behalf of Habitat for Humanity, a newly formed group in Garrett County which has 32 projects in the United States and in four underdeveloped countries. According to their literature, "Habitat for Humanity, Inc., is a non-profit Christian housing ministry dedicated to helping poor people improve the conditions in which they are forced to live." The organization establishes a local Fund for Humanity at each project location. This fund, created from gifts and non-interest loans, serves as capital for building houses.

Habitat for Humanity in Garrett County is headed by Sister Kathrine Arata, formerly from the House of Hope, now serving in Kitzmiller, and a board of directors made up of volunteers.

Meg Ellis, of Garrett County Community Action, explained her agency's program for assisting low-income families with housing.

Three Young Men Charged By Police For Auto Damages

Maryland State Police have charged an 18-year-old Grantsville man and two male juveniles from the Accident-McHenry area with the destruction of a motor vehicle which was parked along a Garrett County highway.

According to police reports, a 1979 Chevy C-10 pickup belonging to Ronald R. Gatton, McHenry, had been parked along U.S. Rt. 219, approximately one-half mile south of the Mosser Road on the night of March 2.

The report continues, saying that a vehicle carrying Robert Len Wilt and the juveniles observed the abandoned vehicle and passed the pickup repeatedly while throwing rocks.

Written confessions obtained later indicated the three made a special trip to gather rocks in an effort to damage the vehicle. One of the juveniles admitted to also breaking out the grill and headlight with an iron bar. The other indicated he was the driver throughout the incident.

The pickup sustained $1,459 in damages.

Wilt has been charged with destruction of property while the other two have been charged with juvenile delinquency.

Tfc. L.R. Rosage was in charge of the investigation.

Hart Supporters Slate Meeting

A group of "Americans with Hart" will meet Thursday, April 12, at 7:30 p.m. at the Oakland Center of Garrett Communitty College, Room 303.

Materials will be distributed on Senator Gary Hart's issues: taxes, arms control, education and jobs.

Everyone interested in this presidential candidate is welcome to attend.

Information contacts from the Hart organization are also being invited to attend.

For information concerning this meeting persons may call: Aloise O'Neill, 387-4884; Frances Gnegy, 334-4570; Margaret DeWitt, 334-4755 or Helen Baumgartner, 334-2410.

Thefts Reported To State Police

Maryland State Police are investigating several local thefts, two of which recently occurred in downtown Friendsville.

According to police, Olin Friend reported on March 18 that sometime between February 18 and that date, a Southern States automotive battery was removed from a farm truck parked on his property on Walnut Street.

Loss was estimated at approximately $45.00.

Friend's son, Walter O. Friend, reported at that time that someone had removed a coffee jar containing $178.00 in coins from under the seat of the family vehicle that was parked on First Street.

Tfc. D.K. Williams is continuing the investigation.

John F. Mellinger, Jr., Swanton, reported to police on Friday the theft of a CB radio from his car which was parked beside his business establishment, Mellinger Enterprises, on Rt. 135.

The theft occurred sometime between March 24 an 28. The vehicle was reportedly unlocked at the time.

Tfc. L.R. Rosage is handling the investigation.

"The Adventures of Tom Sawyer" was the first major book manuscript written on a typewriter.

Yough River Bill Passes

Senate Bill 285 giving protection to rights of property owners in the scenic and wild corridors of the Youghiogheny River passed the House Monday after lengthy debate on the issue.

Although neither Sen. John Bambacus nor Del. George Edwards is totally satisfied with the much-amended piece of legislation, both feel it gives more than what land owners had under the old legislation.

As Del. Edwards said "I'm pleased with the bill as far as it goes. If the compromise doesn't work well, then the state has been put on notice that local control would be better."

Local property owners were still very much troubled that the strength of the legislation had been diluted as far as property rights are concerned. According to letters to Sen. Bambacus and Del. Edwards sent by Richard C. Browning, president of the Youghiogheny Property Owners group, the landowners are also greatly concerned that the Secretary of Department of Natural Resources will continue a "dictatorial path" in implementing restrictive regulations without a management plan.

Sen. Bambacus promised landowners and has received a letter from Dr. Torrey Brown, DNR Secretary, committing that department to improving regulations governing activities in the corridor and developing a sound wild river management plan.

Brown said "I want to ensure you that only after the local citizens' advisory board for the Youghiogheny River reviews and advises us on any proposed new regulations pertaining to the regulation of white water rafting along the Youghiogheny River will those regulations be adopted. We intend all proposed new regulations be consistent with the recommendations addressed in the . . . management plan and with the intent of the Scenic and Wild River Act."

Col. Browning said Tuesday that although the commitment was not exactly what was promised, "We will work it out."

Property owner John Hinebaugh was more forthcoming with comments, pointing out that the original bill would have provided for a management plan to be prepared and approved, after which the Secretary would promulgate regulations. Now, Hinebaugh says he feels land owners are right back where they started because Brown's letter says his department will issue regulations even though a management plan for the river has not yet been prepared.

The county commissioners discussed the formation of a new local Yough River advisory board promised that once the bill passed and makeup of the board was final, they will act. The commissioners made that announcement during a press conference Tuesday afternoon, and said they will make recommendations for board membership to the DNR in a week or so.

Commissioner Elwood Groves commented that it should be recognized that "The bill is certainly a greatly compromised version of what we proposed in the beginning of the session. However, we were willing to support it as long as were gaining ground and there was nothing detrimental to the rights of property owners."

He cited as gains that fact that for the first time the law recognizes that DNR is dealing with private property and directed the Secretary to see that property rights are protected as guaranteed by the constitution.

Groves concluded by saying that although the bill is a "watered-down version and cannot be considered deregulation of the Yough, it really insists that the law address the realities of the situation."

HB 1738 Defeated 7-1

House bill 1738 which would have reconstructured the liquor license fees in the county and eliminated the Special Class D surcharge which was defeated by a 7-1 vote in the Senate Economic Affairs hearing Tuesday afternoon. The only senator voting for the change was Sen. Troy Brailey, of Baltimore City.

The measure had passed the House Economic Matters committee unanimously and had passed by an almost unanimous vote on the house floor.

Del. George Edwards had sponsored the measure and spoke in its favor before the Senate committee. Also speaking in favor of the bill was George Collins, owner of the Deep Creek Beverage Shoppe, who presented letters from several members of the Licensed Beverage Association who were for the measure.

Speaking against the bill were Joseph Wolf, administrative clerk for the Liquor Control Board, who stood to possibly lose his position if the measure passed, William Naylor, Liquor Control board member, and DeCorsey Bolden. Joyce Snyder, owner of Poor Richard's tavern near Deep Creek, presented responses from four other licensees - including Pawn Run Saloon, Red Run Restaurant, Curt's Corner and the Elks Lodge - testifying against the proposal.

The county commissioners are divided 2-1 against the measure, with Commissioner Ernie Gregg saying that he opposed the bill because it would have had a negative financial impact on the county.

Commissioner Elwood Groves also opposed the bill, making his decision last Friday after reviewing the amendments to the measure. He said that after weighing the projected revenue loss of approximately $38,000 and the even greater potential income loss in future years, he felt it would be irresponsible to support the measure.

Groves continued by saying he was somewhat displeased with Del. Edwards' decision in the last minute to introduce the bill. The last-minute decision did not allow the general public time for comments and input. "My experience has been that hasty legislation tends to be poor legislation," Groves remarked and concluding by saying that he feels "It is plain to see the bill was a special interest bill and one not necessarily in the best interests of the county and taxpayers in general."

Del. Edwards took exception this week to statements that the two opposing commissioners had withheld decisions on the bill until they saw the legislation. He pointed out again that he had sent copies of the draft legislation to all three in February and had received no written or verbal comments from Groves or Gregg until after they saw the actual bill in late March.

He noted the amendments had been verbally relayed as soon as they had been prepared. "It is very easy to take a position after the fact," Edwards said.

The delegate was especially unhappy with a statement attributed to Commissioner Gregg that Gregg knew nothing about the proposal and that action was taken without consent of the commissioners. He was also upset that Gregg reportedly said that he could not get any answers to his questions downstate concerning the law.

Actually, Edwards said that no phone calls or letters from Commissioner Gregg had been recorded, and that it is standard policy to give immediate verbal answers to questions any of the commissioners may voice to his office. If an answer is not immediately available, a letter is sent with the requested information as soon as possible.

In conclusion, Del. Edwards said this incident had contributed greatly to his learning process in the legislature and that this experience will help make him a better legislator. He feels he has learned more about the processes and procedures and while adhering to his belief that all levels of government should work together because they serve the same people, he plans in the future to issue a deadline for comments on bills he feels strongly about.

Commissioner John Braskey supported the bill, saying Wednesday although he was not surprised by the bill's failure this year, plans are already afoot to introduce similar legislation at the next session.

Braskey feels strongly that the liquor administration should be brought under control of the county commissioners rather than operating as an autonomous board which must answer to no one. He does not feel the county needs a separate liquor administration, since the commissioner staff could handle the administration. He also feels the salary review board needs to look at the salaries and benefits given the liquor board.

"When the liquor control board makes ten times the amount of a school board member, a serious look at salary structure is needed", Braskey concluded.

MY-O-TIRE SERVICE OPENED ITS SECOND LOCATION in Oakland Monday morning at the Route 219 north mini-mall, in the store formerly occupied by Western Auto. The new center offers mounting and computer spin balancing in addition to Goodyear and Dayton tires, and employees will shuttle vehicles from that location to the My-O-Tire south of Oakland for front end alignment and mechanical service if desired. The original location continues to offer mounting and balancing as well, according to owner Russell Sines, pictured above center. At left is Bill Kelley, and at right is Eric Sines. My-O-Tire has been in Oakland four years, after consolidating its Frostburg and Westernport locations and moving here. The seven-year-old business now has 19 employees with the two at the northern location, and in order to increase his production capacity, Sines is hoping to hire ten employees by the end of the summer.

Accident Mayor, Council To Plant Wye Oak Seedling

The mayor and council of Accident announced at their meeting Monday night that a Wye Oak seedling will be planted in the Accident Community Park April 11 to commemorate the 350th birthday of the state of Maryland. The public is invited to the 10 a.m. ceremony at the town park, at the west end of Deakin Street adjacent to Town View Village.

The seedling was offered to the town by the Garrett County Forestry Board in conjunction with the Heritage Committee. Charles Strauss, chairman of the Garrett County Forestry Board, is in charge of arrangements.

Take Oaths

Richard Carlson and James Smith took the oaths of office to begin two-year terms as councilmen at Monday night's meeting. Carlson and Smith, elected at the March 6 municipal election, were sworn in by Mayor Wayne Fratz.

Councilmen Dave Davis and Charles Strauss were also in attendance for the April 2 meeting.

EPA Answers Mailed

Town clerk Marjorie Fratz reported on a March 5 letter received from Attorney James P. Clark of the Board of Assistance Appeals, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Washington, D.C.

Clark was requesting answers to several questions he believes to be important in resolving the town's appeal of an EPA audit.

Clerk Fratz prepared a seven-page response which was submitted to EPA on March 26.

The difference between hearing sounds and listening to them.
There's a big difference between hearing sounds and being able to really listen to them.
Take the sounds of music, for example. Unfortunately, most of the great classics and many of today's favorites were written for persons with perfect hearing—people who can hear and appreciate the difference between a violin and a cello.
So, if you've found you need to turn up the stereo a bit more than you used to, and your favorite stanza isn't as loud and clear as it used to be, now's the time to have your hearing tested professionally.
With the technology available today there's probably no reason for you to miss a single sound.
Better hearing is a sound investment

Judge Turney Hears Variety Of Court Cases

Two Accident area brothers were found not guilty of assault charges in cases heard March 27 in Garrett County District Court.

Judge Jack Turney heard the charges against Francis E. and Galen E. Resh which stemmed from an incident occurring near their home on February 11.

A charge of trespassing against Galen Resh was declared nolle prosque.

William Richard Eason, 20, Oxford, was found not guilty of battery against Charles R. Mills.

The incident occurred on January 28 at a business establishment in McHenry.

Leo G. Coddington, 64, Grantsville, was found not guilty of two charges of animal cruelty that had been brought against him by an Allegany County Humane Society investigative officer.

Coddington had been accused of failing to provide food and a suitable habitat for two horses, a pony, a dog and several pigs.

The custody of the animals remains to be decided by the court.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered in the case of Arnold W. Miller, Jr., 18, Mt. Lake Park, who was found guilty of theft of a quart of beer from the Arrowhead Grocery & Deli on February 9.

Herbert Blake Paugh, 53, Friendsville, was found guilty of disorderly conduct and two counts of battery.

The incident occurred on February 17 in Friendsville when Paugh became disorderly and resisted arrest, shoving Cpl. Elmer Selby of the Maryland State Police in the process.

Paugh later assaulted Court Commissioner William Martin in Grantsville as he was appearing on the first two charges. He was charged with battery against Martin.

Judge Turney has ordered a pre-sentence investigation.

Teresa Lynn Paugh, 20, Oakland, daughter of Herbert B. Paugh, appeared before Turney on an assault charge which occurred on February 17 in Friendsville when she allegedly assaulted a juvenile female.

Probation before judgment was ordered by Turney however, Paugh paid a $25 fine, plus court costs. She is also to observe six months of unsupervised probation.

A case against Mary J. Bare, Berlin, involving a bad check charge was declared nolle prosque.

State Police Report Minor Auto Accidents

Two Cumberland women were slightly injured early Sunday morning in a one-car accident which occurred on U.S. Route 48, approximately one and one-half miles east of Route 495.

According to Maryland State Police reports, a 1979 VW Rabbit being operated by Lucy Kay Haywood, 23, and carrying a passenger, Mary B. Harmon, 20, was eastbound on Route 48 when the operator fell asleep at the wheel. The vehicle went out of control, ran off the roadway onto the median strip, struck the guard rails and proceded back across the eastbound lane coming to rest in a ditch.

The Northern Rescue Squad responded to the scene and transported the women to Memorial Hospital in Cumberland where they were treated and released.

Tfc. D. Williams charged Haywood with negligent driving.

An unattended vehicle was struck Saturday evening in a hit-and-run accident, however authorities have charged a West Virginia man in that incident.

According to reports, a 1984 Pontiac Grand Prix owned by Thomas E. Bosley, Oakland, was legally parked on the westbound shoulder of U.S. Route 50, one hundred feet west of the Table Rock Road, when a 1979 Ford Bronco driven by Robert Allen Kight, 30, backed from a parking lot, crossed the road and struck Bosley's vehicle. Kight then, allegedly, fled the scene.

Tfc. L.R.Rosage charged Kight with leaving the scene of an accident involving an unattended vehicle.

Neither driver was injured in a two-vehicle accident that occurred at approximately 12:45 p.m., Thursday afternoon on U.S. Route 219, one half mile south of the Paul Friend Road.

The accident involved a truck owned by Sell & Co., Cumberland, and a truck from Ryder Truck Rental unit in Baltimore.

According to police reports, the Sell Co. vehicle, being driven by Gary Edwin Gaither, 24, Kevser, W.Va., was northbound on Route 219 and started to make a left turn into a private drive when the Ryder rental, being operated by Charles J. Williams, 25, Pasadena, attempted to pass and struck the Gaither vehicle in the left front.

The Williams vehicle proceded off the road, ran into a ditch and overturned. Reports indicate Williams assumed Gaither intended to pull onto the right shoulder as he had his right turn signal in operation.

Tfc. Gary Resh charged Gaither with failure to have functional signal lights and making an improper left turn. Williams was charged with improper passing.

A passenger in the Williams vehicle, Harry William Beckman, 40, Baltimore, was also uninjured.

New Crossroads Residents Will Arrive In June

Six mentally retarded persons scheduled to be transferred to the Garrett Crossroads residential program in June will be temporarily housed in rented houses until construction of the new Crossroads group is completed, according to Dan Elmlinger, director of Crossroads.

The new group home, to be located south of Oakland on Weber Road, was originally scheduled for completion by June 30. According to Elmlinger, the Mental Retardation-Developmental Disabilities Administration has not yet purchased the property allocated for the group home. The state agency is now projecting November of this year as the date of completion.

The six residents must be transferred to Garrett County before July 1 if they are to retain federal Medicaid funding, necessitating the use of rental properties to house them. The two rental properties will be used by Crossroads in the future as apartment living facilities for Crossroads clients.

Elmlinger said that Crossroads is currently interviewing for residential and day program staff to provide programming for the six new clients. The six clients will participate in a transitional day program to determine their needs, and to provide specific programming to acclimatize them to their new environment.

Eventually they will attend the day program offered by the Appalachian Center, where current Crossroads residents receive training in self help, vocational, and daily living skills.

The three men and three women, who will be transferred from state residential centers and institutions for the retarded, will have 24 hour supervision at the temporary Crossroads group homes.

Belinda M. Blocher Becomes Bride Of Ronald R. Wilhelm November 12

Belinda Mae Blocher and Ronald Ray Wilhelm were united in marriage November 12, in a double-ring ceremony at the Mount Zion United Methodist Church, Frostburg, with the Rev. K Almond officiating. Mrs. Carolyn Ganoe was organist and Mrs. Lois Rowe and Mrs. Connie Burdock, aunts of the bridegroom, were vocalists.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest G. Blocher, Frostburg. Mr. Wilhelm is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald F. Wilhelm, Lonaconing.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was attired in a white gown of polyster knit and Chantilly lace. The empire bodice featured a Queen Anne neckline accented with simulated pearls and sequins and long, fitted sleeves tapered to a point. The full, hooped skirt swept to a chapel length train. A camelot headpiece of matching lace held a tango length mantilla of lace edged bridal illusion. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of silk white roses with accents of wine roses and baby's breath.

Terri Wilhelm served as the matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Wanda Tabler, sister of the bride; Kathy Lawson, Karlinda Kamp, Chris Ferree and Denise Beeman, sister of the groom. Elizabeth Tabler, niece of the bride, was flower girl and Connie Pope registered the guests.

Serving as his cousin's best man was Steve Wilhelm. Ushers were Wayne Blocher and Greg Blocher, brothers of the bride; Galen Kamp and Timothy Wilhelm, cousins of the groom and Glen Wilhelm, brother of the groom. Forrest Blocher Jr., brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the Wilhelm Recreation Area. A pink and white color scheme was carried out in the decorations.

The three-tier cake, baked by Shelby Gable, was decorated with pink rosebuds and featured a water fountain and a double staircase leading to side cakes.

The food was prepared by Robert Wilhelm and served by members of the bridegroom's family. Tammy Rounds and Teresa Broadwater distributed the birdseed packets. Music was provided by Gary and the Knightriders.

The bride is a graduate of Northern High School and is employed at Buckel's Market, Grantsville. Mr. Wilhelm is employed by Westvaco Resources, Inc., Luke.

The couple resides at Star Route, Frostburg. A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the parents of the groom at their home. The bride was the guest of honor at a surprise bridal shower given by the bride's attendants at the Wilhelm Recreation Area.

Edgar-Brenneman Couple Will Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Edgar, Grantsville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Carol Ann, to Ronald Mark Brenneman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brenneman, also of Grantsville.

Miss Edgar will graduate from Hood College in May with a B.A. degree in computer science. She is presently employed by the National Bureau of Standards. Mr. Brenneman is currently attending Garrett Community College and hopes to pursue a course of study in taxidermy.

A July wedding is planned.

Livengood Earns CPT Designation

Terry Livengood, Springs, Pa., recently passed the National Board examination for cardio pulmonary technologist, thus earning the designation of a certified cardiopulmonary technologist (C-CPT).

Livengood passed the certified respiratory therapy technician (CRTT) examination in December 1973 after training at the University Hospitals of Cleveland, Ohio, and attending Cuyahoga Community College, Cleveland.

Livengood is currently manager of the Pulmonary Laboratory at the Memorial Hospital and Medical Center, Cumberland. He is also president of the Pulmonics Corporation, Cumberland, and president of the Western Maryland Chapter of the American Association of Respiratory Therapy.

Livengood is past president of the Springs Historical Society, School Board Director, Salisbury Elk-Lick School District, from December 1983 to present; past president of Memorial Hospital Employees Advisory Council; past president of Memorial Hospital Employees' Association, and a member of the Crafts Committee, Springs Folk Festival.

He is married to the former Sharon Oester.

Clark-Miller Couple To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. J. Seth Clark, Annapolis and Deep Creek Lake, announce the engagement of their daughter, Claire Anne Clark, to Jeffrey C. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Miller III, Timonium.

The bride-to-be is a graduate of Severna Park High School and the University of Maryland at College Park. Mr. Miller graduated from James Madison University, Harrisonburg, Va.

An April wedding is planned.

SANDY, A TWO-YEAR-OLD MUSTANG that was born on the Nevada rangelands, poses with her new owner, 13-year-old Steve Brenneman, Accident. Steve chose Sandy from a group of wild horses available for adoption at the Wild Horse Adoption Center in Lewisberry, Pa.

Mustang From West Finds Home In Garrett County

by Joan Sussman

It's a long trip from Snowstorm, Nevada, to a small farm near Accident, but Sandy, a two-year-old brown mustang, who was running wild on the range a year ago, seems to be adjusting very well.

Her proud new owner, Steve Brenneman, read about the Bureau of Land Management's Adopt-A-Horse Program in a magazine at school about a year ago. He read about the problem caused by wild horse and burro herds competing with livestock and wildlife for too little food on government rangelands.

To keep herds at reasonable levels, the wild horses, which are descended from domestic horses that have escaped into the wild throughout the history of the west, are rounded up and made available to the public through Adopt-A-Horse.

The wild horses and burros were routinely rounded up for slaughter before the passing of the Wild Horse and Burro Act, which placed them under the protection of the federal government in 1971.

Steve decided he wanted to adopt a wild horse. He started saving money for the $215 adoption donation fee. He worked on nearby farms making hay and cleaning stalls, chopping wood, and saving birthday and Christmas money until he had enough saved. "I guess I'll be working to pay for her feed now", Steve commented.

Wild horses have eaten only coarse range grass and hay all their lives. Sandy will have to become used to her new, richer Garrett County diet gradually.

The Wild Horse and Burro Adoption Center near Harrisburg, Pa., where Sandy spent the winter after her trip east last fall, screens applicants to be sure they know enough about horses to feed and care for them properly. Prospective owners are questioned about where they will keep the horse and what they will feed it.

Steven and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Brenneman, had no problem with that. There have been horses around as long as Steve can remember. Steve's dad signed the adoption papers because adopters of mustangs must be at least 18 years old.

Sandy will share quarters with two part Arabians named Frosty and Diablo. Diablo is Steve's 4-H project. Steve is a member of the Saddle Tramps 4-H club and showed Diablo at the fair last year.

"I might show Sandy at the fair if she is tame enough and gains some weight by then," Steve commented.

He spends time with Sandy every evening after school and she is already calm and friendly when he works around her, brushing and getting her used to being handled. He is teaching her to lead with the help of his father.

"I picked her 'cause she was friendlier than most of the others and I liked her looks," Steve explained.

He chose Sandy from about 40 wild horses that were at the center when his family visited it for the first time a few weeks ago. Two weeks ago they were back with a trailer to haul Sandy to her new home.

Steve hopes to train her to ride after she is gentled, and to raise foals from her when she is old enough.

Steve pointed out that wild horses have very tough hooves so they rarely need shoes. Her toughness, friendliness, and strong, straight legs are traits he hopes she will pass on to her foals.

Persons wanting to adopt a wild horse or burro should contact the Wild Horse Adoption Center, P.O. Box, 178, Lewisberry, Pa., 17339. The center screens applicants and provides helpful information about horse care and especially safety, with each horse. Adopters must promise to keep the horse for at least one year.

Byron Introduces Legislation For Small Business

Sixth District Congresswoman Beverly Byron has introduced legislation that would give owners of small businesses a one-time capital-gains exclusion on the sale of their firms. This bill, the Small Business Owners Capital Gains Exclusion Act, is designed to encourage entrepreneurs that are ready to retire to sell small businesses rather than close them.

Representative Byron explained, "Small businesses and the people behind them are the backbone of industry in this country. However, when the entrepreneurs who have invested their lives in a business are ready to retire, they often cannot afford to sell the business because of the heavy capital gains taxes on the proceeds of their investments. Rather than sell out, the individual is forced to simply shut down operations. In addition to penalizing citizens for years of hard work, we also deprive our communities of the services that those businesses have provided."

Congresswoman Byron's bill would provide a one-time exclusion of the first $125,000 of gains from the sale of a business if it meets certain requirements. Mrs. Byron added, "This legislation will give incentive to our nation's small businessmen and women to neither neglect nor abandon their small businesses because of our present tax laws. I hope that my colleagues will support this bill and America's small businessmen."

THANK YOU

We want to thank all the wonderful friends and neighbors who were such a comfort and help during the recent illness and after the death of our beloved daughter, sister, aunt and granddaughter, Karen Sue Murphy.

We especially want to thank the members of Selbysport U.M.W. for their sponsorship of a fund in Karen's behalf and for the wonderful meal served to the family and friends after the funeral; for those who gave flowers, food, money and donations to the Lupus Fund; for those who donated cars, the pall bearers, Rev. and Mrs. Edward Myers for their trips and time at the hospital and home; for the wonderful care of the doctors and nurses at the University Hospital, Morgantown; and to the Northern Rescue Squad. And last but not least, we want to thank Mark Durst, Mr. and Mrs. Harman, and Mr. Donald Newman. We will always appreciate your kindness.

Putting Things In Order

In this age of medicare, social security and homes for the aged, sometimes people forget an important part of growing old — tranquility!

Yes, tranquility and peace are just as important in growing old gracefully as is sufficient insurance or all the other means with which we show our concern for the elderly.

Have you ever noticed that old people have a knack of putting things in order? In fact, they need everything tidy, neat and sure. Certainly their greatest need is for peace and security — but this can come only when they are at peace with God!

If we want to reap the harvest of friendship with God in our old age, then we must cultivate our relation with Him — when we are young and able. Regular church attendance and worship is your assurance of peace and tranquility during your own gentle lengthening years. It will be a heaven-sent reward and one which you cannot, will not, want to miss.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

BY WHAT AUTHORITY
April 8, 1984

Background Scripture: Mark 12:28-34.
Devotional Reading: Mark 12:28-34.

Let's be fair—at least this once—to the chief priests, scribes and elders. The question they directed to Jesus is a good one that has to be raised from time to time in religious and moral issues: "By what authority are you doing these things?" (11:28).

The "these things" at least included what Jesus had recently done in the precincts of the temple: driving out the temple merchants, overturning the tables of the moneychangers and the seats of the pigeon sellers, and forbidding all commercial traffic in the temple area. And, of course, there was that stinging rebuke: "Is it not written, 'My house shall be called a house of prayer for all nations'? But you have made it a den of robbers" (11:18).

THE BAPTISM OF JOHN

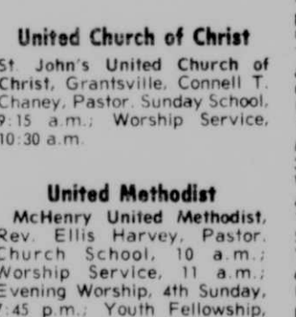
There is not recorded in the Gospels an incident in Jesus' life more dramatic and forceful than this. The normally quiet and gentle teacher on this occasion became a man of vigorous, if not violent, action. The Bible doesn't say he was angry that day, but we can hardly imagine him doing what he did and saying what he said without some evidence of righteous anger on his part.

If someone came into your church on Sunday morning and began to upset things the way Jesus did in the temple, wouldn't the clergy and authorities of the church want to know "by what authority?"



No matter how dramatic religious organizations have become, no matter how much we elevated the "priesthood of all believers," there is still a need for duly constituted authority in the church. Someone has to be authorized—by ordination, by election of the congregation—to speak and act for the religious body. If everyone could perform weddings, baptisms, and administer Holy Communion, we would have utter chaos in no time.

Yet, at the same time we acknowledge the need for authority in the church, we also must be, not eternally vigilant to detect and correct the misuse of that authority, but also to be able to recognize an even higher authority when it is mediated through some unusual or irregular channel.

In Jesus there was an authority that went beyond priesthood, training, or ecclesiastical recognition. Questions as to the source of it, he asked them where John the Baptist had gotten his authority. For the source of Jesus' authority, irregular and unsanctioned as it appeared, was the very same: the God who alone can say "My house..."

In God's house—as well as in his world—he is not bound by human conventions and standards of authority. And there may be times when the normal channels are blocked or unresponsive and he may have to turn over some tables and chairs before we remember that it is really God alone who can say, "My house..."

STARVIEW

Carrey goes quackers in 'The Duck Factory'

By David Gabriel

Jim Carrey

Jim Carrey is a funny man on and off the set. Before he was signed to star in NBC's spring series, "The Duck Factory," premiering Thursday, April 12, he was already touted as a hot comic at L.A.'s Comedy Store.

Everybody comes to the Comedy Store to check out the comedians. So it wasn't unusual that Allan Burns, producer of "The Mary Tyler Moore Show," came to the Hollywood comedy mecca specifically looking for the lead for his new comedy series, "The Duck Factory."

"Allan loved my standup act," recalls Carrey. "But he wondered if I could act. I did my Henry Fonda impression from 'On Golden Pond.' He realized then that there's an actor struggling to get out."

The show centers around the Buddy Winkler Studio, which produces an animated "Dippy Duck Show" for television. Carrey plays Skip Tarkenton, a cartoonist from Duluth, Minn., who finally gets a chance to come out to Hollywood and work at the Duck Factory. He works with Jack Gilford, who plays his cartoonist idol.

Gilford and Carrey have great fun improvising crazy things on the set. "We get into such wild things," Carrey says, "that Jack tells me, 'Jim, stop! You're hurting my brain.' " Carrey also likes to walk around all day singing out loud. "Before I know it there are four harmonies — the whole cast gets into it."

Born in a Toronto suburb 22 years ago, Carrey was already a major comedy star in Canada before heading south of the border to further his career. When he was a kid he had ambitions of becoming a comic. He recalls how making funny faces in the mirror would break him up.

Now he hopes we will look at his flexible face on the tube and break up. If that happens and his new show is a hit, he promises to return next season to work on our funny bones again.

Macht breathes life into Benedict Arnold

By Joe Haviland

Stephen Macht

For Stephen Macht, who has a Ph.D. in dramatic literature, playing the role of Benedict Arnold in the CBS miniseries "George Washington," airing April 8, 10 and 11, represented another large research project.

Last summer, spurred by his teenage son's American history course, Macht started researching the character of Benedict Arnold, engrossed in the man who went down in history as America's most notorious traitor.

"I was studying history with my son last summer and I started to read about Benedict Arnold," recalls the teacher/actor. "Coincidentally CBS was casting 'George Washington.' The producers said, 'Take the script home and come back and read George Washington for us.' And I said, 'Listen, I've read all of the script and I know you're not going to cast me as George Washington (the part went to Barry Bostwick) but there are five other parts in it that I could play without a blink.' "

Macht listed them, concluding with Benedict Arnold, and they told him to take the part home and come back and read for it. "I came back and I was really prepared, did it, and I thought it was brilliant," remembers Macht. "Two hours later they called up and said they thought I was brilliant and offered me the part."

To prepare for his role, Macht read all of James Thomas Flexner's books on George Washington, which the miniseries is based upon, including an earlier volume by Flexner on Arnold called, "The Traitor and the Spy."

"The thing that most people don't know about Arnold, especially Americans who think he's a great traitor," says Macht, "is that up until the end of his career, he was Washington's favorite attack general (winning the battles of Ticonderoga and Saratoga). He was proud, audacious, neurotic and a real rogue kind of guy whose motto was 'Glory Above All Things.'

"There was nothing in his personality that I didn't like," says Macht, an adjunct professor at UCLA who has starred in such miniseries and TV movies as "The Immigrants," "Amelia Earhart" and "Raid on Entebbe." "That's the great paradox of the man, that he had these wonderful traits and that somehow they went against him through pure greed."

SOAP OPERA WEEK

Aleksander's role is 'dreamy' on 'GL'

By Kimberly Redmond

I think Phillip Spaulding on "Guiding Light" is just dreamy and I'd like to know if you can tell me something about him? Also, where can I write to him. — J.B., Littletown, N.C.

Grant Aleksander

Grant Aleksander, who portrays Phillip on "GL," is from Baltimore, where the encouragement of a teacher steered him from athletics to a career in theater. Aleksander attended Washington and Lee University, studied acting at the Circle in the Square Theatre School in New York City, and appeared in the Afternoon Special TV movie, "A Very Delicate Matter." Aleksander met his girlfriend of four years, Sherry Nelson, when he played Hamlet to her Ophelia in a Shakespearean theater production. His "GL" part is his first recurring television role. You can write to Aleksander in care of "Guiding Light," CBS-TV, 51 W. 52nd St., New York, NY 10019.

Is it true that Erica Chandler (played by Susan Lucci) and Jenny Nelson (played by Kim Delaney) on "All My Children" are sisters? They resemble each other quite a bit. — M.D., Christiansted, St. Croix, Virgin Islands.

Your information is incorrect. Susan Lucci and Kim Delaney are not related in real-life or reel-life.

Susan Lucci

It disturbs me the way my favorite actors come and go on the soaps and it upset me a lot when "Search for Tomorrow" replaced Cynthia Gibb, who played Suzi Carter. Can you tell me whether or not her departure is temporary or permanent and why did she leave? — M.S., Pink Hill, N.C.

Miss Gibb's exit from "SFT" is permanent. She left the soap of her own accord in order to accept a starring role on the syndicated series, "Fame."

IN FOCUS

Saint James returns in 'Kate & Allie'

By Peter Meade

Susan Saint James

When Susan Saint James left the popular NBC series "McMillan and Wife" in 1976, she felt that her portrayal of the flighty Sally McMillan would be remembered and that her movie career would advance. However, after appearing in "Outlaw Blues," "Love at First Bite," "Carbon Copy" and "How to Beat the High Cost of Living," her movie career still hadn't clicked. Now, eight years since leaving "McMillan and Wife," Miss Saint James has returned to TV in CBS' "Kate & Allie."

When phone calls from movie producers started to wane, CBS executives were more persistent than ever in offering her a new series, partly due to the continuing popularity of "McMillan and Wife" in syndication.

"I only wanted to do a half-hour comedy with a live audience," remembers Miss Saint James. It took six months to make the deal. A pilot, "After George," was shot in California, but it didn't sell. By the time another deal could be made, Miss Saint James and her husband, Dick Ebersol, executive producer of "Saturday Night Live," were expecting their first child.

Fourteen miles down the road from their Connecticut home, Jane Curtin, who had worked with Ebersol on "Saturday Night Live" and with Miss Saint James in "How to Beat the High Cost of Living," was expecting a child also.

Miss Saint James' son, Charlie, and Miss Curtin's daughter, Tess, were born two weeks apart. The two mothers and their children got together frequently. Miss Saint James says they were quite content being "mousy Connecticut housewives," but then "Kate & Allie" entered their lives.

The series, which debuted last month, has allowed the mothers to work together, so it saves on baby-sitting, too.

The half-hour sitcom is taped in New York City — before a live audience — at the Ed Sullivan Theater. Kate and Allie are two high school friends, both divorced, who share a small basement apartment in Greenwich Village with their three children.

"I do my usual acting," says Miss Saint James, "and Jane does her usual hysteria. But it's realistic conversation, not joke, stop, joke. It's not Lucy and Ethel, we're just another couple raising kids, but we get to add dating."

If Miss Saint James' 11-year-old daughter, Harmony, is any judge, her mother has found a hit series.

"It's just as good as 'Knight Rider,' " says Harmony. "But they don't go out on the street."

Stephen Macht stars as Benedict Arnold in the epic eight-hour, three-part CBS miniseries, "George Washington," airing Sunday, April 8, Tuesday, April 10 and Wednesday, April 11.

TV TATTLE

John Ritter

Neighborly love

John Ritter and Penny Marshall star in "Love Thy Neighbor," a two-hour TV movie that will air on ABC later this season.

Ritter and Miss Marshall play suburban neighbors with clashing personalities and habits who are drawn into an unlikely affair when their spouses (played by Bert Convy and Constance McCashin) run off together.

'American Bandstand'

Patti Austin and The Alarm will guest star on "American Bandstand" Saturday, April 14. Miss Austin will sing "It's Gonna Be Special," and The Alarm will perform "Marching On" and "68 Guns."

'The Beaver'

It's Mayfield 20 years later, and Jerry Mathers is still the Beaver and Tony Dow is his all-American older brother, in CBS' "Still the Beaver," to be rebroadcast Monday, April 9.

The winner is...

Heading the list of Academy Award nominations, "Terms of Endearment," "The Right Stuff" and "Fanny and Alexander" will compete in the 56th Annual Academy Awards Presentation, airing live, Monday, April 9 on ABC.

Other film nominees include, "Silkwood," "The Dresser," "Tender Mercies," "Yentl," "Flashdance," "The Big Chill," "Reuben, Reuben" and "Educating Rita."

'George Washington'

Barry Bostwick plays the title role in "George Washington," the eight-hour, three-part CBS miniseries that charts the epoch-making life of America's first great leader. The miniseries airs Sunday, April 8, Tuesday, April 10 and Wednesday, April 11 on CBS.

SHOW AND TELL

Ratzenberger 'Cheers' successful series

By Gregory Garver

John Ratzenberger

HOLLYWOOD — As mailman Clifford Clavin on NBC's "Cheers," John Ratzenberger is one of the hip-hip-hoorays. He generally has a good scene or two each week. It isn't a big part, but Ratzenberger can rationalize his way out of that neatly. "I don't mind being the sixth banana," he says, "as long as I'm in a good bowl of fruit." And, obviously, he is. Ted Danson is a peach, and everybody knows that Shelley Long is the berries.

Ratzenberger has a unique background in that he is very American — from Bridgeport, Conn. — but got his professional start in England.

Fresh out of school, Ratzenberger went to England on a visit, liked it, and stayed on. He got under-the-workbench money as a carpenter, which had been his trade when he worked to put himself through school. An old college pal named Ray Hassett showed up in England. The two of them had done impromptu acts in the dining hall at Sacred Heart University in Bridgeport, so they figured what worked for the college kids would work just as well for the Britishers.

The two started Sal's Meat Market, not a butcher shop but a comedy group, and began doing their act in pubs. Gradually, they built a considerable following in and around London. They worked together for five years, until Hassett left to come back to America. Ratzenberger stayed in England and started a career as an actor in films and on stage there.

"Whenever they needed somebody to play an American soldier," he says, "they called me. John Schlesinger used me in 'Yanks.' He also had me test with all the others trying out for parts, because he knew I was really a Yank and could spot the phonies." He also did some writing, and a writing job brought him to California in '81. But he kept on acting, and an acting job sent him back to England where he was cast as Candice Bergen's jeep-driver in "Gandhi."

When he returned to California again, he landed the part in "Cheers." Ratzenberger is off again, however, when the season's over, to work once more for Schlesinger — this time in Mexico on the spy film, "The Falcon and the Snowman."

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By Val Carew

My friend and I have a bet. I say Dennis Weaver, who played the title role in the series, "McCloud," is Chester on the old "Gunsmoke" series. Am I right? — M.E.C., Wrigley, Tenn.

You are indeed right. Weaver, who was formerly on "McCloud" and "Gentle Ben" and starred in CBS' "Emerald Point, N.A.S.," now on hiatus, played Chester on "Gunsmoke."

Dennis Weaver

Was there a show in the late '60s called "Honey West"? If so, who starred in it? — Curious, Owensville, Mo.

There was indeed a series called "Honey West." Anne Francis starred as the lady private eye who had a pet ocelot and a lipstick that contained a radio transmitter. The series was on ABC for one season beginning Sept. 17, 1965.

Can you tell me something about a film called "Caravans"? — A.R., Kennebunkport, Maine

Sure can. "Caravans," which was released in 1978, was a co-production of the United States and Iran. It was based on James Michener's epic novel about the search through the desert for the daughter of a U.S. senator. It starred Anthony Quinn, Jennifer O'Neill, Michael Sarrazin and Christopher Lee.

Robert Wagner

Can you please tell me Robert Wagner's age? He looks like he's between 35 and 40 years old. Also, where can I write him? — N.K., St. Augustine, Fla.

Wagner retains amazingly boyish looks for his age. He was born Feb. 10, 1930 in Detroit, which means that he is 54. Write Wagner in care of his series, "Hart to Hart," at Spelling-Goldberg Productions, Warners Hollywood Studios, 1041 North Formosa Avenue, Hollywood, CA 90046.

(Do you have a question about TV? Write Val Carew at 200 Park Avenue, Room 602, New York, NY 10166.)

Ross is gun shy; Fabian's on a roll

By Cindy Adams

NEW YORK — Diana Ross was a bit rattled at the recent Westbury Music Fair in Connecticut. As she was singing "Muscles," the song Michael Jackson wrote for her, she invited a nice looking guy onstage: "C'mon up here, baby." She proceeded to sing "I want a man with muscles," while unbuttoning his jacket, tie and shirt. The strip revealed he was packing a gun.

Blinking, Miss Ross asked: "Is that a real gun?" He said it was and shortly thereafter was escorted away by security guards. It turned out that he was a New York City cop.

Diana Ross is rattled

Darryl Hannah, an acrobatic android in "Blade Runner," a spoiled teenager in "Reckless" and a hot mermaid in "Splash," wants it known that in real life she's a nice girl from Chicago with eight sisters... Fabian, the teen star of yesterday, hosts a traveling rock 'n' roll show of '50s artists called "Let the Good Times Roll."

Michael Jackson's "Beat It" may be what he hears when his tour, which starts in Oklahoma June 15, plays the East. New York's Civil Rights Brothers — as they call themselves — plan to picket the Jackson Brothers. Jesse Boseman of Sun Song, the promotional outfit which presented Teddy Pendergrass, Rick James, Stevie Wonder, Earth Wind & Fire, rang to say: "Nationwide we're 20 major black promoters. Michael's playing 40 dates. They've already been distributed and none to us...Now all I'm getting is razzle-dazzle."

George Burns declined John Denver's invite to go skiing with him. "At my age a dangerous slope is when I order a highball and the ice starts to melt," quipped the octogenarian.

George Burns avoids skiing

Hall Of Records Conducting Survey

During Maryland's 350th Anniversary year, the Maryland Hall of Records is conducting a survey of historical records and manuscripts throughout the State. The survey will be used to compile a directory of institutions and their collections of historical documents.

The survey is the first step in a project to assess the conditions of historical records and to plan for their preservation in the future. Regional meetings will be held later in the year to discuss the needs of institutions in different areas of Maryland. A final report will be published at the end of the year.

The historic records assessment and reporting project, funded by a grant from the National Historical Publications and Records Commission, will be coordinated by the State Historical Records Advisory Board.

For further information of survey activities or additional information persons may contact Stephen Cooper, Project Coordinator, Maryland Hall of Records, P.O. Box 828, Annapolis, Md., 21404; (301) 269-3914.

Intended State Highway Projects Are Announced

The Maryland State Highway Administration is seeking bids on two highway projects to begin in the northern end of Garrett County in June or July.

One project involves the Rt. 40 alternate which is known locally as "Layman's Cut". According to Wallace Beaulieu, District Engineer, that stretch of highway is winding and allows for a dangerous situation during snow and high winds. The department intends to modify those curves in an attempt to "flatten it out."

The second project involves Rt. 42, approximately two miles south of Friendsville. That section of road will be resurfaced and widened with the drainage conditions being improved, as well as guardrails being added.

Beaulieu stated that the projects would be advertised in area news publications at a late date in order for the state to receive the highest quality work at the least expensive cost.

Dolan Selected Outstanding NCO By Air Force

Air Force Sergeant William A. Dolan, IV, son of William and Kiyo Dolan, Star Route 1, Oakland, has been selected as Outstanding Non-Commissioned Officer of the Year for Headquarters Civil Air Patrol-U.S. Air Force, Maxwell AFB, Ala.

Sergeant Dolan is a staff support specialist assigned to the personnel division at the headquarters which also serves as National Headquarters for Civil Air Patrol (CAP), the 60,000 member civilian auxiliary of the USAF. He was selected in part "for his continued dedication to the mission of the unit and the outstanding manner in which he accomplished his duties." He was selected from a group of nominees from this headquarters and CAP-USAF's eight region and 52 wing state-level liaison offices.

Dolan, a 1976 graduate of Southern High School, attended Garrett Community College and Frostburg State College prior to enlisting in the Air Force in 1981. Upon completion of basic military training at Lackland AFB, San Antonio, Texas, he attended the administrative specialist course at Keesler AFB, Biloxi, Miss., prior to his assignment in Maxwell.

He is married to the former Diana Benson. The Dolans have one child, Jennifer, age 2½.

Historical Trust Notes Preservation Funding Requests

The Maryland Historical Trust has received 68 applications, one from Garrett County, requesting over $5.5 million in FY 1986 State Capital Grant Funds for the preservation of historic properties in Maryland.

Applications have been received from Annapolis, Baltimore City and 20 of the state's counties. Projects range in size and scope from $3,000 for the interior and exterior painting of the Stanley Institute in Dorchester County to $427,376 toward the ongoing restoration of Belair Mansion in Montgomery County. Other projects applied for include structural stabilization of the Mt. Lake Park Town Hall.

The amount of money available for the FY 1986 Grant Fund will be determined by the Maryland General Assembly during the session beginning in January 1985. Funds will be available to successful applicants in July 1985. Requirements for matching funds vary, depending on project sponsorship.

Copies of the county-by-county list of proposed projects are available from the Trust's Technical Preservation Services Division. The list includes the name and location of the proposed projects, the name of the applicant/sponsor, a brief description of the proposed work, the estimated cost of the total project, and the size of the grant requested.

Anyone wishing a copy of the project list should contact the Trust's Technical Preservation Services Division at 21 State Circle, Annapolis, Maryland 21401. Written comments about any of the proposed projects should be received at the Trust no later than April 20, 1984.

Lung Association Slates Seminar

"Questions & Answers About Medicaid" presented by dental hygienist, Linda Parsons, is the topic of a free seminar for people with Chronic Lung Disease to be given April 30 at the South Cumberland Library, Cumberland, from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.

People with chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (asthma, emphysema, chronic bronchitis), their families, and individuals interested in the topic are invited. The seminars are sponsored by the Allegany/Garrett Regional Council of the American Lung Association of Maryland.

The library is located at 100 Seymour Street, Cumberland. For more information about this Christmas Seal service, persons may call toll-free 1-800-492-7527.

Dining Guide Being Compiled

The Nutrition Education Committee of the American Heart Association - Western Maryland Chapter recently contacted area restaurants to explain a guide the committee is compiling. Restauranteers were asked if there are any items presently on their menus that could be recommended to a person on a low salt or low cholesterol diet. They also were questioned about modifying other menu items if requested such as broiling or baking foods rather than frying.

Committee members will be contacting the restaurants who responded to the survey during the month of April.

After completing the information gathering process, the committee will compile a brochure listing restaurants in Garrett and Allegany counties that are willing to modify foods for those who request it. This guide will be made available to the public.

Restaurants that did not receive a survey that wish to be included in the guide may call the Heart Association at 724-4011.

HCO Program Slates Workshop

The Homemaker Career Opportunities Program of Garrett Community College will sponsor a workshop entitled "Images of Women", on Wednesday, April 11, at the Oakland Center of Garrett Community College. The workshop will deal with the conscious and subconscious effort on the part of advertising to exploit women.

The movie "Killing Us Softly" will be shown during this workshop, to be presented by Carole Anne Lovett of Garrett Community College. The workshop, which is open to the public free of charge, will be held in Room 306 of the Oakland Center of GCC from 10 a.m. to noon. To pre-register, persons may call 334-9184.

Real Estate

Deep Creek Realty

"FULL HOUSE" HELPS SELL

Sudden transfers are not all unusual in the business world. A man may come to work in the morning and find that he has been assigned a position—often a better one—in another city. He's also told that he must be there within a couple of weeks.

A problem immediately confronts the family. Should they all move—wife, children, and furnishings—to the new town before the house is sold? This would leave the Realtor an empty house to sell. Is this a good idea?

The answer is no! There's a saying in real estate that's repeated over and over again, and it's still valid: "Don't sell a house, sell a HOME!" And a home has furniture in it. When prospects look at a furnished home, they relate to it as possibly being their future home. They do this because it's furnished, even though their own sofa, chairs, lamps, pictures, tables, etc. are not there. A furnished home is much easier to sell than an empty house. Furthermore, a room with furniture and accessories in it looks bigger than an empty room. Last, but certainly not least, a furnished home will often sell for more than an empty one.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone one of our offices.

New LITE MATE Adapter For 4 Way Electrical Connector

Adapter Plugs Directly into The Wiring System of a Pickup. Use One Whenever You Install a Light Connector on a Pickup.

Here's how it works:
Every pickup has a molded connector that joins the wiring harness on the truck bed to the main wire harness on the frame. This connector is located just behind the rear bumper. Simply pull apart this connector, insert the LITE MATE, and plug it back together. Now take the three wires from the LITE MATE and install in your standard light connector for your trailer.

January Double-Ring Ceremony Unites Mark Grimm, Crystal Shafer

Wedding vows were exchanged by Crystal Lynn Shafer and Mark Allen Grimm in a double-ring ceremony on January 7. The ceremony took place at St. Peter's Catholic Church in Oakland with the Rev. Martin E. Feild officiating. Ms. Marcella Kerns was the organist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Shafer of Oakland. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Grimm of Mt. Lake Park.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of antique satin brocade. The gown featured a high embroidered collar trimmed with tiny pearls and sequins. The drop-shouldered yoke extended to a deep lace ruffle front and back. The ball-gown sleeve was trimmed with a wide lace ruffle and tiny satin ribbons. The waist was encircled with antique lace applique. The full satin skirt fell to a deep ruffled hemline and flowed to a full chapel train.

The bride's headpiece was a halo of small dusty rose and white azaleas with a fingertip-length bridal illusion veil. She carried a bridal cascade of light pink, dusty rose and burgundy silk roses, white azaleas and baby's breath with matching ribbons. Tied to the ribbons were tiny white star flowers.

Tina Mason served as maid of honor. She wore a dusty rose dress with ball-gown sleeves and trimmed with antique lace insert and dusty rose ribbons.

The bridesmaids were Dawn Shafer, sister of the bride; Denise Appel and Kimberly Grimm, sisters of the groom. They wore light pink dresses matching the maid of honor. Flowergirls were Emily and Amy Janes, friends of the bride. They wore dusty rose dresses trimmed in antique white lace and dusty rose ribbons.

The attendants each carried a basket of silk flowers matching the bride's bouquet. The flowergirls carried smaller baskets of the same flowers. All of the silk flowers used in the wedding were made and arranged by the bride and her mother.

Brian Selders served as best man. Ushers were Scott Appel, brother-in-law of the groom, David Sweitzer, and Wally Weeks, Corey Grimm, cousin of the groom was ringbearer.

The groom was attired in a white tuxedo with tails and a white pleated shirt and bow tie. His attendants wore dinner-length silver tuxedos with white shirts and silver bow ties. The ringbearer wore a silver-grey tuxedo with tails and a white shirt with a silver-gray bow tie.

The altar was decorated with white candles and vases of live pink gladiolus and dusty rose carnations with palm leaves and ferns. The flowers were arranged by Mrs. Barbara Omohundro.

During the candle-lighting ceremony the "Wedding Song" was sung by Mrs. Becky Mason and a long-stemmed red rose was presented to each mother by the bride and the groom.

The guest book was attended by Tracey Miller, friend of the bride. Pink net birdseed packets were distributed by Deborah Omohundro and Lora Robertson. Photographer was Paul Grimm, uncle of the groom.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the social hall at the church, which was decorated with a pink and white color scheme.

The four-tiered wedding cake was a gift to the bride and groom and was made by Mrs. Freda Robertson, Falls Church, Va. It was decorated with pink rosebuds and green leaves topped with a miniature ceramic bride and groom.

The cake was cut and served by Mrs. Freda Robertson and Mrs. Barbara Omohundro persided at the punch bowl.

The double-ring ceremony was performed with rings the groom designed and had crafted while stationed in Saudi Arabia.

The bride and groom are both graduates of Southern High School. The groom joined the Air Force in 1982 and is presently serving in Weisbaden, Germany, where the bride will join him soon. The bride is a graduate of Tri-State Beauty Academy, where she also completed the manager's course.

Kimberly Hinebaugh, G. Eric Yeager Wed During Double-Ring Ceremony

Wedding vows were exchanged on September 24, 1983, between Kimberly J. Hinebaugh and G. Eric Yeager in a double-ring ceremony at Fairlington United Methodist Church in Alexandria, Va. Rev. Bert Sikkilee officiated. Donald Studholm, uncle of the groom, was the organist and his wife, Audrey, was the vocalist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Hinebaugh, Oakland. Mr. Yeager is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Yeager, Greensboro, N.C.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was attired in an ivory chapel length gown of Chanitlly lace and sheer organza. The empire bodice featured a high neckline accented with lace and seed pearls and leg-of-mutton sleeves. Lace also enhanced the waistline holding the A-line skirt accented with a pleated front and Chantilly back panel sweeping to a chapel length train. A derby lace hat held the fingertip veil and walking length mantilla. The bride's bouquet made by the bride, was designed of silk flowers to complement the colors in the bridal attire.

Debra K. Hinebaugh, Oakland, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Debi Abbott, Burke, Va., Katie Kelly, Lake Ridge, Va., sister of the groom, Julie Yeager, Greensboro, N.C., sister of the groom, Penny Hill, Falls Church, Va., and Tootie Cassell, Oakland.

Serving as best man was Robert Hill, Falls Church, Va., Ushers were Steven Hinebaugh, brother of the bride, Oakland, David Dorman, Lake Ridge, Va., Stan Reynolds, Reston, Va., and Mike Johnson, Alexandria, Va.

A reception was held following the ceremony at Park Center, Alexandria, Va. Miss Danette Stalensky registered the guests and Tonya Stalensky distributed the favors. Both are nieces of the bride.

Following a honeymoon trip to Barbados, West Indies, the couple established residence in Alexandria, Va.

The Pentagon is the world's largest office building.

GRANTSVILLE NEWS

The Northern Garrett County Republican women held a program planning meeting recently at the Casselman Restaurant. Those present were Carolyn Ganoe, president, Wilma Wilburn, secretary, Louise McKenzie, treasurer, and Cleda Baker, news reporter.

The first meeting of the year will be at Hill Top Restaurant on April 24 at 7:30 p.m. The guest speaker will be Susan Elgin, Western Regional chairman. On May 29 Senator Bambacus will be the guest speaker. Speaker for June 26 will be announced later.

A joint picnic of Southern and Northern Clubs to be held on July 7 at Camp Hickory at 6:30 p.m.

A regional meeting will be held on May 5 at the Holiday Inn in Cumberland. All meetings of the club will be at 7:30 p.m.

Any Republican Women desiring to join the club is welcome. Members who have not paid their 1984 dues may send them to Mrs. Louise McKenzie, Route 1, Box 202, Grantsville.

The regular meeting of the Woodmen of the World Lodge No. 41 was held at the Walter Younkin home on Monday evening. Walter Younkin, president, presided. There were nine members present.

Plans were made for the annual Maryland Woodmen spring meeting at the Grantsville Woodmen Hall on April 8 at 3 p.m. Phyllis Bender and Alice Younkin are in charge of the refreshments. The Woodmen Hall was cleaned on Tuesday evening and prepared to use for the rest of the year.

The door prize was won by Tom Bender. The next meeting will be held on April 9 at 8 p.m. at the Woodmen Hall. All members are welcome.

The Woodmen Ranger Unit No. 128 is planning to enter the Maple Festival parade on Saturday, April 7, at 5 p.m. at Meyersdale, Pa.
